Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

We would suggest that you write us immediately for free particulars, copies of letters from bankers, etc., which will be sent free. We will also send you a copy of our book, "Oil & Gold" if you wish it. This book gives history and statistics of the prominent Oil fields and Gold districts of the United States. Address

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Mr. Pat. Clunan, the well-known horseman, leaves for British Columbia on Monday morning.

—Take in the Lindsay trip this afternoon and root for the local boys. The fare is cheap and a good game is ensured.

—Peterborough's taxation assessment would only take copy by the temperature and draop as quickly, there would be audible sounds of thanksgiving.

—Yesterday more than one citizen without meaning any impiety or profanity, from the bottom of his heart, remarked: "Thank the Lord the weather has at last become endurable."

—In comparison with Ontario, Peterborough ranks a the top as far as her gas is concerned. Mr. Hogan, the present superintendent of the local gas works is now turning out gas of 23 candle power. This is away ahead of the gas made in Toronto.

—Mr. Jas. Allen leaves on Monday for Toronto, to exhibit his fine black horse, "Young Arkland," at the Toronto Exhibition. Mr. Allen is in communication with some leading American horsemen, who will probably buy this horse, whose brother, Frank S., was recently sold for $2500.

Shamrocks to Play Today

Good Game at Lindsay Against Toronto Junction.

On the Lindsay Agricultural Park this afternoon the local Shamrocks cross sticks with Fred Waghorne's fast Junction Shamrocks from Toronto, and the game promises to be full of doings from start to finish. If the locals win they will certainly know that they have been playing lacrosse, for they will not capture this game by any one-side score. It is said by critics that these two teams are the equals of a good many teams playing in the intermediate series. The game no matter which way it goes will be one of the hottest seen in this district for many a season. The special train leaves the G.T.R. depot this afternoon at two o'clock for Lindsay.

County Council Meets Aug. 31st

County Rulers Will Arrange for Issue of Debentures.

A special meeting of the Peterborough County Council will be held on Friday, August 31st, at ten o'clock, in the forenoon, to give the third reading to the by-law for the purpose of issuing debentures to the extent of $14,000 to cover the outlay on new bridges during the present year and in 1905. The amount required is $14,000. The new bridge at Keene and the Evans' bridge on the Norwood road will cost $12,000 and $2,000 is needed to complete the payment on the boundary bridge built last year over the Indian river between Douro and Otonabee. The structure cost $4,000, but half of this was met out of the current receipts in 1905.

Dr. Bingham Replies to Letter

In an evening contemporary of last night appears a very guarded but scrietly pointed letter from Dr. Bingham, M.H.O., in reply to a communication signed "Merchant." It will be remembered that "Merchant" a few nights ago made a violent attack upon the local Board of Health, regarding the alleged nuisance existing at an Italian fruit store on Hunter street. In the letter, "Merchant" called the Board of Health a "dummy" body; but Dr. Bingham in his reply of last night demonstrated clearly that he, at least possesses a large supply of virility, pugnacity and good common sense arguement.

Work on C.G.E. Co. Building Started

Harding, one of their superintendents of the company, who arrived in the city yesterday, is engaging men for the work. Twenty carpenters and a couple of hundred other laborers will be employed at the beginning. The construction of the new buildings will be proceeded with as expeditiously as possible.

The Pail-Ailing Dago Better.

Mr. Armstrong's Party Returned

As noted exclusively in The Times some few days ago, Mr. Jos. Armstrong has, for the past week, been the host aboard Mr. R. B. Rogers' house boat, the Lotus, to a number of Cincinnati gentlemen, who have been enjoying the air and scenery of Kawartha Lakes.

The party, as before noted, left via the lift lock last Thursday for Lakefield where they boarded the Lotus.

The itinerary was as follows:—3 days at Clear Lake, two days at Mount Julian, one at Burleigh Falls, one at Buckhorn and a day at Chemong. The Cincinnati visitors are loud in their praises of our upper lakes. They had good luck fishing, capturing several fine bass and maskinonge. The following gentlemen took in the whole or part of the tour: Commodore Robert G. Cuppy, J. W. McCreery, Max Rauch, U. S. Armstrong, Dr. C. F. Winton, A. C. Weiss, Henry Yaeger, Frank J. Blain, Cincinnati; E. B. Stone, London; Dr. Bradd, J. D. Armstrong, A. P. Pousette, W. W. Armstrong and S. J. Sheridan, Peterborough.

His Honor Judge Weller also spent a short time as the guest of the party.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Armstrong drove his visitors about the city and showed them our local lions.

Madoc Mine to be Operated

Another link is about to be forged into the chain of mines that are now calling the mineral wealth of Ontario, to the world's attention.

The Tweed News of current issue says:

"Judging from present indications the pyrite mine at Bogart, being operated by the American Madoc Mining Co., is to be operated on a very extensive scale in the near future and a mammoth plant will be erected there for the treatment of the ores. The Baskin Bros. of Norwood, have taken the contract of building a siding right up to the mine from the main line of the C.P.R., and started work yesterday. It is understood that a large sum of money will be spent in the erection of the necessary buildings, plans for which have been fully completed. The operation of this mine and the treatment of the ore will no doubt prove a big boom for Bogart and Tweed.

Mr. D. W. Dumble Not Badly Hurt

We are pleased to state that the rumored injuries sustained by Police Magistrate D. W. Dumble, on Thursday are not as bad as feared. It seems that whilst driving into the city after the Chemong regatta, on Thursday was over a horse driven by Mr. Dumble took fright on meeting the auto bus and bolted. Mr. Dumble was thrown from the buggy and received a severe shaking up. However, Mr. Dumble was able to attend to business yesterday.

DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine sold through druggists for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments that does not contain large quantities of alcohol? It is also the only medicine especially prepared for the cure of the delicate diseases peculiar to women, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence, by printing upon each bottle wrapper all the ingredients entering into the medicine. Ask your druggist if this is not true.

"Favorite Prescription," too, is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Prescription" is advised. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read the numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are made, and don't forget that no other medicines put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This, of itself, is of far more weight and importance than any amount of so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public, in favor of the alcoholic compounds.

The "Favorite Prescription" cures all woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements, thus banishing the periodical headaches, backaches, bearing-down distress, tenderness and dragging-down sensations in lower abdomen, accompanied by weakening and disagreeable catarrhal, pelvic drains and kindred symptoms.

Dr. Pierce and his staff of skilled specialists may be consulted free by addressing as above. All correspondence is treated as sacredly confidential. By consulting in this way the disagreeable questionings and personal "examinations" are avoided.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains some very interesting and valuable chapters on the diseases peculiar to women. It contains over one thousand pages. It is sent post paid, on receipt of sufficient in one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only, or 21 cents for a copy in flexible paper covers, or 50 cents for a cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative, two or three cathartic.

More Harvest Help Wanted—Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Although all the provinces in Eastern Canada have contributed a large number of laborers to assist in harvesting the tremendous wheat crop of Canada's Western Provinces, there is a great demand for more laborers.

With the improved machinery, and the men already sent, the crop will be cut, but the demand is for laborers to assist in the threshing and the movement of the grain to the elevators.

Between 15,000 and 20,000 laborers have gone west; 5,000 to 10,000 more are required.

There will be a low rate laborers' excursion from South-Western Ontario on September 8th, and from the north-western section, September 7th, and from the northern and eastern sections on September 8th.

Through second class tickets are sold at $12.00 to Winnipeg, and on arrival there the laborer is met by Government representative of the farmers, and when he has contracted to work he is furnished by the railway with a free ticket to the nearest station to the farmer he is to work with. On arrival at that station he deposits his certificate with the agent, and when he is ready to return after he has been working 30 days, the farmer he has been engaged with makes a verification to that effect on his certificate, and the agent issues ticket from that station back to the starting point at rate of $18.00.

It is expected a very large number will take advantage of these excursions to spend a few weeks in the West, and acquaint themselves with the conditions in that country. This is an opportunity to have an outing and make something besides expenses.

Anyone wanting further information write to C. P. R. Passenger Department, Toronto.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

Four Assassins Drove Up to Residence, and Two Disguised as Gendarmes Secured Admission, But Were Unable to Find Victim.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 26.—Four revolutionists arrived at M. Stolypin's villa, on Aptekarsky Island, at 3:30 p.m. yesterday in a coach.

Two of them were dressed in uniforms of officers of the gendarmes, the third was dressed as a driver and was on the box of the coach, while the fourth man was in private clothing.

Two of the men entered the villa under the pretext of wishing an important report to the premier, but they were not permitted to enter his office.

One of the men threw a bomb into the reception room and a terrible explosion followed.

The house was nearly destroyed.

The man who threw the bomb was killed, but the premier, who was in his office, was uninjured, but his daughter is said to have had both her legs broken, and the premier's three year-old son was severely wounded.

Firemen who arrived on the spot immediately after the explosion found a horrible scene.

Many lacerated corpses and a large number of wounded and mutilated persons were lying around the spot where the bomb had exploded.

About fifty persons were killed or wounded.

Among those killed was General Zumatin, who during the war with Japan was chief of communications.

The two revolutionists who remained in the coach were severely wounded by the explosion of the bomb.

The two revolutionists, or at least one of them, appear to have been able to enter the room occupied by the premier's secretaries, but were not aware that the premier's private office was on the other side of the iron partition, the wall separating the secretary's room from the minister's private office, resulted in the revolutionist being blown to pieces and the house being nearly completely wrecked.

Flames immediately broke out among the wreckage, but the fire was soon extinguished by the firemen who were speedily summoned.

General Zumatin was the premier's personal secretary.

Colonel Stein, who was chief of police at the Tauride Palace, where the lower house of parliament held its sessions, was also killed.

The premier, it was first reported had been killed.

MISS ERRETT HONORED

By Her Fellow Members of St. John's Woman's Auxiliary.

The members of St. John's branch of the Woman's Auxiliary met Saturday afternoon at four o'clock, when a tea was served on the beautiful grounds of St. John's church in honor of Miss Errett, the retiring secretary of the society.

Before tea was served, Mrs. Eardley Wilmot, president of the society, read a beautifully worded and touching address, expressive of the deep regret felt by one and all at their secretary's retirement in consequence of her moving to Toronto to reside in future, and referring in fitting terms to her long, faithful and appreciated services in the auxiliary. This address was followed by the presentation by Mrs. Best to Miss Errett of a Life-membership in the society and an accompanying jewel.

Miss Errett has for 15 years been an earnest worker in the Woman's Auxiliary and other branches of St. John's church work, and her retirement is keenly deplored by the church in general.

Miss Errett leaves for Toronto this week.

Mrs. Wanless Dies in India

The Norwood Register says: A message from far off India brought sad news last week to the home of our esteemed townsman, Mr John Wanless. The message told of the death of the wife of his son, Dr. Wm. J. Wanless, who has been laboring there as a medical missionary in connection with the work of the American Presbyterian Church North, for the past 16 years. Her death occurred at Miraj on the 12 h inst., of cholera. The late Mrs. Wanless was a daughter of the late James Marshall of Toronto. She was a trained nurse, and was of great assistance to her husband in his position as superintendent of the hospital at Miraj.

Late Miss Fair is Laid to Rest

The last sad rites were performed over the remains of the late Miss M. Belle Fair in Millbrook on Friday. As noted in a former issue, Miss Fair who was known and beloved by a large circle of friends and acquaintances in this county, passed away in Nicholls Hospital, after a long illness.

The funeral was held from the residence of her father to St. Thomas church, thence to St. Paul's cemetery, Cavan. The Rev. Wm. C. Allan, M.A., rector of Cavan, took the service at the house for the members of the family. At the church a large congregation was present. The coffin was received at the church door by the rector, and Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, of Peterborough, who also assisted in the service. The hymns and entire service were chosen by the deceased. While the congregation sang the "Nunc Dimittis" the body was laid in the family portion beside her sister, who died in 1903. Rev. Wm. C. Allan officiated at the grave. The pall-bearers were four cousins, Messrs. Jas. Wood, Jas. McCamus, Wilfrid Brown, William Campbell, and two representatives of St. Thomas choir, Messrs. Harry Allen and Charles Needler. Many beautiful floral offerings testified to the esteem in which she departed was held.

Miss Fair, who was skilled in her chosen profession, was a graduate of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal.

To the bereaved aged father, the surviving brother, Mr. Rob. Fair, and sister, Miss Ida, the hearty sympathy of the community is extended. Among those attending the funeral from Peterborough were: Mr. Larry Rush, Rev. E. A. Langfeldt, Mr. Hugh Waddell and Mr. William Davidson, and a deputation of the employes of Mr. Fair's establishment.

Small Fire at the C.P.R. Hotel

Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock a clamorous fire alarm brought the brigade out in quick time, to find, after having given up their Sunday morning's rest, that the fire was out on their arrival.

It seems that a boarder at the C.P.R. hotel, by name Dobson, an employe at the Canadian General Electric Co., had lain down upon a sofa in one of the parlors to enjoy a siesta coupled with a smoke. In striking a match the flame caught some ornamental fringe on the sofa. In a moment the sofa was in flames, despite Mr. Dobson's efforts to stifle the fire with his hands, the latter being badly burnt. He hoisted the piayes quickly threw the burning piece of furniture out of a window, into the back yard, where a few pails of water put out the flames. Mrs. Bowman, proprietress of the hotel places her loss at about $25 fully insured.

New Section of City Opening

Mr. F. W. Wilkins, C.E., of Norwood, is engaged in taking levels, grades etc., for a new street which is being laid out on the property owned by Senator George A. Cox and on which the new carpet factory is located. The new thoroughfare is 120 feet north of the Brinton factory, and runs from Lock street to a new street, which is being opened on Senator Cox's property running north and south from Lansdowne avenue to the new street running east and west. The latter is 60 feet wide and 990 feet long. The new thoroughfare running north and south is about 750 feet long. Another street running east and west will also be opened out between Lansdowne avenue and the one just now being opened.

Tomorrow Mr. Henderson, superintendent of the waterworks system, will begin the work of laying a six-inch main on the new street running east and west.

Kawartha Lakes are Praised

A Pennsylvania paper, issued at New Kensington, contains detailed accounts of the doings of the Black Bass Fishing Club of that town, while sojourning at the Burleigh Falls hotel. According to the statements of the party the Black Bass Club had a splendid time during their stay on the Kawartha Lakes, and are enthusiastic over the results to be obtained by a visit to this region.

A Frog in His Glass.

On a certain day last week several wine clerks of the city, took a day off, and went down to Bobbies point. These dispensers of wet goods hired, and went on a steam launch, which brought them to the point in good time for lunch. A few of them went out to capture bait, preparatory to getting after bass. As those who remained, whilst the others were out catching frogs, were enjoying a last glass of lager, one of the bait catchers returned. One of the lazy ones left his glass of lager beside him. The returned bait catcher seeing Charley's glass of lager standing by his side, slipped a small green frog into the glass. As Charley lifted the glass to his lips the frog swimming therein looked into his eyes. That glass of lager was quickly thrown broadcast over the shady award.

EIGHT SKELETONS FOUND IN CAVE

Saved From Drowning to Meet a Far More Horrible Death

VICTIMS OF WRECKED STMR.

Thrown Into Cave by Waves and There Starved While Awaiting Help.

Victoria, B.C., August 25.—Intact and little damaged, a lifeboat of the Valencia is lying in a wind-worn cave not far from Cape Carmanah. With the boat, eight bleaching skeletons attest that in it there found a way to apparent safety, this number, if not more, of passengers and crew. A terrible anti-climax of last January's tragedy is the story told in this circumstantial evidence that the boat and those who left the wreck in her, succeeded in reaching a seeming haven, there but to endure an agony of waiting, and after that waiting death, because of inadequate search of the precipitous shore.

News is told in telegrams from Carmanah which state that a pontoon as well escaped destruction, and is now on the wave-worn floor of still another cavern, conveniently accessible. The cave in which the boat lies has a conspicuous entrance to the sea front, the roof being fifty feet high, while the chamber is two hundred feet long. Mr. Daykin, who was recently around, and over the wreck of the lost steamer, says her engines could now be conveniently recovered, together with other valuables.

The finding of this boat removes the mystery that surrounded the fate of lifeboat No. 2, which it undoubtedly is. During the examination of witnesses at the Canadian official enquiry conducted by Captain Gaudin, it was made distinct that lifeboat No. 2 got safely away from the breaking ruin of the steamer, and was seen to work some distance, making fair headway seaward. Every effort was made to fix the ultimate fate of this boat, and also to ascertain whether a fully adequate examination of the Island coast line had been made to positively determine whether the boat had reached shore. Counsel particularly directed the cross-examination of the police superintendent in whose hands search operations rested as to the thoroughness and extent of these investigations, but it was impossible to obtain information and the inquiry closed, leaving the unsolved fate of lifeboat No. 2 and of the conspicuous mysteries of the calamity.

IMPOSSIBLE TO IDENTIFY SKELETONS.

Victoria, August 24.—Despatches from Point Carmanah say that it will be impossible to identify the skeletons found with the recovered lifeboat of the Valencia, except by the removal of tons of rubbish, when personal property, in the form of watches or such identifiables, would be found. The circumstantial evidence makes it only too apparent that the unfortunate people miraculously got into the cave alive, and there starved while awaiting help that never came to them. The cave is described as a veritable man trap. There is a large rock at the entrance, over which the boat must have been hurled by the sea, as there is not now sufficient room on either side to get her out again. The boat is undamaged, except for a small hole in the forward air chamber, near the gunwale.

Y. M. C. A. is Active in Russia

Duke Alexander Its Head Has 1,000 Members of all Religions.

There is a Young Men's Christian Association in St. Petersburg with 1,600 members, nearly all native Russians. At the president is Duke Alexander of Oldenburg, who married Olga, the sister of the Czar. The secretary and active man is Franklin A. Gaylord, a Vermont yankee, who came here from the Y.M.C.A. in Paris and organized this institution. Mrs. Gaylord is making plans to organize a Young Women's Christian Association on similar lines.

Until recently it was almost impossible for such an organization as the Y.M.C.A. to exist in Russia, because associations of all kinds were forbidden. It was a crime to belong to one, but when the Duke of Oldenburg, a man whose methods have never been questioned and whose benevolence is known to every person of intelligence in Russia, took charge of the movement its success was guaranteed. Nevertheless when the political troubles broke out last year it was discovered that more than half the members were revolutionists and there was a lively scrap for several months to prevent them from capturing the management and turning its institution into a revolutionary headquarters. Mr. Gaylord made a rule prohibiting political discussions under the roof of the building, and finally got the upper hand of the conspirators and secured the re-election of the conservative element in the list of officers.

It was not an unhappy incident, however. Almost every member sympathized with the sentiments and spirit of the revolutionary element, although they could not indorse its judgment or permit the purpose of the organization to be perverted into political lines. You must understand that 90 per cent. of the young men in Russia are revolutionists, more or less radical, according to their previous training, their social rank and their environment. Nobody supports the Czar in his efforts to maintain the autocracy except the members of the imperial family (and they are not unanimous), the imperial household, the cabinet, army officers of high rank and the bureaucrats or government officials, who are likely to shift their point of view as circumstances change. Therefore it was not strange and it is no reflection upon the Y.M.C.A. that those who are most interested in politics should attempt to use the organization as a revolutionary machine.

In Sympathy With Russian People

St. Petersburg, August 26.—A secret meeting of about 200 soldiers, including representatives of some of the guard regiments has been held near the camp at Krasnoe-Selo, at which it is reported that a large portion of the men were shown to be in thorough sympathy with the cause of the people and would refuse to fire on them when ordered to do so.

It was also determined that the time was not yet ripe for a general mutiny, as the majority of the troops at the capital were still nominally loyal. Insignificant mutinies were characterized by the speakers as useless sacrifices, and the agitators who prematurely precipitated the risings at Sveaborg and Cronstadt were severely criticized.

ALL RAIL TO EUROPE

Czar Has Approved of Railway to America.

Paris, August 25.—In accordance with an ord er issued by the Emperor of Russia, the American syndicate represented by Baron Lecog de Lobel is authorized to begin work on the Trans-Siberian-Alaska Railroad project.

The enterprise is known as the all-railway route to Europe, and has been agitated in Russia by Baron Lecog, backed by American capitalists, for the past six months. The scheme includes the construction of a tunnel under Behring Strait, thus connecting the two hemispheres by rail.

Baron Lecogs plan was approved some time ago by the Russian Minister of the Interior, and only awaited the approval of the Czar.

PIRATES WERE FOILED

Attempt to Capture British Steamer on Chinese Coast Failed.

Hong Kong, August 26.—A plan to hold up the British steamer Nanning, which trades between Canton and Wu Chow has been frustrated. A gang of disguised pirates boarded the steamer at Canton and were reinforced in numbers at way ports. The greatness of their numbers aroused suspicion and a careful watch was maintained. At the first sign of recklessness the captain threatened to resist. This prompt action led to the arrest of three of the ringleaders who were delivered to the British consul at Wu Chow.

DUBIOUS

About What Her Husband Would Say

A Mich. woman tried Postum Food Coffee because ordinary coffee disagreed with her and her husband. She writes:

"My husband was sick for three years with catarrh of the bladder, and palpitation of the heart, caused by coffee. Was unable to work at all and in bed part of the time.

"I had stomach trouble, was weak and fretful so I could not attend to my housework—both of us using coffee all the time and not realizing it was harmful.

"One morning the grocer's wife said she believed coffee was the cause of our trouble and advised Postum. I took it home rather dubious about what my husband would say—he was fond of coffee.

"But I took coffee right off the table and we have used a cup of it since. You should have seen the change in us and now my husband never complains of heart palpitation any more. My stomach trouble went away in two weeks after I began Postum. My children love it and it does them good, which can't be said of coffee.

"A lady visited us who was always half sick. I told her I'd make her a cup of Postum. She said it was tasteless stuff, but she watched me make it, boiling it thoroughly for 15 minutes, and when done she said it was splendid. Long boiling brings out the flavor and food quality." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Famous Rebel Leader Joins Insurgents

Rebellion in Cuba Continues to Gather Strength ---Pinar del Rio May Fall Prey---Quintin Bravo Agin' the Government.

New York, Aug. 26.—The following cable despatch from Havana is printed here today.

The increased reticence of the government justifies alarm as to the situation. Senator Morua Marqueti Liberal, who has joined the revolutionists, says in an interview in the Telegrafo, that he has no doubt that the rebel chiefs have fully formed a plan which they will gradually work out. He says that honest elections must be granted by the government. The rebels are fighting for a cause and not for one man.

They are willing to accept any president who is legally elected, even Estrada Palma. The senator is willing to add his name to the list of 200 Cuban business men in New York who purpose to ask President Roosevelt to send a commission to see that an honest election is held and that the man elected is seated.

He does not desire American intervention, because if the Americans come, God alone knows where the movement would end.

He believes that the rebels will lay down their arms if President Roosevelt agrees to send a non-partisan commission to investigate the elections, which the Liberals allege were fraudulent.

Havana, Aug. 26.—Today's early advices from Pinar Del Rio and vicinity indicate that the outcome of the expected battle between the government troops and the insurgents under Pino Guerra is more in doubt than the officials at the palace are willing to admit. Guerra is believed to have nearly or quite 2000 men who can be depended upon. They are reported to be well equipped with arms and ammunition.

It is suspected that the insurgent leaders' withdrawal from San Luis and San Juan to attract the government troops from their base a Pinar Del Rio. A sudden descent upon Pinar Del Rio, in the event that Palma's troops do not take an early offensive, would not prove those seemingly well informed. The city has less than 1000 armed defenders and the strength of the civilian loyalty is in doubt.

Col. Bucallo, with 250 artillery men and 50 recruits, left San Juan De Martinez this morning, moving in the direction of Guanes, Pinar Del Rio, to the expectation of giving battle to Pino Guerra, who was reported to be only five miles distant. A severe engagement is expected.

So far there has been no serious disaffection in the cities, but in the surrounding districts where the people are less in touch with official life, the situation so far as can be learned is not reassuring.

Government agents are sailing today for the United States to purchase horses.

MORE REBELS.

A despatch from Remedios, Province of Santa Clara, this afternoon announced that another insurgent band, commanded by Col. Serrano Garcia and Capt. Cepeda had taken the field against the government forces.

The despatch added that Quentin Bravo, the famous leader of the Negro rebels and Remedios patriots which fought against the Spaniards, had started to join the insurgent forces with a band of 40 men. He was last heard from between Remedios and Caibarian, about five and a half miles from Remedios.

FIGHTING.

A detachment of rural guards from Bayahano had a skirmish this morning with a large insurgent band, commanded by Col. Asburt. The insurgents, who were encamped on a place called Rio Blanco, according to the report from Bayahano, disbanded and fled, leaving four men dead and a dozen wounded on the field. Col. Asburt is believed to have been slightly wounded. Two rural guards were wounded.

Normal School Site Yet Unsettled

And now the deputation to the Department of Education, regarding a site for the proposed Normal school has been and returned. The deputation consisted of Mayor Best, Ald. Johnston, McIntyre, Mason and Duncan, and City Clerk Armstrong, went to Toronto to interview the Deputy Minister of Education, and the Superintendent of Education regarding site for the Normal School. They were accompanied by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P. The interview took place at the Education Department in the Normal School. The whole question of a site was discussed fully with Dr. Colquhoun and Dr. Sheth, Deputy Minister and Superintendent of Education respectively. The department officials would not insist on less than two acres in the site for the school, and the deputation thus saw that the Murray street site was out of the question.

The same argument for an extinguisher upon several other proposed sites.

The Hilliard Farm was then strongly advocated.

The deputation offered the Government five acres of this property as a site for the school. They also proposed that the money which would have been used for buying a site would be devoted towards the improvement of the north ward school so as to make the latter a well equipped and appropriate place for practice teaching for the use of the Normal School students. As the Hilliard farm belongs to the city, it would cost the council nothing to provide a site on this property.

The deputy minister and superintendent were impressed by this proposition. It is altogether probable however, that the government officials will pay Peterborough another visit, likely during today, when the site will be chosen.

Important Meeting of Insurance Men

By courtesy of Mr. J. Rothwell, we are able to announce that the life insurance men of the counties of Ontario, Durham, Northumberland, Victoria, Peterborough, Haliburton in session in the office of the Toronto Life have organized a branch of the Life Underwriters Association of Canada. The following officers were elected.

Mr. Wm. H. Hall, Peterborough, president.

Mr. W. R. Widdess, Lindsay, vice-president.

Mr. J. Rothwell, Peterborough, secretary.

Executive Committee,—Mr. W. Scott, Port Hope, Mr. G. B. Stevens, Peterborough; Mr. Ferguson, Uxbridge, Mr. Wilcox, Hastings; Mr. H. Rush, Peterborough.

Mr. W. S. Milne, secretary of the Canadian Underwriters' Association, gave a very interesting address on the work of the association, stating that its object was to establish a feeling of good-fellowship among life insurance men and to try to do away with the distrust which often exists between agents, by bring them into closer contact and forwarding in every possible way the interest in good life insurance.

Mr. Milne stated they had organized associations all over the Dominion and at the present time the American Underwriters Association were doing excellent work among the life insurance men of the United States and he thought the time was not far distant when the Canadian and the United States Associations would be amalgamated.

The meeting adjourned at 5.30 p.m., after sending a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Milne.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

A COUNTY CASE.

As noted in Saturday's Times Fred Baker was arrested Friday night on a charge of having in his possession three pairs of gold-framed glasses that he knew were stolen. He elected to be tried summarily and pleaded not guilty.

In connection with this trial, another man Louis Dennie, was shown up as an example that it does not pay to interfere with the police whilst in discharge of their duties.

On Friday night it seems that the young man Dennie, interfered with P. C. Newhall, when the latter was arresting Fred Baker. As a result, at Saturday's session of the police court, Dennie came before Magistrate Hamble and pleaded guilty to interfering with Baker's capture. He was sentenced to one month's confinement in the cool retreat which overlooks Victoria Park.

TRIBUTE TO LORD MILNER

370,000 Sign Address Recognizing Public His Services in South Africa.

Lord Milner has been made the recipient of a remarkable address in recognition of his public services in South Africa. The address, which was organized by a committee of which the Duke of Somerset was chairman and Sir Bartle Frere, hon. secretary, has been forwarded to Lord Milner, together with a letter from the Duke of Somerset, in which His Grace expresses the "most anxious desire" of the committee that nothing should be done which could at all seem to bear any flavor of party politics. The number of signatures of adult males exceeded 370,000, and an analysis of the 364,129 of these examined give the following result:—

Peers, and county and municipal authorities	1,561
Ministers of religion and members of learned societies	9,540
Professional men	44,538
Bankers, brokers, merchants, shipowners etc.	36,222
Landed proprietors and other independent gentlemen	18,771
Farmers, county and parish officers, etc.	79,732
Clerks	53,300
Tradesmen	49,114
Tradesmen's employes	14,780
Working men	20,179

Lord Milner, in his reply, said in part: "I can only say, without the slightest affectation, that to be the recipient of such a token of respect and good will from hundreds of thousands of my fellow-countrymen is a distinction altogether beyond my deserts. I am quite aware that I owe it much less to any merit of my own than to the resentment left at some of the attacks made upon me, which were regarded not only as unfair to the particular individual who was subjected to them, but as injurious to the public service generally. Still, it remains a great and singular honor to be, from whatever cause, the object of such a remarkable demonstration of public sympathy. * * * This is not the first, nor will it be the last, demonstration of public support to reach me from South Africa. During the last three or four months I have received from various parts of that country a number of resolutions of a similar tenor, and the general address from Cape Colony, which I understand bears upwards of 26,000 signatures, is even now on its way. But I am none the less touched by the fact that so many people in Natal should have the time and thought to send me this proof of their regard in the very midst of the terrible crisis through which Natal has been passing, but which is now, I am glad to think, happily over.

"I only trust that they and all my other old friends and fellow-workers in South Africa, will believe that no personal annoyances which I may have suffered have affected me to anything like the same extent as the trials and dangers to which South Africa is once more being exposed, and which make her immediate future such an anxious one."

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition.

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At times I was prostrated with nervous and sick headache. All day I was tired. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well."

Remember this. No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

HANDY GLASGOW

Both the advocate of municipal ownership and the other fellow find in the city of Glasgow convenient arguments, says the Hamilton Spectator. That city has gone out of the municipal telephone business. The plant has been sold to the government at a price which represents a loss of $75,000 to the ratepayers. Yet the municipal system of the same city is still run profitably and satisfactorily by the municipality. Thus the municipal ownership man can point with pride to the Glasgow street car, and explain that the Glasgow telephone was mismanaged, while he who favors the corporations can point with pride to the failure of the telephone in Glasgow, and explain that the street car there is a success only because of the peculiarity of the soil, or by reason of something in the air, or because of a fluke. Then Glasgow favors both sides and puts a damper on both sides, thus materially helping to keep the discussion alive.

A WONDERFUL COUNTRY

Mr. Alexander Donaldson, of Glasgow, is in Montreal on his way home to Scotland from Egypt, where he has spent many years as business agent for an English firm. He has taken the round-about trip across the Pacific for the sake of the voyage, and in order to enjoy a night of the great Dominion, of whose wealth of resource he had heard so much. He expresses his astonishment and pleasure at what he had seen.

"It is a wonderful country," he said, "a wonderful country. I never saw so much wheat in my life, though we grow a good deal of it in Upper Egypt, along with Indian corn and cotton, which are our staple crops. Our wheat is somewhat fuller in the ear than yours, with a thinner straw; but, of course, yours makes the better flour. We are now almost independent of the weather for our crops since the building of the Assouan dam and the completion of our irrigation system, which is one of the finest in the world."

"Is Egypt in a prosperous condition?"

"Most prosperous, owing in a large measure to the able rule of Lord Cromer. He has simply made the country what it is, and the people who are beginning to realize this look up to him as a father. This is especially the case with the poor farmer, whom he protects against the rapacity of The pachas. For instance, some time ago the extensive lands of the pachas paid no taxes, while the poor farmer was paying exhorbitant rates. Now this has been changed, and the land is taxed according to value. Another thing he has done for the owner of small holdings is the taking of a complete survey for the fixing of boundaries. For years poor farmers have been obliged to pay taxes on land which they never possessed. But all these and many other abuses have been rectified under his beneficent rule."

UNSINKABLE BOATS

Five steamboats are being built for a Kiel shipping company which are said to be wholly unsinkable. The recent trial of one of the boats was carried out in the presence of representatives of the imperial navy and many shipping firms. The vessel was fully laden to represent 200 passengers, and it was assumed that, in consequence of a leak, caused by a collision, the entire engine room division, into which water was pumped, had filled, while a hole was made in the exterior to admit water freely. The ship accordingly sank, but when it was full of water it had still about a foot of freeboard above the surface, thus satisfying the conditions imposed.

Drowned on Eve of His Wedding

Mr. Hewitson of Fredericton Falls Off Wharf.

Fredericton, N. B., August 24.—With his marriage license in his pocket, Charles F. Hewitson, son of the late Col. Hewitson, of Lusk Settlement, was drowned last evening. He was to have been wedded today to Miss Dorcas, daughter of Chas. Atherton, of this city. The circumstances of the sad tragedy are mysterious. The drowning took place off the ill-fated Star line wharf, Miss Ladds, waitress on the steamer Victoria, was on the boat's deck shortly after 10 o'clock when she heard a splash and looking down saw some one struggling in the water. The alarm was given and a boat put out. In about twenty minutes the body was brought to the surface and placed on the steamer. Dr. George J. McNally had arrived, and every means were resorted to resuscitate the man, but without avail. It is thought that in the darkness he walked off the wharf.

The deceased was 42 years of age, and is survived by his mother, three sisters and four brothers.

HIS WIFE ELOPED

Husband Secures Court Order to Dispense With Her Concurrence in Property Sale

Toronto, Aug. 26.—Mr. Henry George Pett secured an order from Judge MacMahon yesterday to allow him to sell No. 108 Rosedale street without the concurrence of his wife, Mr. J. G. Smyth acted for the petitioner, and stated that Mrs. Pett had not been living with her husband for the past two years.

Judge—"She may have had reason for not doing so."

Mr. Smyth—"The affidavit of Mr. Pett will throw light on that. On August 12 h, 1904, she asked permission to go over to Niagara Falls with William Burton, with whom we were well acquainted, and who was a Belgian relative. They were to return the same night, but never came back. She took $240 with her, and left their three children, who since then have been under the care and custody of Mr. Pett, who has been unable to learn anything whatever of their whereabouts, but he believes they are living in the United States."

Judge—"That puts a different aspect on the matter. You may take the order."

KILLED IN HIS BED

Railway Cars Crush Into His Home with Fatal Results

Syracuse, N.Y., Aug. 26.—A peculiar railroad accident occurred yesterday, resulting in the death of George Carberry, 30 years old, while asleep in his bed.

A shifting engine on a West shore siding bumped some cars against others on a siding.

The latter went over the bump, which was a tie crosswise of the tracks, tore down a telegraph pole, and flag shanty, and crashed into the Carberry house.

The second storey fell into the first, pinning Carberry in his bed. Three of the family sleeping on the second floor were precipitated to the floor, but escaped serious injury.

Police Protection for Mrs. Langtry

London, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Langtry, the actress had an unpleasant experience at Folkestone last night. In the afternoon she attended the horse races, and made a couple of successful bets. In the evening she had been advertised to give a dramatic performance in the pavilion at Folkestone. The audience was increased because the play she presented was only a trifling South African episode lasting 20 minutes, and a horrific crowd followed Mrs. Langtry off the pier, vigorously hissing her. The actress was escorted to her hotel by policemen.

Here's Just the Right Bowel Laxative

Gentle, Sure—Pleasant to Take—A Tried and True, Genuine, Nature's Remedy.

If you do not have free, easy and regular movements of the bowels you lack the prime and first essential of good health. There's more harm done than mere uncomfortableness, sluggishness and biliousness—retention of food wastes in the bowels pollutes, irritates and poisons. You make the circulatory system—the blood—a scavenger instead of a fountain of purest life and unlimited vitality. The ills of constipation are many, but trifling but nearly always are fraught with serious sickness. Stock your medicine chest with relief in Nature's Remedy. Accept the gentle natural aid of Lax-ets; be sure not to force and overtax the delicate organs of the stomach and bowels. Avoid all the danger of powerful drugs and unknown medicines. Your safety and your health are always secured—if you take Lax-ets. The formula is on every box—show it to your family physician. Lax-ets are put up in a flat metal case in handy tablet form—one tablet taken before meals or on retiring always brings relief. Pleasing to take—the most potent yet gentle of all remedies—a genuine help of Nature's own bowel laxative which cures constipation. Recommended and for sale by

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines! J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

REGIMENT DISARMED

Almost All the Russian Military Units are Now Disaffected

St. Petersburg, Aug. 26.—The Associated Press learns by mail that the strictest censorship is now exercised over press despatches in the Caucasus in order to conceal the true state of affairs, both regarding the real fierceness of the Tartar-Armenian warfare and the fermentation among Russian troops.

The Armenian Tartar situation is worse than is known to the outside world. Almost all the Russian military units are disaffected, and even the Cossacks are refusing against doing police duty.

The latest mutiny is that of the Poltava Cossacks who several days ago at Tiflis formally demanded to be relieved from police duty, and asked for the discharge of those who had served over three years. The entire regiment was disarmed and confined under guard in their barracks.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 500 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 2,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $3,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $65,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

STRICTURE AND KIDNEY DISEASE CURED.

G. E. Wright.

"I had stricture for eleven years. It finally brought on Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. I had an uncomfortable shooting pain in the groin and feeling as though something was in the urethra. My back was weak and I could scarcely stoop over. Urine was full of sediment. Had a desire to urinate frequently. Family doctors, so-called specialists, patent medicines, electric belts, all failed. I was discouraged. I had spent hundreds of dollars in vain. Finally I consulted Drs. Kennedy & Kergan as the last resort. I had heard a great deal about them and concluded from the fact that they had been established over 25 years that they understood their business. I am delighted with the results. In one week I felt better and in a few weeks was entirely cured. Have gained sixteen pounds in weight."

Diamonds and Diamond Mining

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is ever increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining enterprises of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 42 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums for machinery and mining appurtenances. From careful tests made during these six months we have demonstrated that we have a larger diamond field than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantage of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

This company is conducting a legitimate business enterprise upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 18 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $220,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and is all that we will offer for sale.

The undersigned will be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our office, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

me promise not to endeavor to find him out, but I informed her that it was the duty of every honest man of the community to proctect the innocent and prosecute the guilty. Your young friend who was so dreadfully agitated by the appearance of this man could afford some clew to his identity if she would. Can you not serve the cause of justice by inducing her to do so?"

"Alas, no! for she not only refused to give me any explanation of the cause of her agitation, but she even wrung from me a conditional promise not to inform Sir Vincent of her accidental encounter with this man."

From this day, for several weeks, no more was seen or heard of the mysterious "light-haired stranger," whose appearance had caused so much disturbance.

CHAPTER XIV.

Light came back to the dark eyes, and color to the pale cheeks of Laura Elmer. Some new spring of lifewarmth and inspiration seemed opened in her soul. There were few in that large household that cared to observe the looks of the governess, else they must have seen the change that was coming over her countenance; the spiritual beauty that at once softened and irradiated her noble features gave a sweeter, clearer tone to her rich, depp voice, and a more elastic grace to all her stately motions. She seemed, indeed, as one who had found, at last,

The secret of some happy dream,

She did not care to tell.

She seemed to have discovered, within the depths of her own spirit, the secret of an infinite content. For all the ends of earthly happiness she appeared to be sufficient unto herself, as one whose treasures were all within, safe from external vicissitudes, independent of exterior circumstances.

Indeed, there was little in her outer life to strengthen, comfort or cheer her. She saw no company, went to no places of amusement, had no congenial friends. Her mornings were passed in the schoolroom and music-room with her young pupils; her afternoons in driving out with Mrs. Ravenscroft, who had lapsed into silent reserve; and her evenings in the solitude of her own room, where she occupied her time in reading and writing.

Only at meal times, and in the presence of her pupils, she met Mr. Cassinove and his young charge, Master Lester.

She had not seen Lady Lester once since the interview in her ladyship's dressing-room.

Sir Vincent Lester frequently visited the schoolroom, and often sent to request the presence of Miss Elmer in the library.

And it might have been observed that the only occasions upon which Miss Elmer's clear brow was clouded were those of the baronet's visits to the schoolroom, or her own enforced attendance in the library.

Children frequently see and hear everything without understanding anything. They saw their father's solicitous attention to all their governess' needs and comforts, his readiness to serve her with advice or assistance, his unvarying kindness in every word and deed, and they saw the reserve with which Miss Elmer received all absolutely necessary attentions, and the coldness with which she repelled all others.

"Papa will get tired of being good to so ungrateful a person as Miss Elmer," declared Miss Lester. "I am sure I don't see why she should treat him so coldly."

And, indeed, if Laura Elmer had been upon oath, and forced to give an answer to the question, why she doubted, feared and disliked Sir Vincent Lester, she would not have given a satisfactory reason. He was a very handsome, dignified and graceful gentleman, of a highly-cultivated intellect, highly-polished address, and an unblemished character and reputation. In his manners to Miss Elmer, as to all others, there was nothing to which even the most fastidious could take exception. And yet Laura Elmer, usually so thankful for all true kindness, felt toward Sir Vincent not only ingratitude, but resentment and distrust which she could neither understand nor control. And as I said, the only occasions upon which her clear brow was clouded were those of the visits of Sir Vincent to the schoolroom, or of her own required attendance in the library.

Laura Elmer kept up her correspondence with her old pastor, Dr. Seymour, and through him heard frequently of [illegible], who, as her prospects brightened, and her position settled into stability, was zealously courted by the old country families. The worthy rector gave the most satisfactory account of her improvement, admitting, however, that she had the advantage of an excellent plain education as a foundation upon which to raise a superstructure of graceful accomplishments.

It was near the commencement of the fashionable season in London that Laura Elmer received a letter from Rose herself.

"Among the county aristocracy who have run the risk of taking me up before the House of Lords shall have decided upon my case," she wrote, "the most important is the Duchess of Bereslеigh Court. You know, of course, that the late duke occupied a distinguished diplomatic position on the Continent. He died at Berlin about two years ago; but the family remained abroad for the health of their income, I am told, until this winter, when they have all returned to Bereslеigh Court. The family consists of the duchess, the young duke, and his sisters, the Ladies Katherine, Mathilda and Annie Wardour; they are all excessively kind to me. The duchess has made me promise that after the House of Lords shall have decided upon my case, I will accompany her to London, and remain her guest at Bereslеigh House for the whole of the season. She undertakes to become my chaperon in society, and to present me to their Majesties.

"And now I have a favor to ask of you. There has been a new poem called 'Woman,' written by an anonymous writer, and reviewed in all the principal journals of the day. I have read the reviews, with many extracts from that beautiful work; yet these slight tastes have only stimulated my mental appetite for a feast of the whole volume. The reviewers, as you see, are lost in conjecture as to the authorship of the poem, and even the sex of the author; some ascribing it to a man and some to a woman. The duke, who has a highly-cultivated taste, and a very discriminating judgment, sums up his criticism in these words: 'It is written with masculine power, yet no man could have written it.' Miss Elmer, if you have read this poem, you will forgive me for talking so much about it. If you have not read it, get the volume, and then you will not blame me."

After perusing this letter, Laura Elmer sat holding it open in her hand with her smiling eyes fixed upon vacancy, murmuring:

"It is understood; it has reached one heart and soul at least; mine, for through whom its influence for good may flow to benefit a thousand others."

While she sat in this happy, dreamy reverie, there was a gentle knock at the door.

Believing it to come from one of her pupils, she bade the visitor enter, and looking up, beheld, to her surprise, the master of the house.

The baronet was a man who could do an essentially rude thing in the most refined manner, paradoxical as it may seem. Bowing, and waving his hand in the most courteous manner, and modulating his voice to the lowest and sweetest key, he said:

"Forgive my intrusion, Miss Elmer, and pray resume your seat."

But Laura remained standing, with her hand resting upon the table, lest, if she sat down, Sir Vincent should Curing a Wife-Beater.

Recorder Weir of Montreal has a novel method of curing a wife beater. In his court the other day Patrick Maguire when asked to plead said:

"Your Honor, I am guilty, but I believe I am perfectly justified in my actions, for the simple reason that every morning I have to get up at 5 o'clock to go to the gas works, where I am employed. My wife never gets up to get my breakfast ready. Every Saturday when I arrive home I give her all my money, and she does not give me a cent. But what I complain of most is that every night when I arrive home she gets me to scrub the floors."

After hearing the evidence Mr. Recorder Weir rendered judgment by saying, "After to-day you will get up every morning and get ready your wife's breakfast, besides your own, for one year. You will still have to give her all your wages, and you will have to appear before me at any time when called for; and, if not, a bench warrant will be issued against you, and that will mean six months in jail."

The Gluttonous Public.

"This canned beef is not what it might be," began the citizen timidly.

"Well, now, what do you expect for 15 cents?" demanded the irate packer. "Isn't the label bright and clean?"

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

We would suggest that you write us immediately for free particulars, copies of letters from bankers, etc., which will be sent free. We will also send you a copy of our book 'Oil & Gold' if you wish it. This book gives history and statistics of the prominent Oil fields and Gold districts of the United States. Address

ABOUT FEMALE AILMENTS

Not Hard to Cure if Properly and Promptly Treated.

Ask any intelligent physician what causes nine-tenths of all female disease, even including anaemia, nervousness and consumption.

Back comes the answer quick and sharp "Constipated Bowels."

There is scarcely a single female ailment that had not in its earlier stages symptoms of constipation.

How much better off the system is without the poisonous accumulations caused by constipation. How much clearer the complexion, how much fresher one feels when the system is pure and clean.

Think it over yourself.

Isn't it apparent that a bowel regulator and liver stimulator like Dr. Hamilton's Pills is sure to do good?

Gay spirits, good looks and happy health have returned to many a sick woman through Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Better get a few boxes today, purely vegetable, free from injurious ingredients, healthful and antiseptic. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will assist you in a thousand ways.

As delay is always dangerous, your plain duty is to follow the example of Mrs. F. Rowe, who sends the following letter from Gravels, Port Au Port, Newfoundland. "Four years ago I got kidney and bladder trouble. I thought it was female trouble and treated it accordingly. Even my doctor in St. John said it was so.

"In reading about Dr. Hamilton's Pills I noticed symptoms like mine and I bought six boxes. These pills went right to work on my sick condition and helped me from the first. My supposed female trouble, which was bladder disease, was cured. My weight increased eight pounds and never before was I as well as today. Dr Hamilton's Pills did it all."

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Things are booming in the East ward. Many residences are being built in that part of the city.

—A meeting of the stockholders of the Star of the East Mining Co. will be held in Peterborough on September 5th.

—As Mr. John Clysdale of Dummer, a few days ago was driving a pea harvester, his team ran away, turning the heavy machine over on top of him. He was considerably bruised.

—Mr. Samuel Adams met with a painful accident on Thursday of last week when one of his horses stepped on his foot, mangling it so badly as to require the attention of a surgeon.—Norwood Register.

Traffic Suspended by R. R. Derailment

Saturday morning traffic was temporarily suspended upon one of our leading streets. This was a result of an accidental derailment. Of two cars of C.P.R. siding near the American Cereal Company's works. While shunting a couple of heavy coal cars and a large oil tank, the rails spread with the result that a coal car and the one which had the oil tank on, were derailed. The accident was of such a character that it scarcely left room for a horse and rig to pass.

The C.P.R. had a large gang of men at work fixing the rails, and it was only a matter of couple of hours before everything was "alright" again.

Late Miss Fair's Death is Noted

The Millbrook Mirror says: The sad news of the death of Miss Della Fair, daughter of Mr. Wm. Fair, was wired to friends here yesterday evening. Although her death has been looked for for some time, it was none the less heart-rending to her grief-stricken father and other relatives. Deceased was most highly respected by all her acquaintances, and her untimely death has cast a gloom over all the community. The remains were brought to her father's residence last evening, and the funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Service will be held in St. Thomas' church. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends.

S. A. Immigrants Stranded Here

Yesterday morning when the five o'clock C.P.R. express pulled into the local depot, a family of English immigrants, importations of the Salvation Army got off the train.

They consisted of a woman and her four children, who were en route to Oshawa. It seems that they should have been taken through to Toronto and thence per G.T.R. to destination. The total finances of the family consisted of 15 cents, which would have had to keep them here until this morning. The local Salvation Army authorities, on being acquainted with the circumstances, telephoned to Mr. Henry, caretaker of the Children's Aid, and the latter very kindly took them all in to the Home, and made them comfortable until eight o'clock this morning when they will leave for Oshawa, to which place they had G.T.R. tickets.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Mr. Geo. Tinker's Son Passes Away

A particularly distressing death is that which, on Saturday morning, visited the family of Mr. Geo. Tinker, 247 Park street, when his only son, George Stanley, passed away at the age of five months and eight days. Death resulted from cholera infantum, from which the child had been suffering from for some time. The obsequies were held Saturday afternoon at the Little Lake cemetery.

Bought Beer With His Savings.

On Saturday morning a well local merchant, who was in a somewhat hilarious state, was asked the why and wherefore thereof. He justified (?) his condition by saying "Just look at that basket. I went down to the market and they wanted 19 cents for eggs and I found a woman from Asphodel, who sold me six dozen at 16 cents. Isn't that saving enough to entitle a man's spending a dollar or two in beer?"

Price of Sugar Has Risen.

One proof of the grasp that monopoly or the trusts (choose your term) have upon the throats of Canadians as well as the cruel-ridden Americans, is that sugar has advanced in price last week. The trust that makes the sugar, from vegetable growth, given by the Almighty to all, recognizing the public's need for sugar during preserving time, has raised the price, thus enriching their coffers by the public's need.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. Frank Kerr is visiting at Gold Springs.

—Mr. W. J. Robertson, of Fort Hope, is a guest at the Oriental.

Illicit Liquor in Lakefield

That "local option" does not, by any means, prohibit the sale of intoxicants, any more than did the Scott Act, while in force here, is clearly shown as a result of License Inspector Jos. Stewart's official visit to that burg.

The result of his trip is to be seen at police headquarters where there is ale and lager galore!

License Inspector Stewart went to Lakefield on Friday, and made a seizure at the Craig House, which is run by Spellman and Lawless. Though Lakefield is a local option town the inspector found two casks of ale, a keg of lager and a tub full of bottles, some of them filled, and some empty, on the premises of the hotel and at once seized them. There were evidences that liquor was being sold contrary to the law.

The seized goods were brought to Peterborough and are now at the police station.

Action will likely be taken against the proprietors of the hotel.

Asphodel Youth Drowned.

The Norwood Register says: Mrs. Edward Tomes of Asphodel went to receive a letter yesterday from Minnesota, informing her of the death of her grandson, Willie Tomes, who slipped off some logs and was drowned about five o'clock last Saturday evening. Deceased was 18 years of age, and was a son of Mr. Harry Tomes.

American Cereal Employe Hurt.

An employe of the American Cereal Co., whilst wheeling a barrowful of oatmeal to a car last Friday, had the misfortune to misdirect his barrow. The barrow, contents and man, all took a tumble off the plank, shooting from platform to car. The barrel of oatmeal unfortunately fell upon the man inflicting severe injuries. The employe will be confined to his house for a few days.

Blairton Boy Has Narrow Escape.

Mr. Fred Auger of Blairton, came within a close call of losing his little six-year-old son, Leland, recently. It seems that a pulley weighing over five pounds fell from the top of a barn, thirty feet, striking the little fellow a glancing blow on the head, depressing the skull and making a deep gash. Though unconscious for a long time the boy is now improving nicely.

Nature's Way Is Best.

The function strengthening and tissue building plan of treating chronic, lingering and obstinate cases of disease as pursued by Dr. Pierce, is following after Nature's plan of restoring health.

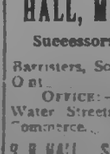
He uses natural remedies, that is extracts from native medicinal roots, prepared by processes wrought out by the expenditure of much time and money, without the use of alcohol, and by skillful combination in just the right proportions.

Used as ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Black Cherry-bark, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot and Stone root, specially exert their influence in cases of lung, bronchial and throat troubles, and this "Discovery" is, therefore, a sovereign remedy for bronchitis, laryngitis, chronic coughs, catarrh and kindred ailments.

The above native roots also have the strongest possible endorsement from the leading medical writers, of all the several schools of practice, for the cure not only of the diseases named above but also for indigestion, torpor of liver, or biliousness, obstinate constipation, kidney and bladder troubles and catarrh, no matter where located.

You don't have to take Dr. Pierce's say-so alone as to this; what he claims for his "Discovery" is backed up by the writings of the most eminent men in the medical profession. A request by postal card or letter, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a little book of extracts from eminent medical authorities endorsing the ingredients of his medicines, will bring a little book free that is worthy of your attention if needing a good, safe, reliable remedy of known composition for the cure of almost any old chronic, or lingering malady.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic.



The most valuable book for both men and women is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A splendid 1008-page volume, with engravings and colored plates. A copy, paper-covered, will be sent to anyone sending 21 cents in one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL XXXIV, NO. 203 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 1906. PRICE TWO CENTS

Rebels do not Contemplate Overthrow

Best They are Said to Expect is to Induce President Palma to Restore Certain Deposed Liberals to Office and Make Concessions as to Elections.

Havana, Aug. 28.—A party of insurgents, commanded by Col. Sanchez, entered the town of Bejucal, Province of Havana, at 11 o'clock last night, fortified themselves and fought all night against an attacking force of Government recruits and rural guards without any other result than three of the defenders of the place and one rural guard being killed.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT.

Havana, Aug. 28.—President Palma yesterday gave out a statement in which he said that the insurrection has no ideals and no program, and that the cries which the insurgents raised do not constitute a program, ideals or a justification for the movement.

President Palma is not disposed to employ any other method than that of arms for the re-establishment of peace. He declares that the Government here would never compromise with any form of disturbers of order.

The Government was legitimately constituted, and must demonstrate that it is stable and able to safeguard property, life and the happiness of the Republic at present, and in the future.

Any compromise would sow the seed of armed revolution throughout the country. Malcontents were always extant, it being impossible to find public positions for every one. To compromise with the disturbers now would result in further disturbances every few years.

It is hinted in some quarters that the insurgents do not seriously contemplate the overthrow of the Government, and would be quite satisfied if, by making a show of force, they could frighten or persuade President Palma to restore certain Liberals to office and make concessions as to the conduct of future elections.

From the field Col. Asher has sent the following message to the Palace: "We have taken up arms against the Government because we have reached the conclusion that law and justice are not to be established in this country by the will of the government, and because the Administration protected by an unscrupulous judiciary, daily commits outrages upon the constitution and despoil our people of their legitimate rights. It is our sole desire to establish the supreme rule of law and restore affairs where they were before the last election.

NO SANGUINARY STRUGGLE.

"We do not intend to wage a bloody war, because we look carefully when it comes to the point of sacrificing our brothers. Only when we are attacked by Government forces will we attempt to defend ourselves, even then avoiding bloodshed as far as possible."

A Wedding of Local Interest

Yesterday morning a wedding was celebrated in Montreal, that is of great local interest to a large circle of friends of the happy groom. The bride was Miss Nina Ethel Muir daughter of Dr. J. C. Pollock Muir, of Ladbrooke Grove, Notting Hill, London W., England, and the groom, Dr. Ernest Victor Frederick, of Peterborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Frederick, of Campbellford. The ceremony took place in the Church of the Holy Trinity, Montreal, by the rector, Rev. John M. Almond. The bride, who arrived from London last week, has been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Rhys Roberts, of Montreal. The wedding was very quiet, there being only a few relatives of the bride and groom present.

Dr. Frederick is a graduate of Toronto University, and spent over a year in London taking up post graduate work. Before coming to Peterborough he was a member of the Medical College of Albany, N.Y., where he has many friends. Miss Muir was a great favorite in literary and university circles in London. Dr. and Mrs. Frederick, who are now enjoying a short honeymoon on the St. Lawrence will reside at 191 Brock street on their return. Dr. Frederick will resume his practice on Thursday, September 6th.

On his arrival home the doctor will meet with hearty congratulations by his large circle of personal and professional friends.

Mr. J. Jayes Gets a Thirteen Pounder

Still another item in connection with the excellent fishing enjoyed by devotees of that "gentle art," in this district, is the outing recently taken by Mr. John Jayes. Mr. Jayes spent two weeks' holidays at Buffalo, Toronto, and other points. During the past few days he has been holidaying down the Otonabee and spent a most enjoyable time. Mr. Jayes says the fishing is better than ever down the river. He pulled in a 'lunge that weighed thirteen pounds. Mr. Jayes says that good catches are being made daily down towards Rice Lake.

Educationalists Shown the Sites

Yesterday as the noon C.P.R. train arrived, Mayor Best and a deputation of our city fathers, with hacks, met and greeted Dr. Seath, Superintendent of education, and Dr. Colquhoun, deputy minister of education for Ontario, who came in connection with the site for the new Normal school. During the afternoon in company with the local authorities they visited the Hilliard farm in the north end of the city. They also visited several other properties available sites for the new institution, including the Cox property. The government officials were accompanied by Mayor Best, Ald. Mason and Elliott, Public School Inspector Walker, Separate School Inspector O'Brien, and Messrs. Hill and Pringle, members of the Board of Education, and others.

The visiting departmental authorities explained that their choice of the Central Park property was due to a misunderstanding, as since explained in The Times.

They made the statement that in choosing a site the interests of the province rather than local conditions must be taken into consideration.

Drs. Seath and Colquhoun returned to Toronto yesterday evening.

Enlightened Methods in Life Insurance

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York, has just distributed some official information in the form of a statement which would be quite unprecedented in the history of life insurance were it not for the fact that this same institution has before treated its policyholders to similar surprises.

The Company announces that it has declared and is paying a cash dividend upon its Industrial Policies maturing in 1906, amounting to more than two millions of dollars. The full significance of this action is apparent when the nature of the Metropolitan Life's insurance contract is understood. This Company is in no sense Mutual. It does not "estimate" or guess at what it will be able to pay an insured person when his Policy matures, but agrees to pay a definite, specified sum in return for a definite, specified premium paid by the insured according to contract. In other words, it sells insurance at what the protection is worth—not as an investment nor as a speculation. Upon this basis the cost to the person insured is of course determined by past experience, and as the factor of competition prevents the exaction of too high a rate, the premiums must always be as low as safe administration of the business will permit.

It may be assumed, then, that a policyholder in the Metropolitan Life has bought a definite amount of insurance at the lowest market rate, has agreed to pay for it in definite sums at definite intervals, and has no more expectation of extra benefits than he would have in buying fire insurance or a house on similar terms.

It happens, however, that this policyholder is associated with a Company that, by skillful management, has had phenomenal growth and prosperity, and as the actual cost of individual insurance decreases with each year's increase in volume of business, there has arisen a profit which the Company gives back to the source whence it came—though no obligation to do so, implied or expressed, exists in its contracts. It has thus distributed approximately ten millions of dollars within the past few years, and it is a significant indication of the Company's present condition that the voluntary dividend of two millions now being paid is the largest yet declared in any one year.

It need not be assumed that the Metropolitan Life desires to pose as a philanthropic institution. Undoubtedly its growth in popular favor and its tremendous accession of new business year after year are in part due to this voluntary application of profit. It may be "all business," but if so, it is the sort of broad gauge, open-handed business that might be widely imitated with good results to all concerned.

POLICE POWERLESS

Foreign Detectives to Protect Russians by Contract.

St. Petersburg, August 27.—On account of the utter inability of the police in various parts of the empire to cope with the ordinary forms of lawlessness, which are flourishing under the cover of the revolutionary movement, a group of foreign detective agencies have applied to the Minister of the Interior for a concession for the formation of a private police detective agency which will protect the property and lives of its patrons from ordinary criminal attempts.

The chief field of activity of the proposed agency is Western Russia, and Poland. A considerable number of detectives, among them English, German and French operatives, already have arrived at Warsaw and are studying the language of the country and the conditions there.

In spite of the wholesale arrests and deportation of revolutionists, the big centers daily chronicle of murder and robbery is not appreciably diminishing. The police seem utterly powerless to capture the perpetrators of the crimes. They do not make an arrest in one case out of twenty-five.

Will Local Milk be Dearer?

Local milkmen are now thinking of springing an advanced price for local products upon a long suffering public. Some of the local dealers, and incidentally, patrons of our local water works, say that the cows are not working full time this season.

The milkmen will hold a meeting in a few days to consider what prices will be charged for milk during the winter. They claim that there is no profit in winter milk at five cents per quart.

SEVEN VACANCIES TO BE FILLED

Dominion Cabinet Must Take Action Regarding the Bye-Elections

CANADIAN WHEAT FROM U.S.

"Doctored" Wheat Sent From New York and Affects Market—Moldy Hay Shipped.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—The Prime Minister returned to the capital Saturday night, and will meet today the most of his Cabinet colleagues, who have been called together for councils this week. In addition to other matters of public concern, the Government must provide for the filling of seven Parliamentary vacancies, three in Ontario, three in Quebec, and one in Nova Scotia.

In Ontario, North Renfrew, North Bruce, and East Elgin are without representation. Quebec County is vacant through the retirement of Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, St. Mary's division of Montreal, must select a successor to Mr. Piche, who has gone on the bench, and an election must be held either in Nicole or Gaspe, both of which returned Hon. Mr. Lemieux. The Nova Scotia bye-election is due to the unseating of Hon. W.S. Fielding.

DOCTOR CANADIAN WHEAT.

The Canadian Commercial Agent at Leeds, Eng., reports that so-called Canadian wheat is being shipped from New York to Hull in what is said to be a "doctored" form, and adds that for this reason Hull importers will only buy Canadian wheat on sample. A leading importer is quoted as saying that: "Canadian wheat does not come up to the quality it is stated to be when it arrives in the port, and therefore causes dissatisfaction to the buyer. This could be prevented if we could have our Canadian wheat shipped direct from Canadian ports."

The same agent reports a great number of complaints regarding the packing of Canadian hay, the allegation being that being put up in a damp state makes it moldy in the interior of the bundle.

COLONIES NOT WANTED.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—The statement in yesterday's Canadian Associated Press cable from London about the Canadian Government having declined to make a grant of land in the North-West for a Jewish colony, evidently refers to negotiations which have been in progress for some years for the establishment of Jewish settlements in the Canadian West. The Dominion Government, of course, makes no grant of land to any colonies, but only to individual settlers as they comply with the homesteading regulations. The planting of colonies in the North-West has not has not proved, on the whole, advantageous, and Hon. Mr. Oliver, who is now in Europe, has evidently communicated a definite decision to Mr. Zangwell on the subject.

Mule Attacked Auto

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 26.—A mule hitched to a delivery wagon caused a panic at the Southern Depot here yesterday by smashing in the engine box of a big automobile. The mule appeared not to like the odor of the machine, and, having been driven up close to it, he set upon the automobile with both his fore feet and tore great holes in the top of the box. People expected the machine would explode before the mule could be got off, but it did not. The owner of the mule was arrested on a charge of injuring private property.

That Italian Store Well Defended

Owing to the somewhat considerable newspaper notoriety enjoyed (?) by a Hunter street fruit store, it is of interest to learn that yesterday, Mr. Wm. Eyres, chairman of The local Board of Health, and a most aggressive and consistent member of the city's most prominent body of preservers, as far as our health is concerned, said; that:

"If the person who is writing letters over an assumed name, will come out frankly over his signature, and lay a complaint in the proper manner about the Italian fruit store at 144 Hunter street, he will find that the Board of Health is neither a dead or defunct body, as he alleges. I don't like the business of making grave charges and hiding behind a nom de plume. He should have the courage of his convictions and come out frankly. The Board of Health is still much alive and zealous in its efforts to keep the city in a proper sanitary condition.

"I have been in the cellar of the store against which the complaint has been made and everything was clean and as sanitary as it was possible to have it."

When a woman suffers from depressing weaknesses, and then keenly realizes how helpless—how thoroughly worthless she is. Dr. Shoop has brought relief to thousands of such women. He reaches diseases peculiar to women in two, direct, specific ways—a local treatment known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Night Cure, and a constitutional or internal prescription called Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is applied locally, and at night. It works while you sleep. It reduces inflammation, it stops discharges, it heals, it soothes, it comforts, it cures.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative (tablet or liquid form) is a constitutional, nerve tissue tonic. It brings renewed strength, lasting ambition and vigor to weak, lifeless women.

These two remedies, singly, or used together, have an irresistible, positive helpful power. Try them a month and see. Sold by J. D. Tully.

Mr. F. P. Maus Talks to The Times

Mr. Fred P. Maus, promoter and chief stockholder in the rolling mills, proposed to be located here, who has been in the city for some weeks trying to get an equitable arrangement with this city as a basis whereby this important industry may be added to our already rapidly increasing galaxy of manufacturing industries, leaves today for Pittsburg, Pa.

Yesterday afternoon a Times representative interviewed Mr. Maus as to the probabilities of Peterborough getting this important industry.

Mr. Maus, whilst most affable, courteous, and polite as is any modern man of business, when interviewed by the press, assured us that "reticence personified" Peterborough may look to a preference. Mr. Maus is favorably impressed with two Canadian cities, one of which is Hamilton, and the other Peterborough. He did not, or would not, say exactly what inducements his Hamilton made, or as making to get the works, but every thing even he said Peterborough might get the works.

As a guarantee of good faith, of Mr. Maus remarks, although nothing such is necessary, it high or noted, and The Times man ascertained, last night, the verity of such proofs, here is now at the Peterborough station a car load of furniture belonging privately to Mr. Maus, and purely to his son, a young man, and an expert in the rolling mills business, which was shipped here in confident anticipation of this city getting the mills as per agreement, already noted in The Times.

Mr. Maus, in conversation with The Times specially noted that his firm, does not employ boys or women but expert workmen, many of whom would come here from the States. There would still be wide field left for Canadian workers in this line of business.

NOW IS THE TIME

Summer is Best Season to Cure Catarrh. Hyomei Sold Under Guarantee

Summer is the best time in the year for the treatment of catarrhal troubles, and we urge every reader of the Times to use Hyomei now and be permanently cured.

Unlike the ordinary treatment for catarrh, there is no stomach dosing when using Hyomei. The remedy is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes in every outfit, and its balsamic healing air penetrates to the most remote parts of the nose, throat and lungs, searches out and kills the catarrh germs, in all parts of the respiratory organs and soothes and heals any irritation there may be in the mucous membrane.

Hyomei is not alone the only natural treatment for catarrh, but it is the only one sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money unless it gives satisfaction. It kills all disease germs and restores the mucous membrane of the throat, nose and lungs to perfectly healthy condition.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c.

Isolation Hospital May Be Erected

Finance Committee of City Council Ask for Plans of One not to Exceed $6,000 Including Equipment.

A joint meeting of the City Finance Committee and the Board of Health met and discussed the Isolation Hospital question last night, with Ald. Mason in the chair. There were also present, Medical Health Officer Dr. Bingham, and Aldermen McWilliams, Elliott, Ball and Wilson, and Mr. Wm. Eyres, chairman Board of Health.

Mr. Eyres had three plans for an isolation hospital, which he had submitted to the provincial health authorities, and received a letter from Chas. E. Hodgetts regarding the matter. The latter had replied that a substantial building could not be erected for $3,000 or $4,000. The provincial men, Mr. Eyres continued, could not improve upon the plans prepared under the supervision of the medical association of this city, costing in the neighborhood of $10,000, except that they advised that the kitchen be constructed at the top of the building so as to readily carry off all objectionable odors.

Mr. Hodgetts in his communication, pointed out that according to the Public Health Act, every municipality may erect and maintain in isolation without submitting a bylaw to the ratepayers, and he further said that the local Board has power to provide a temporary hospital at the cost of the municipality without submitting the question to the municipal council; but in this case the provision is only a temporary one, but the Board of Health has certainly power to incur any expenses in this line which might at times be considered, and the municipal council possibly have no other alternative than to pay the accounts.

Mr. Eyres reported that the deputation appointed to confer with the two local hospitals with a view to securing the co-operation of the hospitals with the city in the matter of erecting isolation buildings close enough to the hospitals to warrant attendance on isolation patients by the regular hospital staff, had met with no success whatever. Both hospitals absolutely refused to enter into this project which had its incipiency with the City Council.

The three plans submitted by Mr. Eyres, called for isolation buildings costing $6,000, $8,000 and $10,000 respectively, and the committee fully discussed the $6,000 plan providing for a brick building, and the accommodation of eighteen patients.

Ald. McWilliams contended that the proposed isolation hospital, which would necessarily stand idle best part of the time, should be erected at a minimum expense, commensurate with all requirements.

Ald. Mason replied that sometimes it is false economy to construct permanent work at a very low figure.

Ald. Ball did not think the people would stand for $6,000. He added that the statute calling for an isolation building has been in existence wenty years, and medical men are constantly changing in their opinions, for instance isolation hospitals have been pronounced a failure in England.

Mr. Eyres pointed out that Mr. Hall would not allow the use of the Nicholls hospital under any consideration; this institution has all the patients it can accommodate at $1.75 a day. As for the St. Joseph's hospital, the law would not allow them to take isolation patients, they not having room, nor sufficient ground on which to build an isolated building.

Ald. Ball argued that had the hospitals not been unduly interfered with, things might have gone on as heretofore, they taking in cases of contagious and infectious diseases on payment for same by the city. Then Dr. Hodgetts had not cd him to infer that the city must provide an isolation hospital. The trouble in Peterborough is, added Ald. Ball, that we have metropolitan ideas with but village opportunities.

Dr. Bingham said the hospitals were doing very well had they not been interferred with; but a man with the classical name of Smith came along and shut them off from taking cases of contagious diseases in a day. The doctor alluded to the provincial inspector of hospitals.

Ald. McWilliams moved, seconded by Ald. Wilson,—That Architect Blackwell prepare plans and specifications for an isolation hospital, the total cost of construction and equipment not to exceed $6,000; and that the building to be capable of extension.—Carried.

This committee will meet again at an early date. It is proposed to erect this hospital on the Hilliard property.

SANITARY PRECAUTIONS.

Mr. Eyres drew the committee's attention to the fact of the Provincial Board of Health having under statute passed notices, warning people that a fine of $100 will be imposed on any person allowing or causing the emptying of sewage into the upper lakes or the Otonabee river. This is the law, and he thought it the council's duty to see that it is enforced in the interests of the community. It is a menace to Peterborough that such pollution of the waters should continue. The Provincial Board of Health he pointed out, expects such municipality to take active steps to enforce this measure. Mr. Eyres will bring this matter up at the next meeting of the local Board of Health with a view to securing the enforcement of the law regarding the pollution of the lakes and the Otonabee.

Youthful Thieves In Central Milling Co.

It transpired yesterday that either Monday morning or some time on Sunday, some party or parties, broke into the Central Milling Company's elevator and store house, and carried away large quantities of peas and oats.

The theft was discovered yesterday morning by Mr. Henry Moore, the foreman. As soon as Mr. Moore arrived he noticed cracks in the oats and chop on the floor. The cracks were those of young men. He found they had pulled out an oat slide in the elevator, and the oats were scattered over the floor about a foot or foo and a half deep. In the store house, Mr. Moore found peas scattered over the floor.

The thieves gained entrance through a window on the south side of the building, the place where they selected being concealed by cars on the siding. The youthful burglars in taking cereals out through the windows, spilt a considerable quantity. The amount taken has not yet been ascertained.

The police expect to have the guilty parties behind the bars before long.

Now Quaker Oats Co. Not Am. Cereal Co.

Yesterday the American Cereal Co., as such under that cognomen ceased to exist. Henceforth this vast and favorably known corporation will be known as the "Quaker Oats Company."

The change has been made for various reasons, principally because the fame of the company has been built up principally on the merit of their Quaker Oats, and other cereal products.

The necessary legal procedure has been gone through, and the change took place yesterday. In both the United States and Canada the firm will hereafter be known as "The Quaker Oats Company."

Local Citizens Home From Europe

Yesterday Messrs. Dickson Hall and Mrs. Hall, and A. H. Stratton, who have been making the grand tour of Europe, were kept busy shaking hands with old friends, and receiving congratulations over their safe return. Mr. Hall yesterday told a Times representative that he had had a most enjoyable (as might under the circumstances be expected) time. He took in Paris, stopping at the Continental Hotel, and also in Berlin, as well as visiting the leading centers of England and Scotland. Mr. Hall whilst abroad absorbed many interesting and useful ideas that will doubtless be manifested in the business of his firm, Messrs. Rich. Hall & Son. He returned via New York, whilst Mr. Stratton arrived by way of Montreal.

Southern Hotel May Get License

Building Will Have to be Renovated and Addition Built.

The Board of License Commissioners met last night, in Dr. Morrison's office, those present being Messrs. Jas. Kendry, H. LeBrun, Dr. Morrison, and License Inspector Joseph Stewart. It was moved by Mr. Kendry and seconded by Mr. H. LeBrun, that the question of the license of the Southern Hotel, be reopened. This was assented to by all present. It was moved and carried that the board will not entertain the question of granting a license to the Southern Hotel, until the building is renovated and remodelled to the satisfaction of the Board. The meeting then adjourned.

It is likely that Mr. Nixon, of Massassauga, who good recommendations will get the license, providing that the improvements, as noted above, are carried out to the satisfaction of the commissioners, and that also an addition be built to the hotel.

WAS CURED AT THE SHRINE

Miss Anna F. Morley Leaves at St. Anne's Shrine Crutches She has Carried for Years.

Miss Anna F. Morley, one of the Boston pilgrims to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre in Quebec, returned to her home in Allison yesterday, a changed young woman in personal appearance. She went to Quebec firm in the faith that she would lay the crutch she carried for 15 years at the foot of the shrine of St. Anne, her patron saint. Since Miss Morley was 4 years old she had been a sufferer from hip disease, her right limb having been affected. There were frequent operations on the diseased limb, her friends believed her a hopeless cripple.

Miss Morley was a devout girl. Several years ago she told her father and her mother that she believed that she could never be cured until she made a visit to the shrine of St. Anne. A few weeks ago he consented to allow his daughter to make the journey.

The young woman came back yesterday morning without her crutch and suffering no pain. Her right limb was straightened out nearly two inches longer than it was before she left Allison, and, as she herself says, "I feel that my leg is getting better every day, and in a few weeks I know that I will be just as well as though nothing were ever the matter with me."

Miss Morley described her cure as follows:

"I was attending the holy sacrifice of the mass, preparing to receive communion, when suddenly there came over me a sinking sensation. I felt as though I were smothering. I wanted to cry out, but couldn't. At the same time a feeling of rapture, of joy, swept over me and I felt that I could walk to the shrine in the church without the aid of the crutch. I went to the altar to receive holy communion, and, after those attending mass had gone from the church, I fell on my knees in thanksgiving. I didn't want to go to the shrine without using my crutch, although I knew that I could, because I didn't want the attention of many people riveted on me. After having knelt before the shrine I left the crutch behind me. I felt like a new being. Much of the stiffness of my leg was gone, and although the bearing of my full weight upon the leg was new and strange to me, I felt a thousand times better than before."

Before my cure took place the priest asked what was the matter with me and I told him I was a sufferer from hip disease.

"What are you using that crutch for?" he asked.

"I am obliged to use it, father," I replied. "I cannot take a step without it."

"You do not have to use it; you must not use it any more," he replied, as he walked away."

When the young woman burst in on her father and mother, sisters and brothers, this morning, they were awed. Neighbors crowded around the door of the Morley home and the head of the house was obliged to pin a slip of paper upon the garden gate to the effect that people should not call at the home today.

The young woman last week was obliged to wear a shoe on the right foot, the sole of which was about five inches in thickness, while the heel was nearly two inches thicker.

The limb formerly was sore so that the slightest pressure of the hand upon it gave her pain. Yesterday morning there was absolutely no pain, the young woman said. It had been impossible for her to bend her right knee a few weeks ago. Yesterday morning she could bend it as readily as the left.

Miss Morley is the daughter of a clerk in the office of the election commissioners, and is 19 years old. She is a graduate of Mt. St. Joseph's Academy in Brighton.

Instantly you are aware that some powerful force is building up your depleted energies. At once you feel braced, toned, strengthened. Search the world over and you won't find anything to tone up a weak system like Ferrozone. Physicians claim it is the most strengthening, uplifting medicine ever discovered.

No more spells of tiredness. No bounding, joyful health when you take Ferrozone, of which Mrs. H. S. Gold, of Bowsman, Man., speaks in the following words of praise:

"I state my case because I think it may assist other women to health. A year ago I was almost a wreck. I was pale and emaciated, suffering from nervousness and hysteria. Little things going wrong in the house bothered me. The doctor advised different treatment, but they didn't help. He said my condition was due to weakness that might never be cured. Ferrozone had a peculiar grateful effect and built me up quickly. The ills I suffered from are cured. I am now strong and vigorous and was made so by Ferrozone."

Why not cast aside the chains of sickness and enter the bright, happy life of robust health. Let Ferrozone help you—let it cure you once and forever. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

HOW MUCH ROOM IN GERMANY?

In the far view of German statecraft there is always the great question of disposing of the large natural increase in population. The desire of ambitious Germans is to hold in Germany as much of the growth of the Germanic race as possible. Beyond that limit the purpose is to keep the Germans of the future under the German flag.

But German efforts to found colonies where German men and women can and will live and work and build German homes have not won encouraging results. German outlying possessions have been disappointing in many events. They have not paid in trade or money. They have caused wars and troubles of the most irritating sort. They offer no future to the German emigrant.

Better territory, only sparsely peopled and available for settlement, is hard to find. Most of it has been taken by other nations. Nearly all of it is in strong hands, or guarded by powers of the first rank. Germany can hardly count upon obtaining any large area, with a fertile soil and a temperate climate, for colonization under the German flag.

For the present and for an indefinite period in the future, the remarkable development of German industries may afford an outlet at home for all the increase in the German stock of muscle and brain andd wealth. The population of the German Empire is growing fast. Its gains are greater now than ever before. Emigration has almost stopped, and yet the German labor market has been inadequately supplied, in the last year or two of great industrial activity. There has been a steady inflow of laborers from Russian Poland and Austria-Hungary. The increase of nearly a million a year in the population of the German Empire—a gain greater than the growth of the United States, except by immigration—is all absorbed.

This is a wonderful demonstration of the productive value of brains, scientifically used. It is the work of national education. It stirs up the possibilities of intelligence.

A country with a rather poor soil, broadly speaking, and a climate only second-rate, is falling little short of feeding its 60,000,000 people, in an area equal to three to four Provinces like Ontario. With a coast of limited extent and with few natural harbors, Germany has built up a magnificent merchant marine. Poor by reason of internal divisions and foreign wars, until after national unity was wrought in 1871, Germany has become a great capitalist nation, with immense sums invested in foreign lands.

For the present and the near future Germany must rely largely on its exports of manufactures for national prosperity and subsistence. It must be the aim of the German government to stimulate foreign trade. The merchant marine of the empire must be enlarged and protected. There is no other outlet for German ambition and German vitality. Colonial growth is only a hope—perhaps a dream.

This Horse Wears Summer Trousers

Canandaigua, N. Y., August 25.—A horse in training at the driving park here has been presented with a pair of linen trousers by Charles Turnbull, the Canandaigua agent for Humane Society. Turnbull claimed that the horse suffered severely from attacks of horseflies, and conceived the idea of taking some old trouser legs and placing them on the animal, fastening them to the shafts. The horse goes about in his new garments without apparent fright and Turnbull's plan is a success. He also had the coats of two other horses treated in the same manner.

IMITATED THE WHITE MAN

Indian Advertised and Got Chicago Woman to Travel 3,000 Miles to Wed Him.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 25.—"Western Luck," issued in Queen Charlotte City, tells a story of an Indian who married a Chicago woman. The wife in her letters to her husband's people in the north has been addressing them as "Indians." She is evidently ignorant of the fact that the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Beatrice, which left Victoria on the 15th inst., carried a Chicago woman who was a passenger for Skidegate, the capital of the Queen Charlotte Islands.

As Skidegate is little more than a collection of shacks they wondered and waited.

When "Mamen Tom" met the lady at the wharf and carried her off one another immediately began to wonder what kind of an advertisement he had placed in the Chicago newspapers to attract a white woman to travel 3,000 miles to wed a red man and live on the fringe of civilization.

Ran Eel's Creek Rapids.

A party of fifty enjoyed an excursion to Eel's Creek on Big Buck Lake up to the first rapids on Mr. Dowell's "Mayflower." From this point small boats were used to complete the trip up to the high falls, where lunch was enjoyed and some very successful fishing indulged in. Mr. and Mrs. Forgie of Petersburg, captured about a dozen fine bass. Mr. Millar, of Petersburg, landed over twenty above the falls. On the return trip the various rapids were run. Mr. Forgie of Petersburg, carried off the honors in this line in a quite unexpected way. He was preparing to land his rowboat at the second rapids, a very dangerous spot, in order to portage it. The swift current caught the stern of the craft and swung him into mid-stream. Getting his boat down the steep fall stern first. Strange to say he reached the bottom safely, although his boat was loaded up to full capacity with baskets, fish and various other articles.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Battleship Showing Defects

Chatham, Eng., Aug. 26.—The trials of the new first-class battleship Africa, of 16,350 tons, have been suspended, owing to some minor defects having developed.

This is the latest misadventure in a run of extraordinary ill-luck which has been attending the British navy recently, and which the advocates of a strong navy are using to urge the admiralty to adopt a more forward policy.

Besides the Africa, the two other seven new battleships have been placed out of action within a few months.

A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. A Rare Chance
TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.
PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 31-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 120 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

feel at liberty to follow her example. He had tact enough to understand her, and advancing to the table, he said:

"I should not have ventured to intrude upon you, Miss Elmer, but that I have brought with me my apology. Here is a new work that is attracting much attention in the literary world—a poem by an unknown author. I have perused it with much deeper feelings than those of admiration. I know of none who could appreciate and enjoy this beautiful creation of poetic genius more thoroughly than yourself."

Laura Elmer bowed coldly in reply to this compliment.

"I hope you will do me the favor of using this copy; it is full of my marks, but I trust that it will not be very much less acceptable or interesting on that account," continued the baronet, quite unconscious of the covert vanity betrayed in this sentence.

"Sir Vincent Lester's literary taste is indisputable," replied Laura.

He then placed the volume in her hand, with a scarcely perceptible pressure, accompanied with a scarcely audible sigh, bowed, and withdrew.

Laura Elmer's happy reverie was over for that evening. A frown corrugated the usual noble calmness of her brow, as standing where he had left her, she conferred with herself:

"What can that man mean? Kindness, perhaps, and only simple kindness to a friendless girl. It is ungrateful, unjust, and absurd to think otherwise, and yet I should be happier and more comfortable if Sir Vincent Lester would interest himself much less in my comfort and happiness. For though reason can find no positive cause of offense, yet instinct teaches me to dread these attentions...I will for once disregard fallible reason, and be guided by unerring instinct. I will obey no more summonses to the library, and since this room is not free from intrusion, I will henceforth spend my evenings in my own private apartment."

So saying, Laura Elmer sat down and opened the volume that she had very reluctantly accepted, and only because she had no civil pretext for declining it.

In looking over the poem she was less pleased than surprised to find that those passages which most deeply interested her own sympathies were the very ones most emphatically marked by the admiration of Sir Vincent Lester.

"It is strange and sorrowful to think that a mind like Sir Vincent Lester's, capable of feeling and appreciating the true and beautiful in nature and art, should be so thoroughly destitute of veneration for the Creator of nature and the Inspirer of art, thought Laura to herself, as she sank into a pensive reverie.

Meanwhile Sir Vincent Lester regained the solitude of his usual retreat in the library. He walked up and down the floor in disturbed thought, murmuring:

"I have forgotten myself. My hand closed upon hers with a convulsive grasp, and my strong emotion broke forth in an irrepressible sigh. I have alarmed her; I who meant to have approached her only in the gentle guise of friendship—ay, and never to have gone farther than friendship, if I could have helped it. With the friendship, confidence, and companionship of this large-hearted, high-souled woman, I think I could be happy, would she but give me so much. I, at forty-five, have never known the love of woman. Lady Lester married me for my rank, which she knows how to wear, and for my money, which she knows how to spend. She never sympathised with any of my tastes and pursuits, never cared for the well-being of our own children; never, in one word, loved either me or them, being as incapable to love as she is of thought. Her brain and heart seem to have no other functions than to regulate the action of her calm, nervous system, and the circulation of her cool blood.—Her life no higher object than to be thought the fairest and the best-dressed woman at the ball or opera. I scarcely ever see her ladyship, and when I do I have nothing to say to her, or, if I have, she does not understand me. If we met often we should be dreadful bores to each other, that is certain. How different with this beautiful Laura Elmer; for beautiful, indeed, she is to me, with her graceful form and fine features! I could gaze forever with renewed delight upon that calm, queenly brow, those large, lustrous, dark eyes, and pensive lips. All day long I devise excuses to see her in the schoolroom, or to summon her here, and the few transient moments that I spend in her society seem worth all the days and hours I employ in manoeuvring for them. Well, and what are my 'intentions?' as the dowagers would say. I know not beyond the present one of enjoying as much of Miss Elmer's society as I possibly can, leaving the result to fate.

"Well, what the devil do you want, sirrah?"

This last objurgation was addressed to a servant, who put his head in at the door.

"If you please, Sir Vincent, my lady's respects, and she would like to see you," replied the man.

"Come, here is an unprecedented incident; a flat contradiction to all that I have said. Her ladyship actually sends for me. What can be in the wind?" thought Sir Vincent to himself, but aloud he merely inquired:

"Where is her ladyship?"

"In the drawing-room, if you please, sir."

"Very well, go and say that I will be with her ladyship in a moment."

And wondering much what could be the cause of such an unusual summons, Sir Vincent repaired to the drawing-room.

He found Lady Lester its sole occupant.

As he looked at her he thought, "Surely there never was before a woman so fair and so unattractive."

Lady Lester was still youthful looking at forty-two, and but for the fullness of her form she might really have been taken for twenty. She had gone through life gently and calmly. And now she reclined upon the sofa as motionless as a beautiful statue.

She merely lifted her large eyelids on seeing Sir Vincent enter.

"Well, Clare, you sent for me; it must have been that I might admire your very recherche toilet. You are going out, I presume?"

"Yes, I am due at Carleton House this evening; but I have half an hour to spare, and I wish to speak to you about something very particular?"

"Well, my dear?" said the baronet, drawing forward a chair and sinking into it.

"You are aware, I presume, Sir Vincent, that this great Etheridge case, that has been before the House of Lords for weeks, is at length decided in favor of the new claimant."

"Yes, I believe so, last week."

"Precisely."

"But in what manner does the decision of the great Swinburne case interest your most serene ladyship?" inquired the baronet, smiling.

"You shall know," said Lady Lester, rousing herself a little, taking the Morning Post from a table near, turning to the fashionable intelligence, and reading:

"'The Duchess of Beresleigh and the Ladies Wardour have arrived at Beresleigh House. With her grace is the young and beautiful Rosamond, Baroness Etheridge, of Swinburne, in whose favor the great Etheridge case, that has occupied the House of Lords for so many weeks past, has lately been decided. At the next royal drawing room, Lady Etheridge will be presented.'

A large property (over 900 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 3,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in this section.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (600 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within one foot of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 50 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut many of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 55 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hundreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

Pale Faced Girls

Thousands Using Successful Cure For Paleness and Anaemia.

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested.

At night she is restless, she dozes, but doesn't sleep soundly.

Vital force must be increased, new blood must be supplied and a general rebuilding take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton had invaluable experience in these cases and found nothing so prompt in building up the young woman as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food ready for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

Full of spirit, ruddy and strong is the girl that needs her system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The following recent letter from Miss Etta McEwen, of Trafalgar, speaks for itself:

"In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly, and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed. "Formerly I felt tired and depressed. I looked as if a severe illness was hanging over my head.

"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I strongly advise every young woman to use them."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—There was no session of the police court yesterday morning.

—A week from yesterday will be Labor Day and a public holiday.

For dry, cracked lips, or rough skin, use Dr. Shoop's Green Salve. It positively makes lips and skin like velvet, sold by J. D. Tully.

—The graphophone concerts at Jackson Park are greatly appreciated by the crowds attending this most popular of our local resorts.

—St. John's church choir will enjoy an outing to Jubilee Point and Gore's Landing today. They will go on the steamer Water Lily at nine o'clock.

—The grand lodge of Ontario East will visit Plowville lodge, I.O.O.F., to-night, steps toward the formation of a Rebekah lodge being taken on Tuesday evening.

—Owing to yesterday's high temperature, an audible smile was in evidence by the ice men yesterday. "Coming events cast the shadows of long money ahead."

—The auto-bus is giving splendid service on the Peterborough Chemong route. General remarks as get heard on the streets and hotels are most complimentary.

—It seem of curious that thirsty souls could only find the stock of liquors seized by Inspector Jos. Stewart at Lakefield last week, when a time they would certainly have.

—It is more than possible that many a mater-familias, particularly where the police-branches are numerous is singing the "Te Deum." School opens a week from today.

—The small boy has been on the war path for a couple of days with catapult and firm determination to capture a black squirrel seen a day or so ago near Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons' factory.

—Yesterday a busy time was had in front of Mr. Kelly's grocery store on George street, when Mr. Dunglow had a staff of men replacing the southern plate glass window, which broke a few days ago.

—The primary departments of the George street and Grace Churches Sunday schools will have an outing at Jackson Park on Thursday afternoon of this week. Those in charge of the affair will be Mrs. Lewis, Miss Lumsden and Miss Butcher.

—Contractor J. J. MacPherson has completed the brick work on the new county house of refuge building. Mr. McPherson has completed a contract that will ever exist as a standing advertisement to his efficiency as a bricklaying contractor.

The Crowe Family Holds Reunion

This week, one of our well known local families, to which ex-Ald. Crowe belongs, are holding a reunion.

The visitors who will, as noted, spend a week or two here, have not met for some five years.

Get a 5 cent box of Lax-cis at our store please. We think they are great. Just test these toothsome, candy-like Laxative Tablets for constipation, sour stomach, biliousness, bad breath, muddy complexion, etc. Risk 5 cents and see. J. D. Tully.

New Rifles for the 57th Arrived.

Ten of the new Ross rifles authorized for the Canadian militia, arrived in the city yesterday. These rifles for the shooting team of the 57th Regiment have been handed out. Some of the members will use the rifle in the D.R.A. matches at Ottawa this week. It is expected that in time all the members of the 57th Regiment will be equipped with the fire-arm instead of the Lee-Enfield rifle, which is used at present.

Mr. Roy Takes Out Copyright.

A Wonderful Record.

As made up by improved and exact processes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. It cures the backache, periodical headaches, the dragging-down distress in the pelvic region, the pain and tenderness over lower abdominal region, dries up the pelvic catarrhal drain, so disagreeable and weakening, and overcomes every form of weakness incident to the organs distinctly feminine.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, the makers of which are not afraid to print their formula on the bottle wrapper, thus taking their patrons into their full confidence. It is the only medicine for women, every ingredient of which has the strongest possible endorsement of the most eminent medical practitioners and writers of our day, recommending it for the diseases for which "Favorite Prescription" is used. It is the only put-up medicine for women, sold through druggists, which does not contain a large percentage of alcohol so harmful in the long run, especially to delicate women. It has more genuine cures to its credit than all other medicines for women combined, thereby saving thousands of sufferers from the operating table and the surgeon's knife. It has restored delicate, weak women to strong and vigorous health and virility, making motherhood possible, where there was barrenness before, thereby brightening and making happy many thousands of homes by the advent of little ones to strengthen the marital bonds and add sunshine where gloom and despondency had reigned before.

Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce. He will send you good, fatherly, professional advice, in a plain, sealed envelope, absolutely free. Address him at Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do not gripe. They effectually cleanse the system of accumulated impurities.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

INCORPORATED BY THE STATE OF NEW YORK

JOHN R. HEGEMAN, PRESIDENT

DIVIDEND ANNOUNCEMENT

INDUSTRIAL

The Company has just declared a cash mortuary dividend on Policies over 5 years in force which have matured and shall mature in 1906. To all death claims on Policies over 5 years in force it adds 5 per cent. to all death claims on Policies over 4 years in force, 6 per cent., and an additional 1 per cent. for each year of duration. Thus the dividend on claims under Policies over 10 years in force is 10 per cent., over 15 years 15 per cent., over 20 years, 20 per cent., over 25 years, 25 per cent.; 15% on the earliest claims, 27 per cent. The cost of this dividend payable during the year is approximately

ONE MILLION TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS

In addition to this the immediate benefits (payable during the six months after date of issue) on adult Industrial Policies, excepting Term and Endowment, issued during 1906 have been doubled. Certain increases have also been made in the benefits of Infantile Endowment Policies during the first year. The cost of these, which will operate as a dividend on all claims maturing during this year, on the issue of this year, is approximately

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

These dividends are over and above the dividend declared on Industrial Policies January 1 last, which was quinquennial cash dividend, amounting to about 20 per cent. of the premium for a year, declared on all Policies (except Increasing Life and Endowment Policies, which by their terms carry benefits increasing yearly after the third year) issued in 1901, 1901, 1901 and 1901. The amount appropriated for this dividend was about

SIX HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS

Thus the Company THIS YEAR has declared and IS PAYING dividends on Industrial Policies amounting to

OVER TWO MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

Every one of these Policies is non-participating, promising a definite sum only at maturity, without dividends. The payment of the dividend is PURELY VOLUNTARY. Dividends have been actually paid without promise for many years by the Metropolitan. The total amount now approximates in 12 years. Included among these Policies are hundreds of thousands of Policies issued by other companies and assumed by the Metropolitan.

TEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

INTERMEDIATE

Intermediate Policies for $500 each have been issued by the Metropolitan for 10 years past. They are Policies designed for such of the Industrial classes as can afford to pay annual, semi-annual or quarterly premiums instead of weekly. As the plan was new there was no actuarial experience to guide the Company as to the mortality cost. The Company promised to pay, if earned, dividends after five years and annually thereafter. This year the Company set aside over to be paid in dividends on Intermediate Policies during 1906. Payment down to the non-participating rates of this and other ordinary companies. of these dividends has brought the cost of the Policies very nearly

SIX HUNDRED AND TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS

ORDINARY

The Ordinary Policies issued by the Company for the last 15 years have been practically all written on non-participating rates—plain business contracts for plain business men, which tell their whole story upon their face, leave nothing to the imagination, borrow nothing from hope, require definite conditions and make definite promises in dollars and cents. The rates, therefore, are low. The Company has in force, however, a considerable, though, compared with its total business, a very small percentage of participating business. Some of the Policies were issued on annual dividend and some on deferred dividend plans—many of the latter having been issued by other companies and assumed by the Metropolitan. Upon these Policies the Company has this year declared and is paying a dividend equal to the excess premium charged by mutual rates over the non-participating rates charged on its current business. The amount of this dividend is nearly TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, which is a voluntary extra dividend.

Thus the amount of dividends the METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY is paying this year is nearly

THREE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

THREE QUARTERS OF WHICH IS A VOLUNTARY GIFT BY THE COMPANY TO ITS PATRONS.

MORAL -- INSURE IN THE METROPOLITAN

George Shea is Seriously Hurt

The many friends in this city of Mr. George Shea (better perhaps known as "Dubbie,") will regret to learn that at Brantford last Saturday, Mr. Shea met with a serious accident in a league ball game in that city. The Dufferin Rifles, of which he was catcher, and the Cockshutt Plow Company teams were engaged in a match, as the result of which the championship depended. One of the opposing players, in endeavoring to score on a close chance, collided with Shea at the plate, driving his knees into the side of the catcher just as he secured the ball. Shea fell in a semi-conscious state. Two ribs on the left side in the region of the heart were broken. Internal injuries of a serious character are also feared. Shea was removed to the hospital.

Contractor R. Sheehy Kept Busy.

Contractor Dick Sheehy is a busy man these days. At present Mr. Sheehy has two gangs of men at work—one on each side of the river. He will doubtless complete all his contract work in good time this fall. At present he has over 40 men engaged. One gang is laying a nine-inch pipe sewer on Mark street from Hunter to Douro. The sewer is 1,100 feet long. Mr. Sheehy has also a number of men putting down a sewer on Maitland avenue, from King to Charlotte streets.

Big Interest Asked by Money Lender

Story of Shylock and His Pound of Flesh Repeated---R. W. Palmer, the Victim; Kehr, the Defendant.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—A record in high interest was established yesterday in the when Magistrate Denison was called upon to deal with a charge of 192 per cent. per annum.

This did not take any reckoning, it was down in black and white upon a sanced agreement.

R. W. Palmer, 179 University Ave., was the victim of the usury, while Wm. Kehr, of 144 Yonge street, stood to make a handsome turnover.

As it is, Palmer must pay Kehr $15 interest for the use of $35 for a year, a rate of 43 per cent. Such were the magistrate's orders.

The charge against Kehr was of obtaining the money from Palmer by misrepresentation, concealment and suppression of material facts.

Palmer told of borrowing $35 on Aug. 29, last, and giving a chattel mortgage on his household goods as security.

"What were you to pay?"

"Each month, $5.25."

"What rate of interest was mentioned?" asked Mr. Corley.

"Nothing was said."

AGREEMENT PRODUCED.

The defence produced an agreement signed by Palmer. At the bottom were the words, "Being computed at the interest rate per annum of 192 per cent."

"Wasn't that there when you signed it?"

"No. I just signed a blank and they filled it in afterwards."

"Why did you do that?"

"Mr. Kehr told me."

"Kehr, step up!" ordered the magistrate.

"Did you read over the words '192 per cent.' to Palmer?" asked the magistrate.

"I called his attention to it."

"He signed knowing it was 'there?'"

"Yes."

"A man must be a fool to do that," observed his worship.

It came out that Palmer was bound more tightly than by a chattel mortgage.

ASSIGNMENT OF WAGES.

"You have an assignment of his wages for ten years?" asked Mr. Corley.

"Yes," replied the money-lender, without a blush.

"You would want them to have him pay 192 per cent," said the magistrate.

Mr. Corley—"He was your slave for life."

"You can reduce them to 12 per cent. under the Dominion Act," went on the Crown attorney.

"Will you be content to take 12 per cent. from the time the money was borrowed?" asked the magistrate.

"I don't see why I should; the Dominion Act did not come into force till July 13."

Mr. Corley—"You want your pound of flesh, I see."

"We offered to settle at $22.50 interest," said Kehr.

"That's still a Shylock rate."

"Can you pay $50?" asked the magistrate of Palmer. "You seem to have agreed to the 192 per cent."

"I'd like a little while to try it," and the magistrate settled the case in this way.

Palmer has already paid $36.75, and on payment of $13.25 more, he will be free from the clinches of "192 per cent."

Local Preacher is Highly Praised

Good Work Done by Rev. H. D. Kennedy in Various California Cities.

Yesterday The Times was in receipt of a most interesting paper, The California Christian Advocate, kindly sent us by Rev. H. D. Kennedy, one of Peterborough's leading evangelists now engaged in the Lord's work in California.

This paper says in part:

"Rev. Mr. Kennedy had charge of the evening services. His sermons were indeed in demonstration of the Spirit and in power. As an evangelist, he is both safe and sane. His sermons are all upon the great truths of God's Word and along the line of salvation. He knows how to handle the after meeting to the best advantage. His work among the children deserves mention. In a very unique way he instructs them in the Christian life. He makes it plain, and shows it to be, what it really is, an attractive life for the young as well as old. In the service of the last Sunday afternoon, about fifty children who had been assembled on the platform sang a song of invitation to fathers, mothers, families, friends and loved ones, to go with them to the heavenly land. It was very impressive to see several hundred people moving forward about the altar in response to the call of the children."

Rev. Mr. Kennedy has for four months been engaged in successful evangelistic work in the Golden State, including Sepastopol, Santa Rosa and other parts, and is now at St. Helena.

Ex. Ald. Batten Gives His Views

Another Site Proposed for the Proposed Normal School.

Yesterday afternoon a Times representative, having ascertained that ex-Ald. Batten had been known to express somewhat pronounced ideas as to his choice of a site for the Normal school, went to his Simcoe St. place of business and interviewed well posted citizen.

Mr. Batten advocated the property lying near the corner of Park and McDonel streets in the triangle formed by the G.T.R. line and Park street, north. This has a frontage about five acres belonging partly to Mr. D. W. Dumble and the rest to Mr. G. M. Rogers, whom Mr. Batten thinks could be purchased on a reasonable amount. Mr. Batten considers this site a good one because it is close to the West Ward school and near to the street car line. The ground is high and dry and commands a splendid view of the whole city.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday morning the Weary Willies must have found easy lounging spots, hidden from the eagle eyes of the police as they did not participate in their accustomed feast of reason in the loud smelling police court.

The first case called was that of a local hotelman, charged with having assaulted a local man in the former's place of business. The man assaulted, gave evidence, saying he had had some words with the hotelman when the latter struck him a blow, that judging by the evidence must have been like unto the kick of an excited mule. The accused who did not appear was fined $10.

The next case was of a somewhat serious nature, being really robbery from the person. It seems that on the night of August 7th, five boys were sleeping in a bus in a local hotel yard. A man named John Sullivan, who had dallied too long and strongly with the extract of corn, came out to take a nap in the same bus. In his then free and easy condition, John had the temerity to flash a $5 bill before the gues's occupying the bus, previous to his arrival. When John overcome by the fumes of his jag let persuaded in showing the long green, one of the boys grabbed the bill. This took place about two in the morning of Aug 8th. When the world of Peterborough awoke to the sorid cares of business the boy who captured the V. got it changed and made an equal "divvy" with his pals.

Only three of the boys have been captured, and these were on trial yesterday.

Those on trial swore that it was one of the boys said at large that grabbed the $5 bill, so a charge was laid against the prisoners of having each taken $1 of stolen money, when knowing it to have been stolen. They were allowed to go on their own recognizances to appear on Thursday to answer for sentence.

Last night P.C. Mayberry picked up the second page of a "jag" that P.C. Newbold investigated the previous evening. On Monday evening, P.C. Newbold saw a sawed-off son of Albion by name T. Bosworth, under the influence, and, after advising the Englishman to go home, and had been assured by the latter that a shower of hiccoughs thus: "I am Premier of Ontario," finally got him to go to his hotel. Alas and alack! Last nigh Tommy, got a larger jag on and was gathered in by P.C. Mayberry. He will face the magisterial orchestra at nine this morning.

Mr. H. Henderson Is in the City

Mr. H Henderson of Norwick, Ont., who arrived in the city on Saturday, and who is now a visitor with Mr. A. W. Greenman his son-in-law, yesterday gave The Times a friendly call.

Our readers will perhaps remember the Mr Henderson left this city on June 7th for Great Britain and Ireland, sailing from Montreal per Allan Line ss. Virginian, the new upon steamer.

Mr. Henderson got back on per the same steamer, after a seven days' voyage on Friday last, while Mr. Henderson was in Europe, Mrs. Henderson was on an extended visit at Calgary. Mrs. Henderson will arrive here on Friday and spend a few days the guest of Mr. Greenman.

Mr Henderson when asked by The Times how many times he had crossed the Atlantic, with a laugh, replied "So many times I really forget exactly, but about 26 or 27 times. Mr. Henderson spoke in highest terms of the grand steamer Virginian, in all his long and extended voyageing across the great pond, he had never met with such splendid service, such good provisions, and such perfect service as on the Virginian.

Mrs. J. E. Oles Laid to Rest

Funeral of Respected Lady Carried Out Quietly by Request.

Yesterday afternoon a sad scene was in evidence, as the tea mortal remains of Mrs. J. Everett Oles, followed by a sincerely mourning cortege of personal friends, were borne to the sepulture. By special request of relatives, the funeral was strictly private, none of the usual tokens of sympathy, such as flowers, wreaths or a long procession of acquaintances being present.

The late Mrs. Oles, whose untimely calling away was noted before, was previous to her marriage, Miss Elsie Ethe Brodigan, and was a daughter of the late Robert Brodigan, and born in Brantford. She had lived the greater part of her life in Peterborough with her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell, Brock street.

About two years ago she was married to her now bereaved husband, Mr. J. Everett Oles, who with other relatives will have the heartfelt sympathy of a wide circle of friends in their particularly distressing affliction.

WILL CONTEST THE WILL

One Relative of Russell Sage Doubts Millionaire's Testamentary Capacity.

Albany, Aug. 28.—Royal C. Sage, a grand-nephew of Russell Sage, is to attack the Sage will on the ground that there is a private paper separate from the will which directs Mrs. Sage how to dispose of the estate.

An Albany attorney who refuses to appear by name as yet is counsel for Royal Sage, and this attorney says his client lives near Albany, but his father is dead and that he claims his share of the portion which would have fallen to his father had he lived.

Royal Sage is not mentioned in the will.

The attorney said last night: "My client claims to have discovered facts bearing on the contents of this private paper in which Russell Sage directed his wife how she should dispose of his millions.

"We claim that if that private paper is found to contain what we understand it does contain, it will make the testamentary capacity of Russell Sage a matter of doubt, because of the purpose for which he wished her to apply the money.

"We claim also that if the provisions of that private paper had been incorporated in the will itself it would lay the will open 48 hours as to the testator's testamentary capacity."

ENGLAND LOSES ORIENT'S TRADE

Japan's Coal Mines Now Supply the Far East

WAR WORKS MANY CHANGES

Australia Also Falls Short in Enterprise.

London, August 29.—Fears of Japanese commercial supremacy in the Far East have received a great impetus in the recent discovery of the fact that Japanese coal is expelling English coal from China, the East Indies and India and competing with Australian coal throughout the Pacific. A great many of the fears expressed for the future of far eastern trade may be fanciful, but this is one that is at present day real. Commercial supremacy depends to a large extent on the control of the coal supply of a country.

Manchuria and China have immense coal beds and a recent article in the Tour du Monde of Paris shows not only that Japan herself is rich in coal but that her infant coal trade is already beginning to justify the fears expressed by a large part of the commercial world. Before 1896 the total amount of coal mined in Japan varied between 200,000 and 1,000,000 tons a year.

But suddenly vigorous development was given this industry and the coal mines followed the immense strides made by Japanese trade and commerce in general. The mines were fitted out with new machinery, connections were made with the railroads and in 1902 the total amount of coal mined was 8,000,000 tons. At first 50 per cent. then 54 per cent. of this total was consumed in the home country and the rest exported and the same proportion is true for today.

In 1897 Japan exported coal to the value of $1,900,000. In 1898 the exportation was $5,400,000 and in 1902 Japanese coal had supplanted English coal in most eastern markets from the north of China to Singapore, although England had previously been the only country which furnished coal to this section. At Hongkong, where 800,000 tons are consumed annually, only Australian coal and that from Tonkin can compete with the Japanese article, and the same is true for Singapore, where Japanese coal costs only $3.25 a ton as compared with $6 for English.

Toward the east Japanese coal goes as far as San Francisco, competing with Australian coal. In 1903 the Japanese took advantage of the great mining strike in England to strengthen themselves in India, where Japanese coal trade has constantly increased. The exportation of coal in 1897 was $5,900,000. In 1901, $6,000,000, in 1904 the amount, $6,700,000, was small because of the war. The Japanese now have control of the markets in the Philippines, Hawaii, Indo-China, China, Korea, Siberia, and portions of the western coast of America.

The price of Japanese coal, however, has increased of late. In 1895 it was possible to obtain good coal at $2 a ton, but since that time the price has gone as high as $5.

The islands in which the Japanese coal fields are found are Kyushu (the most southern of Japan), with twelve coal fields; Nippon (the central island and the largest of all), with five beds, and Yezo, (the most northern), with four coal centers. In the Kyushu mines the coal is very fat and has great heating power, the best known coal coming from the Miike mine. This mine has a capacity of 61,000 tons a month, and is situated in the west of the island.

There are also found on the island of Kyushu mines of anthracite, but not in large quantities. This island, however, furnishes three-fourths of the Japanese coal and consequently the coal ports are the most important in Japan. The five mining districts of the island of Nippon all produce anthracite, the island of Yezo only bituminous, but of a very hard variety.

ACQUIRE DISTILLING PLANTS

Standard Oil Company Have Made a Deal That Will Benefit Their Output.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The Standard Oil Company has taken a step toward acquiring ownership of all principal distilling plants in the United States, according to a despatch from Peoria, Ill., to the Tribune.

A conference was held Friday last Chicago between representatives of the distilling interests and the Standard Oil Company.

A price has been set upon every distillery in Peoria and indications are a deal will be effected and the plants will pass into the hands of the Standard soon.

It is said the price asked was considered too much by the Standard Oil people and the latter threatened if suitable terms could not be reached to build distilling houses of their own.

The chief reason of the action on the part of the Standard Oil Company is the recent passage of the Alcohol Bill by Congress.

Experts employed by the Rockefeller interests, after experimenting, reported their product cannot be manufactured cheaply enough to make it a serious competitor of Rockefeller, but that it could be used in the manufacture of mercerized cotton and other fabrics, and would be an extremely favorable product to control.

Mrs. George Grant Passed Away

Yesterday morning a sad death occurred at the Nicholls Hospital, when Mrs. Jane Grant, widow of the late Mr. George Grant, passed away.

The deceased has been in the hospital for about two weeks, and has been a resident of this city for the past two years, coming here from Worcester. She was seventy years of age and had a large number of warm friends who will deeply regret to hear of her death. The deceased is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Jas. Hall and Mrs. Wm. Taylor, of Peterborough, Mrs. John J. Crowe, Warsaw, and Mrs. Samuel Smylie, of Chaplin, Sask., and one brother Mr. Jas. Taylor, Otonabee. One son also survives, Mr. Wm. Taylor of Lakefield.

She was a member of George St. Methodist church and led a consistent Christian life.

PUT OUT OF A PULLMAN

Negro Bishop and Wife Ejected from Sleeping Car.

Chicago, August 28.—The Rev. Dr. H. Phillips, bishop of the Colored Methodist Episcopal churches in Tennessee, North Carolina, Texas, and portions of New Mexico and Arizona, recognized as one of the leading educators of the South, and a close friend of Booker T. Washington, and his wife, were ejected from a Pullman sleeping car en route to Chicago because a white passenger objected to their presence. Bishop Phillips and his wife arrived in the city yesterday from Nashville, Tenn., and are visiting their son, C. Phillips, 2427 Wabash avenue. They are on their way to Battle Creek, Mich. After the train crossed the Ohio River, the conductor allowed Bishop and Mrs. Phillips to return to their Pullman berth.

Bishop Phillips is a man of modest, intellectual demeanor. He has received five diplomas from the Walton University, Nashville, and has twice been abroad on lecturing tours. His wife is a graduate of the Fisk University, of Nashville, president of the colored W. C. T. U. of Tennessee, and vice-president of the National Association of Colored Women.

The man upon whose objection they were ordered out of the car was Irving McGraw, a farmer, living near Pulaski, Tennessee.

Story of a Plot in Troubled East

Korean Emperor May be Taken to Japan for Safe Keeping.

Tokio, August 28.—Additional facts are leaking out regarding the arrest of the Korean Vice-Minister of the Interior, the Vice-Minister of the Imperial Household, a Lieutenant-General, and over 100 others as they left the palace at Seoul.

They have with them three documents bearing the imperial seal in vermilion empowering them to levy troops, granting them $50,000 from the imperial treasury, and authorizing the independent administration of Kanto Island, at the mouth of the Tumangang.

This discovery is taken to prove imperial instigation in a conspiracy against Japan, and apparently indicates that the conspirators are counting on Russian help.

The Asahi is now urging that the Emperor of Korea should be brought to Japan for safekeeping.

The Re-Building of Valparaiso

Custom Dues on Building Material Withdrawn for 18 Months.

Valparaiso, August 29.—The Government has drawn up and presented a project for the reconstruction of Valparaiso. In order to prevent the flooding of the streets, they will have a uniform level. The minimum width of streets without counting sidewalks, will be 15 metres. The Government will pay cash for lands expropriated for this purpose, and will facilitate loans to owners of lands thus taken. Customs duties will be suspended for 18 months on construction material.

The destruction by dynamite of menacing buildings is bringing out protests.

The Bourse and commercial houses are not yet doing business, and because of a lack on money the banks are forced to continue limited payments. Over $250,000,000 is the estimate of the damage.

Mr. McWilliams Was Honored

Mr. Nelson E. McWilliams, the manager of the Charlotte street ball and hockey teams, who will soon leave to reside in Toronto, was waited upon at his residence, 351 Sherbrooke street, by a delegation from the Charlotte street athletic teams. He was presented with a slight token of appreciation for the services which he has rendered the club during his residence in this city. Mr. Fred Roddy read the address, which Mr. Ed. Carr presented.

How to Treat the Russian Terrorists

Court at Peterof Divided on Subject---Repression is Feared by Some.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—The court at Peterhof apparently is divided as to how to meet the campaign of the terrorists. Premier Stolypin and his Cabinet, however, have taken a united against repression upon a scale which would drive the whole population into revolt. The Premier's views are reflected by the Russ which declares the Government must not be frightened into abandoning the reform program. It is only necessary, the paper asserts, to draw a line between loyal opposition, and those who, by word and act, seek the destruction of the Government.

The Novoe Vremya proposes, "As an exit from the horrors of the worst kind of civil war," to confer upon the Cabinet authority to "prepare a constitution which will realize the hopes of the sane Liberals."

The Stet continues to advocate a concert of the powers to suppress anarchy and anarchists.

Against these moderate propositions the reactionary party at court is urging a dictatorship, and the Strana publishes a report that upon the initiative of the Council for National Defence an extraordinary conference, somewhat similar to that which created the committee on public security after the assassination of Alexander II., has been called to meet at Peterhof during the latter part of the week.

The funerals of the victims of the bomb explosion Saturday, at the residence of Premier Stolypin, occurred yesterday under military escort.

WANT COMPLETE AUTOCRACY.

Moscow, Aug. 29.—The Monarchical party, in an address to the Emperor just published, openly appeals for a dictatorship, "Which will put an end to the demoralization in the army," and also urges the complete suppression of Parliament and the restoration of the unlimited autocracy. Should his majesty, however, insist on retaining the parliament, the Monarchists promise loyal participation in the elections, upon the condition of a change in the election law providing for the exclusion of the Jews from the suffrage.

The Black Hundred organizations are conducting an agitation against the intelligencia and Jews.

RIDDLED HOUSE WITH SHOT.

Riga, Russia, Aug. 29.—Police and troops yesterday surrounded a lodging house on Stovilia street, where bombs had been discovered. The revolutionists inside fired with rifles from the windows on the troops and also threw a bomb, whereupon the troops riddled the house with bullets, killing or wounding all the inmates. Two men and a woman were killed.

At another place in the suburbs a Lettish student was killed and several were wounded whilst resisting arrest.

BELENZOFF WAS TRICKY

Russian Bank Robber Nicely Fooled His Guards.

St. Petersburg, August 29.—Colonel Solovieff, who investigated the escape of Belenzoff, leader of the band which robbed the Credit Mutuel Bank of Moscow of over $400,000 in March last, and who recently escaped from the train on which he was being conveyed under guard from Switzerland to Warsaw, on his way to Moscow for trial, has found that his escape was entirely due to the gross carelessness of the guards. The prisoner went in the toilet room, locked the door, raised the window, quietly lowered himself to the step of the car and jumped off. His escape was not discovered until half an hour later.

A DELIGHTFUL OUTING

Enjoyed by the Members of St. John's Church Choir Yesterday.

St. John's church choir spent a very pleasant day yesterday at Otonabee River and Rice Lake resort. They embarked on board the comfortable steamer Water Lily at the Wolfe street wharf at 9.30, and reached Jubilee about noon where luncheon was served. Leaving Jubilee at three o'clock, the happy party sailed for Gore's Landing, where a very pleasant hour was spent, thence the boat left for Idyl Wyld at 4 o'clock, which picturesque and quiet resort was reached at five o'clock, after touching at Harwood. Races for the chorister boys, ladies and gentlemen, were run off at Idyl Wylde, then the whole party sat down to tea.

The steamer left Idyl Wyld at 7 o'clock and arrived home at 10 p.m.

Mr. Devey the choir master, is to be congratulated on the thoroughness of all arrangements, and Mr. Harry Long, with his well-known generosity on all occasions of a similar nature connected with St. John's, added in no small measure to the day's enjoyment, by contributing ice cream and confections free to all.

The thanks of the party are also due to Mr. Charles Goodacre, of R. Fair & Co., for his valued services throughout the day.

One feature of the event was the fact that instead of the party splitting up into families and groups, both luncheon and tea tables were laid with all conveniences, and all sat down together.

Mr. W. H. Walkey, the valued secretary of the church, very kindly assisted in the sports and also in the hundred and one little details which go to make such a day a pleasant one.

It was a very happy band that sang the National Anthem at the street railway wharf last night.

A Female Teamster Works on the G.T.P.

Saskatoon, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Davis is a woman who is employed on the G.T.P. construction works ten miles west of here, handling a team and scraper. She is giving satisfaction, and does her work with great energy and skill. She is the wife of a homesteader from Wyoming, and she says she is working because she needs the money. Her services were accepted reluctantly, but now the camp boss says she is one of the best workers in the outfit. Many homesteaders wives help them in the harvest fields, but this is the first woman to do this sort of work in competition with men. Mrs. Davis earns $2.75 per day.

Fix Scale of Wages.

Ottawa, August 29.—The Transcontinental Railway Commission has fixed the following scale of fair wages for construction of the section of the railway between Quebec and La Tuque: Stonecutters, $3; stonemasons, $2.50; quarrymen, $1.50; rock drillers (hammer men), $1.75; steam drillers, $3; blasters, $3; tracklayers, $1.50; concrete men, $1.50; structural iron workers, $1.75; carpenters, $1.75; choppers, $1.50; ordinary laborers, $1.50; blacksmiths, $2.25; steam shovel engineers, $3; steam shovel cranemen, $2.50; steam shovel firemen, $1.50; steam derrick engineers, $2.25; steam derrick firemen, $1.50; contractors' locomotive engineers, $3.00; contractors' locomotive firemen, $1.50; contractors' locomotive brakemen, $1.50.

Strike Settled.

The strike among the employees of the Montreal Rolling Mills has been amicably settled, and all hands returned to their benches yesterday. The strike was declared nearly two weeks ago on account of a disagreement in regard to the fortnightly payment of wages.

WHY SO WEARY?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous.

You have to work hard. This uses up lost of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't wake off. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a tonic of vigor into the system that drives weariness, exhaustion, debility, of sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of the Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from over-powering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight hacking cough also added to my burden.

"My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 56, I consider Ferrozone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS. Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

THIRTEEN

There are several things in Brooklyn. One of them is the Thirteen Club. This club has for an object the showing of contempt for the Thirteen superstition, and it is going to put up a building by which and in which to show its contempt. Appropriately enough the building will stand on the spot where, through the collapse of a floor, thirteen were killed and many injured. The plans for the building, which will be begun tomorrow, call for a one story, brick, coffin shaped building, containing thirteen rooms, with thirteen coffin shaped windows, and a doorway of the same style, the panels ornamented with skull and cross-bones. The upper panels of the door are to be coffin shaped. Over the door will be placed the motto of the club, Morituri de Salutamus," with XIII. Club" below; while on the upper part of the windows on the front of the building will be the words Superstition," Ignorance," Prejudice," Bigotry"—the names of the four things the Thirteen Club has been organized to combat. One large room will be for the use of the club, the remaining twelve being for the use of any who will pay the rental. The cost of construction is expected to be $1,13.13, the lowest bid.

All of which is perhaps a little less foolish than the Thirteen superstition, and the Twenty-three nonsense.

A LIGHT ON SOCIALISM

Nothing, perhaps could better illustrate the fatuity of the Social-anarchist factions in Idaho than their nomination of W. D. Heywood, secretary of the Western Federation of Assassins, for Governor of the State. Heywood, as is well known, is under indictment and in the State prison in Boise, with Moyer, president of the federation, charged with the assassination of ex-Gov. Steunenberg. Heywood has been permitted by the prison authorities to send a telegram announcing his acceptance of the nomination.

What a farce this is! By their action the Social-anarchists of the Idaho mining region virtually endorse the murder of ex-Gov. Steunenberg, not to speak of the numerous other murders which have been committed in that disturbed region during the past four or five years. They have often endorsed these crimes before, in printed and spoken utterances, such as leave no doubt in any reasoning mind as to the complicity of their organization, the Western Federation of Miners, in most of all these deeds of bloodshed and anarchy. Now they have the effrontery to place one of the principal officers in this bloodthirsty and law-defying organization in nomination for the Chief Magistracy of the State. Such action falls little short of organized criminality.

It is quite true that Moyer and Heywood have not yet been convicted of the crimes of which they are accused. But the evidence against them is so strong that conviction seems little less than a certainty. If the men who have plotted Heywood in penitentiary for crimes committed in cold blood, they would run with times as great a risk of being enthroned to run down and punish the perpetrators of these abominable crimes, instead of encouraging and defying the efforts of the officers of the law to apprehend the guilty. Civic bodies would might, then, to demand that Heywood should be elected of the grave charges hanging over him before such honors could decently be proffered him. But civic honor and decency are unknown to the anarchistic breed which named Heywood as their choice for Governor.

There is probably no likelihood that Heywood could be elected Governor of Idaho if he were a free man. To appoint a man of his character could be counted to any office is to outrage all decency and humanity. But if the worst should happen, and Heywood should be elected, the gubernatorial chair would not ruin to the Socialists. His election would mean the inclusion in the power of a horde of harpies who would at once proceed upon a course of spoliation and plunder such as would bring about a speedy revolution. The people's form of government would be subverted, and there would lead a reign of anarchy, under the name of the national Government, authorized to maintain a republican form of government in each and every state of the Union.

Seemingly, there would be no end to the trials of exile which would follow the election of such a person as Heywood to the governmental office of any State. In the particular case of Heywood, if he shall be found guilty as charged, after an impartial trial, he will be punished according to his crime, like any convicted criminal, and the farce of a gubernatorial nomination, or even of an election, would not save him.

A Golden Chance for Investment

Wonderfully Rich Property of the Bi-Metallic Tunnel and Mining Company.

In these days of strenuous struggle to get safe and profitable investment for capital, possibly the most lucrative channel for placing funds is in a conservatively managed and safely assured mine. Gold and silver will always, as they have since the world was young, be commodities eagerly sought for.

In this city there are thousands of people whose surplus funds are invested in securities that are only repaying the owners from 11-2 to 4 per cent. Such persons are now offered a safe investment in which 8 per cent. is guaranteed, but which at the price now quoted, actually means a return of 16 per cent. on moneys placed therein.

The Bi-Metallic Tunnel and Mining Co., of Silver Plume, Col., own, with no debts against it, a property of 300 acres, containing 15 government claims, one of which produced several thousand dollars' worth of ore every week. Other claims have produced gold, silver and lead. The claims are abundantly supplied with timber, a most desirable, and, in fact, absolutely necessary requirement to economic mining. Another great feature of this company's property is that it is connected by a good waggon road, leading two miles, to a railway depot, thus ensuring cheap shipment of their product. The Bi-Metallic Tunnel and Mining Co. has a capital stock, non-assessable, of $1,-000,000, divided into 200,000 shares of treasury (preferred) stock, and 800,000 of common stock, of a par value of $1 per share. For a limited time only the company is offering 50,000 of preferred stock at half price, i.e., 50 cents a share, for development purposes. This stock pays 8 per cent. on par, thus those getting in now at 50 cents per share will reap a life-time harvest of 16 per cent. on money invested.

The "Silver Standard," an independent mining journal, speaking editorially of the Bi-Metallic Tunnel and Mining Co. says: "Local mining men who are acquainted with the situation consider the Bi-Metallic one of the most favorable propositions in the district, and there should be no difficulty in obtaining capital to carry out the plans of Mr. Broughton, which include the installation of a plant of machinery for the more rapid development of the property so that it may soon be placed upon a paying basis. For this purpose the tunnel will be admirably located as the waters of Clear Creek will furnish power a large portion of the year, and electric power lines run near the portal of the tunnel."

New York, Aug. 26.—The lives of 40 tenants of a big apartment house on Carroll street, Brooklyn, were endangered, and Vincent Christiano, an iron dealer, was seriously hurt by an explosion today believed to have been caused by dynamite.

The section is notorious for feud and blackhand outrages and today's explosion may be traced to those causes.

Hair Help

So many persons have weak hair, lifeless hair, hair that falls out, splits at the ends, keeps rough and uneven. Such hair needs help. The roots need feeding with a good hair-food — Ayer's Hair Vigor. The hair becomes stronger, grows faster, stops falling out, keeps soft and smooth. Just feed your hair and you will be satisfied with it.

A Rare Chance
TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.
PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 51-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 138 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value, one dollar. A careful investigation will show, as it has to all others, that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Both Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. How bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy five shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished, correspondence solicited,

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH — A NOVEL

ed to their Majesties by the Duchess of Beresleigh, whose guest she remains for the season.'"

"Well?" inquired the baronet, looking up inquiringly, as his lady finished reading. "I cannot see how this should interest us."

"You cannot! Well, perhaps your eyes may be opened when you shall have heard another little piece of gossip which I shall read to you."

And turning to another part of the paper, she read:

"'Approaching Marriage in High Life—It is confidently reported that the young Duke of B—l—h will soon lead to the hymenial altar the youthful and lovely Lady E—r—e of S—ab—n—e.'"

"There! now do you see?"

"I see that the paragraph means to say that the Duke of Beresleigh is about to marry Lady Etheridge."

"Exactly; and that is just what the old duchess intended when she invited the wealthy young baroness to become her guest," said Lady Lester, with so much asperity that Sir Vincent, raising his eyebrows, inquired, with some surprise:

"Well, my dear; and why should the manoeuvres of the duchess in favor of her son discompose you?"

"Sir Vincent, we also have a son who must make an eligible marriage."

"Oh—h—h! I understand you, Lady Etheridge, with her vast estates, would have been a very desirable part for Ruthven. But this atrocious old ogress of a manoeuvring dowager has been beforehand with us," said the baronet, laughing, and then adding: "But never mind, my dear; let us hope it is not true; we have nothing to ground a belief upon but a newspaper paragraph, which is the most mendacious thing in existence. It is generally safe to believe just the opposite of that which it states."

"That is my only hope; and it is just possible that I may meet the duchess and this young paragon at Carleton House to-night. I have ordered Ruthven to attend me thither—and here he comes," said her ladyship, as the door opened, and gave admittance to Mr. Ruthven Lester.

"Success to your diplomacy. I would give the duchess a long start, and back your cool, clear head at any odds against all her grace's hot haste," said the baronet, smiling.

"And, by the way, Sir Vincent, if you should go out before I rise in the morning, I wish you would leave me a check for a thousand pounds. I must give a party for this young baroness."

"Ah, these tickets in the matrimonial lottery cost something, I see," thought Sir Vincent, as he gallantly handed his lady to her carriage.

At Carleton House that evening the beauty, fashion and celebrity of the court and city were assembled to assist at one of the most brilliant entertainments that followed the nuptials of the Prince of Wales with the unstable and unfortunate Princess Caroline of Brunswick. It was a scene of almost Oriental magnificence, splendor and luxury. Not a seraglio of an Eastern sultan, or the sensual paradise of a follower of Mohammed, could have presented a larger or more varied collection of houris than were gathered together in the royal drawing-rooms of Carleton House. Above this crowd of brilliant brunettes and delicate blondes, no less than four rival queens of beauty contended for the crown. These were the Duchesses of Devonshire and Gordon and the two Misses Gunning. But these ladies had been for many seasons the admired of all admirers; and though the lustre of their bloom had scarcely commenced to fail, the charm of their novelty was certainly dimmed.

Lady Lester made a point of arriving late. The rooms were quite full. After having paid her respects to the Prince and Princess of Wales, leaning on the arm of her son, she made a tour of the rooms, in search of the Duchess of Beresleigh and her party, in vain, for neither the duchess nor the ladies Warbour were anywhere to be seen. Though constantly nodding, and smiling, and exchanging compliments with her fashionable friends, and longing to make inquiries, she forbore, from that deep policy that taught her what great results sometimes spring from trifles, for to ask for the Duchess of Beresleigh would turn the conversation upon her grace and her graces beautiful guest, the wealthy young baroness, and scarcely no one could foresee how many rival schemes to entrap the heiress.

"I see how it is," said Lady Lester to herself. "The duchess will not bring her here for two reasons that are now very apparent to me; the first is, that this profligate Prince of Wales, who is in no degree reformed by his marriage with a woman whom he cannot appreciate, who has besides grown weary of his old flames, must not be permitted to see Lady Etheridge until she is secured to the duke; and the second reason is that the young baroness is evidently intended to make her debut in society upon the occasion of her first presentation to their Majesties. Consequently, I cannot issue tickets for my party until I know when the next drawing-room is to be held."

And, wearied with her fruitless promenade, Lady Lester turned into an alcove shaded and perfumed with many boughs and wreaths of flowers, seated herself within its cool shadows, and said:

"You may go and leave me here to rest for half an hour, Ruthven, and then order the carriage and return for me."

The young man departed, nothing loth, and the lady, indolently fanning herself, fell into meditation.

She was soon interrupted by the approach of two persons. With the secretiveness and curiosity of her nature she withdrew into the deepest shadows of the alcove, where she was quite concealed by the branches of an orange-tree.

The two persons entered the alcove. The first she recognized as the Prince of Wales, the second as one of his gentlemen in waiting, known even then as the confidant of his pleasures and vices.

"You perceive that the duchess has not appeared here this evening with the beauty," said the prince.

"No, your Royal Highness."

"But then the Duchess of Beresleigh never was a habitue of Carleton House. You have seen this new beauty?"

"Yes, your Royal Highness."

"And are her charms as great as they have been represented?"

"Your Royal Highness may be assured she is a prize worth all the trouble that we shall have to gain her. She is about twenty-four years of age, her form is of medium height and beautifully proportioned, though not yet rounded as it will be in a few years. Her complexion is as fair as a lily and as blooming as a rose. Her features are a delicate Grecian cast. Her eyes of a dark, brilliant hue. Her cheeks are roses, her lips rosebuds. And her hair of a bright, warm, golden hue, surrounds this beauteous face like a halo. She is not only a beauty of the first order, but, more than that, a beauty of your Royal Highness' own exquisite taste," said the minion, with a truculent bow.

"McMahone, you have succeeded in exciting my interest in this fair creature, and now I shall rely on your skill and address in procuring an interview with her."

"Your Royal Highness knows that I am ever keenly alive to your wishes, and active in your service; and though this Hesperian fruit is guarded by a terrible dragon in the shape of a duchess, I do not at all despair of plucking it for your Royal Highness."

A large property (over 50 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 300 feet square and all bond veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (250 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property to within 300 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $3.00 to $2.50 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2500 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines about 1000 feet across our property within 300 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest veins in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or panics, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hundreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the Independent Refinery against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 43 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

Wrist Broken by Horse's Kick.

Yesterday as Mr. Frank Steele, an employe of Messrs. McCollum Bros., the Water street liverymen, was grooming a horse in the barn, the animal, usually quiet and docile, but exasperated by flies or some other cause, suddenly kicked out, and its hoof caught Mr. Steele in the wrist, fracturing the same. The injured man was at once placed in one of the firm's hacks, and taken to Nicholls Hospital, where the injury was treated. Mr. Steele will be laid up for some days.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Ald. Duncan is a fisherman, who has now a record in the piscatorial art. On Monday evening while trolling in the Little lake, the worthy alderman got a 14-pound lunge on his line and after a hard tussle succeeded in getting it into the boat. Just as he fish came over the side, the hook became unfastened, and to prevent his prey from jumping out of the boat the alderman grasped it by the fins. In doing so he had his hands badly scratched and suffered considerable pain from them.

He, with other boys were swimming in the lake at Crescent street. This boy sat down in shallow water, and unfortunately alighted upon a broken bottle, thus receiving a serious wound. Dr. McNulty was called in, and for some time matters looked most serious. However, the little fellow is now convalescent.

DIED SUDDENLY OF HEART DISEASE.

How frequently does a head line similar to the above greet us in the newspapers. The rush, push and strenuousness of the American people has a strong tendency to lead up to valvular and other affections of the heart, attended by irregular action, palpitation, dizziness, smothered sensations and other distressing symptoms.

Three of the prominent ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made are recommended by some of the leading writers on Materia Medica for the cure of just such cases. Golden Seal root, for instance, is said by the UNITED STATES DISPENSATORY, a standard authority, "to impart tone and increased power to the heart's action." Numerous other leading authorities represent Golden Seal as an unsurpassed tonic for the muscular system in general, and as the heart is almost wholly composed of muscular tissue, it naturally follows that it must be greatly strengthened by this superb, general tonic. But probably the most important ingredient of "Golden Medical Discovery," so far as its marvelous cures of valvular and other affections of the heart are concerned, is Stone root, or Collinsonia Can. Prof. Wm. Paine, author of Paine's Epitomy of Medicine, says of it:

"I not long since, had a patient who was so much oppressed with valvular disease of the heart that his friends were obliged to carry him up-stairs. He, however, gradually recovered under the influence of Collinsonia (medicinal principle extracted from Stone root), and is now attending to his business. Heretofore physicians knew of no remedy for the removal of so distressing and so dangerous a malady. With them it was all guess-work, and it fearfully warned the afflicted that death was near at hand. Collinsonia unquestionably affords relief in such cases, and in most instances effects a cure."

Stone root is also recommended by Drs. Hale and Ellingwood, of Chicago, for valvular and other diseases of the heart. The latter says: "It is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence."

"Golden Medical Discovery," not only cures serious heart affections, but is a most efficient general tonic and invigorator, strengthening the stomach, invigorating the liver, regulating the bowels and curing catarrhal affections in all parts of the system.

Lady Loses Her Purse.

Yesterday a lady living on Smith street reported to the police the loss of her purse containing a sum of money. It seems that on Monday morning, about 11 o'clock, as she was walking along Smith street, carrying her purse, and a plate covered by a cloth, she unknowingly dropped the former. A few seconds after discovering her loss a buggy drove by over the territory in which her loss had occurred. The lady has furnished the police with a full description of the horse, buggy and driver, so that it is now up to the party to return the purse to the police station, and save trouble.

After buying the lots one of them was sold by the purchaser within an hour at an advance of $25. There are only five lots left on the original plan of the property to be disposed of.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

Education Board Discusses the Site

They Advocate Enlarging the North Ward School to a Ten-Room Building if Ont. Government Chooses Dickson Park Site.

Last night the Board of Education held a special meeting. There were present, Messrs Dumble, Crane, Fair, Dr. Burnham, Dr. Morrison, Ackerman, Pringle.

Mr Fair in the absence of Mr. Ferguson, chairman of the Board, took the chair, and stated that the meeting had been called to consider the Normal school question, and called upon Mr. Pringle.

The latter said that the main question was when a school was required as per stipulation of Ontario Government. The Toronto representatives from the Department of Education drove about the city, viewing the various sites. Dr. Smith asked whether a certain site was available on the Dickson Park property. The representatives were well pleased with the western property. They asked Inspector Walker to make a report. They also favorably regarded the Boswell property, but the railroad trouble interfered with this as with other properties visited. The whole question is, what will the Board do if the Government delegates select the Hilliard property. It is asked will the Board provide a ten-roomed school. One of the councillors told him yesterday, if the school is built large enough, the total accommodations will soon be required. The North Ward school has never had a 4th book class. The older pupils have to come to the Central school.

Dr. Morrison understood that as the Toronto educationalists looked favorably to the West Ward school, and as the local Board recognizes that more accommodation is needed in the West Ward, it seemed to him that the Board should advocate the West Ward as a site. He thought the Board should throw its influence in toward the West Ward site.

Mr Crane though, that what had been said about the railroad trouble on the west side was only too true. He was in favor of the northern location.

Mr. Dumble said the West Ward property could not be bought for less than $10,000 or $12,000. I would not destroy the park to put the school there. It would cost $40,000 to build a west ward school.

Mr Morrison said if the school is built in Dickson Park, it is a mile from the center of the city, and pupils would not come here to walk a mile and a quarter to a boarding house.

Mr Pringle said the question to decide was not as much between Dickson Park, and the Hilliard property as to what school accommodation the Board is prepared to supply.

He moved,—That the Board of Education having been asked to state the size of school it would provide for Normal school purposes, in case of the Ontario Government selected, as their site, the Dickson Park, or Hilliard farm, that the Board hereby agrees, should either of the above mentioned sites be decided upon, to extend the present North Ward school to a ten-room building, provided the City Council will advance the necessary funds, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the City Council.

This motion seconded by Mr. Dumble, was carried unanimously.

The Board then adjourned.

57th Regt. Band is Kept Busy

The 57th Reg. Band did not play in Victoria Park last night as noted in yesterday's issue.

The cause of this disappointment is that the band will leave for Toronto a eight o'clock in the morning, where they will play today at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Owing to the kindness of Mr. W. Mellroy, C.P.R. ticket agent, a special car will be provided for the convenience of the musicians.

It is expected that the band will give a couple of concerts in Victoria Park, during September, for the benefit of the Stony Lake cottagers and others, who have been absent during the summer.

It is probable that a sacred concert will be put on some Sunday afternoon in September in the park.

Fitzgerald scored 61 in the same match and won $5. In the tyro class of the MacDougall match Mr. C. Blomfield of the Wanderers Gun Club put on 60, and Corp. A. H. Becomes Despondent and Suicides.

St. Jovite, Que., August 30.—Mr. Napoleon Charette was found dead in his bed here with a bullet wound in his head, and holding a revolver in his hand. The discovery was found by a young man by the name of Groulx, whom he had asked to wake him up for tea. The deceased had neglected payments on his life insurance, and it is thought he became despondent and committed suicide.

The Fall Fair Now Booming

It will please a majority of our readers, and perhaps specially those living in the surrounding townships to learn that, as far as Peterborough's Fall Fair is concerned, the demand for prize lists is greater this year than ever. Secretary Hall, that indefatigable worker for this great event yesterday stated that entries will be coming in shortly, and judging from present indications, there will be a record number of them.

Notice has been received from nearly all those asked to act as judges, and it is gratifying to know that very few refusals have been received.

Supt. Wise Has Now Returned

Mr Wise, the efficient superintendent of the Little Lake cemetery, who with Mrs. Wise has been attending the annual convention of the American Association of Cemetery Superintendents, held in Detroit last week, has returned. During their absence Mr. and Mrs. Wise visited Saginaw and several other towns and cities in that part of the Union.

The association was very largely attended, and was a success in every respect.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday his Worship had to get his thinking cap on and get real busy as several important cases were before the local tribunal of justice.

The Sheehy and Baker case, before which Sheehy jr. was charged with throwing stones in a public place on Sunday, August 19th, reminded from a former trial came up again.

The magistrate, after weighing the evidence dismissed the case, saying That it was not blood or fines the court was looking for. The boy was a bad boy, as his conduct clearly showed. He was bound to believe the constable. He (the Magistrate) had gone to a lot of trouble thinking over the case and had also visited the premises mentioned, and was satisfied that there were stones thrown as the officer had testified, and he hoped that this particular boy, and other city boys in future would not repeat such offences.

Fred Baker was tried again on a charge of stealing two kegs of lager and a half gallon measure from Mr. A. Rountree on June 20, 1901.

Mr R. F. McWilliams acting for Baker, said he though it was a due severity to press an old charge that as he (the complainant) didn't think was worth pressing.

After hearing the evidence his worship said he had very strong suspicions that Baker was the guilty par, but there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction.

The charge against the same party for having stolen spectacles in his possession, was withdrawn by Crown Attorney Wood, Baker being able to prove that he secured the glasses honestly.

Baker was next arraigned on a charge of peddling without a license, and pleaded not guilty.

P.C. Newhall, in evidence, said he saw the defendant on Hunter street, Friday evening, trying to sell a pair of spectacles.

Still another witness said that Baker had tried hard to sell him a pair of glasses. Witness, at the time, asked defendant where he got the glasses. This Baker refused to tell. P.C. Newhall then took part in the matter asking Baker, where he got the spectacles. Baker told the officer that they were sent to him from Toronto.

Newhall asked; "Who sent them?" and Baker replied, "I don't know."

Baker, it seems, tried to throw the spectacles away while being taken to the station.

Mr R. J. Told gave evidence. Baker to him that he was an optician. Baker said that he did not remember anything of the occurence.

The magistrate said that the defendant was on the street with goods in his possession, trying to sell them, and fined the defendant $10 to be whacked up on the spot.

Thos Bosworth, who, as noted in yesterday's issue of The Times, was arrested Monday evening in consequence of being under the influence of a "thold over" jag, was given ten days in Gaol. Neshitt, in lieu of the $2 fine imposed.

Bell Telephone Company are Spending $2,000,000.

It would be a work of supererogation to note that the Bell Telephone Company, not from selfish motives, as influencing their volume of business, but from a persistent and consistent desire to give their patrons "The Best," have always done all in their power, to make their system complete.

It might be noted that the management of the company have completed details in connection with extensive improvements to their telephone system throughout the Dominion. The extensions to be carried out within the next year will cost considerably over two million dollars, and three thousand men will be engaged on the work.

As is known to most of our readers, Peterborough is getting her good share of this expenditure, and is having her local system placed so that the exchange here will be second to none of the continent. A large number of expert workmen are now engaged in stringing cables and placing the latest system here.

W. Gray's Hand Hurt at C.G.E. Co.

One of those deplorable, but seemingly unavoidable accidents that are always happening in large factories, or places where men are employed about machinery, occurred at the Canadian General Electric Works on Tuesday. Mr. William Gray, an employe of the brass department had his hand badly mangled. Dr. Braidd, the company's physician was at once summoned, and attended to the case, having to insert several stitches. The company sent Mr. Gray home in a hack. He will have to lay off for a few days.

Horticultural Annual Visit

Yesterday the officials of the local Horticultural Society, drove about the city, making their annual inspection of the various yards and gardens preparatory to granting the yearly prizes for the best kept gardens. A Times representative last night interviewed Mr. D. W. Dumble, to try and ascertain to whom the prizes will go. Mr. Dumble, whilst speaking most enthusiastically of the great progress made throughout the city in beautifying the gardens, would not specify to whom the prizes will be awarded until the committee makes its formal report.

Important Industry for Canada.

Ottawa, August 30.—Messrs. Georges Brique and Fernand Duval, members of an important French bag and cement manufacturing firm having branches in Calcutta and Buenos Ayres, were in the city yesterday and interviewed the Premier regarding locating in Canada.

DIAMOND STREWN ISLE SOUGHT FOR

English Expedition Sails on a Mysterious Voyage Lured by Sailor's Yarn

FINDS GEMS ON BEACH

Going to an African Coast Where They Hope to Find Jewels Plenty as Pebbles.

London, August 30.—Since the departure of the steamer Xema from London the other day on a diamond seeking expedition some further particulars have come to light which lend additional interest to what is undoubtedly one of the most romantic quests of modern times. While the precise destination is still kept a profound secret, it is known it is somewhere on the African coast—or on an island off the coast—that it is expected the costly gems will be found.

The origin of the venture is soon told. Not long ago a ship was wrecked in a position which is admitted to be outward of the dark continent. From this wreck one seafarer escaped with his life. He was ultimately brought back to civilization. He returned with him some dingy looking pebbles, which he said he had picked up on the beach where his ship had been wrecked, and had preserved as souvenirs of his perilous adventure. These, it is said, were found on examination to be diamonds and were estimated to be worth something like $5,000.

WILDLY IMPROBABLE TALE.

Whatever they were and whatever their value, it is certain that the story the sailor told, wildly improbable as it may seem, of a beach where diamonds can be picked up like pebbles, and the evidence he brought forward to substantiate it, made such an impression on those who heard him that a syndicate was formed to finance an expedition to find the treasure spot. The sailor, meanwhile, was sworn to secrecy, and spirited away somewhere where nobody could get at him to pump him.

The capital of the syndicate is $250,000, divided into twenty-five $10,000 shares. The amount was oversubscribed. The Xema, which was chartered for the expedition, is 99 years old and of no great engine power. That alone furnishes a good reason why its precise destination should be kept secret even after its departure, for were it discovered there would be nothing to prevent a rival expedition being dispatched in haste in a swift steamer, which might be off the diamond-strewn beach before the ancient Xema had doubled the Cape of Good Hope.

WILL HAVE GOOD TIME ANYWAY.

But though a slow old craft, she steamer has been fitted out most luxuriously for the voyage, so that whether they succeed or fail in their search the diamond seekers are assured of a good time. The fact, however, that the ship carried explosives, mining apparatus, and several miners would seem to indicate that they are not sure they will find it such easy work obtaining the diamonds as would be inferred from the sailor's yarn.

All told there are forty-six men on the Xema. The steamer is commanded by Capt. H. J. Temperley Gray, late of the British warship Spartan. Several other officers are reservists, as are also a score of the crew. Among the members of the expedition is Capt. Jackson, who took part in the famous Jackson-Harmsworth expedition to the north pole. In the old whaler Windward, and several gentlemen adventurers. The shipowner, however, was not on board when the vessel sailed from London. He will be up at some port en route.

Will Re-Model Russian Bank

St. Petersburg, August 30.—It is reported that a plan for converting the Russian Imperial State Bank into a joint stock bank, modelled after the Bank of France, has been decided upon. It is said there will be a committee in control which will include representatives of the houses in France which helped it to float the Russian loans, of the Mendelssohns in Berlin, and of the Rothschild interests. In its organization of the finances of the Government, the new committee will have control of the 600,000,000 roubles gold bullion reserve now in the control of the Imperial Bank. At the council of the ministers yesterday a special commission was appointed to draw up a bill providing for a primary school system, which shall be opened to all classes of the people. The bill will be submitted to the new Douma, which is to be elected, and will meet in November.

Extraordinary Family Reunion

Nine Members of the Wilson Family Meet After 60 Years' Separation.

Last night one of the most interesting and notable family reunions that not only Peterborough, but the country has ever witnessed, was held at the residence of Mrs. James Best, Jackson Park.

In connection therewith it might be noted that The Times yesterday had a friendly call from Mr. W. B. Wilson an old Peterborough boy, who in 1867 learned the tinsmithing business in this city with a gentleman still living here. Mr. Wilson left the city about 30 years ago, and has for the past 22 years been postmaster of Brigh, Oxford Co., Ont. Mr Wilson, as our readers will possibly remember was in the city about three years ago for a short visit.

The extraordinary part of this family reunion is that the Wilson family, consisting of nine sons and daughters, nine of course all survive, only one of the family having died in infancy, met last night, for the first time in sixty years, at Mrs. James Best's residence.

The members of this long-lived and affectionate family, who met last night were, Mrs. James Best, born in 1825, Edward B. Wilson, born in 1827, each now residing in the city; Mrs. Mason Bennett, of South township, born in 1831; Mrs. W. Harper, of Lakefield, born in 1834; Mrs. Geo. Eastwood of Bobcaygeon, born in 1836; Mrs. Jos. Stephenson, of Warsaw, Ont., born in 1830; Mr. Wm. B. Wilson of Brigh, Ont., born in 1836; Mrs. Jos. Wilson of Lostowel, born in 1840; Mr. Thos J. Wilson, of Crystal Springs, Kentucky, born in 1845.

The reunion is unique in the annals of family reunions. Nine members of the same family, meeting after a separation of 60 years. Mr. W. B. Wilson, of Bright, was most enthusiastic in his notice of Peterborough's growth, since he first saw Peterborough as a small village, composed mainly of clapboard stores and houses. The Times met two of the brothers of the family, who although having seen many winters are still hale and hearty, and seemingly able to hold another reunion in a decade or two from now.

When a woman suffers from depressing weaknesses, one then recently realizes how helpless—how thoroughly worthless she is. Dr. Shoop has brought relief to thousands of such women. He reaches diseases peculiar to women in two, direct, specific ways—a local treatment known by druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Night Cure, and a constitutional or internal prescription called Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is applied locally, and at night. It works while you sleep. It reduces inflammation, it stops discharges, it heals, it soothes, it comforts, it cures.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative (tablet or liquid form) is a constitutional, nerve tissue tonic. It brings renewed strength, lasting ambition and vigor to weak, lifeless women.

These two remedies, singly, or used together, have an irresistible, positive helpful power. Try them a month and see. Sold by J. D. Tully.

Serious Business Before Cabinet

Many Subjects of Importance Before the Ministerial Session at Ottawa.

Ottawa, August 30.—The Cabinet council, which convened yesterday afternoon, is not going to be the mere emergency meeting preliminary to another ministerial scattering, which has been predicted for days past.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has returned to the capital to stay, for some time at least, and has determined to set a working example to his colleagues. In consequence of the attack of Sir Wilfrid more than one promised ministerial jaunt has been abandoned.

Nor is the fixing of dates for the by-elections the only business to be taken up. The Prime Minister is in earnest about meeting Parliament in November and is determined that a generous programme of Government business shall be ready for consideration. Including the new tariff, upon which the Ministers of Finance, Customs and Inland Revenue will be expected to set to work as soon as circumstances will allow.

All this has to be talked over and arranged for at the series of Cabinet meetings which start this afternoon.

Besides, there is the conference of provincial premiers to be arranged for, and a stated federal policy to be agreed upon. At present it looks as if the Government will find the easiest way out of the difficulty of increasing provincial subsidies by insisting upon a substantially unanimous agreement among the provinces themselves as to what the terms shall be, and there is scarcely even a remotest possibility that such an agreement can be reached.

GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP

No Medicine so Beneficial to Brain and Nerves.

Lying awake nights makes it hard to keep awake and do things in day time. To take stimulants and stimulants under such circumstances is like setting the house on fire to see if you can put it out.

The right kind of food promotes refreshing sleep at night and a wide awake individual during the day.

A lady changed from the old way of eating, to Grape-Nuts, and says

"For about three years I had been a great sufferer from indigestion. After trying several kinds of medicine, the doctor would ask me to drop off potatoes, then meat, and so on, but in a few days that craving, gnawing feeling would start up, and I would vomit everything I ate and drank.

"When I started on Grape-Nuts vomiting stopped, and the bloating feeling which was so distressing disappeared entirely.

"My mother was very much bothered with diarrhea before commencing the Grape-Nuts, because her stomach was so weak she could not digest her food. Since using Grape-Nuts she is well, and says she don't think she could live without it.

"It is a great brain restorer and nerve builder, for I can sleep as sound and undisturbed after a supper of Grape-Nuts as in the old days when I could not realize what they meant by a 'bad stomach.' There is no medicine so beneficial to nerves and brain as a good night's sleep, such as you can enjoy after eating Grape-Nuts."

Big Reception Will be Given Bryan

Monster Demonstration to Be Made When He Lands To-day---Box Seats Sell for $50 Apiece.

New York, Aug. 30.—When the Princess Irene lands her passengers this afternoon William Jennings Bryan will be given a monster reception which it is expected will do much to further his prospects as a presidential possibility. Remarkable enthusiasm has already been generated for such an early period in the campaign, and thousands of Democrats from all parts of the United States will be on hand to acclaim him as their candidate. The utmost confidence prevails among the arrivals that Mr. Bryan will be the next president.

The idea of giving a reception to Mr Bryan seems to have originated with the Commercial Traveler's Anti-trust League, but the demonstration has out-grown its first limited character. The front of the travelers' official souvenir program bears a picture of Mr. Bryan adorned with laurel leaves.

HANG OUT THE FLAGS.

Acting Mayor McGowan said yesterday that it was his desire that all citizens should hang out American flags or bunting in honor of Mr. Bryan. The Acting Mayor said that even if people did not sympathize with Mr. Bryan's views, his reception would honor visitors to the city. He said that Mr. Bryan is a notable American citizen, who has been served by crowned heads, rulers and governments, and eminent individuals abroad, all over the world, and he regarded it as a tribute to the American spirit of fair play and love of intellectual liberty to honor him. He hoped it would be done in this honor. If any persons regarded themselves as too hostile to Mr. Bryan's views, they could honor their visitors. He believed all the visitors to our city would regard any display of flags or bunting as a tribute to that section of the country.

BOX TICKETS $50 EACH.

The managers of the reception are doing all they can to make the work of the police as genuous onight at Madison Square Garden. The committee is giving admission tickets to all who apply. It is giving them out liberally by the thousand. Tammany Hall obtained 7,500 tickets and Norman E. Mack, the Buffalo boomer of Mr. Bryan, is sending out thousands of admission tickets. It is estimated that 30,000 tickets have been given out already, and more will be given out today. The boxes are selling at $50 apiece.

It was rumored at the Victoria yesterday that William R. Hearst had sent a request for 1,000 tickets and tha he had been refused. The Bryan men say they cannot give out tickets in changed lots any longer.

The trouble between Harry W. Walker, head of the press bureau, and Col. Alexander Troup of Connecticut over the naming of the one to call the meeting to order was worked yesterday by Mr. Walker. Col. Troup and Norman E. Mack surrendered. It is asserted that they wanted a well known Bryan man to do some spread eagle work in opening the meeting, and the Lewis Nixon and Mr. Walker scotched the plan. Mr. Walker will do the honors.

$90,000,000 Will Go to our West

In Payment for Wheat, Oats and Barley Crops Raised the Past Season.

Montreal, August 30.—It is estimated that the farmers of the Canadian North-West will receive $90,000,000 this year from three crops alone—wheat, oats and barley.

It is figured this way:

Wheat—21,813,900 bus. at 63c	$42,123,482
Oats—80,854,600 bus. at 28c	22,639,319
Barley—17,735,790 bus. at 30c	5,320,374
Total	$90,393,175

When we add to this amount the return to the Western consumers from live stock, dairy produce, vegetables, etc., it is safe to say that the total will pass $100,000,000. This is an enormous sum of money to do business with among a comparatively small population, and it is no wonder that outsiders are casting wistful eyes toward the Canadian West.

The crop estimates used were those compiled by Mr. John Aird, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. He figures that the three provinces will produce 91,813,900 bushels this season. Mr. Aird's estimate is particularly worthy of note, as coming from a man who has always been very close to the mark. Last year he was only about 1,000,000 bushels below the output. Mr. Aird bases his calculation upon reports of the bank's agents in the various localities, using the acreage figures given in the Government bulletins.

TENNIS.

Those desiring to take part in the tennis tournament to be held by St John's A.Y.P.A. Tennis Club on Labor Day, are asked to hand in their names by Friday night, if possible, and not later than Saturday night. The only condition stipulated is to allow of enquiry as that the person desiring to enter be in good standing with the club.

LACROSSE.

At a meeting of the C.L.A. executive, held Tuesday night, W. Slattery, the goal tender of the Brantford lacrosse team, was suspended for life for rough play in Saturday's game against Toronto Junction.

THE TURF.

In our sporting column of yesterday's issue we noted that Mr. H. C. Cook's horse, "Tom Alert," had been injured in a race at Bay City, Mich., and that the driver Jas. Powell had been injured. We further stated that Mr Chas. Martin had left for Bay City to look after the horse. This information, received from a seemingly reliable source, is partly incorrect. The horse, which was correct. The horse, which was correctly noted, belongs to Mr. Charles Martin, who left last night for Bay City, bringing the horse home as soon as circumstances will permit. Mr. Powell has arrived home with his arm broken.

Expected Insurgents Will Disarm

President Palma's Offer of Amnesty Has Had a Good Effect.

Havana, Aug. 29.—The enlistment of volunteers by the Government has been suspended until the effect of President Palma's offer of amnesty to the insurgents can be determined.

At the palace confidence is felt that the great body of rebels who have been carried away with the idea that they were to have a conspicuous part in the overthrow of the Palma Administration, will seize the present opportunity to return to lawful pursuits rather than jeopardize their liberty by further supporting what the government characterizes as a helpless cause.

Investigation shows that the statement made by Senor Dolz, a leader of the Moderate party, at the conclusion of a conference with President Palma a midnight, to the effect that practically all the insurgent leaders of consequence, except Pino Guerra, had signified their willingness to disband their men if all were guaranteed amnesty was an exaggeration, but the impression is general today that the insurgents, with the exception of Pino Guerra, will soon lay down their arms.

The pay of the artillerymen and rural guards has been raised, the officers getting a 20 per cent. increase and the privates an increase of fifty per cent.

President Palma's peace expressions of yesterday have made a good impression, particularly among the business men, whose interests are seriously threatened by the disturbed condition of affairs.

President Palma's son is now in the army, and his daughter has become an army nurse.

These enlistments have also had a good effect.

Only Twenty Out of 100,000 did not Drink

London, Aug. 29.—The truth is says the Morning Advertiser, that while there is no disputing Sir Victor Horsley's skill and ability in his profession, he, like many other clever men, has a fad. That fad is a dislike for alcohol.

The Westminster Gazette says Sir Victor's pronouncement has been widely challenged, and more will be heard when he returns.

Dr. Dodson, the medical officer for the Wadsworth Board of Guardians, says, in a report on the problem of pauperism, that during twenty years experience 100 00 inmates of the workhouse have come under his observation, and of this number he has not come across twenty total abstainers from alcohol.

ORPHANS EXCLUDED

Forty of Them Refused Entry to United States.

New York, August 30.—The case of the forty Russian Hebrew children who arrived here on the steamship Amerika, has been heard by the board of special inquiry at Ellis Island, and the board decided that the children should be excluded. The case has gone on appeal to Washington.

The children, all of them orphans by the recent massacres in Russia, were gathered from the centres of the recent trouble and brought here in charge of Mrs Sophie Perlman, of Berlin. Wealthy Hebrews here supplied the funds and secured homes throughout the country where the children could be sent.

PALE AND ANXIOUS

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored, and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 424 King St. East, Toronto, who says:

"After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from headache and dyspepsia. At night I would waken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism, which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound, and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c boxes or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

DISQUIETING NEWS FROM PERSIA.

If the news from Persia is authentic, a condition of affairs may be created there at any moment which will eclipse in importance even the revolutionary campaign which is in progress in Russia. The Persian Government cannot collapse without setting the European pot boiling; for the control of the new Persia would be a matter of vital concern to at least three European powers—Britain, Russia and Germany, to say nothing of Turkey. The popular movement is said to be Pan-Islam in character, looking to a union under the leadership of the Sultan of Turkey; but, in such cases, the popular desires are apt to break harmlessly upon the advancing columns of the European forces representing far-reaching interests.

German influence in Persia is of new birth. But with Germany acting as the "Coolin" of the Turkish Sultan, and having railway aspirations in the Arabian peninsula, the Kaiser cannot help being deeply concerned in the future of Persia. If it were the custom today—as it was in Bismarck's day—to blame all things upon the machinations of the German Chancellor, pessimists might see ground for suspicion in the fact that the Persians are turning towards Constantinople at the very time when the Kaiser is thought to be especially powerful there. And it is beyond question that if the Turkish army, backed by German money and prestige and possibly German troops, were to go to the protection of a pro-Turkish Government in Persia, it would be an exceedingly difficult matter for any power or combination of powers to upset them.

Britain alone could hardly undertake so heavy a land campaign. Russia is crippled; but still it is altogether probable that the Russians could put a fairly effective force in the field there, and the Russian Government might thereby distract public attention from domestic affairs. Yet Germany will hold a powerful leverage over Russia on the Polish frontier just now, and might successfully command and purchase her inaction. France has no apparent interest at stake in the affair, and could only go into the struggle for the avowed purpose of curbing the growing power of Germany—a step which would at once transfer the battlefield from the Persian Gulf to the Rhine Valley. Thus it is plain that a Turko-German alliance to establish a Sultanic Government at Teheran would be a very formidable affair; and yet the result could hardly be viewed in London or St. Ruffa or even Cairo with complacency.

It may be, however, that British influence in Persia will be able to prevent things coming to so serious a pass. There is always national feeling to appeal to—as Britain does so successfully in Afghanistan—and then the commercial power of Britain in mid-Asia is strong. If she gets in this policy the support of Russia before the hand of Germany can be disclosed, all may be maintained in peace.

CHANGE THE SPELLING BOOKS

Spelling reform has gained a conspicuous friend. President Roosevelt has pronounced in favor of it. He has given orders to the public printer hereafter in all White House documents the recommendations of the spelling reform committee shall be followed. The President's messages are long, and the output of other White House literature is large. The Government printing office will turn out innumerable sheets in which "through" and "thorough" will appear shorn of their fair dimensions.

There are many would-be imitators of the reformer who laid them marching, or heading, hands within the sleeves, will not be likely to use in addressing congress. President does not use in their write papers such words as "tho," "thru" and "thoro," even if the newspapers shall print the messages in the form sent out from the public printer, and the people hail read them with unusual care. Some will observe only a few of the innovations of the spelling reform committee.

Most newspapers may refuse to follow copy in printing the President's messages. Heads of executive departments may feel that courtesy requires them to follow his lead, though they may republish in private a reform which they adopt in public. It is better for a subordinate to show a conforming disposition in all things. Printers and proof readers usually are conservatives. They dislike to unlearn what they have learned with much trouble. They have more respect for "the style of the office" than for the mandate of a president. They have great respect for President Roosevelt as statesman, soldier, and sportsman, but when it comes to spelling they think they know more than he does.

The spelling reformers in the United States cannot make much headway by converting a president, congress, or a supreme court. Each of them has much power in his or its way, but none of them has jurisdiction over spelling in a free land. Perhaps the next Democratic state convention will sternly denounce President Roosevelt for attempting to tell the people how they shall spell. Mr. Bryan may have something to say on the subject.

AN IRISH COUNCIL

It Will Be the Chief Feature of Proposed Devolution Scheme.

London, Aug. 29.—The Daily Chronicle yesterday morning, forecasting the Government's proposed devolution scheme for Ireland, says legislative union will not be touched, and that Irish representation at Westminster and the powers of the Imperial Parliament will not be changed.

The chief feature will be the establishment of an Irish Council at Dublin directly elected, consisting of 103 members, the same as the Irish representation in the House of Commons, with the addition of 28 councillors directly elected for larger areas by electors having rateable value exceeding $100, peers and clergymen being eligible.

This is almost the same as the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of Gladstone's bill, only they form one body and not two.

The Nationalist party as now organized would not easily gain a large majority in the council.

The chief secretary for Ireland would under the new scheme be ex-officio chairman of the Irish Council, and as representing the Lord Lieutenant, would consult with the leader of the majority in the council regarding the appointment of the chief heads of departments, the heads of the Finance Department occupying a position analogous to that of premier, who, with his colleagues, would hold their posts dependent upon the vote of the council.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 11-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 120 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"And remember that a prince's gratitude waits on your success."

The parties then left the alcove, and mingled with the company.

"Oh, the wretches! the atrocious wretches!" exclaimed Lady Lester, emerging from her concealment, and quite aroused from her usual apathy by the discovery of a plot that threatened not only the ruin of her own plans, but the total destruction of an innocent girl. "The most heinous wretches! And what a fate is this of the friendless young baroness, exposed alike to the matrimonial manoeuvres of an old dowager, and the pursuit of a profligate prince! I must find some way of rescuing her from these perils," concluded her ladyship, highly indignant at the enormity of others, yet in her sweet human self-deception quite unconscious that her own plans in regard to the young baroness were quite as mercenary as those ascribed to the duchess, if not as dishonorable as those discovered in the prince.

The return of Ruthven Lester put an end to her soliloquy. She took the arm of her son and left the palace.

In the hall of Lester House she encountered Sir Vincent, who had just returned from a protracted debate in the House of Commons.

"Well, has your ladyship inveigled—I beg your pardon—fascinated this little rustic beauty?" inquired the baronet.

"I have not even seen her. Trust the duchess for that. I might have known it. Their party was not at Carleton House," said her ladyship, pettishly.

"Very proper! Carleton House is precisely the last place in the kingdom to which I should introduce a young beauty," replied the baronet.

"Oh, it was not altogether an objection to the society to be found at Carleton House that caused the duchess to absent herself with her charge; it was, I presume, with the intention that the young heiress should make her debut in the drawing-room of their Majesties."

"Quite right," said the baronet, smiling.

"And now, Sir Vincent, I must wish you good-night and retire," said her ladyship, with a cool bend of her fair head, as she floated past and ascended the stairs to her dressing-room, where she found Mademoiselle Jeanette, the ministering priestess of that temple of vanity, in attendance.

Lady Lester sank indolently into her dressing-chair, lifted her languid eyes to the mirror before her, and started to see the careworn look upon her usually calm face.

"I protest a few more hours of such unpleasant excitement as I have had this evening will give me quite a middle-aged aspect. I really cannot afford, at my age, to make myself anxious on Ruthven's account. He must take his chance with others. And yet it would be a great pity to let this rich old barony of Swinburne slip out of our reach for the want of a little exertion on my part. Well, it is of no use to lose my sleep with thinking. The day is long enough for that, Jeanette!"

"Oui, milady."

"Bring me some of those sedative drops; make my chamber quite dark, and remember in the morning to be in attendance here, to prevent any one making the least noise near my door. I must sleep for twelve hours, Jeanette."

"Oui, certainement, madame," replied the obsequious femme de chambre, as she assisted her mistress to divest herself of the ball dress and prepare for repose.

CHAPTER XV.

The Duchess of Beresleigh was a very different woman from that which the jealousy and suspicions of Lady Lester had represented her to be. Her title of "Grace" was no misnomer. She was one of nature's as well as of society's noblewomen—one whose personal excellence might have redeemed her whole order from the charge of its national pride and hard selfishness. She educated her sons and daughters in the same high and holy principles that governed her own conduct.

They had lived mostly in Beresleigh Court, which adjoined Swinburne Chase, but the families had never been intimate because the duchess had deeply disapproved the character and conduct of the late baron as well as that of the guardian he had left over his heiress, and, in fact, soon after the death of the baron, the Duke of Beresleigh had been appointed resident minister at one of the continental courts, where, at the end of five years, he died.

The duchess and her family spent their first year of mourning in retirement, on the Continent, and then returned to Beresleigh Court.

It was but a few weeks after their settlement at home that Dr. Seymour called upon the duchess, and commended to her kind offices the new Baroness Etheridge of Swinburne, and, in answer to the inquiries of her grace, related the strange discovery that had thrown down one young girl from rank and wealth to poverty and dependence, and elevated another from indigence and obscurity to fortune and power. The worthy doctor spoke of both these young persons with the highest praise of their conduct under their opposite ordeals of sudden prosperity and sudden adversity.

The duchess was at once interested in the new claimant for her neighborly attentions; and no less so in the high souled woman who had so promptly resigned her fortune and position, and so nobly sustained her cruel reverses.

Her grace promised to call on the new Lady Etheridge, and secretly resolved also, as soon as she should go up to town, to seek out Laura Elmer.

She kept her word, and took an early opportunity of visiting Swinburne Castle. The beauty, goodness and intelligence of the young baroness soon won the love and esteem of the duchess, than whom no woman ever lived better able to judge of the characters of those with whom she was brought into communion.

After the interchanging of several visits between the duchess and Lady Etheridge, her grace invited the young baroness to spend some weeks at Beresleigh Court.

Rose accepted the invitation, and passed a month very pleasantly with her new friends.

It was in the intimacy of daily intercourse that Rosamond learned to revere the lofty character of the duchess and to love the amiable dispositions of the young Ladies Wardour.

But there was another member of the family that interested Rosamond scarcely less than did the duchess and her daughters; this was, indeed, the present head of the house.

George, Duke of Beresleigh, was now in the thirty-third year of his age. To very handsome person he united a highly-cultivated mind and an amiable heart.

To his surprise and pleasure he found nothing underbred in the manner and nothing vulgar in the mind of this young beauty and newly-made baroness; indeed, every day discovered new graces in her person and in her spirit; and the duke soon found admiration growing into a warmer and more permanent sentiment.

But at thirty-three men are not apt to act rashly from an impulse of admiration or affection as they are at ten years younger or ten years older than that age; consequently, the duke held his inclinations in check, and restricted his attentions to Rosamond within such limits of intellectual intercommunion as should be safe to both.

Rosamond, on her part, began by a

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 1500 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore—(800 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $560,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 51 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 43 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

C. P. R. Official on Long Trip.

Mr. George H. Hees, of the C.P.R., Montreal, has written to Mr. W. S. Dodds C.P.R. agent here, stating that he is going on the "Overseas Mail" train which is leaving Quebec on Friday morning next and connecting with the C.P.R. "Empresses" on the Atlantic and Pacific on the 20-day run between Liverpool and Hong Kong.

Kingston Loses B. Battery.

The Kingston Whig says, "Lieut.-Col. Ogilvie, Petawawa, has received orders to leave for Toronto with "B" Battery, when he breaks camp at the end of the month. Toronto has at length succeeded in another graft at the expense of another town, and now all its influences will be exerted to keep the battery there permanently."

Express Horse Runs Away.

Yesterday some excitement was caused by a horse drawing one of the Canadian Express company's delivery wagons, running away. The frightened horse first cut loose at Bethune street, and taking King St. in its flight, was captured before reaching the C.P.R. station. The only damage done was to the harness and the driver's nervous system.

Mr. Carveth on School Site.

Mr. H. Carveth is out with still another site for the Normal school. Mr. Carveth would have the Normal school built just north of where the drill shed stands at the present, and have it face George street. With the new armory built near the lane on the West side and the Collegiate Institute near McDonnel street, Mr. Carveth claims that there would be as much room left for drill purposes as there is at present.

IMP OF INDIGESTION

How to Get The Better of This Cause of Misery.

A scientific writer upon stomach troubles says: "If you have ever suffered from indigestion,—and who has not?—your imagination has probably pictured a ferocious little imp dancing in the pit of your stomach, causing that organ to neglect all of its duties, with a result that is not only painful but fills you with misery from day to day." This writer certainly had suffered with indigestion, for there is no more disagreeable, nerve-racking and sick-all-over disease than indigestion.

A great many people who have been treated for years for diseases of the heart, liver or kidneys, when they used Miona stomach tablets found that not only did Miona cure the stomach disorder, but it made them well all over and the other troubles were also cured. If you suffer with nervousness, sleeplessness, indigestion, sick or nervous headache, pains in the back or sides, get a 50c. box of Mi-o-na and take one of the little tablets before each meal. It will do you a world of good and you will soon be well and free from indigestion, and its symptoms.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription,

Is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse because of the uncertainty as to their harmless character, but is a medicine of KNOWN composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. The "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is in fact the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold through druggists, that does not contain alcohol and that can be taken in large quantities. Furthermore, it is the only medicine for woman's special diseases, the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of some of these endorsements will be sent to any address, postpaid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't forget that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for woman's weaknesses and delicate ailments, is not a patent or secret medicine, being the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated and graduated physician, engaged in the practice of his chosen specialty—that of diseases of women—that its ingredients are printed in plain English on every bottle-wrapper; that it is the only medicine especially designed for the cure of woman's diseases that contains no alcohol, and the only one that has a professional endorsement worth more than all the so-called "testimonials" ever published for other medicines. Send for these endorsements as above. They are free for the asking.

If you suffer from periodical, headache, backache, dizziness, pain or dragging down sensation low down in the abdomen, weak back, have disagreeable and weakening, catarrhal, pelvic drain, or are in distress from being long on your feet, then you may be sure of benefit from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. XXXIV, NO. 207 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 31, 1906. PRICE TWO CENTS

Rapid Tool Co. Ask for $1,200

And Fixed Assessment for 10 Years---Bylaw on These Lines to Be Repaired.

The Manufacturers' Committee met this evening when there were present, Chairman Ald. McWilliams, and Aldermen Torrey, Hall, McIntyre, Hicks Adams, Elliott, and the Mayor.

Representatives of the Rapid Tool Co., seeking location here, waited upon the committee, and asked for a bonus of $1,200 or $1300, with which to purchase a site, and a fixed assessment for ten years on the value of the land.

They would spend about $1,000 on the old building, and another $1,000 or $1,500 on another structure. The company is capitalized at $40,000, and they would invest $20,000 on buildings and machinery. The company have an option on the old Ultimator property, across the river, south of Hunter street bridge, at a purchase price of $2,000 including the building, the actual cost of the land would be $1200, and this latter sum they asked the city to grant them.

They would employ within six months 25 skilled hands, at a salary of $2.50 a day, in the manufacture of auger bits and other tools.

The committee favored the proposition of this company, and

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Torrey,—That this matter be referred to the city solicitor to prepare a by-law in accordance with the above terms and conditions.—Carried

NEW STEEL WORKS.

Ald McWilliams pointed out that a bylaw had been prepared a week ago last Monday, in accordance with the agreement of the committee of the whole council, providing for a grant of $6,000 to the Peterborough Stee Company, with which to purchase a site, but in spite of the well-known fact that the company are anxious to go ahead in erecting their buildings and plant, he was not able to persuade the Mayor to call a meeting of the council to ratify the bylaw.

The Mayor replied that he had been awaiting the selection of a site for the Normal School, when both matters could be taken up at the same meeting. He will call a meeting for tonight, or Tuesday.

FREE POSTAL DELIVERY.

Ald McWilliams raised the question of free postal delivery in this city, in which the major portion of our citizens are in favor. The only additional cost for postal service would be a cent extra on town letters. Which would be two cents each instead of one cent as at present. The post office is still congested and the city is too large for prevailing conditions. R. R. Hall, M. P., is prepared to back this matter up, and in fact has already taken active steps in this direction. A petition could be circulated in the factories and elsewhere for signatures which would counteract any possible action of the merchants against the scheme.

Ald McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Adams,—That a petition be prepared, asking the Government for free postal delivery in this city, and circulated for signatures.—Carried.

LOCOMOTIVE WHISTLING.

The complaint of excessive whistling by railway locomotives when going through the town was referred to the city solicitor to advise the necessary steps to be taken to abate this nuisance. The chairman of the Railway Commission replied to the Manufacturers' Committee, that while they have no regulations concerning the whistling of locomotives, they would go into the matter were a complaint laid before them.

Accuses Minister in His Own Pulpit

Portland, Ore., Aug. 30.—Steps were taken yesterday for an ecclesiastical investigation of a tragic episode that thrilled the flock of St. John's Congregational church on Sunday evening, and which has caused a State-wide sensation. The Rev. C. M. Smythe, who had been invited by the pastor, Dr. F. J. Warren, to fill his pulpit arose after the opening hymn and fastening his gaze on Dr. Warren, said:

"I have waited long for this opportunity and now, Fred Warren, I am here to denounce you as the despoiler of my home. You entered my home as a friend. Then you won the love of my wife. I denounce you here as a traitor. Do you hear? A traitor."

The congregation was thirty beside itself with excitement. There was a murmur of voices, and the congregation looked from one clergyman to the other.

Dr. Smythe had sunk to his knees in the pulpit, his face buried in the Bible and his big square shoulders shaking from his sobs. Dr. Warren sat in his chair looking cynically at the other clergyman, and exhibiting no emotion. He did nothing to defend his reputation.

Members of the congregation finally tapped Dr. Smythe on the shoulder and led him from the church. When he had gone Dr. Warren entered the pulpit. His composure was marvelous. Having waited for the excitement to subside somewhat, he preached an orthodox sermon.

Give Orders for Two New Ships.

Collingwood, August 30.—The Collingwood Shipbuilding Company has closed a contract for the construction of two large package freight steamers for the C. P. R. The yard has two large steel barges on its books, one in process of construction. This, the Midland Prince, will be 500 feet long and is being built for the Playfair Company, Midland, and will be the largest steamer on the Great Lakes flying the Canadian flag. The keel for the second steamer will be laid in a few days. The vessel is the Parrar Transportation Company and will be 600 feet long.

Mr. W. H. Moore on School Site

Mr W. H. Moore, yesterday stated in emphatic and non-misunderstandable terms, that, in his opinion, the choice of Dixon Park as a site for the Normal school is "nonsense." He argued that, "If the school is built on the Hilliard farm it will be like a light on a hill; if placed on Dixon park site it will be like a candle under a bushel. Why, a stranger couldn't find the school in a half a day, if it's built on the Dixon park location. He could not say that the Hilliard farm is not inaccessible owing to the good accommodation provided by the street cars.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday some excitement was created by the arrest of two young men from Lindsay. It seems that they were charged with stealing six copper ingots from the Sylvester Manufacturing Co., Lindsay.

On Wednesday evening the couple went to the Peterborough Lock works and tried to sell the copper. Mr. Frank Adams saw that the copper was new and suspected that something was wrong, and refused to buy the goods. The two then went to Lowe, Eisenberg & Co., junk dealers, Charlotte street, where they sold the copper and were given in payment a cheque for $13.80 on the Bank of Nova Scotia. In the meantime the police were informed of the matter and requested the bank not to honor the cheque when presented.

The young men then went yesterday to the Greek candy store, owned by Messrs. Demetre Bros., corner of Charlotte and George streets, and got the cash $13.80. The cheque when presented by the payers was dishonored and consequently the police were notified.

P.C. Meharry went out with his dray net and quickly captured the alleged erring pair of young men. They spent the afternoon and last night in Gaol. Nesbitt, awaiting the trial this morning.

Our readers will remember, that on Tuesday's police court, three boys were charged with having received $1 each, being their respective portion of a $5 bill taken from a man named John Sullivan, who was drunk at the time he was "touched," whilst sucking a "place in a hotel bus to sleep off his jaglet. While there were five boys concerned in this robbery "from the person," the three arrested agreed in saying that the one actually committing the theft was not one of their number, so that, as noted the charge against the trio was "receiving," not stealing the money.

The alleged ringleader of the boys has not yet been captured, but Mr. Gordon of O'Connell & Gordon, who appeared for him, said he would try and have the lad in court on Saturday morning. Mr. Gordon said he was informed that the case would not be pressed very hard if repayment of the money were made.

It seems that the thief of the party, is no a stranger to the local police court.

The magistrate said the alleged ringleader had been for the past five years in the court on numerous minor offences.

The defendants then offered to settle by paying the costs.

Mr Wood, Crown Attorney, consented to this, but said the man robbed had told him he was relieved of $14.

"If repayment is made I will let these boys off on suspended sentence and will adjourn the case until Saturday in order that they may make restitution," remarked the magistrate.

Mr. Spellman Gives His Views

License Inspector Stewart's Story is Contradicted in Part.

Mr S. T. Spellman, of the firm of Messrs. Spellman and Lawless, proprietors of the Lakefield House, Lakefield, was in the city yesterday, and contradicted License Inspector Stewart's story of the seizure of liquor in the hotel on Friday last. Mr. Spellman said, "No person was in the bar when Mr. Stewart arrived. We have not been using the bar, except as a store room. There were no lights burning in the room, there was no one in the bar. I had gone out an hour before Mr. Stewart's arrival and my partner, Mr. A. G. Lawless was upstairs in bed. He came down quickly on hearing the noise made by Inspector Stewart and Chief Sim Graves in the floor. Mr. Stewart was then in the bar. Mr. Spellman says that the inspector exceeded his duty in counting the cash register money, adding further that there were no glasses, filled or half filled, on the counter, as the latter says. The liquor that was found in the bar had been stored there for some time, being what was left over of an old stock when the local option bylaw went into effect. It was there on the occasion of a previous visit of Mr. Stewart's a few weeks ago. He saw it there at the time, although he did not ask to see it. We showed him that the pumps and other things were detached. I asked Mr. Stewart if it was lawful to keep what liquor we had left over and he made no answer. I offered him at the same time an inventory of it, which he did not take. It is no more than is kept in several boarding and many other private houses. I have asked for a copy of the bylaw two or three times from the Lakefield authorities, but have not been able to obtain it."

Mr. W. B. Kelly Has Passed Away

As is probably known to most of our readers, an unfounded rumor was prevalent throughout the city all day Wednesday, that Mr. W. B. Kelly, the well known lumberman and merchant of Bridgenorth was dead. Unfortunately this false report was to be verified only too truly on Wednesday when, this old citizen of Peterborough county passed away at about 7 p.m.

Kelly's death will come as a great shock as he had enjoyed good health until a week ago, when he was thrown from his buggy in a street car collision at the corner of George and Simcoe streets. The shock proved too much for his advanced age and he never recovered.

The late Mr. Kelly was seventy years of age and had been engaged in the sawmill business at Bridgenorth since 1852. He was born in Haldimand County near Grafton in 1836. On coming to Bridgenorth he embarked in the sawmill business and has been running a mill ever since. He was a member of the Methodist Church, and led an exemplary Christian life.

Mr. Kelly is survived by his wife and six children, all residing at home. The sons are Messrs. Smyth, Willan, Noble and Burrit Kelly, and the daughters are Misses Whipple and Beatrice. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Robt. T. Millburn, of Smith township, and Mrs. S. A. Davis of Peterborough.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at two o'clock from the family residence at Bridgenorth to Little Lake cemetery. The service will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Mosier, pastor of the Bridgenorth Methodist church.

Mr. Kelly's demise will be sadly regretted by a large number of business and personal friends.

JAPANESE COLONY TO BE FORMED

Mr. Nagatany Wants to Buy Land in Alberta and Establish a Colony

RECIPROCAL TRADE WANTED

The Better Class of Japanese Would Be Imported and All Would Be Well Adapted to Farming.

Winnipeg, August 30.—Canadians have admitted to participate with them in virgin resources of their country, Britons, Americans, Icelanders, Norwegians, Swedes, Galicians, Italians, Germans and Russians. Up to the present the Asiatic has not been an element in the land settlement, but whether for weal or woe, Asia, in the person of its most vigorous and enterprising race, the Japanese, is now to be represented among us as a settler, promising to become a permanent resident of the soil. A scheme to bring this about is active in the mind of Mr. D. R. Nagatany, of Kioto. Mr. Nagatany, who has friends in high circles in the Mikado's Empire, has been in Canada four years studying the conditions. At first he learned the Queen's University, but during the last two years, he has been in the Ontario Agricultural College, at Guelph. Now he returns to his native country with a project to found a colony. In answer to inquiries, Mr. Nagatany explained that his idea was to acquire a large tract of land in Alberta. "I had an interview with the Commissioner of Immigration, Mr. Smith, and also Mr. Griffin, of the C.P.R. land department, this morning, he said, and we had a very interesting talk of the prospects of a Japanese colony in Alberta. Mr. Smith's advice to me was to go in for the Government land, but, although I might be able to bring over many who would take up the homesteads, I rather prefer my own scheme of buying a large tract of land in the centre of Alberta, between 50,000 and 100,000 acres, owned by the C.P.R.

"As you know probably, we are more adapted for intensive cultivation of the land, our settlers would go in for wheat mainly, like you, but we might also take up the growth of the sugar beet, fruit and all kinds of vegetables, and any other products which are profitably cultivated. The pioneers introduced will be carefully selected from first class agriculturists, who are well to do at home, but who wish to obtain larger opportunities for their efforts. If my plans succeed I shall be back in the fall and take up the necessary land, and my first contingent will come over early next spring. I shall first try a company of about fifty very carefully chosen farmers.

"At present, you must understand, I am acting purely as a private individual. When I return to Japan, I will submit my proposals to our Government and, acting in conjunction with prominent public business men in Japan, I may form a company to promote the scheme.

"Do you think this experiment will result in very much immigration from Japan in the future, Mr. Nagatany?" was inquired.

"I think so," he answered. "I believe that when once we have proved it successful there will follow a very large immigration of our people. The Japanese are not very well informed about Canadian conditions, and this is what Japan has been waiting for some time. There is no reason why the Japanese cannot do as well as any other nationality. So far, we have not seen any of their immigration taking up lands in the North-West, as people of other nationalities are doing. As far as I am concerned, experience in the war with Russia shows that we can endure either heat or cold. I am not intending to get any financial help from my Government. All the men who come out will have money, and will be able to be independent. I am going to bring the well-to-do. If the colony is founded, I shall always keep in touch with it, and may myself become a Canadian in time."

In further conversation the visitor explained that it was realized they must begin on farming, but later he thought some Japanese manufactures might be established. For Canadian flour he saw a good market in Japan, and it ought to become a great article of export from the North-West to his own country.

"We can send silks, tea, mamings and fine art goods. Personally, I am looking forward to a prosperous reciprocal trade," he continued, "as I said before, however, Japan does not know much about Canada yet, and perhaps I shall be the first man in Japan to meet such a scheme as I have suggested."

New York Men Here on Business

Messrs. Johnston and Locke, Show Most Interesting Model Wagon.

Messrs. F. W. Johnston of New York selling agent, and F. E. Locke, patentee of Locke's celebrated patent wagon gear, were in the city yesterday, guests at the White House. This patent gear enables vehicles of any build, from a grocery delivery cart to a heavy farm wagon, to turn in very little space.

Messrs. Locke and Johnston had a small working model on the scale of an inch and a half to the foot, which clearly demonstrated the efficacy of their patent. The main feature is in connecting joint in the "reach," thus permitting a farm wagon supplied with Locke's patent to turn round in a space of 21 feet the end of 67 feet, the average for such vehicles. This connection has not yet been made any arrangements in this country, and left last night for London, but may return here.

Warsaw Stage Has Accident

Yesterday freight on the Warsaw stage, en route to the city, was delayed in the ex ward for a short time owing to an accident to this popular conveyance. It seems that a nut came off one of the ends of the front axle, which caused the wheel to run off. Fortunately, Mr. Crowe was not driving fast at the time and there were no passengers in the 'bus or else there might have been more damage done. As it was the driver received a considerable shaking up, some passersby helped to get the wheel on again and the trip city wards was resumed.

DUNDAS GOES FREE

Brantford Fire Department Want Him Back at Work.

J. R. Dundas, formerly a coachman of Hon. J. R. Stratton, who impersonated his former employer at the Palmer House, Toronto a year ago, thereby obtaining free board and lodging, was convicted in the Toronto police court yesterday morning, but let out on suspended sentence, as Crown Attorney Corley put in a good word for him.

"He's employed in the Fire Department at Brantford, and they give him a good reputation, and a job back," said the Crown attorney.

Dundas admitted he although his board was paid for, and denied any criminal intentions.

Will Inquire Into "Doctored" Wheat

Winnipeg, Aug. 31.—Though the Grand Commissioner has occupied but a few hours in the investigation that will be extended over many months it is now clear that one of the chief features of the work will be the fixing of the responsibility for the condition of wheat arriving at the ultimate ports of destination. It is declared that the Canadian wheat has been commanding a much less price because of the inferior condition of the grain, and that the max ure with certain grading between the standard is responsible for the difficulties Canadian shippers are experiencing. It is significant that many complaints of doctored wheat, no ably one from Hull last week pertain to those shipments via New York and Portland, Maine.

The Commission has declined its intention of fixing this responsibility, and so that end many railroad men, elevator managers, and farmers, if no ship owners, will have to testify.

The meeting is attended by many representatives of Farmers' Associations and Mercantile men.

SHORTIS IS THERE

Valleyfield Murderer Insane, Twiddles His Thumbs.

Kingston, Aug. 31.—Shortis, the Valleyfield murderer, is still in Kingston penitentiary, though many people think his transfer from St. Vincent de Paul prison was only a subterfuge to allow him to return to his native heath in Ireland. He is an inmate of the insane asylum, a companion of Charlebois, whose recent actions have filled the papers. He mind is affected, and he moves about in a manner which proves his sad condition. He does no work, simply passing the days in twiddling his thumbs and gazing through the barred windows.

The City Board of Works in Session

Ratepayers Ask That Edinburgh St. Be Opened Up From George to Water St.

The Board of Works of the City Council met last night, when there were present, Chairman Ald. Hicks and Aldermen Geo. Elliott, Johnston, McIntyre, Dunnan, Graham, Adams and Torrey.

A petition for a granolithic walk on Sherbrook street, from Aylmer St. to the creek, being sufficiently signed was granted.

The Board decided, whenever feasible, to give the preference to work on walks left over from last year, and as long as the season lasts, to follow this policy up by taking up new work in the order on which it was petitioned for this year.

The city engineer reported that the grading of Dickson street, would cost $245, and the clerk was authorized to advertise this work.

A crossing will be constructed on Homewood avenue.

The Board decided to construct a granolithic walk on McDonnel St., south side, from Wayer to Dickson street, outside the trees, if the engineer so advises.

Messrs Stubbs and Middle on submitted a petition signed by forty citizens, asking that Edinburgh street be opened up from George to Water street, and the proper level struck, also that a granolithic walk be built on Water street in that neighbourhood.

Ald. Hicks offered that as considerable filling would have to be done at much expense, this matter should be referred to a committee of the whole council. Then the engineer advise that he would not recommend building a granolithic walk over the gully on Water street at this point, as the filling is as yet sufficiently settled.

Mr. Middleton urged that this property has been increased in value this year by $12,000, and before the snow flies whether $7,000 will have been expended on this property.

Mr. Stubbs pointed out that unless improvements are made at this point he will have no access to his newly acquired property, and the water this winter. He further added that the petitioners would be satisfied if the sidewalk were built this year.

Ald. Johnston moved,—That the engineers report on this matter at next meeting of the council.—Carried.

Ald. McWilliams reported that Messrs Murray and Brady would be willing to give a portion of their property, so have Albert street opened to the boundary.

This was referred to the engineer to report on.

Ald McIntyre asked that a granolithic walk be constructed on Charlotte street, across Bethune street, nor side. This work was authorised.

BECOMES DUKE OF BAYNHAM

Mrs. Maggie Collier of Trinidad, Colo., Notified of Her Brother's Success.

Trinidad, Col., August 31.—Mrs. Maggie Collier has been notified by her brother, Dr. C. W. Baynham, of Fort Smith, Ark., who went to Scotland recently to investigate his rights to a dukedom, that he has become the Duke of Baynham.

He says, however, that the ancestral castle is dilapidated and his 2,000 acres are fit only for a game preserve.

The castle is on a knoll between Inverness and Kyle. A company of Scotch Highlanders occupies it, calling it Fort Kyle. He will take his sister to Scotland next year to help decide what to do with it.

KILLED HIS FATHER

Seventeen-Year-Old Son Murdered Him for Five Hundred Dollars.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 30.—James F. Sloane, a pioneer merchant of this city, and senior member of the Sloane-Paine Company, was killed Monday night by his seventeen-year-old son, Sidney. The body was found behind a pile of rocks in an alley near his homes. Investigation proved that he was murdered in his room soon after midnight, the body then placed in a wheelbarrow, and carried to the alley. When taken into custody by the police Sidney Sloane protested his innocence, but later confessed that he had killed his father with an axe. The boys said he hoped to secure $500 which he thought his father carried.

CANADIAN MURDERED

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 29.—Lloyd Gynes of Windsor, Ont., night operator for the Michigan Central Railroad at Galien, Mich., was found dead at his post early yesterday by the conductor of a passing train.

He had apparently been murdered, being shot through the eye and breast.

The motive is no known.

Seventy dollars and a gold watch which were on Gynes' person were not touched.

Loyal True Blues Scarlet Degree

Local Orange Lodge is Prospering and Reaching for New Members.

On Wednesday evening the Loyal True Blues met in their hall and the Scarlet Degree was given to the members that have joined the new branch of this association. As this is the highest degree, the lodge is now in fine shape to accept any new candidates and confer the full number of degrees. Everything points to a very prosperous Loyal True Blue lodge in Peterborough, and in this prosperous city nothing should stand between this lodge and success, in making it the banner lodge of Ontario.

CHARLEBOIS AGAIN CUTS BARS.

Kingston, Aug. 30.—Charlebois, the convict who scaled the penitentiary walls from the asylum, and after a prolonged hunt was recaptured at Mallorytown, has got busy again. He was caught cutting the bars of his cell, and several improvised saws were found in his possession. How he secured them is beyond explanation. He is an inmate of the asylum prison, and was convicted of murdering a constable.

LAYING TRANSCONTINENTAL

Grand Trunk Pacific Line is Being Pushed Forward Rapidly.

Montreal, August 31.—The progress made in track laying by the contractors of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is rapid. A large depot of supplies has been established at Portage la Prairie, and most of the engines and cars lately shipped from Montreal have arrived there, to be used in construction work.

This week the Portage la Prairie section east and west of the town is being rushed forward. The great need is men, but when the grain harvest is over, many men now engaged in it will be free to accept employment on the new Transcontinental, while in the mountain work, where white men cannot be had, Chinese labor will probably be substituted.

Having failed to come to an agreement with the Canadian Northern people over the use of the rails between Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie, and G. T. P. are going to build a line of their own between those two points.

The section work extending between Touchwood Hills and Saskatoon, a distance of 140 miles, will be graded by the end of the year, and the grading work between Saskatoon and Edmonton is being pushed rapidly forward.

It is also expected that 210 miles between Port Arthur and Lake Superior Junction will be completed up to the main line by the autumn of next year.

BIG BEER FIGHT

Free Beer for Everyone as Result of Industrial War.

Clarksburg, W. Va., August 30.—A beer fight is on here. Recently the Clarksburg Brewing Company announced they would sell ice for 10 cents per 100 pounds. The Heymann Brewing Company, of Wheeling, W. Va., retaliated by furnishing ice to saloons and other consumers free of charge. This aroused the local brewery, and an announcement was made today that free beer would be furnished all consumers. The Heymann Company came back with the word that they would furnish all consumers free beer for five years, and as a result free beer is being distributed throughout the city to all saloons and other consumers.

The Wiedemann Company stands pat, while Koster has joined in the fight. The struggle promises to be a merry one, as not one company will agree to surrender or compromise.

HOW CONSTMPTION START

Tired When You Waken—Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out—Snap All Gone.

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start today. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Ferrozone cures because it can furnish the body with sufficient nutriment and building material.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone never failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Dyer, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this.

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

WHERE MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF TELEPHONES FAILED

The commission at Boston, which was appointed to investigate the operation of the principle of municipal ownership as demonstrated by British experience, has about concluded its tour of observation. It will be coming home soon, either jointly or severally, and in due course it will furnish a not too eagerly expectant community with a report which will cause a good deal of disappointment if it does less than settle once for all the problem to which it is addressed.

Perhaps the hope that it will do so is unreasonable in view of the magnitude of the subject and the diversity of the field to which the inquiries of the commissioners have been directed. Perhaps they ought not in fairness to be expected to do more than to furnish a statement of what they ascertained to be the facts, leaving the reader to derive his own deductions from the data thus provided.

That, however, is just what the average reader dislikes to do. It involves an amount of trouble which he is either unable or unwilling to take and he generally prefers to beg at least offered the choice of a ready-made opinion. He wants to know whether municipal ownership as it has been practiced in Great Britain has or has not been a success, and to that question the roving commission of sages must, if it wishes to produce a good impression, be prepared to make a categorical reply.

In the meanwhile it may be worth while again remarking that the city of Glasgow, where the principle of municipal ownership was adopted first and carried the farthest, has grown weary of operating its own telephones. Six years ago, as we have before remarked in these columns, it started in to construct and maintain a public telephone plant in competition with a private company, which it was desired to discipline. The result has been disastrous. It may or may not have given a good service—the dispatches are silent as to that, but such service as it did provide was supplied at a loss. After a million dollars had been expended on the plant it was discovered that the investment of another half million would be necessary, and then the municipality gave up in disgust. It embraced an opportunity to sell out to the postoffice, although a loss of $[illegible] was involved in the transaction.

Under these conditions the people of Glasgow are entitled to commiseration, for it is a case of out of the frying pan into the fire. By those who have tried it words have been declared inadequate to describe the badness of the service furnished by the British postoffice.

Municipal ownership may be all right in principle, but private enterprise properly controlled for the public benefit usually beats it in practice.

If this proposal, as well as the plan of a Pittsburg company, comes to realization, we will soon have at least two electric smelting plants in Ontario.

GRAPHITE IN CANADA.

The Mines Branch, under the supervision of Dr. Eugene Haanel, is now engaged in a survey of the graphite deposits of Ontario and Quebec which will shortly be published in book form, giving full particulars as to their known extent and the localities in which the mineral has been found. Its chief uses are the manufacture of lubricants, of crucibles and of lead pencils.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Sensation in Mining Circles

Halifax, N. S., August 20.—A sensation was sprung in coal mining circles yesterday afternoon and this morning. The leases of the Strathcona, Minudie and Styles mines, coal areas in Cumberland County, expired yesterday and the lessees neglected to make application for renewals. Three parties have filed applications for the leases of the three properties, all in operation. The same thing happened this morning with reference to the areas of the Port Hood Coal Company at Port Hood. The applications have not yet been granted.

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has often much efforts secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 11-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 130 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 75 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district, of Parral is but one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by the entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. How, then, can conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. — A NOVEL — SOUTHWORTH

mitting the son for his resemblance, in person and in character, to the mother whom she so deeply revered; next, she found herself taking great pleasure in the society and conversation of the duke when he was present, and in thoughts and memories of him when he was absent; then her mind became more occupied with the future than with the past. The memory of her false and unworthy love was fading from her heart like the black shadows of night. The hope of a higher and holier affection was dawning.

Rosamond seldom or never recurred to the subject of Albert Hastings, alias William Lovel, and when she did, it was only to wonder how she could have honored him, first, with such a degree of love, and secondly, with such a degree of hate, when in fact the best and the worst that he deserved was simply pity and contempt.

Still she was surprised and humiliated to find her affections going out toward another object.

"Is it possible," she said to herself, "that my nature is so light as to change easily? I will go back to the solitude of Swinburne Castle, and take myself seriously to task, and try to come to my senses. In truth, it is quite time, since my thoughts are running upon one who has never requested me so to employ them."

And back to Swinburne Castle went the young baroness, but not to remain there long.

The Duchess of Bereseleigh, with her family, was going to town for the season. She came over to Swinburne Castle, invited Rosamond to be of her party, and would take no denial.

Rosamond, who could refuse the duchess nothing, after a feeble resistance, yielded. And accordingly it was arranged that Lady Etheridge of Swinburne should accompany them to town, and enter society under the auspices of the Duchess of Bereseleigh.

The duke preceded the family by two or three weeks, in order to take his seat in the House of Lords, and give his vote and influence in favor of Rosamond Etheridge, whose claim to the Barony of Swinburne was then before the peers. There was, however, scarcely a shadow of doubt upon the minds of any as to the final issue of the case.

A few days previous to the commencement of the Duchess of Bereseleigh's journey to London, the duke ran down to Somerset, and suddenly appeared at Bereseleigh Court, with the news that the great case had been decided in favor of Rosamond Etheridge.

And within a week from this day, the duchess and her family, accompanied by Lady Etheridge, set out for London, and in due course of time arrive at their town residence, Bereseleigh House, Belgrave Square.

CHAPTER XVI.

As soon as it was known that the Duchess of Bereseleigh, with the young Ladies Wardour and the youthful heiress of Swinburne, was in town, a shower of cards fell daily at Bereseleigh House. These her grace duly acknowledged by sending or leaving her own card at various residences of the callers.

Many morning visits were also made to the boudoir of the duchess, and these her grace received alone, or with her daughters.

Lady Etheridge was always invited. Numerous invitations to dinners, evening parties, balls, etc., arrived for the ladies of the family; but all these were politely declined, except such as referred to entertainments to be given after the first drawing-room of the season. In a word, the duchess had determined that her beautiful young guest should make her first entrance into society at the Royal Palace of St. James. With a woman's zeal and a mother's zeal she superintended the preparation of a magnificent court dress for Lady Etheridge.

The important day arrived.

Wishing [illegible] occasion to give her whole attention to her young protegee, the duchess had resolved not to entertain company with all her daughters. The [illegible] she decided that for once the Ladies Wardour should remain at home.

As by her rank the Duchess of Bereseleigh took precedence of all ladies, except the duchesses of royal descent, it was proper that her grace should be early at the palace. The drawing room was to be held from twelve to three.

At half-past eleven the duchess, in her court dress—a white satin skirt, a purple velvet train, an ermine mantle, and headdress formed of a circlet of diamonds and a plume of ostrich feathers—entered the dressing room of her protegee, to inspect the toilet of the latter.

"Beauty, when unadorned," is not, "adorned the most."

Rose, in her simple cottage dress, had been very pretty.

Rose, in her court dress, was dazzlingly beautiful. Though a young maiden, yet a baroness in her own right, she had a matron's privilege of wearing brilliant jewels. The family diamonds had been reset for this occasion.

She wore a robe of white point lace over a white satin skirt, and a train of rich white brocade. Her glossy light hair was arranged in ringlets, and covered with a wreath of white rosebuds, glittering with the dew of small diamonds. Bouquets of the same flowers rested upon her bosom, looped up her sleeves, and fastened her train. Circlets of pure diamonds invested her fair neck and arms. Boots of white satin, with diamond buckles; snow-white gloves, a fan of marabout of cobweb texture completed her costume. Excitement had given a more brilliant splendor to deep blue eyes, and a brighter bloom to her roseate cheeks.

The duchess gazed upon her with delight, commended the skill of Mademoiselle Gabrielle, the French dressing-maid, and then turning to her protegee, said:

"The carriage is announced, love, and it is quite time we were off."

They descended to the hall, went out and entered the coach, and in a few minutes were rolling on toward St. James' Palace, where they arrived at twelve o'clock.

The place was thronged with coroneted carriages, filled with splendidly dressed visitors, waiting their turn to draw up before the gates. The coach of the duchess rolled into its place behind that of the Duchess of Leeds, and in due time drew up before the palace doors.

The duchess and her protegee alighted and entered the palace.

Queen Charlotte had brought from her father's court much of the German love of solemn pomp. The outer hall and ante-rooms of St. James were filled with officers of the household, in their gorgeous costumes, and with their badges of office.

Leaning upon the arm of the duchess, Lady Etheridge trembled, as many a novice has done before and since, under the overwhelming effect of royal state and magnificence. A few judicious words from the duchess reassured her, and they passed on to the drawing-room, that was already filled with a brilliant company.

At the upper end of the room stood the royal party, consisting of the King and Queen, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Dukes of York and Clarence, and the Princesses Augusta and Amelia. The Duchess of Norfolk was just in the act of paying her respects to royalty. The Duchess of Bereseleigh took her place in the circle, and, while waiting her turn, quietly indicated to Lady Etheridge the most noted persons present.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 3,600 feet Square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property to within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,-000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars, address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 5½ acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,500 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the Independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

We would suggest that you write us immediately for free particulars, copies of letters from bankers, etc., which will be sent free. We will also send you a copy of our book "Oil & Gold" if you wish it. This book gives history and statistics of the prominent Oil Fields and Gold districts of the United States. Address,

House-Clean Your System!

Keep it Pure and Clean if You Desire Good Health.

The inside of your body requires attention just the same as the outside.

The system must be relieved of its burden if you are to enjoy a happy, healthy summer.

Physicians who have examined the formula of Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills say no medicine could be better.

Whether ill or not, thousands rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are truly marvelous in preventing debility and sickness.

Begin Dr. Hamilton's Pills without delay. You'll feel stronger, eat better, digest better, sleep sounder and gain more in weight.

Mr. Ed. Maynard, an old resident of New Westminster, B. C., writes: "I don't say Dr. Hamilton's Pills will cure everything, but they made a quick job of building up my run-down system. I had kidney disease and constipation, and was wholly unfitted for work. Pains shot through my legs and lodged in my back. Headaches often made me desperate. I had no appetite, an awful color, and felt despondent. Sometimes I was a little rheumatic. After a few days I began to mend, and kept up Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I was restored to my present tip-top condition."

Can you afford to miss the benefit of this marvel-working medicine? Think of it. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

Habit-forming Medicines.

Whatever may be the fact as to many of the so-called patent medicines containing injurious ingredients as broadly published in some journals of more or less influence, this publicity has certainly been of great benefit in arousing needed attention to this subject. It has, in a considerable measure, resulted in the most intelligent people avoiding such foods and medicines as may be fairly suspected of containing the injurious ingredients complained of. Recognizing this fact some time ago, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "took time by the forelock," as it were, and published broadcast all the ingredients of which his popular medicines are composed. Thus he has completely forestalled all harping critics and all opposition that might otherwise be urged against his medicines, because they are now OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. Furthermore, from the formula printed on every bottle wrapper, it will be seen that these medicines contain no alcohol or other habit-forming drugs. Neither do they contain any narcotics or injurious agents, their ingredients being purely vegetable, extracted from the roots of medicinal plants found growing in the depths of our American forests and of well recognized curative virtues.

Instead of alcohol, which even in small portions long continued, as in obstinate cases of diseases, becomes highly objectionable from its tendency to produce a craving for stimulants, Dr. Pierce employs chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, which of itself is a valuable remedy in many cases of chronic diseases, being a superior demulcent, antiseptic, antiferment and supporting nutritive. It enhances the curative action of the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodrock, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," in all bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with severe coughs. As will be seen from the writings of the eminent Drs. Grover Coe, of New York; Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, Phila.; Scudder, of Cincinnati; Ellingwood, of Chicago; Hale, of Chicago, and others, who stand as leaders in their several schools of practice, the foregoing agents are the very best ingredients that Dr. Pierce could have chosen to make up his famous "Discovery" for the cure of not only bronchial, throat and lung affections, but also of chronic catarrh in all its various forms wherever located.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

Working expenses for the year amounted to 62.75 per cent. of the gross earnings, and net earnings of 37.25 per cent., as compared with 69.35 and 30.65 per cent., respectively, in 1905.

Four per cent. consolidated debenture stock to the amount of $2,531,273 was created and sold, a debt of $7,000,000, bearing interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent. per annum, due the Province of Quebec in connection with the purchase of the railway between Ottawa and Quebec was satisfied and discharged, and the remainder was used to meet expenditures for construction of branch lines and of additional Atlantic steamships.

STATE OF BRANCH LINES.

The report proceeds as follows: Construction of various new branch lines and extensions of your system is progressing favorably. The Guelph & Goderich Railway is nearing completion. Work on the line between Toronto and Sudbury is well advanced. It is expected that the branch from Wolseley to Regina will be finished this autumn. Grading is being done in both directions between Wetaskiwin, Strassburg, and Sheho, with a view to a thorough connection between your Manitoba & North-Western line, your Pheasant Hill line, and Edmonton in the year 1907. An important and expensive bridge will be required over the Saskatchewan river at Edmonton, which the Calgary & Edmonton Railway Company will provide under the terms of the agreement with that company sanctioned by you some time ago.

VICTORIA HARBOR LINE.

An additional and more economical avenue for the movement of your traffic in either direction between the head of ocean navigation and the Georgian Bay will shortly be required. After careful investigation and surveys your directors are of opinion that this can best be secured by the construction of a railway from Peterborough, on your Ontario and Quebec section, to Victoria harbor, a distance of 96 miles. By this route the distance from Montreal to Georgian Bay will be 304 miles, as against 449 miles by your present Owen Sound route, and the gradients will be much more favorable. It is proposed to enter into an arrangement with the Georgian Bay and Seaboard Railway Company, who have a Dominion charter, covering this territory to construct this line and to lease it to your company for a period of 999 years, at a rental equivalent to interest at four per cent. per annum on the bonds of the Georgian Bay and Seaboard Railway Company, issued with the consent of your company.

ALL STOCK TAKEN UP.

Additional ordinary capital stock offered to shareholders pro rata, as authorized at the special General meeting, held on March 19th, last, has all been subscribed, excepting a few shares which will be sold in open market. It is the policy of your directors to replace by the cost of new expenses all rolling stock [illegible] obsolete or [illegible] Mr. [illegible] locomotive for [illegible] without reference to increased [illegible] and cost of more standard equipment. As a consequence every car and locomotive shown in the inventory of rolling stock is either in service or is provided for in the equipment replacement fund.

Packing Houses Get Back Trade

But There is Strong Objections to American Petroleum.

New York, August 30.—Americans returning from European travel all bring back a story of the harmful effect in Europe of the recent discussion and disclosures regarding the packing houses in the United States. The foreign press made much of this material in a campaign against American products in favor of their home industries.

Inquiry here indicates that while the first announcements resulted in an almost total cancellation of orders, a more normal condition has returned, and that now most houses are exporting up to their former figures. The beef trade, which was most injuriously affected, has so far recovered that the exports are now but fifteen per cent. below normal.

The peculiar situation is revealed that though in the packing house exposures the quality of the beef was assailed, its orders have practically been restored, whereas in the petroleum business, the quality of which has not been questioned in America, there has been a most marked reduction in the export trade, where sixty per cent. of the entire petroleum production of the United States goes. The Russians, Germans, Roumanians and Galicians, who are the formidable competitors of the American petroleum industry, have used the Eastern mess attacks to great advantage. With the largely accumulated stock due to the many new oil fields found in Kansas and Indian Territory, and the rapidly developing industries of other countries, which have the advantage of greater proximity to consuming centres, as well as that of cheaper labor, a serious injury to the American products has resulted. One American oil company, which made application to a foreign government for permission to erect a storage plant to receive bulk American petroleum, was refused by the authorities on the claim that President Roosevelt's message to Congress had discredited the quality of American petroleum.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Wm Jones seems to have the ineptitude mirrored in his eyes. As our readers will remember Bill only left the shady cloisters of Castle Neabit yesterday, after an enforced visit therein for the past thirty days. William, on regaining his freedom, proceeded with quickness and despatch to absorb a renewal of the old jag he had just had to be enforced seclusion in this historic spot.

William, it might be noted, sells boot laces for a living, and as our he has occupation as soon as he had got an a sufficient amount of liquid eloquence. He went in to C. J. Turner & Sons on George street, and tried to sell some of his wares. When he was informed that they did not require any he became very abusive, and used unbecoming language. Mr. Turner notified the police and in a few minutes P.C. Mahaffy was on the spot and placed Jones under arrest.

Yesterday the "Cause Celebre," the of License Inspector Joseph [illegible] versus Messrs. Spellman & Lawless, proprietors of the Lakefield House, Lakefield, for selling liquor without a license was tried at the police court. The "soapless soap" and "Dominion" clubs were out in full force, and even forsaked their usual [illegible] spots to take in the feast of reason and flow of soul, incidentally regretting there was not a flow of the goods seized.

The defendants, per their lawyer, Mr Hatton, pleaded guilty to selling liquor, and were fined $100, and $12.05 costs. They pleaded guilty to the charge which read that they did sell intoxicating liquor without a license on Friday, August 24th. The magistrate imposed the heaviest fine possible, assessing the defendants, as stated, $100, and $12.05 costs.

Mr. Hatton explained that the defendants lost their license last May and that the liquor they had was part of the stock left over. He said Inspector Stewart visited the place about a month ago, and was afforded every opportunity of examining premises. Mr. Hatton added that this was the first offence against the two defendants and, if his Worship could see his way clear to deal leniently with them, it would be appreciated.

Mr. Wood, Crown Attorney, said the Mr. Spellman had publicly declared that he would continue to sell even if he was to jail. He without when the inspector went there the people left the bar in such a hurry that they left half empty glasses flying around, and money scattered all over the bar. Mr. Spellman tried to have the inspector arrested for breaking into his premises. The county magistrate refused a warrant. Mr. Spellman then came to Mr. Wood, who thought he could prove to be court that liquor had been shipped to the hotel within the past thirty days. Mr. Wood said it was a case of the defendants not making any effort to observe the law, and therefore this was not a case for leniency.

Magistrate Dumble said he was surprised at the newspapers entering into any discussion on the matter. The people had declared that there should be no liquor sold in Lakefield, and the law must be observed and he would therefore impose the heaviest fine possible, $100 and $12.05 costs, to be paid forthwith, or in default three months in jail, with hard labor.

The liquor seized by the inspector was produced in court.

Mr. Hatton said, "I understand there is a 'lo there that is not saizable."

The magistrate overruled this objection and ordered the goods to be destroyed.

C. P. R. Steamship Makes Record Run

Rimouski, Que., Aug. 30.—The importance to the world at large of the Canadian route, Europe and America was demonstrated and emphasized by the arrival here this afternoon of the R.M.S. Empress of Ireland, bringing the Anglo-Canadian mails and the both routes either via the north of or south of Newfoundland now belong to the Atlantic service of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The Empress of Ireland time from Liverpool to Rimouski 5.22 hours or from Ireland to Rimouski was 5 days 10 hours and 30 minutes, which is four hours faster than that made by any steamship of this or any other line between these points she has on board 259 saloon, 322 second cabin and 832 third-class passengers a total of 1443 and the mails from China and Japan. The mails for these two latter countries were not discharged here but were carried to Quebec on the steamer where they will be immediately put on the new overseas mail train of the C.P.R.

Petition to Get Creek Changed

A petition is being circulated on Downie and adjoining streets to have the course of the Downie street creek changed back to it and one between Downie and Dunsford.

The course was changed some years ago and the water made to run down Downie to Dublin street in a box drain, which it is alleged is in a dangerous condition at present, and is not large enough.

Many cellars are periodically flooded and the foundations to houses undermined. The petition to have the creek reverted to its original source is being largely signed.

PREDICTS SOCIAL WAR

Chicago Professor Declares Present Evils Will Lead to Struggle

FEARS REIGN OF ANARCHY

Declares Arrogance of the Rich is Sure to Bring About a Gigantic Revolt.

Chicago, August 31.—The [illegible] social war, involving the whole nation in a final class struggle for power, will result from present evils in our social and economic system, was predicted yesterday by Professor Charles Zueblin, of the University of Chicago, in a lecture on "Fellowship" at the university. A reign of anarchy, inspired by the flaunting of riches and insolence in the face of the poor by the owners of great fortunes, the professor declared, seems imminent as the only outcome of our class distinctions and social contrasts.

Anarchy will be the logical outgrowth of the overwhelming dominance of wealth in America, according to Professor Zueblin. The clash, he asserted, will be a gigantic revolt against almost unbearable conditions, and the crime of it will be upon the heads of the "upper classes," who have brought it on by their own folly.

EATS INTO VERY SOUL.

"Our social contrasts become every day more obnoxious," declared Professor Zueblin. "Wealth is flaunted in the faces of the poor. The display and vulgarity of the rich is on every hand. It eats into the very soul of the poor man to know that at one extravagant entertainment, which is probably for the sole purpose of feeding the appetite, more money is spent than he could ever ever hope to make in his entire lifetime. What wonder if he curses and arms!

"If the great revolt comes some day against these unbearable conditions, then we will know who has brought it on. Then we will realize how anarchists are bred, and will see how the nation is endangered by the foolishness of the rich. The vulgar displays of wealth only go to show the multiplication of social distinctions in the country.

"Practically every workman in this country is dependent upon some man—an employer—who orders his every step. Just a little handful of men manage the great industrial affairs of the country. We have been more dependence.

EXAMPLE IN STREET CARS.

"We can see a good example of class distinction in the street cars in the South side. On First class cars there are some rich, [illegible] while [illegible] for the [illegible] avenue. There are [illegible] people. West of Indiana avenue there are some filthy, smelly, [illegible] cars for the stockyards people. Yet it is possible that a [illegible] and wealthy citizens can come from the stockyards as from Kenwood."

Professor Zueblin described the crowded condition of New York, where he said the flats were so small that people have to go outside to change even their minds, and where little house dogs wag their tails up and down instead of horizontally for want of room. "Chicago," he declared, already has 3,000 acres of playgrounds and money in on hand for [illegible] more such areas, which will save [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] people who [illegible] assessing to do but to play bridge all day, go to sports and drink [illegible] the [illegible] in discussing the subject of unemployment. "They are just as intemperate [illegible] who imbibe in strong drink, excepting perhaps they do not have such an immediate bad effect upon society."

A Sixty Pound 'Lunge Not Caught

On Thursday, Mr. Tom Rutherford, the well known local [illegible] actor was out at Chemong Lake [illegible] fishing. As Mr. Rutherford was slowly rolling by a favorite spot of his he got a telegram from the business end of his fishing line advising him there was something doing that required immediate attention, and, incidentally, some vigorous hauling in.

The veteran fireman, as once got busy but with up against a hard proposition. As he hauled in the in something on the other end hauled it out. After a strenuous fight Mr. Rutherford succeeded in bringing his capture [illegible] within sight of the boat. THE SCOURGE OF CONSUMPTION

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired, Languid or Run Down Get Protection Before Too Late.

No child, man or woman is safe from consumption unless their blood is pure, rich and nourishing.

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develops.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrozone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manotick, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferrozone: "For two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tiredness hung over me like a load of lead. Housework of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

ENGLAND MAY GO OUT OF OPIUM TRADE

The question of the growth of the opium trade in England has for some time past received the attention of the reformers, and their attitude promises to be rewarded by prompt action on the part of the Government. In fact, the International Reform Bureau has just received from the British Society for the Suppression of the Opium Trade the news that the House of Commons, which has been called the most stalwart in morals since the days of Cromwell, has unanimously resolved that the Indo-Chinese opium trade is morally indefensible, and requests his Majesty's Government to take such steps as may be necessary for bringing it to a speedy close. The resolution, too, has been favorably received by the Government. As to the financial part, it will be a serious drawback to the revenue of the country, for England's annual revenue from the opium trade with China is about fifteen million dollars; it would have been a great deal more, however, if those people, oppressed with having an injurious but lucrative trade thrust on them against their will, had not learned the trick of growing their own opium, the home supply now greatly exceeding all importations from all sources. The International Reform Bureau thinks that this decision of the House of Commons means civic resurrection in India, China and the British Empire, and world-wide benefits to morals, missions and markets. The expectation is a sanguine one, but if it is in any considerable part fulfilled it will justify the exultation with which the society gives greetings to the great Parliamentary decision which it regards as one of the most momentous it has rendered since its legislation upon subjects of Oriental trade and politics began.

TREATING

When a contemporary said that the corkscrew is no longer the chief symbol of hospitality, it voiced a truth which is becoming generally recognized, even in the West, where the treating habit has had its strongest hold. There was a time when refusal to drink at the invitation of a friend was taken as an insult. There are, perhaps, some few men yet whose misconception of hospitality made them think it their privilege to compel their friends to drink at any and all times, but the number of these is fast diminishing.

The treating custom is growing in disfavor, as it should. It is one of the stages by which intemperance is increased. Men who drink beer or whisky only when they have a desire for it seldom become drunkards, but those who drink because they are asked to do so are on the easy road to excess. The man who has been treated feels under obligation to return the compliment, and thus takes two drinks where he felt no desire for even one. In the present state of public mind upon the subject of hospitality, it would be almost impossible for two friends to step up to the bar and order drinks and each pay for his own, yet, if such were the custom, as it is in some countries and may some day be in this, there would be much less drunkenness.

A POINTED PROTEST

The remarks made by Professor Dieulafoy in the Paris Academy of Medicine against the growing fashionableness of some surgeons in operating for appendicitis were to the point. Dr. Dieulafoy is an eminent physician, clinical professor at the Hotel Dieu, and an authority on appendicitis, upon which he has written an important work. He asserts that innumerable operations are performed for non-existent appendicitis in consequence of erroneous diagnosis. In his opinion surgeons cannot, and should not, diagnose a malady which only physicians can recognize. He cited many cases which had come under his own notice in which the patients, operated upon for appendicitis some weeks previously, still felt the same pains in the same region. The surgeon had believed appendicitis to exist, and had operated accordingly, whereas it was only hypertrophy of the intestinal membrane, or typhlitis, which latter malady constantly gets without appendicitis, being represented by an eminent surgeon Dr. Reclus, while discussing this question in public. Dr. Dieulafoy replied, with much pertinence, that the public was the chief party interested—not, he said, the public who can afford to pay and who would not allow themselves to be operated upon without medical advice, but patients in the hospitals, men and women who gain their living by hard work, who are exposed to needless abdominal operations, often resulting in death, and without any redress when errors of diagnosis have been committed.

This is a remarkable protest, and the distinguished men who made it deserves more gratitude for making it than he will probably receive.

CONSCIENTIOUS ROGUES.

The Big and Formidable Sinners Are Gray of Soul, Not Black.

No paradox is it, but a demonstrable fact, that in a highly articulate society the gravest harms are inflicted not by the worst men, but by those with virtues enough to boost them into some colgu of vantage. The boss who sells out the town and delivers the poor over to filth, disease and the powers that prey owes his chance to his engaging good fellowship and big-heartedness. Some of the most dazzling careers of fraud have lashed them long and reassuring records of probity, which have served to bait the trap of villainy.

Not that these decoy virtues are counterfeit. They are, in fact, so genuine that often the stalwart sinner perseveres in the virtue that has lifted him into the high places he abuses. The legislator conscientiously returns the boodle when he finds he cannot "deliver the goods." The boss stands by his friends to his own hurt. The lobbying lawyer is faithful to his client. The corrupting corporation president is loyal to his stockholders. The bought-en editor never quite overcomes his craft instinct to print "all the news there is."

In a word, the big and formidable sinners are gray of soul, but not black, so that chastisement according to their character rather than according to their deeds lets them off far too easily.—E. A. Ross in Atlantic.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

KILLED HIS FATHER

Seventeen-Year-Old Son Murdered Him for Five Hundred Dollars.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 30.—James F. Sloane, a pioneer merchant of this city, and senior member of the Sloane-Duane Company, was killed Monday night by his seventeen-year-old son, Sidney. The body was found behind a pile of rocks in an alley near his home. Investigation proved that he was murdered in his room soon after midnight, the body then placed in a wheelbarrow, and carried to the alley. When taken into custody by the police Sidney Sloane protested his innocence, but later confessed that he had killed his father with an axe. The boys said he hoped to secure $500 which he thought his father carried.

Give Orders for Two New Ships.

Collingwood, August 30.—The Collingwood Shipbuilding Company has closed a contract for the construction of two large package freight steamers for the C. P. R. The yard has two large steel barges on its books, one in process of construction. This, the Midland Prince, will be 500 feet long and is being built for the Playfair Company, Midland, and will be the largest steamer on the Great Lakes flying the Canadian flag. The keel for the second steamer will be laid in a few days. The vessel is the Farrar Transportation Company and will be 400 feet long.

A LOBSTER'S LEGS.

The Two Front Ones Are Different From the Other Eight.

A lobster's legs, all told, are ten in number, but only eight of these are largely used for walking. The front pair, or big claws, have been specialized, as in the crab and most others of the higher crustaceans, into prehensile organs for catching and crushing the prey. Their use is obvious. Lobsters feed largely off mollusks of various sorts and other hard shelled marine animals. In order to be able to break or crush the shells of these and so to get at the softer flesh within they have acquired such large and very muscular nippers or pinchers. That is not all, however. Not only have the two front legs been differentiated and specialized from the eight others in this manner, but also, by a rare exception to the symmetry of the body, the right claw has been specialized from the left, each being intended to perform a distinct function. One is a scissors, the other is a mill; one is a cutter, the other is a cracker.

As a rule, the right claw is the slenderer and longer. It has toothlike projections or serrated edges on its nipping faces, and it is rather adapted for biting and severing than for crushing or grinding. The left claw, on the other hand, is usually thicker, heavier and rounder. Its muscles are more powerful, and in place of sharp teeth it has blunt tubercles, or hammers, of different sizes. It acts, in fact, more like a nutcracker than like teeth or a saw. It is a smashing organ. Nevertheless you will find it interesting to observe, by noting the lobsters served to you at table, that this differentiation has hardly as yet become quite constant, for sometimes it is the right claw that displays the hammerlike nutcracker type and the left that acts as nipper and biter, while sometimes no difference occurs at all, both claws alike being sharp toothed or blunt hammered in the same specimen.

THE PRIBILOF ISLANDS.

Where No White Man May Land Unless He Has a Permit.

Unalaska resembles other northern stations, having warehouses, docks, the inevitable Greek church and a score of wooden cabins. Whalers leave here for the arctic regions.

Dutch Harbor is a station for our revenue fleet. There is much coming and going of ships of all nations. There is quite a formidable fleet, and only two ships out of twelve carry colors of the same country.

Just before entering the harbor one notices a detached rock high against the side of the cliff. It bears a striking resemblance to a Russian priest in full robes. Touched by the sunset light, he seems to stand blessing the harbor.

Sailing north out into Bering sea, one looks back at the desolate, silent, treeless islands, which seem to wall the edge of the world. Hundreds of miles west they run toward Vladivostok.

Two hundred and forty miles north of Unalaska are the Pribilof islands, not large, but the greatest seal islands in the world. There are many fur seals around the shores of Bering sea and the Aleutian islands, but the great mass of them are bred on the Pribilof group. No white man is permitted to land on these breeding grounds without a permit signed by the secretary of the treasury of the United States.—Outdoor Life.

The Pace of the Camel.

As a matter of fact, and in spite of its having carried Mohammed in four leaps from Jerusalem to Mecca, seven miles an hour is the camel's limit, nor can it maintain this rate over two hours. Its usual speed is five miles an hour—a slow pace, beyond which it is dangerous to urge it, lest, as Asiatics say, it might break its heart and die literally on the spot. When a camel is pressed beyond this speed and is spent it kneels down, and not all the wolves in Asia will make it budge again. The camel remains where it kneels, and where it kneels it dies. A fire under its nose is useless.—Times of India.

He Had His Wish.

Carl Schurz had no consideration for hypocrites or pretenders. Upon literary pretenders he was particularly severe. At a dinner in New York one night a man of wealth who had written a volume of poems sneered at politics.

"I wouldn't give a picayune," he said, "for a senatorship or a cabinet office. To be even president wouldn't tempt me. I, for my part, would rather be known any day as a third rate poet than a first rate statesman."

"Well, aren't you?" said Mr. Schurz.

Minerals in Water.

Lead or zinc ore can be so finely pulverized that a tablespoonful may be mixed in a bucket of clear water without being visible to the naked eye. When thus powdered the particles are so minute that it often takes half an hour for them to settle to the bottom of a vessel full of water. This fact makes it evident that a stream may carry large quantities of minerals rich in metals.

Neatly Turned.

"Now, Pat," said a magistrate to an old offender, "what brought you here again?" "Two policemen, sor," was the laconic reply. "Drunk, I suppose?" queried the magistrate. "Yes, sor," said Pat; "both av thim."

The Worst.

"Doctor, I must positively insist upon knowing the worst."

"Well, I think my bill will be about $100."

Everybody exclaims against ingratitude. Are there so many benefactors? —Bougeart.

CANADIAN MURDERED

Shot Dead at His Post in South Bend Indiana.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 29.—Lloyd Gynes of Windsor, Ont., night operator for the Michigan Central Railroad at Galien, Mich., was found dead at his post early yesterday by the conductor of a passing train.

He had apparently been murdered, being shot through the eye and breast.

The motive is not known.

Seventy dollars and a gold watch which were on Gynes' person were not touched.

Can't Drink Beer in the Breweries

Toronto, Aug. 31.—The question of brewers giving their employes liquor was settled once and for all time by Magistrate Denison this morning when

The O'Keefe Brewery Co. were the defendants, and it was charged that they had liquor for consumption within their premises, when they had only a wholesale license. The statute reads:

"No person having a license to sell by wholesale shall allow any liquors sold by him, or in his possession for sale, and for the sale or disposal of which any license is required, to be consumed within his warehouse or shop."

James Haverson, K.C., appeared for the defence, and said, "I admit your worship, that the defendant has only a wholesale license, and I also admit that the defendant has from time immemorial, in common with every other brewery company in the city, been in the habit of giving each of their employes three or four glasses of beer daily. This is a well recognized custom, and we would like it decided now whether it is legal or not. If legal, I will continue; if not—well, I suppose your worship's decision will stop it."

"Well, then, you admit your guilt, and I'll make a conviction," decided the magistrate. "I'll impose a fine of $20 and costs or 15 days."

"Mr. Haverson was to be my principal witness if any of the facts in the case were disputed," remarked Mr. Corley, after the decision had been rendered.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH — A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

First she named the members of the royal party, upon whom Rose gazed with a hushed veneration.

"That very ordinary-looking old gentleman, my dear, is really the King. That very plain, elderly lady on his left is truly the Queen. That handsome, somewhat dissipated-looking man, on the left of her majesty, is the Prince of Wales. The unhappy-looking woman by his side is the newly-married Caroline of Brunswick, the Princess of Wales. The young ladies on the right of his majesty are the Princesses Augusta and Amelia. The young gentlemen by their sides are the Dukes of York and Clarence," said the duchess, in a voice so low as to be quite inaudible to any one except the interlocutor.

"And those standing behind the royal party?" inquired Rose, in a subdued key.

"They are the lords and ladies in waiting upon their majesties—Lord Aylesbury, the Duchess of Ancaster, Lady Holderness, Lady Lester, and Colonel Hastings."

At the naming of the last two Rose started, and changed color so visibly that the duchess turned and looked at her in silent inquiry.

"Oh," said Rose, in a voice scarcely above her breath, "Colonel Hastings was the guardian of Laura Elmer when she was supposed to be the heiress of Swinburne, and Lady Lester is her present employer and patroness. The sudden sight of persons in such interesting relations with my dearest friend rather startled me."

"Ah, I see," replied her grace, drawing the arm of her protegee within her own, and moving on toward the royal party.

And while the room seemed whirling around with Rose, the duchess paid her respects to their majesties, and presented "The Baroness Etheridge of Swinburne."

Rose courtesied lowly, and blushed deeply, as she bowed over and kissed the hand that was offered to her salute.

Her graceful embarrassment was without the least mauvais honte, and did not detract from her beauty.

A loud murmur of admiration ran through the royal circle as the duchess and her beautiful protegee passed on. As they receded from the royal party, the subdued whisper of admiration which respect for majesty had restrained, grew more audible, and exclamations of:

"How beautiful!"

"How graceful!"

"How elegant!"

"This rising star will eclipse all the court beauties!" were heard all around.

And one baleful whisper reached the ears of the duchess.

"Look, how the eyes of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales follow her. We shall have a new sultan, viz: the Countess of Jersey, deposed."

On hearing this wicked whisper, the import of which did not reach the intelligence of Rose's innocent nature, the duchess looked around haughtily, and silenced by a glance the unprincipled speaker, whom she recognized as an officer of the guard in attendance upon the prince's person.

She passed on with her protegee through the crowded anterooms to the outer hall, and thence to her carriage.

"You have made what is called a 'great sensation,' my love. Expect to be invited to the court balls, and everywhere else, as a matter of course. Invitations will pour in upon you. And now that you have, as in duty bound, paid your respects first to royalty, you are at liberty to enter freely into the gayeties of society. Go everywhere you please, excepting, always, to Carleton House," said the duchess, as they drove homeward.

"Carleton House?" echoed the young baroness, in wonder.

"Yes, my dear, Carleton House, the palace of the Prince and Princess of Wales."

"But why not to Carleton House, madam?"

"Because, my dear, I do not think it expedient that you should go there."

The eyes of Rose opened wide in astonishment.

"But why? If it is the home of the Prince and Princess of Wales, and if they deign to invite me?"

"My love, I desire you to trust in my judgment a good reason for interdicting Carleton House to you, without asking you to explain what that reason is," said the duchess, very gravely.

Rose blushed deeply, and answered:

"I place myself in your hands, dear madam, and shall feel only too grateful for your kind guidance."

"You will not find me a very stern monitress, my dear. But here we are at home," said her grace, as the carriage drew up before Beresleigh House.

* * * * * * *

As Appius Claudius gazed upon Virginia, as Sextus gazed upon Lucretia, as Satan gazed upon Eve, so gazed the Royal Satyr of Wales upon the budding beauties of the young baroness.

Hurrying home from St. James', he shut himself up in his closet at Carleton House, and summoned the jackal of his vicious pleasures, the infamous Colonel McElroy, to his presence.

The officer entered, bowing deeply.

"Shut the door, shut the door, and draw near," said the prince.

The officer obeyed, and stood before his master.

"I have seen her, Mac! I have seen her, and by Heaven I am in love in reality for the first time these ten years! Her equal in loveliness I have never seen! A Hebe, Psyche and Venus, all in one! Mac, I must have that woman!"

"Your royal highness must have whatever you like; you are the Prince of Wales; but——"

"But—well? But what?"

"She is the Baroness Etheridge of Swinburne."

"But not, upon that account, free from the weaknesses of her sex, Mac, I must have that woman. I do not care what it may cost."

"She is the heiress of fifty thousand pounds a year, your royal highness."

"And not to be tempted by an offer of settlements. I am aware of that. I was not alluding to pecuniary arts, but to the cost of trouble, difficulty, peril to life and character."

The jackal reared his head to make a grimace aside.

"Mac, I depend upon your tact, zeal, and discretion. That ancient dragon, the Duchess of Beresleigh, has never favored Carleton House with her presence, and she will certainly never bring her young beauty either to this place or the houses of any of my friends, where I might possibly meet her. What do you think?"

"I think it extremely probable that your royal highness reasons rightly. The duchess dowager will take no pains to introduce her protegee to your royal highness or your friends. Common rumor says that her grace designs the young heiress for the future Duchess of Beresleigh."

"What, then, would you advise me to do?"

"If your royal highness will deign to listen to me, I think I could propose a plan for bringing you into closer acquaintance with this young beauty."

"Very well. Let us hear what your plan is. Come this way."

And the conspirators retired to hatch their diabolical plot.

There were two other individuals present at the royal drawing-room, who witnessed, with great uneasiness, the sensation created by the presentation of the beautiful young baroness—these were Colonel Hastings and Mr. Hastings.

As soon as they could withdraw they adjourned to a neighboring coffee-house, and, calling for a private room, sat down to discuss the event.

Mr. Hastings opened the conversation by exclaiming, in a vehement manner:

"I love her more than ever! It is not her rank and splendor only, though that is much; it is her exquisite personal loveliness! I loved her even as a cottage girl, in despite of all my pride! And now that I see this rare jewel in its proper setting, now that I see her surrounded with pomp and splendor, the admired of all eyes, the desired of all hearts, I love her with a passion of which I scarcely believed myself capable. I must have her or go mad!"

"Well, you shall have her, if you will only be patient," replied the colonel, coolly.

"Patient, sir! The House of Lords has confirmed her claim to the great Swinburne Barony! She has been presented at court and received with distinguished honor! She is not only the wealthiest heiress, but the most beautiful girl that has appeared in society for many seasons! She is the favorite of the Duchess of Beresleigh, who, of course, wants her and her fortune for

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 2,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 200 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $3.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,500 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountains will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

Which mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $580,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

We would suggest that you write us immediately for free particulars, copies of letters from bankers, etc., which will be sent free. Owen Sound Gets Ready for Fray

Owen Sound, Aug. 31.—That the municipal contest at the close of the year between the local optionists and the liquor party will be a hard fought battle was most emphatically indicated this week, when appeals were entered against the names of 26 hotelers, 225 by the liquor men and 43 by the temperance party. The appeals constituted the source of great surprise, especially in view of the fact that the matter of appealing against the names of voters has hitherto been regarded as a mere legal formality.

Of course the rakers at the approaching municipal election will represent the two opposing factors, and the fight will be most keenly contested one. The prevailing opinion however, is that the local option party will triumph by an even greater margin than last year, as the liquor men's repeated attempts to thwart popular sentiment here had the inevitable effect of uncovering scores of voters who would under ordinary circumstances have supported the liquor interests.

Beyond the sea shall we not steer
With lightening hearts and laughter clear
To lands wherein the nightingale
Makes music, and sweet odors fall,
Far from discordant voices here?

Sweet sigh the waters of the weir,
And forests in the summer's ear,
But sweeter blows the perfumed gale
Beyond the sea.

Beyond sight of shore or sail,
Hearing the wind sing in the sail,
We shall forget that veer—
And dream from golden year to year,
Wrapt round with slumber as a veil
Beyond the sea.

DAN NORMAN, MISSIONARY.

Learns Japanese Language and Gives Life to His Work.

Dan Norman is a missionary to the Japs. He has been eight years away from Canada, four of which he has spent in the Province of Shinshu, which headquarters at Nagano. He is home now on furlough, but spends his rest days telling good folk of the work yet to be done among the little islanders, says The Toronto World.

Dan is a graduate of Victoria University, of the class of 1896. He is young in years, but old in the cause to which he has given his life.

"Is there any money in it?" he was asked, rather impertinently, but kindly.

"No," was his reply, in a tone that indicated surprise that such a question should be asked. "There are many places in which I would prefer to live rather than in Japan. Toronto is a beautiful city, and I could be happy here, but my mission in life is in Japan, and I am content."

And he is all wrapped up in the Japs. The work of the Methodist Church in Japan has been going on for a quarter of a century. The Christians in Japan number 207,000, counting church members, Protestants and Catholics, and children in the Sunday schools. The native Methodist Church has a membership of 3,400, with fifty evangelists, pastors and missionaries.

The Christian churches are endeavoring to carry a new standard of conduct to the Japanese, and Dan Norman is hopeful of success. He sees many signs that the new idea is catching on, though not perhaps in the way one could wish. The Jap's life is ordered in obedience to his parents and loyalty to the Mikado. Nothing else counts. The teachings of Christianity appeal to the Jap as high principles of conduct, but he is a sceptic, and does not readily grasp the spiritual side of the matter. He is ready to order his life anew, perhaps, just to assume the Christian disguise, as it were, but the idea of spiritual grace is hard to engraft on his materialistic mind.

The older Japs pronounce Christian teachings good, but say that they are too old to learn. Yet they wish their sons to be brought up to the new standard, and entrust them to the care of the Christian teachers. Dan Norman has brought out with him five young Japs, who will go into business, or into college, in Canada, and eventually return to their native land. In their march of destiny, the Japs want to be thoroughly equipped, and there is something uncanny in their grasping the moral principles of Christianity to aid them on their way.

Dan Norman calls the Japs great organizers, and sees in them the builders of a mighty empire in the east that will embrace all China. He appreciates the vagaries of the Japanese character, and does not disguise the fact that winning the Jap to the cause is a tremendous task. Yet he does not falter, does not look back, and the content to spend his days in the work to which he knows he has been called. To this end, he has learned the Japanese language, and speaks it like a native.

BOTH WELL INFORMED.

An Interchange of Compliments Between Grant and Lee.

Toward the end of the war between the states the value of a well organized secret service came to be fully appreciated by the leaders of both armies. Perhaps no commanders of modern times were better served in this respect than General Grant and General Lee. Both were kept informed daily as to nearly everything that went on within the enemy's lines.

General Gordon relates that one morning toward the end of the long conflict, when the Confederates, officers and men alike, were reduced to unpleasant straits for food, a captain from the Union headquarters went, under a flag of truce, with a communication to General Lee concerning the exchange of prisoners.

"General Lee," said the captain, with a smile, after delivering his message, "General Grant sends you his personal compliments and bids me assure you that he knows exactly what you had for breakfast this morning."

"General Grant must be misinformed as to this," replied General Lee, surveying the message bearer with a sad smile. "General Grant is a generous man, and if he had known with what a breakfast I had to content myself he would certainly have sent me half of his. But give him my compliments," he continued, with a sudden twinkle, "and say that although I do not know as to his breakfast I have full particulars concerning his dinner last night."

SLEEP HABITS OF ANIMALS.

The Monkey Never Loses Its Instinct of Fear.

"When a monkey sleeps he picks out the highest perch he can find," said an animal trainer. "When the only home of the monkey was a forest, he lived always in deadly fear of the lion. A live monkey is the choicest morsel on the menu of the king of beasts. Although the monkey is wise and knows that in a zoo the lions are securely caged, the fear is born in him and he sleeps on the high perch.

"The lioness, when free from family cares, is prone to lie on its back with its legs stretched up straight in the air and paws pendent. The lion, when the excitement of the day is gone, stretches itself out flatly on its side with paws turned in and twitches and throbs during its slumber a good deal like a dog. Gorillas and chimpanzees sleep with their hands over their heads. Bears, which have no fear, sleep in any position. The same is true of wolves.

"Animals of a cunning or cowardly nature, however, are always on the alert, even when asleep. A seal sleeps like a human being. Once in awhile a seal will sit up with its head on its chest, asleep in the water. Its ears are kept under so that he may hear the approach of an enemy, sound traveling with great distinctness under water."

Diamonds and Diamond Mining

It would be difficult to name a commercial commodity representing a more tangible basis of intrinsic value than a diamond. Diamonds are enhancing in value yearly—the demand for them is ever increasing—and the diamond market shows a remarkably healthy condition.

Very little is known in this country by the general public about diamond mining, and the vast returns from it. All are more or less familiar with the mining of gold, silver, copper, zinc, lead, &c., &c., and know the immense fortunes that are realized yearly from them, and the enormous source of wealth which they represent to the country annually. Yet as a matter of fact the most profitable mining enterprises of the world are those devoted to the mining of diamonds, and in London, the great financial centre of the world, this is well understood, and diamond mining securities are an important factor in financial operations there.

The two most profitable commercial institutions in the world today are the De Beers and Premier diamond mining companies of South Africa, which pay fabulous returns on even the present price of the stock, which has enhanced in value many times during the last few years.

THE COLONIAL DIAMOND MINING COMPANY

controlled largely by Boston capital, own in British Guiana, South America, a property containing 43 mines which, during the six months we have been operating it, has paid over 50 per cent. profit, and that after expending large sums or machinery and mining appurtenances. From careful tests made during these six months we have demonstrated that we have a larger diamond field than either the De Beers or Premier Diamond Mining Companies, and that each laborer we employ produces larger results than the African laborers. We also know positively that our property will produce three times as much per cubic yard of dirt as the South African mines. We also have the priceless advantage of a healthy climate and an unlimited supply of water—two essential factors in success.

This company is conducting a legitimate business enterprise upon business principles and we court the fullest investigation of our enterprise. The property being on British territory and conducted under the strict laws governing all mining operations carried on in British domains, detailed information relative to it may be obtained from the commissioner of lands and mines, who receives from a government inspector on the grounds the actual condition and production of the property. Thus our production is a matter of official record and may be obtained at all times from this authentic source.

To provide the necessary capital to increase our production 10 fold, we are offering a block of $100,000 of our stock at par, $10 per share. When it is considered that we paid $220,000 in cash for our property, which we own outright, it must be admitted that $100,000 is not an excessive amount of stock to issue, and is all that we will offer for sale.

The undersigned will be pleased to have parties interested in legitimate investments call at our office, where we can supply much valuable information relative to diamond mining. If not convenient to call, write for prospectus.

WASHINGTON AS A FIREMAN.

He Was a Member of the Friendship Fire Company.

George Washington was a member of the Friendship Fire company, organized in 1774 in his home, Alexandria. At first the company consisted of citizens who, out of "mutual friendship," agreed to carry to every fire "two leathern buckets and one great bag of osnaburg or wider linnen." Washington was made an honorary member, and when he went as a delegate to the congress of 1774 at Philadelphia he examined the fire engines in use there. On his return to Philadelphia to the Continental congress in 1775 he bought from a man named Gibbs a small fourth class engine for the sum of £80 10s., and just before he set out for Boston Heights to become commander in chief he dispatched this little engine to the Friendship company.

During his younger days he always attended fires in Alexandria and helped to extinguish them. In the last year of his life a fire occurred near the market. He was riding down King street at the time, followed by his servant, who was also on horseback. Washington saw that the Friendship engine was insufficiently manned, and, riding up to a group of well dressed gentlemen standing near the scene of action, he called out authoritatively:

"Why are you idle there, gentlemen? It is your business to lead in these matters."

After which he leaped off his horse, and, seizing the brakes, was followed by a crowd that gave the engine such a shaking up as it had not had for many a day.

WOMAN AND THE LAW.

How Conditions Have Changed in the Last Half Century.

Truly the position of women before the law has suffered mighty changes. Fifty or sixty years ago the twain were indeed one, and that one the husband. He could collect all debts, such as wages that might be due her—though incidentally, he was liable for all she owed. She could not make a will of her real estate, nor of her personal property, without his permission, and he was entitled to the income from her lands. He could lock her up in his house and keep her there. Whether he could inflict chastisement was a moot point, though a judge of the North Carolina supreme court held in 1866 that he possessed this power, provided he used "a stick as large as his finger, but no larger than his thumb."

Over the children the husband had absolute control, and could even appoint a guardian by will who could take them away from the mother. They were to be brought up in the father's religion, without any consideration for her feelings. In fact, it was only about 1838 that the supreme court of judicature in England directed that the sons and daughters of the deceased nawab of Bengal by an English wife be reared as Mohammedans.—Everybody's Magazine.

Whims of Ibsen.

Like many another man great in his writings, Henrik Ibsen was not without his foibles. Scorning company as he professed to do and declaring always for solitude, he nevertheless delighted to be dined, and to invite him to a banquet in his own especial honor was to give the great man unalloyed pleasure. In his latter days, too, he developed a passion for decorations, of which he received a large number from his own and foreign monarchs, and on public occasions he would wear all his insignia as probably the most decorated author in the world. It was on public occasions that Ibsen would carry a small mirror and comb in the crown of his hat, and "coram populo" would proceed to arrange his bushy hair and whiskers.

Politics and Love.

"It's funny," remarked Sandy Bowen, "how politics and love are so much alike. For instance, if you meet a boonie girl and she gives you half a chance to kiss her you go in for free trade. However, after you get married and your wife's mother wants to embrace her newly acquired son-in-law you go in for protection. If your wife seeks an osculatory exchange you in time become a passive resister, and"—

"She turns out a home ruler if she has any sense," remarked Mrs. Bowen, who happened to overhear the conversation.—London Mail.

Odd Knives.

In a monastery in Ireland there is a very curious collection of knives of the sixteenth century, the blades of which have on one side the musical notes to the benediction of the table, or grace before meat, and on the other side the grace after meat. The set of these knives usually consisted of four. They were kept in an upright case of stamped leather and were placed before the singer.

Too Methodical.

"As for me," said Aunt Clarissa, "I haven't any use for a woman that takes three or four handkerchiefs with her when she goes to see one of these heart interest plays. She's too businesslike and calculating to be the genuine thing."—Chicago Tribune.

Something Wrong.

Mrs.—Am I still "the star of your life," as I was when you used to write love letters to me? Mr.—Of course, dear. Mrs.—I don't seem to be drawing a star salary, though.

Inherited Dollars.

The Only One In His Class.

Mrs. Gottrox—I don't send Reggie to a public school because he is so unlike other boys. He has a private tutor of his own. Mr. Blunt—I see. Your boy is, as you might say, in a class by himself.—New York Her Too Swift.

"Do you think the opportunity ever seeks the man?"

"Yes, but some men go at such a rapid pace it can't catch up with them."—Detroit Free Press.

Roosevelt is the Greatest Autocrat

London, Aug. 30.—The New York correspondent of the Times cables that there are many evidences that President Roosevelt's spelling order has done him more harm, perhaps, than any other act of his since he became President. A similar effect has been produced on this side of the Atlantic, where President Roosevelt, who was heretofore regarded as cool; a little lower than the angels, is now characterised as whimsical, head-strong, and despotic. One London paper says he has been guilty of a breezy despotism that will make his friend the Kaiser turn green. The St. James' Gazette calls him "an autocrat," and in justification of its remarks says, "Amid the excitement created by President Roosevelt's latest revolution, few people seem to have noticed the most amazing point about it, which is the way it has been done. Here in the language of eighty millions of people suddenly altered by a mere administrative ukase. Could any other ruler on earth do this thing? King Edward is the Sovereign of the British Empire, and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman fills in office sometimes described as that of uncrowned king, but imagine his Majesty suddenly ordering that every proclamation or Privy Council order should appear in simplified spelling. Imagine the Prime Minister, without consulting Parliament or his colleagues, calmly ordering the Government printers to use 'thru' and 'catalog' and 'lit' in every public document. Could the Czar venture to do such a thing, or even the Kaiser? The President does not appear to have asked advice from his Cabinet or anybody except Prof. Matthews. He did it off his own bat entirely, and America is a democracy unique."

CHEAP ALCOHOL.

What It Is Expected Denatured Alcohol Would Do For the Dominion of Canada.

"What's all this talk we hear about denatured alcohol?" is a question that the members of the Dominion Parliament are likely to hear most frequently from their constituents until they are able to make their escape to Ottawa again. If they value their reputation for prescience, they had better post themselves on the subject, and if they wish to retain their popularity it would be well for them to give favorable answer to the further demand, "What's the matter with us having cheap alcohol in Canada?" Already the farmers and manufacturers are eagerly discussing the matter, and the topic is shaping itself into a political issue. As yet, the first protest against removing the prohibitive tax on alcohol that has been rendered unfit for drinking has to be heard.

Benefits to the Farmers.

The country papers are printing letters from leading farmers, who point out the benefits they would expect if alcohol could be sold at about 20 cents a gallon. One man makes the interesting statement that the cornstalks on a single acre, after the removal of the cobs, can be made to yield about 170 gallons of commercial alcohol. If this is a correct estimate, the day may be at hand when the products of the farm that are now practically useless will supply the owner with fuel, light and power, and leave him a balance of cash in hand. In Germany the process of making alcohol has become so simplified that farmers are their own manufacturers in many instance. There the cost is only about 15 cents a gallon.

The Importance of the Potato.

In Germany, it may be noted, farmers and manufacturers work in the greatest harmony. One stimulates the other. In the matter of alcohol, for example, the potato is largely used to produce it; and to supply the market the German farmers have become famous as potato growers, getting a greater and better yield per acre than the farmers of any other country. When it was found that after the alcohol had been extracted there was still a considerable residuum of potato, the Germans proceeded to utilize it in the manufacture of starch. From Germany the potato starch industry has come to this continent, and in one county of Maine there are more than 40 factories engaged in the business. New plants are being erected for the manufacture of alcohol, in connection with the potato starch works.

The Uses of Alcohol.

Under the heading "Tax Free Alcohol," Industrial Canada publishes an article by Prof. Cohoe, of McMaster University. An interesting list of the different uses to which alcohol is now put is given. In the order of their importance they are as follows:—Making varnishes, paints, enamels, etc., soap manufacture, hat making, celluloid, ether and chloroform, smokeless powder, etc., medical extracts and chemicals, dissolving dyes and colloid photographic materials, etc. In all about fifty distinct manufacturing operations depending on alcohol are given, and many others indicated. For these purposes about 2,000,000 gallons of alcohol were used in Great Britain during the year ending March 1, 1905. Allowance count is taken of the [illegible] which alcohol might be used if its prices were reduced about 90 per cent.

How an Industry Was Lost.

Prof. Cohoe divides the uses of denatured alcohol into three parts—as a solvent, a re-agent, and as a source of heat, light and power. Its uses under the third head have been partly thoroughly discussed already, and it is interesting to glance at the other purposes it serves. It appears that, as a solvent, alcohol is the very foundation of the smokeless powder industry, and that it constitutes a very important element in the cost of the product. To a less extent, it is important in the manufacture of paints and varnishes, which might be made more cheaply if denatured alcohol were duty free. To the coal tar group of industries cheap alcohol is essential, and it is said that these industries were captured from England by Germany because at the time the former country placed restrictions upon the use of alcohol. Prof. Cohoe speaks emphatically of the artificial silk industry and its dependance upon cheap alcohol.

Germany Leads the Way.

Alcohol is the principal constituent in ether, a commodity that has become one of the very necessities of life. Vinegar in large quantities is almost made from alcohol, and there are scores of other instances of its use as raw material. It is interesting to compare the enormous consumption of alcohol in Germany, where it is untaxed, with its limited use in Great Britain. In the latter country, as noted, a year's consumption was about 2,000,000 gallons. For 1903 Germany used 10,000,000 gallons for industrial purposes, about 1,000,000 gallons for motor and other engines, and 24,000,000 gallons for light and heat. It is probable that the use for fuel and combustion engines will have doubled by this time, on account of the remarkable increase in motor boats and automobiles. It would seem to be an essential to a country's prosperity in many lines of manufacture that no artificial restrictions should be placed upon the use of alcohol.

In Prison For His Dog.

Eamonn McNulty, of Cresslough, County Donegal, is enjoying a week's sojourn in Derry jail because he refuses to take out a license for his dog unless the document is issued to him in Irish. The Dunfanaghy Magistrates fined him 5s., or seven days' imprisonment, and Mr. McNulty selected the latter alternative. Mr. McNulty's contention is that it is impossible to spell his name save in Irish, in that language his name is Mac-An-Ultaigh.

Capt. Bernier's Route.

This trip Capt. Bernier is leaving for the polar seas by a route different from the one he followed in 1904, attempting to explore new important channels, and at the same time planting the Canadian flag in many new islands. Hard coal is to be found in large quantities on these islands. She will call at Disco, on the west shore of Greenland, from whence she will reach Canada about two months after, via European ports.

Scientific Language.

"No wonder," said the poet, "that no one cares to read the works of Haeckel, Darwin, Spencer, Huxley and so on. These men have much to say, but they don't know how to say it. They have never taken the time to learn to write." He drew his notebook from his pocket. "When Professor Thompson," he resumed, "hit on a new variety of cathode rays, he announced his discovery in these terms: 'Of an orthocathodic character, a deflectable fluorescifient excitant; of a paracathodic character, a deflectable fluorescifient nonexcitant; of a diacathodic character, a nondeflectable fluorescifient nonexcitant; of an isocathodic character, a deflectable, nonfluorescifient nonexcitant'—and so on for forty or fifty pages."

Badly Placed.

Lawley (expert shorthand reporter)—I say, James, the boy from the newspaper office has called for the report of that lecture. Is it finished?

James (a novice)—All but a short sentence in the middle of it, and I can't for the life of me make out from my notes what it is.

Lawley—Oh, just put in "great applause" and let it go.

James acts on the suggestion, and the lecture is sent for publication with the doctored part reading, "Friends, I will detain you but a few moments longer." (Great applause.)—London Express.

Thoughts Might Have Been Mine.

"A lady on a sultry summer afternoon called on some friends," said a lecturer. "The talk buzzed along briskly, fans waved and the daughter of the house kept twitching uncomfortably, frowning and making little smothered exclamations of annoyance. Finally with an impatient sigh she rose and left the room.

"'Your daughter,' said the visitor, 'seems to be suffering from the heat.'

"'No,' said the hostess. 'She is just back home from college, and she is suffering from the family grammar.'"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Wise Man.

"I'll take that," said the man, indicating a silver mounted hand glass, "and I want you to engrave on it "From J. J. B. to Phyllis."

"Very well," replied the salesman, "we'll put it on the back here"—

"Oh, no. Put it around the edge on the front. I want her to see it."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Pretty Near Right.

Markley—Wiseman told me today that I'd never get back that ten spot I loaned you. Grafton He did? Markley—Yes. Grafton—Well, if it wasn't so expensive I'd make him out a liar right now.—Philadelphia Press.

I know of nothing sublime which is not some modification of power.—Burke.

An Old Brain Twister.

The St. Mary's Argus, in its extracts from old files, under the head of "When St. Mary's was a Village," has the following:—"Forty-five years ago Dr. McLellan, now principal of the Hamilton School of Pedagogy, was principal of St. Mary's Public School. He conducted a column in The Argus devoted to the solution of mathematical problems and other questions which interested the pioneer readers of this paper. Here is a sample problem, which appeared in his column in 1860: "A young man having asked the hand of a farmer's daughter, in marriage, the old gentleman replied: 'Between my house and the road are three gates, and if you will select such a number of apples that, after leaving half the number and half an apple more at the first gate; half the remainder and half an apple more at the second gate; half the remainder and half an apple more at the third gate, you will still have one left for my daughter, she is yours.' How many apples must the lover select, and how many must he leave at each gate, none being cut?'"

A Douro Farmer Hurt.

Yesterday morning, Mr. Jenkins of Douro township, an elderly gentleman, received several painful injuries by falling in front of the Oriental hotel yard. He received several cuts about the face that caused considerable pain. The injured man was taken into a nearby hotel where his injuries were attended to.

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 9 1-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 160 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

Stolypin Demands an Absolute Dictatorship

St Petersburg, Sept. 1.—It is asserted that Premier Stolypin is convinced that his task was impossible unless the Emperor gave him an absolutely free hand, in other words, conferred upon the Cabinet a practical dictatorship.

An intimation comes from a high source that the Premier broached the subject last night, at the first audience which he had with his Majesty since the tragedy of Aug. 25th, when the explosion of a bomb at the Premier's residence caused the loss of over thirty lives.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

In his conversation with friends the Premier is, alleged to have said that history seemed to be repeating itself, the situation closely resembling the closing days of the reign of Alexander II. The reactionary spirit was growing rapidly. Nevertheless he considered it vital that the government should not take a reactionary path.

If it did so he felt confident that the measures which the Cabinet projected would result in a majority of moderates being elected to Parliament as against the extremists on the left, whose aim was to overthrow the monarchy and establish a republic.

MARTIAL LAW PROLONGED.

St Petersburg, Aug. 31.—An imperial ukase issued today authorizes the Minister of Finance to issue $25,000,000 at four per cent. rents to cover the expenses of the relief of the districts affected by the failure of the crops.

Another ukase prolongs martial law where it has already been enforced for another year.

OLD GLORY.

Story of the Stars and Stripes on the American Flag.

The design for the American flag, with thirteen stripes of alternate red and white and thirteen white stars in a blue field, representing the thirteen states struggling for independence, was adopted by the Continental congress on June 14, 1777, a little less than a year after the declaration of independence. The first flag of this design was made as a specimen for the congress by Betsy Ross, a dressmaker, of Philadelphia. It is supposed that this flag was first unfurled by Paul Jones on the Ranger, a vessel of the navy to which he had been assigned on the day that the resolution adopting the design was passed. The thirteen stars of the flag of 1777 were arranged in a circle, though no form was prescribed officially. This flag remained unchanged until 1794, and then, on motion of Senator Bradley of Vermont, which, with Kentucky, had been admitted to the Union, it was resolved that from and after May 1, 1795, "the flag of the United States be fifteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be fifteen stars, white in a blue field." This was the flag used in the war of 1812. The act made no provision for future alterations in the flag, and none was made until 1818. Upon the suggestion of Captain Samuel C. Reid of the navy a bill was passed on April 4, 1818, reducing the number of stripes in the flag to the original thirteen and making the number of stars equal to the number of states. The new star for a new state is not added to the flag until the Fourth of July following the admission of the new state.—St. Louis Republic.

CROSSING SAHARA.

The Costliness of Caravans and the Mortality of Camels.

The merchants who fit out a garfa (caravan) must stand all losses; consequently great care is given to the selection of both the camels which carry the valuable merchandise and the men who accompany them. The tall and swift riding camel known as the mehari is seldom met with in northern Tripoli. The finest male draft camels, the jamal, costing from $50 to $80 apiece, with a carrying capacity of about three hundredweight, are used for transport. From consumption or the effects of the long strain scores often die by the way and many others at the end of the "voyage." The wages of the men for conducting a return cargo are sometimes as high as $5,000. Not only must the garfa sheiks have great courage and endurance, but must be trustworthy traders and shrewd diplomats of no small caliber. Many of the sultans and chiefs, particularly the Touaregs, through whose territories lie the garfa routes, exact not only homage, but tribute, from the garfa sheiks. To bring this tribute within a reasonable sum and secure a safe conduct requires extraordinary skill and tact. The opportunities for dishonesty afforded the garfa men are many, and occasionally men and goods are never heard from again.—Charles Wellington Furlong in Harper's Magazine.

Dentists as Patients.

"Two of the most troublesome patients I have are members of my own profession," said a dentist in discussing the tortures of teeth. "Strange to say," he continued, "many dentists, whether from natural defects or early negligence, have exceedingly poor teeth, and as no practitioner can attend to his own we exchange services. If any of the patients of these two capable D. D. S.'s are revengeful of disposition it would do them good to see them in the chair. All men are much more difficult subjects for dentistry than women, according to my own experience, but the way the two in question wriggle, writhe, groan and cuss under the ordinary operations should be most gratifying to any one who has suffered at their hands."—New York Press.

Rain Insect Oil.

In certain parts of India the oil extracted from a species of mite is used in medicine as an external counterirritant. The creature is about half an inch long and on pressure exudes an oil of a deep red color. It is only found for a few weeks at the beginning of the rainy season and is, hence, known as the rain insect. E. G. Hill contributes a note on the chemical composition of this oil to the Journal and Proceedings of the Asiatic Society. He concludes that the supposed medical virtues of the oil are imaginary and due probably to its red color.

The Benefit of It.

Widow's Daughter—Mother, why do you tell people that I am only eighteen when you know I am twenty-four? Widow—Because eighteen's six years younger than twenty-four. Daughter—Yes, I know, but surely I do not need the benefit of those six years at my age, do I? Widow—Not at all, my child, but I do.—London Telegraph.

Talking on a High Level.

We once heard Mr. Morley in a linguistic pride delightful as it is rare say that when he and Mr. Gladstone sat down to talk both unconsciously stiffened their backs and looked to their periods.—London Outlook.

CHEMICAL CURIOSITIES.

Some Interesting Experiments For Our Boys and Girls to Make.

Wet a large piece of blotting paper with red litmus water and throw on to it a small piece of potassium. The potassium will run about the paper, and wherever it touches it will leave a blue track behind it, which is caused by the formation of potash.

Cut a block of ice about six inches square and bore a hole in it half an inch wide and two inches deep. Enlarge the bottom of the hole to form a sort of cavity and drop into it a piece of potassium about the size of a pea. The potassium will instantly take fire and will burn beautifully in the ice, making a very pretty sight, especially if the room is otherwise dark. The room should also be warm when you make the experiment.

Would you believe that an icicle can fire a cannon? Try this with a toy one: Load the cannon and on the gunpowder on the touchhole put a piece of potassium no larger than a pinhead. Now touch the speck of potassium with a piece of ice, and it will flare up, setting fire to the gunpowder.

Drop a piece of potassium about the size of a pea into a bowl of water. It will take fire and run around the surface of the water until it is burned up, looking like some fiery serpent in the water by reason of its rapid movement.

Square Numbers.

Every boy knows that a square number is a number produced by the multiplication of any number by itself. Thus 7 multiplied by itself gives 49 as a result; 49 consequently is a square number, 7 being termed the square root from which it springs. In high numbers the extraction of the square root is an affair of time and trouble, and after all the necessary calculations have been made it may perhaps be found that the number is not a square number. This unnecessary trouble may be saved if the following instructions are remembered: Every square number ends with one of the figures 1, 4, 5, 6 or 9, or with two ciphers preceded by one or other of these figures. Again, every square number is equally divisible by 4, or when divided by 4 will have a remainder of 1. Thus, as shown above, the square of 7 is 49, which divided by 4 gives us a quotient 12 and 1 over; 64 again is a square number, and it is exactly divisible by 4.

Made It All Clear.

Berzelius, the Swedish chemist, made most of his laboratory experiments in his kitchen with his cook Anna as his only assistant. "What is your master?" asked one of his neighbors. "Oh, he is a chemist." "What's that? What does he do?" "Well, I will tell you. He has something in a big bottle, then he pours it into a smaller one and then again into quite a tiny bottle." "Well, and what then happens to it?" "Oh, then I throw it away."

The Complementary Virtue.

"What do you consider most essential in being quick at repartee?"

"A person who constantly strives to be quick at repartee," answered Miss Cayenne, "should be quite sure he has friends who are slow to anger."—Washington Star.

WOODEN CHECKS.

Tallies Were Used In England Until the Year 1834.

Wooden checks are the sort of thing one would expect to find used in China or Tibet, but, as a matter of fact, they were used in England from the earliest times down to as late as 1834.

Tallies, as they were called, were made out of a curved piece of hazel, notches being cut along the edges to stand for a certain sum of money. The tally was then sawed half through below the lowest notch and the notched part split into two pieces, on both of which the notches appeared.

These pieces served as check and counterfoil, the latter being always the larger piece with the unnotched end as a kind of handle. The smaller piece was then taken by the payee, the larger sent to the person on whom the check was drawn, generally a collector of customs or other revenues, public or private. He would honor the check on finding that the two pieces fitted and had the amount credited to him by the drawer on returning them together to him. Thus were the great danger and expense of transporting large sums of coin avoided.

Forgery of a tally was obviously impossible unless a new counterfoil could be substituted, and if stolen in the ordinary way it would be of little use to the thief, for, unlike our checks, there was nothing to show on whom it was drawn.

There are still a good many tallies in existence, but the majority were burned in the great fire which destroyed the old houses of parliament. The remainder are chiefly to be found in the public record office and no doubt also in the muniment rooms of great landowners.

THE DIVINE NAME.

Ineffable Word That Is Never Used by Many Israelites.

An eminent rabbi has given his view of the ancient Jewish rendering of the name of the Deity. He says that the term "Jehovah," the ineffable tetragrammaton, is never pronounced by many Israelites. They use the word "Adonoi," which signifies "the Lord." The translators of the Bible followed this custom, rendering the word "Jehovah" as "Lord." In ancient times the Pharisees replaced the tetragrammaton by Shem. They used "Shemo," which is also Biblical, as the sacred name, and this name is yet retained to some extent among the Jews. But it would appear from passages in the Psalms that Adonoi, or Lord, for Jehovah was more ancient even than the times of the Pharisees. It thus occurs eight times in Psalm lxxxiv. It also appears in the book of Exodus, where "Jehovah" had been used in the original Hebrew. This substitution would seem to be older than any other, and it is yet common among all Jews.

The rabbi says he has found that the ancient translations testify in favor of "Adonoi."

Looking at the English translation of the Old Testament, it will be found that the name Jehovah appears in the books of Genesis, Exodus, Judges, the Psalms and Isaiah. It is not in the New Testament.

The Advice of Experience.

It has sometimes been remarked by the student of child life that the only child learns to read sooner than the child belonging to a large family. There may or may not be psychological reasons for this, but the story of the small boy of five who was struggling with his alphabet blocks for the first time may be enlightening to those who wish for reasons. The small boy was really rather interested than otherwise in the large A that fulfilled its usual function of standing for an apple tree, but he had a brother who was nearly eight. "You leave 'em alone," advised the brother; "if you once begin to read you can never leave off."—London Chronicle.

Acting Naturally.

It often requires courage to be natural—a higher form of courage than that which marches behind the safe end of a gun. Moral courage which is not dependent on appearance or intimidated by custom is a finer quality than the daring of the speculator or the unflinching nerve of the soldier exposed to the fire of an enemy. It takes the best stamp of bravery to be true to oneself, and he who is loyal to the inner voice, who keeps faith with himself and maintains self respect, wins a victory in the battle of life. To live undaunted by the demands of unworthy conventionalism is not to live in vain.

Pangman's Tree.

A living and leafy monument in the shape of a stately pine tree with traces of the name of Peter Pangman, 1790, still carved on it, stands at the junction of the Saskatchewan and the Clear Water rivers to commemorate the memory of the first white man to reach the Rocky mountains or see them from the east. Pangman was in the employ of the Northwest Fur company. He ascended the Saskatchewan and turning his face to the westward he beheld the white mass the Rocky mountains. He afterward penetrated them, but the tree where he carved his name marks the spot of his first vision. For 125 years it has been known as Pangman's tree, and still stands in spite of the ravages of fire and flood. In the early days it was a landmark and distances were measured from it.

The Chess Players.

It looks something more than a coincidence—this early decay of the chess players. The results of these prodigious intellectual stunts are not unlike those of the overtrained horse or the professional athlete, who sinks into decay before his time, his vitality gone, his organs a wreck. Chess is doubtless the beautiful and inspiring game its devotees would have us to think, but it appears to be a mighty poor profession. Even if it be not a short cut to madness, it certainly leads to no useful end. Some great men have been chess players, but no chess player has ever been a great man.—Kansas City Independent.

Horses.

In the mythology of Europe horses have always been considered bearers of luck, and there was a superstition which once was current that the presence of a horse's hoof under the bed would cure certain complaints.

These Medical Facts

You Can Study With Profit.

How few realize that twenty-five per cent. of all disease has its origin in some interference with the function of elimination.

The whole body exists by reason of the transfusion of fluids through its component parts.

Up to a certain point the body has power to object to destructive elements, but this power is limited.

When it happens that the body is loaded with waste and poisons which it can't eliminate, fermentation, decay, and germ life run riot through the blood.

Serious illness is the result unless nature is assisted by a cleansing tonic like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are purely vegetable, contain no mercury, no bismuth, no injurious metallic ingredients of any kind.

Such a medicine is the most reliable restorer known to man of health, spirits and contentment.

Grand results are achieved, and famous cures made every day by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, as this letter proves:

From Newfoundland, Miss Lillian Anthony, of Piper Gulliss, Conception Bay, writes: "In praise of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I must say that I have used them with grand success for three years. They never fail to cure me of indigestion or constipation. Formerly my face was full of pimples, but now my complexion is clear and ruddy. In more ways than I care to mention have Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped me; they would be good for every woman to use."

Insist on having only Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

TWO THOUSAND ARRESTS.

Warsaw, Sept. 2.—Over two thousand arrests were made during last night's police sweep of this city. Many complaints have been made by the prisoners of police brutality, including beating the persons arrested with whips.

MAY CHEAT ASSASSINS.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2. — Reports are persistently circulated that Gen. Trepoff, commandant of the palace, is so seriously ill that his life isin danger. It is intimated that his malady dates back to the time of the recent rumors that an attempt had been made to poison the general.

STOLYPIN IN FAVOR.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 2.—Premier Stolypin is said to be very high infavor with his majesty, who declines to listen to the suggestions of the former's enemies.

The police say they have obtained an important clew to the headquarters of the terrorist organization. They say that a man who was arrested at Peterhof in connection with the assassination of Gen. Min. hastily attempted to swallow a piece of paper which, when recovered, proved to be orders in connection with attempts to be made on the lives of high personages.

The Novoe Vremya says it has been established that one of th emen who attempted to kill Premier Stolypin was a Jew.

The police of the northern provinces have received instructions to permit the political prisoners exiled there to leave Russia on condition that they do not return for two years.

GOVERNOR OF WARSAW.

Warsaw, Sept. 2.—Major-Gen. Von Becker of St. Petersburg has been appointed temporary governor-general of Warsaw.

The Jewish paper, Der Weg, states that 20 Polish anarchists have escaped from Warsaw and are on their way to the United States.

DESPERATE FIGHTING.

Libau, Russia, Sept. 2.—Last night an organized attack was made upon troops engaged in transporting a number of prisoners away from this district. Desperate fighting followed and a general alarm was sounded by the garrison. The reinforcements arrived, the troops fired indiscriminately into the crowd, killing eight and wounding fifty persons. Among the killed was a mother, who had a babe at her breast.

CLAIM CREDIT FOR MURDER.

Moscow, Sept. 2—The Social revolutionists today issued a proclamation claiming credit for the murder of Gen. Min at Peterhof Aug. 25, but denying responsibility for the attempt to kill Premier Stolypin.

King's Farewell to Third Scots

An Incident Attendant Upon the British Government's Reduction of the Standing Army.

London, September 1.—It was the last parade of the "3rd Scots" before the King. In the new Liberal scheme of Army organization it was decided to abolish a number of regiments for the sake of economy, and among these were included the 3rd Scots Guards. It is expected that the disbanding will be completed by October.

In glorious weather the "submerged third" marched to Buckingham Palace and were formed up on the lawn in front of the Palace.

His Majesty, wearing a field-marshal's uniform, inspected the battalion in line, then, the men being formed in hollow square, the King addressed them.

Speaking with considerable emotion, His Majesty said:

Colonel Drummond, officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of the 3rd Battalion Scots Guards:—My Government has considered it necessary to reduce the expenses of the Army, in consequence of which there is to be a reduction both of or artillery and infantry, and in this reduction your battalion is included.

Let me congratulate you, Colonel Drummond, on the battalion under your command. I never saw a finer body of officers and men, and it is with sincere regret that I part with you.

You have done your duty well during the six years you have been in existence.

It is just over five years since I presented to the battalion the colors which will shortly be relinquished by you and which were to have been given to you by my ever-revered mother, Queen Victoria.

I hope that you will later, when your duties are over, confide those colors to my care. I shall always preserve them religiously and carefully at Buckingham Palace, as I hope that it may be possible for me, or at any rate my successor, to see a 3rd Battalion of the Scots Guards carrying the same colors again.

Colonel Drummond briefly thanked His Majesty on behalf of the battalion, and then three cheers were given for the King, the troops raising their bearskins on the points of their fixed bayonets.

Half Montreal After Porpoise

Montreal, September 1.—A fifteen foot porpoise was harpooned in the harbor Saturday. Half the city has had a try at it with rifles, spears and harpoons in the last three days and Dominion Park offered $500 for its capture. It will be put on exhibition there. Four years ago a 40-foot whale was shot in the harbor.

A Telephone That Can Speak

Wonderful Contrivance for Use of Telephone Users.

London, September 1.—Wireless telegraphy has prepared people for almost any kind of inventive wizardry. But the "Danish Edison," Valemar Poulsen, has come forward to prove that there are things quite as mysterious as aerograms. For a demonstration of this fact, one had only to talk into the receiver of the Poulsen "telegraphone," have his words invisibly registered upon the wire or disc that takes the place of the wax records of a phonograph, and then hear his remarks repeated with distinctness that is startling. So far as the untutored observer can see, there is nothing about the mechanism of the telegraphone to account for its performances. In a phonograph it is easy to follow the convolutions of the steel pin scratching its way about over the wax cylinder, or tracing a devious path in the grooves of a permanent hard-rubber record. There is nothing so obvious about the Poulsen machine. In this the voice is recorded in the form of electro-magnetic impressions upon a thin steel disc or wire, one-hundreth of an inch in diameter. There is not a scratch, indentation, or mark of any kind to indicate that the wire or disc has recorded anything. But start the reproducing mechanism going, pick up the ear piece, and the arrarently blank record gives forth whatever has been talked into it. There is no scratching sound, the words coming from the machine as clearly as from a human throat. The faintest whisper, or even heavy breathing is recorded and reproduced in the same way. To wipe out the record all that is necessary to do is to draw a magnet over the wire or across the disc, and they are clean again and ready for further use. The record may be retained indefinitely if desired.

Mr. H. Morrow's Funeral Today

Morrow, on Friday night, will be held this morning from 176 Dalhousie street, at 8.25 o'clock and proceed to the Grand Trunk station. The remains will be taken to Lindsay, where they will be interred at Riverside cemetery. The funeral service was held yesterday evening at the residence of Dr. Morrow, Rev. Dr. Crothers officiating.

The late Mr. Morrow, who was 83 years of age, and whose death was largely caused by a paralytic stroke, was born in Donnegal County, Ireland and came to this country in 1845, settling in Cavan township. Until his removal to Lindsay about five years ago he conducted a shoe shop at Cavan, and followed the same occupation in Lindsay on his removal there. Ten years ago Mr. Morrow retired from business and came to Peterborough to reside with his son, Dr. R. F. Morrow.

He is survived by three sons James of Etheldon, Sask.; George of Salt Lake City, and Dr. R. F. Morrow, of this city, and three daughters, Fanny, of Peterborough, Mrs. David Clarke, of Hamilton, and Mrs. R. D. Preston, of Midland.

Horticultural Society Prizes

As noted in a previous issue, Messrs. D. W. Dumble, H. C. Rogers, P. Campbell and Jas. Stevenson of the local Horticultural society, a few days ago made their annual inspection of the gardens, lawns and wards, to determine to whom the yearly prizes should be awarded. The list of prize winners, only declared on Saturday is as follows; For work done by owners of the properties noted;

1st prize, Mrs. Logan, corner of Brock and Aylmer streets, $4.

2nd prize, Mrs. Barclay, 583 George street, $2.00; Mr. Wm. Taylor, for C. P. R. station garden, $2.00; Mrs. Thorndike's grounds, corner Murray and Aylmer streets, for third time, $2.00.

Grounds kept up by all hired help;—1st prize, A. L. Davis, $4.00; 2nd prize, F. Matthews $2.00. J. H. Sisty, $2.

The committee reported continued improvement in the lawns, yards and premises of the citizens.

The committee were specially pleased with the pretty little lawns on George street north of Smith, west side particularly those of W. J. Thompson, A. C. Herridge and Mrs. Drummond. Both George and Water streets north are a credit to the house-holders and to the city.

Amongst the well kept grounds were those of A. L. Davis, J. J. Lundy, James Stevenson, James Long, Miss Annie Thompson and Mrs. Wm. Hamilton.

BRIGHTON WANTS POWER

Deputation Waits on Hydro-Electric Commission.

The Globe says that Mr. John Gunyo, reeve of Brighton, and Dr. Stinson, chairman of Electric Light and Power committee of Brighton, waited on the Hydro-Electric Power commission. They appeared to be afraid that their chances of obtaining power might be jeopardized because a lease of Healey Falls has been granted to the Northumberland and Durham Power Company, although there had not yet been any development there. The deputation was asked to make a formal application for power and to try to induce other municipalities to do likewise.

The Port Hope Guide adds that the lease has been completed only a few weeks since which engineers have been busily engaged making surveys of the property for the purpose of developing the power. Mr. Samuel Nesbitt, of Brighton, is president of this company and an explanation from him is now in order. Evidently there is want of confidence between that official of the power company and council of the town of Brighton which the stockholders of the company cannot afford to ignore.

THE GOVERNMENT RETURNS

The Value of Our Butter, Eggs, Bacon and Wheat Exports for the Year.

The amount of cheese shipped was practically the same as during the previous year, but owing to higher prices paid the value increased by $4,126,697.

The total amount of butter shipped was 22,904,000 pounds, valued at $6,502,003. This was 3,911,321 pounds more than last year, and an increase in value of $1,233,004.

The sales of Canadian eggs totalled 2,653,977 dozen, valued at $448,469. This is a decrease, for during the previous season 3,352,485 dozen eggs, valued at $640,610, found their way to the British market.

The value of Canadian bacon sent to the British market was $11,561,619. The quantity was 98,173,242 pounds, as compared with 116,706,178 pounds, valued at $12,140,817, during the year 1905.

The wheat shipments were 34,027,602 bushels, as compared with 11,230,407 the previous year.

Canned meats valued at $1,342,940 were sent, as compared with $1,525,270 in 1905, a considerable falling off.

The cattle trade was about the same, 116,278 head, valued at $11,979,056, reaching the British market.

Large Gas Holder is Almost Completed

The large gas holder, which will have a capacity of 150,000 feet of gas is almost completed. The tank will be tested this week and for this purpose the Peterborough Light and Power Co., are asking the Fire, Water and Light Committee for the use of several hundred feet of hose, to be employed in filling the tank with water. If it is found satisfactory the tank will then be hoisted to the top of the frames and rivetted there. The holder will contain about 600,000 gallons.

STICKS IN THE STOMACH

Feeling That Often Comes to People With Weak Digestion.

A poor sufferer from indigestion once said that his stomach felt as though it was filled with sticks and as though some of them were on fire and burning him up inside.

Life in England Very Expensive

Society Women Must Have at Least $25,000.

London, September 1.—When Mrs. Nichils Fitzgerald, of California, made the statement that it was absolutely necessary for her to have $25,000 a year in order to maintain herself and three children in ordinary luxury and comfort she started a discussion in the papers that has a royal run.

The general opinion seems to be that the sum demanded is absurdly and unnecessarily high, but one woman correspondent shares the opinion of Mrs. Fitzgerald. This correspondent says:

The income of a woman moving in society and entertaining moderately, but not on a grand scale, would probably be divided somewhat as follows:

	A Year.
Rent of moderate-sized house in good situation in London, including rates and taxes	$ 2,000
Housekeeping on easy scale, including entertainments	3,500
Dress of lady	2,500
Dress and schools for three children	2,500
Landaulette for London use and upkeep of same	2,000
Motor car and upkeep of same	1,000
Servants' wages in London house—for very good cook, butler, footman, two housemaids, kitchen maid, lady's maid and children's maid	1,500
Rent of small house in country for week-ends, including gardeners and caretaker's wages	1,500
Wine, including champagne, for dinner parties	1,250
Total	$21,250

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

The Gods of Rest go their money's worth at Saturday's session of the police court; in fact they actually woke up and took notice, the docket being long and varied. William Jones, who had been a guest at Castle Nesbitt for some time and who improved his opportunity when released by absorbing an undue amount of tanglefoot, was allowed to go on the distinct understanding that he gets out of town at once.

James McMurray and B. Sullivan, were each assessed two simoleons for being inoculated with befuddlebug.

Joseph Sullivan pleaded "not guilty," when accused with having assaulted W. Cooney, on July 29 h. Mr. O'Connell appeared for him, but the evidence was conclusive and Joseph had to dig up $2 with $2.70 costs.

The two young men from Lindsay, charged with stealing copper pigs from the Sylvester factory at Lindsay, were remanded for a week, the Crown not having its evidence ready.

An Otonabee farmer was charged with depositing manure on Water street, contrary to the Health Act. He was found guilty and fined two dollars.

The case of Earl Downey and the others charged with stealing $12 from a drunken man, was again marched for a week.

Great Britain Must Go Out of Business

London, Sept. 1.—Col. John Lambert, a Chicago capitalist, who has just returned to London from a tour of the Continent, in an interview published in the Daily Mail expresses the belief that unless Great Britain adopts Chamberlainism she must go out of business.

Col. Lambert said that both France and Germany are more prosperous than Great Britain, and especially Germany, owing to Emperor William's surpassing gifts as a ruler. The Emperor, he said, had put Germany in the way of becoming the richest nation in Europe, had perfected the finest army on the Continent, and was laying the foundations of one of the greatest fleets afloat. His Consular service, Col. Lambert said, was an unmatched triumph, and behind it subsidized railways and steamships, technically fostered trusts, and a tariff like a Chinese wall.

"If we are not careful," Col. Lambert said, "he will lick us out of our boots all over the world."

Wonders in Egg and Electric Light

Pig-Weed That Produces Lard Is Another Vegetable Marvel and May Force the Packing Trust to Lower Prices.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Now comes the ice cream plant, a delicious product of the milkweed and cold storage plant fly judiciously crossing bees and hybrafting the vanilla bean Prof. Pedro Maloni has created a new food of vegetable life which is almost incredible.

In appearance nothing out of the ordinary marks this astounding achievement of man's genius. It looks like the milkweed found growing in every pasture, but instead of the nauseous being small they are the size of a large plum and glisten with myriads of tiny crystals.

Thriving best under the hot sun of August, the ice cream plant, attains its full growth early in September and the fruit is then ripe enough to be plucked.

When the outer husk-like shell is removed a thin film much resembling wax paper is broken, and the smooth rich yellow pulp can be emptied into a saucer. It is said that a large-sized ice cream plant will furnish dessert for a family of eight.

Prof Maloni has not succeeded in ingrafting the chocolate bean or the peach tree, although he has had some success with lemon buds.

GROW FROM BURNT SHELLS.

Rivale, N.J., Sept. 1.—Capt. Paul Edmunds' prediction has been verified and the farmers in this vicinity are much exercised as to the future of their crops.

The captain died many years ago, when the oyster industry was yet in its infancy, and he declared that if folks persisted in scattering the shells over the fields instead of making good roads out of them some calamity would occur.

It was noticed this season that the land which, for decades, has been fertilized with burn oyster shells raised crops of oyster plants only. Farmers who planted corn find oyster plants growing all the rows; those who planted beans are reaping oyster plants. Even the potatoes are shaped like oysters, and the melons have a fish taste.

Star fish, the enemy of the bivalve, will be used to destroy the oyster microbe.

ELECTRIC GRAPE VINE.

Burnt Cabin, Pa., Sept. 2.—William Kronenberg, an eccentric scientist, living in the mountains near here, is making experiments with a new variety of a tree that he calls the electric light plant.

Noticing the phosphorescent light to be found around decaying tree stumps, he conceived the idea of utilizing it for the benefit of mankind. Planting an ordinary wild grape vine at several stumps, he was gratified, after several years cultivation to see the fruit emit a rich white glow.

Mr. Kronenberg has one plant which gives off sufficient light to read by, and he is wiring his log cabin with the grape vine. He says that if he can develop the electric light plant sufficiently it will come into general use on account of its cheapness and safety.

REAL EGGS GROW.

Zaza, Essex County, Va., Sept. 2.—Few egg plants are being shipped from this point for the very good reason that the local supply exceeds the demand. It is not the ordinary egg plant that is raised here, but a plant that furnishes the real article.

Perhaps the best faked vine is the Plymouth Rock egg plant, which bears large brown eggs full of albumen.

The eggs from this plant grow in clusters of nine, and are gathered early in the evening. When fried they cannot be told from the product of the hen, and on every bench counter in this vicinity the hard-boiled product of the egg plant is seen.

These eggs turn bad quickly and they are very susceptible to excessive heat. During the recent hot spell thousands of dozen were ruined in the fields by being cooked before they were ripe.

LARD FROM "PIG WEED."

Bellows Falls, Vt., Sept. 1.—Thousands of acres of wild mountain land are now being planted with pigweed, and options have been obtained on thousands more by several capitalists who see vast fortunes in this heretofore considered worthless plant.

Art Hobby Costs Barrel of Money

Cost J. Pierpont Morgan More Than $3,000,000 in the Course of Three Months.

London, September 2.—J. Pierpont Morgan has paid more than $3,000,000 for paintings and antiquities in the last three months. So the best informed art dealers assert positively, and they watch Mr. Morgan as a cat watches a mouse. They declare that the extravagance of his craze for buying pictures and curios during the European visit that has just ended exceeded even his own previous records.

Mr. Morgan's costliest single purchase during this visit was Sir Thomas Lawrence's "portrait of Miss Farren." For this superb picture Mr. Morgan paid the unparalleled sum of $290,000, just double the price ever paid before for a Lawrence.

A correspondent today asked one of the most expert judges of art works, who owns one of the most perfect collections in Europe and who knows Mr. Morgan well, whether the New Yorker really understands and appreciates the works of art he buys. The answer was:

"Mr. Morgan has neither taste nor knowledge in art. His acquisitions are made in exactly the same spirit that incited his countryman, Barnum, to search for freaks.

"He learns what is the best price ever paid for a work by the same painter, and, knowing this, orders his agent to offer a much larger price for the work he wishes to acquire."

Uncle Sam's Good Luck

Washington, September 1.—Nature is adding to Uncle Sam's possessions off the coast of Alaska. A week ago a cable from Tacoma announced that an island had just arisen from the sea in the Aleutian group, seventy miles west of Unalaska, and that the waters surrounding the newcomer were still so hot investigators were not as yet able to make a landing. Three other islands—two of them born twenty-four hours ago—are within hailing distance of the interesting spot, forming a triangle of land that can lay fair claim to being nature's latest venture in the creation business. Illustrating the phenomena in historic times, there are the Islands of Santorin in the Grecian archipelago, to which additions were made as recently as 1866, when a volcanic eruption increased the area of one of the islands a considerable degree. Then, on the American continent, there is the interesting record of the formation of an island in Lake Ilopango, San Salvador, in 1886. It is probable that the Aleutian Islands to the south form a barrier to the Behring Sea currents, and so may tend to raise the bed of the latter, which is comparatively shallow, and thus may be building up a land connection. The former connection was probably lost by subsidence. The whole region is subject to change through continual volcanic action, and the consequent formation of new islands, which is suggestive of great developments in a possibly not distant future.

WIRE TAPPERS CAUGHT

Windsor, Sept. 2.—Provincial Detectives Mahoney and Campin made a clever capture of a gang of wire tappers yesterday afternoon, just before the first race was called.

There were four in the party, Arthur S. Walsh, Frank Robinson, I. G. Moran, and Philip McGorey. The capture was made in an open field about two miles east of Windsor.

The men had a complete telegraph plant in full operation and were ready to work their game when the officers swooped down on them and captured the whole outfit.

The men are thought to be the same who did a wire tapping act here at the last meeting.

Ferrozone feeds the nerves and vital energies, supplies force, determination and joyous, buoyant spirits.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post-office box No. 30, Beeton, Ont.: "About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn-out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched. My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help. I improved with it very quickly. It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that the numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since. (Signed) "David Brown."

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 3, 1906

BRYAN'S PROGRAM

Mr. Bryan seems to have made a very effective speech in New York the other night. The money issue he removed from the path of a re-united Democracy with a single paragraph; yet a paragraph which retracted nothing and reasserted nothing. The "trusts" he pointed to as the great enemy, and quoted the Republican President in support of this belief; and then expressed with studied moderation the opinion that the tariff might be used as a weapon for their discouragement. Plutocracy he arraigned in a stirring peroration, which reminds one of the fiery rhetoric of his "cross of gold" appeal; and, if all the people who dislike and envy the "plutocracy" will vote for him, he will probably carry every State in the Union outside of Rhode Island.

That the Democracy will unite behind him seems hardly in doubt. The centripetal force of a common appetite—the appetite for a return to power after a long fast—is working powerfully for union; and it looks as if every section of the Democratic party were in competition to get first in the line behind the Nebraskan. War upon the "trusts" and upon their Frankenstein, "Plutocracy," is to be the rallying cry; and the tariff reformists are to be pleased by the policy of removing protection from the products of the "trusts" as a war measure. For protection, as a national policy, the Republicans are plainly only too eager to fight; but they will be hard put to it to defend the wisdom of giving protection to industries which have erected themselves into a despotic tyranny behind the protective tariff.

The Philippine section of his programme may not be so popular; but it would be impossible for the man who made anti-Imperialism the "paramount issue" in 1900 to throw it overboard entirely in 1906. The Philippines are likely, however, to be the Egypt of the United States. Britain was always just on the point of getting out of Egypt; but she is still there. Nothing is more difficult than for a great power to retire from a subject nation, once it has established itself there under the eyes of the world.

THE VIRTUES OF ANARCHY

The Times is in receipt of a communication from an avowed anarchist. The writer protests against the uncomplimentary statements regarding anarchy made in a recent article in these columns. Anarchists, he says, are not the vicious, violent people we suppose them. Not at all. Quite the contrary, in fact. The only really gentle, lovable creatures to be found in this country are the anarchists. Conclusive proof of this is shown in the zeal and earnestness with which they oppose violence in government. The military, the police, the sheriffs are all representatives of brute force and bloodshed, and it is these agents of violence which anarchists so fervently dislike. Do away with them and let liberty reign. Government is wrong because it can not be otherwise. Man is unfit to govern himself; how then can he be fit to govern others?

If we had true liberty in this country, unfettered by the tyranny of government, everything would be infinitely better. A citizen could step out after breakfast and slit a neighbor's throat without fear of rough handling by the police. If his money supply was running low it would not be necessary to decorate himself by reporting for daylight labor in order to replenish it. He could take his shotgun and hold up pedestrians on the street corner until his pockets were bulging, and nobody would send him to prison because there would be no prisons. Jails would be turned into beer houses and court rooms into dance halls. All [illegible] and [illegible] would be no police to interfere and no militia to order out. In short, ideal conditions would prevail and the experiences of anarchy would be [illegible].

Perhaps The Times is narrow-minded and hidebound, but it does not see just how the welfare and happiness of the country would be promoted by removing the restraints from thieving, robbery, murder, rape, arson, and other crimes. It seems to us that the people feel safer and sleep better when their lives and property are under protection. This may be a mere notion of this great family journal, entirely faulty and unworthy, but we can't quite give it up, even after reading the six-page letter of our anarchistic correspondent, designed especially to set us right in these matters. Bombs, infernal machines, stale beer and unharrowed whiskers are just as distasteful to us as before. Maybe this is incorrigible.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

People Should do Their Own Thinking

New York, Sept. 1.—William J. Bryan left the Grand Central Station on a train for Connecticut, at 9.06 a.m. yesterday. About 1,100 persons were gathered at the station as the train pulled out, and they cheered him as he departed. Mr. Bryan bowed his acknowledgments from the rear platform. A party of friends accompanied Mr. Bryan in a special car.

Just before Mr. Bryan left he was prevailed upon to give expression to his views on certain subjects. His remarks were brought about by a question in which he was asked if he would co-operate with Governor Folk of Missouri, in a set programme of Democratic doctrines for the next two years.

"I have not co-operated with anybody thus far," Mr. Bryan replied, "but I want to co-operate with everybody who holds the same views I hold, and who wishes to co-operate with me."

After a moment Mr. Bryan continued, "The popular view in the East is that much good results from two or three men getting together and arranging things for the masses. I believe now, as I have always believed in the past, that the people are still capable of thinking for themselves. I believe in the people thinking and acting for themselves. In that way they get the best results."

Concerning his reception, Mr. Bryan said, "It would be egotistical of me to dwell upon that subject. I am simply overwhelmed by the magnitude of my welcome."

If You Suffer with Rheumatism

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy Will Bring the Utmost Relief that Medicine Can.

The one remedy which many physicians rely upon to free the system of the Rheumatic Poisons which are the cause of all Rheumatisms, Lumbago, Sciatica, Gout, is Dr. Shoop's RHEUMATIC REMEDY. Dr. Shoop spent twenty years in experimenting before he discovered the combined chemicals which made possible the almost always certain cure for Rheumatism, etc. Not that Dr. Shoop's RHEUMATIC REMEDY will turn every [illegible] into Sound [illegible]—that is impossible [illegible] will drive from the blood the poisons which cause the pain and swelling. And then that is the end of the pain and swelling—the end of suffering—the end of Rheumatism. This remedy never fails where a cure is possible. It is now put up in tablet or liquid form—ask for either. You who have suffered and are suffering today from pains and aches which you know to be Rheumatism; you who experience soreness or twinges of pain in damp weather; you who easily become stiff and lame without apparent cause—just try DR. SHOOP'S RHEUMATIC CURE. It is just the kind of a remedy most discouraged people need. Sold and recommended by Pale? Thin?

How is it with the children these days? Have they plenty of grit, courage, strength? Or are they thin, pale, delicate? This reminds you of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It does great things for children. It gives them a good appetite, improves their digestion, builds up their general health. Ask your doctor if he endorses this. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines! J. C. PROPERTIES LOCATED IN LAWRENCE AND SHARP COUNTIES, ARKANSAS

We have men at work on our property now, and—already have a large amount of rich ore on the dump ready for milling.

Our Superintendent is a practical mining engineer and geologist of 25 years experience, and has directed the building of most of the mills in the Northern Arkansas mineral region.

Capitalization is low, only $50,000.00 of Preferred Stock and 374,000.00 of Common Stock. Common Stock is pooled and can not be sold until the Association is on a dividend-paying basis, thus eliminating all processes of "Stock Jobbing."

This clause is found in every certificate of Preferred Stock issued:—"This Stock shall entitle the holder to preferential dividends of the net earnings of the Company to the complete exclusion of the Common Stock, until par value (ten cents per share) has been repaid in dividends to the holder of each and every share of Preferred Stock issued. Then this Preferred Stock shall become Common Stock, and shall share alike in dividends with the Common Stock."

Sworn financial statements will be sent to each stockholder every 90 days.

An allotment of 110,000 shares have been offered for sale at par-value (ten cents per share). Money to be used in erecting mill, clearing up the property and placing the business of the Association upon a dividend-paying basis.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 9 1-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant. 150 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

the young duke. She will have many suitors! She will be followed, flattered, favored in every possible way, and, before the season is over, she will be affianced to the Duke of Beresleigh!"

"And, if she were affianced to a royal duke, I have that secret which will break the marriage off," said the colonel, with the same calmness.

"You say that you have this power, sir, and I am constrained to believe you. Why, then, do you not use it at once? There is an old proverb to the effect that 'delays are dangerous.' In this case, with so many rival claimants of her favor, I think delay is doubly dangerous."

"True, in some respects. Yet you have also heard that if delays are dangerous, precipitation is often fatal. And it would be so in this case, for two reasons. First, she has not had time yet to soften in her feelings of resentment toward you. Secondly, she has not had time, either, to become so used to the pomp and splendor of her new rank as to make it a matter of habit and necessity to her. If now I were to attempt to use the power this secret gives me over her, she would defy me, and sooner than marry you, with her present feeling, she would resign her rank. No, my boy! We must wait until time has softened her anger against you, and confirmed her love for wealth and position. In a word, we must wait until the world has educated her."

"And how long will that be?" exclaimed the young man, ironically.

"Not many months, my dear boy. And, in the meantime, if there should be a serious probability of her marriage, I shall immediately seek an interview with her, and, as I said before, even if the bridegroom-elect were a royal duke, I would break the marriage off."

"I must leave it in your hands, sir," replied Mr. Hastings, and the conversation ended.

* * * * * * *

There was still a third party whose peace was disturbed by the universal homage paid to the beautiful heiress. This was Lady Lester, who, upon her return home, shut herself up in her boudoir to reflect.

"This young baroness has made a decided impression. Ruthven will have many rivals, and he has not been introduced to her yet. I must lose no time in his service. To-morrow I will call at Beresleigh House myself, and leave my card, together with an invitation to an evening party, for—let me see—the twenty-sixth. She can have no engagements so far in advance as that. Ruthven must be introduced to her. Society will throw them frequently into each other's company, and Ruthven's very handsome person and fascinating address must do the rest."

And so saying, Lady Lester rang for her maid, to divest her of the heavy court dress, and bring her a cup of tea.

* * * * * * *

Meantime, what effect had the events of the day upon the beautiful and admired subject of all this intoxicating homage, and all those plots and counterplots?

We shall see.

On her return home, Rose threw herself into her dressing-chair, and placed herself in the hands of her maid to be disrobed. While she sat there, she fell into deep thought, saying to herself:

"They tell me that I have made a great sensation, even upon royalty; that I have achieved a great social triumph by simply appearing at the drawing-room of her majesty. They call me the star of the ascendant in the empyrean of fashion; and even if this is so, what is it all to me so long as Mordecai, the Jew, sits at the king's gate? What is it to me if all the world worships this poor beauty set in a golden frame, since he has no kind word for Rose? I was happier in the country when my claim to the barony was unsettled, and my fortunes uncertain, for then he was good to me; and now, alas! since my claim has been confirmed, and we have come up to town, he never notices me but as an attention beyond what is required by etiquette. I wonder if I have displeased him, or if he has taken a dislike to me? I must not even try to find out. Oh, I am very unhappy!"

And here the adored beauty, the world-beloved heiress, the triumphant debutante into court circles, of whom the whole world of fashion was talking with admiration or with envy, dropped her face into her hands and wept passionately.

Mademoiselle Gabrielle, in alarm, brought Hungary water, aromatic vinegar, oil ammonia, and everything else she could think of as restoratives, and declared, since she could see no other cause for tears, that the fatigue and excitement of the day had been too much for "miladie." Rose did not contradict her, but composed and recovered herself sufficiently to present a cheerful face at the lunch table, where she had to receive the congratulations of the Ladies Wardour upon what they called her great social triumph.

Rose had spoken the truth to herself. Since the confirmation of her claim to the Barony of Swinburne, and their arrival in London, the young Duke of Beresleigh had avoided the society of the beautiful young heiress as much as was consistent with the courtesy due to his mother's guest. Loving her with an affection as pure and disinterested as it was ardent and unchangeable, he wished to leave her free to form an extensive acquaintance with the world of society before becoming a competitor for her hand, so that, finally, if she should accept his hand, she would do so in the full consciousness of his comparative merits, and he would have the happiness of knowing her decision to be that of an unbiased judgment as well as of an unwavering heart.

But how was poor Rose to know his generous thoughts and motives, when his distant courtesy sent her weeping to her room that day of her great triumph!

The next morning the Duchess of Beresleigh and the Ladies Wardour, together with Lady Etheridge, were lingering over a late breakfast table, and examining the notes, letters, and cards that had been left at the house. There were many fresh ones, and among them was the card of Lady Lester, accompanied by a ticket of invitation to an evening party to be given at Lester House on that day fortnight.

"We must return Lady Lester's card and accept the invitation to her party. She is one of the leaders of fashion here," said the duchess.

"And, oh, I wish so much to see my dear Miss Elmer. Oh, my dear madam, let us go to-day," said Rose, eagerly.

"Certainly; we will call at Lester House to-day if you please, my dear, but you will scarcely be able to see your friend unless you make a special visit to herself, and see her in her own apartments. Governesses do not usually receive their friends in their employer's drawing-room," said the duchess.

"But if we call upon Lady Lester and then ask for Miss Elmer?"

"No doubt in that case she would be sent for to come down, but I ask you if you think that would be agreeable either to Miss Elmer or yourself? Would you not much rather your first reunion should be in private?"

"Yes, oh, yes."

"Then to-day, as it is late, we will call on Lady Lester, and in a few days you will go early in the morning to see your friend Miss Elmer. You must invite her here, and have her as often as you like."

"Oh, thank you, madam," said Rose warmly.

Bear Visits School at Fort William

Fort William, Sept. 1.—The citizens of Fort William accepted with equanimity the story of the two encounters with wild cats which recently took place, within three weeks of each other, near the outskirts of the city, but when the report spread yesterday morning that the children at the Central school were playing with a full-grown wild bear, consternation was rife. Business men, clerks, and laborers and operators and operators, carrying open clasp knives, clubs, and shovels, chased the animal for nearly thirty minutes, and when W. Tuesson, a contractor, arrived on the scene with a rifle he dispatched the bear. It weighed 325 pounds and was in the school twenty minutes.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 5,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.50 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $95,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (8 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,500 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdrads of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refinery against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

Good Work on Lindsay Short Cut

Lindsay Post: A few weeks more and the new Grand Trunk railway short cut route from Lindsay to Midland will be completed. The other day the big steam shovel was moved to the Lindsay end of the line, and is now at work near the section which crosses the Little Britain road. A temporary track is in use from the round house to the main track of the G.T.R., and ties have been scattered along the line ready for laying. The bed has been graded up through the field from Albert street and the steam shovel is operating between Adelaide street and the Little Britain road, where a long cut commences. The road will pass through a somewhat swampy piece of land. On Mr. C. Silver's farm a cut has already been excavated and on Hogan's farm a gang of men are at work grading and putting down rails. The road passes through this year's crop of turnips, wheat, oats and buckwheat in one or two places.

Peterborough Farmers do Well

Farmers' Excursion to Guelph Yields Handsome Returns.

Norwood Register says: Mr. Chas. O'Reilly secretary-treasurer of the East Peterborough Farmers Institute, received a cheque from Mr. Wm Collins, of Peterborough, for $60.70, being one-third of the net receipts of the union excursion to Guelph, held in June, under the auspices of the east and west Peterborough and the West Durham Farmers' Institutes. S. A. Army Harvest Festival

The local Salvation Army corps have selected September 22nd and 23rd as dates for their harvest home celebration.

Members of the Army have gone to considerable trouble to make the thanksgiving a great success.

A good program is being prepared, and the barracks, where the different meetings will be held, will be decorated in an appropriate manner, particular attention being given to a display of the fruits of the harvest. It is expected that the harvest home will be one of the most successful ever held. It is the Army's annual event of this kind.

What to do on Labor Day

This is a public holiday, Labor Day, and the one day in the year in which Canadians recognize the dignity and worth of our citizens, who by the sweat of their brows help in the upbuilding and wealth of our lusty young nation.

While Peterborough contains thousands of consistent and persistent advocates of the claims of organized labor there will be no parade or demonstration.

For those who seek amusement there are varied ways in which to spend the day. During the afternoon there will be a first-class baseball match at Riverside Park, when the Shamrocks and Athletics will struggle for the city championship.

The Quaker Football Club have arranged for an excursion, per the fine steamer Wager Lily to Jubilee Point, Gore's Landing and other down the river points. The steamer will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 8.30. A stop for dinner will be made at Jubilee. At three o'clock at Gore's Landing the Quakers, champions of the Midland district will play the all star combination of Rice Lake.

The steamer Monarch will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 9 o'clock for Rice Lake, leaving Idyl Wyld for home at three p.m.

Many will doubtless take the str. Empress at Lakefield on the Kawartha Lakes route.

The Tennis Club of St. John's A.Y.P.A. hold a tennis tournament and fete at Nicholls Oval. Then there is also the cheap trip to Toronto, which many will likely take in, so that no one need sit round home today and say there is "Nothing doing."

New Street Car in Use Today.

The handsome new open car just received by the street railway company will make its first appearance upon the streets today, and will assist in carrying the holiday crowds.

Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy.

Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a scientific preparation compounded of the glyceric extracts of the above mentioned vegetable ingredients and contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

Rolling Mills Bylaw Passes City Council

And Will Go to the People on Tuesday Oct. 2nd ---Mayor Cancels His Right of Way for Sewer to New School.

The City Council met in regular session last night when there were present, His Worship Mayor Henry Best, Aldermen Tovey, Hicks, Mason, Graham, Hall, Duncan, Wilson, McIntyre, McWilliams, Adams and Elliott.

WHICH LIGHTING SYSTEM?

A communication from the Peterborough Light & Power Co., asked what the council proposed to do with regard to allowing the installation of the new closed arc lamp for illuminating the streets instead of the present system.

The members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee who visited North Toronto and other places to inspect the results of street lighting by the new lamps which it is proposed to install here, reported verbally.

His Worship was not satisfied with the lamps used in North Toronto, although he admitted that as they are of 12 per cent. less capacity than the ones which would be installed here, it would be difficult to arrive at any conclusion from an inspection of the North Toronto lamps.

Ald Duncan did not think the Toronto lamps as strong in their lighting powers as those in use here now.

Ald Mason thought the new system an improvement on the present one in every respect, and the lamps do not throw any shadow.

Ald Graham did not approve of the new system.

Ald Adams urged that even were the new lamps proposed for Peterborough a trifle weaker in their illuminating powers than those at present in use here, they would give better results than we are getting at present by being strung over the centre of the streets.

Ald Elliott pointed out that Mayor Fisher of North Toronto said he would not for any consideration go back from the new closed arc lamp to the old system such as Peterborough is using.

Mr Larmouth contended that there are few very few municipalities in the Dominion using the new 12 per cent. stronger than ordinarly lamp of the capacity he intends installing here. The only reason his company has for proposing a lamp in use is in order to live up to their contract with the city, which calls for a 450 volts lamp.

His Worship contended that while it is true the new lamp would not give any shadow immediately beneath it, still it would not illuminate as far as the old system of lamp.

Ald Hall thought Peterborough was as well if not better lighted than most places and until complaints are made this question by installing a new system should be thrown here. Better results certainly might be attained were the present lamps hung across the streets in place of among the trees as at present.

Ald Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre,—That this question be left in the hands of the Fire, Water and Light Committee—Carried.

COMMUNICATIONS

From W. Harper, complaining that on least side of his property on Charlotte street, the water from the gravel is held back by the granolithic sidewalk, accumulating there and causing a stench. The complainant asked that steps be taken to remedy this nuisance.—Board of Works.

From property owners petitioning for a pipe sewer on Douro street, from Mark to Driscoll streets; on Aylmer street, from Edinburgh to westerly limit of lot 30, plan 8, on Douro street from Mark to Concession street—Board of Works.

Property owners petitioned for a granolithic walk on South side of Sherbrooke street, from Aylmer St. to the creek; on west side of Stewart street, from Dalhousie to Townsend street; on south side of Cricket Place from Driscoll terrace to end of street.—Board of Works.

The Otonabee Power Co., Limited, applied for the privilege of placing poles on Bolivar, John, Aylmer, Rubidge, Downie, Harvey and Edinburgh streets—Board of Works with power to act.

From the Peterborough Shovel and Tool Co., saying that as they are constructing a brick warehouse fronting Rink street, they would ask that the drop in said street be filled in level at the first opportunity to facilitate their shipping with as much convenience as possible. Their building is being constructed according to street levels. And according to present conditions of street their shipping doors would be so high as to be inconvenient unless the street is leveled as requested—Board of Works.

From Thos. Kinnear & Co., importers and wholesale grocers, asking for a cement sidewalk opposite their new building on George street; also a crossing—Board of Works.

From the same, asking to have the drain opposite their building sufficiently enlarged to carry off surface water and secure their cellar from flooding under any circumstances—Board of Works.

From P. Alexander, applying for the position of inspector of electric wiring and lighting—Fire, Water and Light Com.

From the water commissioners, stating that as they have an application for water service into the new school in Ward No. one, nothing can be done in the way of laying mains to supply the school until the commissioners are advised as to the location of the new street to be opened—Received.

From Geo. Hatton, notifying council that unless the amount of the contract planned by Mr. Bogue, together with the extras occasioned by the change of grade authorized by the city engineer in connection with the Ashburnham outfall sewer, is paid to him within a few days legal proceedings will be taken to collect the amount that may be due him under the terms of his contract and such extras as are authorized by the city engineer, and which were carried out by Mr. Bogue — Board of Works.

From Mr. Mebrid Pappakeriakes, asking for the refund of his $200 license fee for the sale of cigarettes as the cigars bylaw had been quashed. This will be referred to the city solicitor to fix the amount Mr. Pappakeriakes is entitled to. It was considered that having tied up all the rest of the tobacco dealers for a month or six weeks, he would not be entitled to a refund of the whole $200.

WANT BUILDINGS TO REMAIN.

Mr D O'Connell addressed council on behalf of Messrs. Houdry and Sons asking that the bylaw demanding the removal of the old bridge works buildings at the corner of Dalhousie and Water streets, now the property of these gentlemen, be not enforced. Mr. O'Connell urged that Messrs. Houdry & Sons having purchased these premises in good faith that Water street would not be extended across, and as they conduct a ship between Dalhousie and Sherbrooke business in the handling of peas, the removal of any portion or all of these buildings would entail to them considerable financial loss. They asked that in justice to them they be not disturbed for a period of ten years.

The Mayor explained that when the privilege was granted the old Central Bridge Co. to locate on the streets in question, the bylaw provided that the buildings should be removed at any time it was found necessary to extend Dalhousie and Water streets, on the city giving three months' notice of their intention in this respect.

Mr. O'Connell had a copy of the bylaw in question, which, however did not make any mention of three months notice being sufficient for the city to demand the removal of the buildings.

This matter was referred to the Board of Works. The Council do not wish to be harsh with Messrs. Houdry & Sons, but they find it absolutely necessary to extend at least Dalhousie street as soon as possible.

NO SEWER FOR NEW SCHOOL.

The Mayor cancelled the following clause in the committee of the whole council's report, he being the interested party, and as such objecting to giving this free right of way and loading himself up with the whole cost of the sewerage in question. Aylmer street not having been extended to the boundary according to agreement

2. We recommend that the Board of Works be instructed to proceed at the earliest possible date with the construction of a sewer from the new South Ward school down Aylmer street to the south boundary of lot 3 and thence easterly along Princess street to the main sewer on Lock street.

On being expostulated with for his action, his Worship explained that years.

The Mayor pointed out that this by law would give 3d 1-3 more to the concern than was granted the Cordage Co., and 50 per cent. more than given the Shovel Co. Again while these latter companies had options on the property on which they desired to build, before their bylaws were submitted to the people, this Rolling Mills Co's bylaw does not specify he took this course because of Mr. Dumble's statement in the Board of Education meeting, just previous to the council meeting when he agreed to this clause 2, that the School Board would go down to the council and shame him (the Mayor) into giving a free right of way. In consequence of this he took his present stand; he was not going to allow Mr. Dumble and the School Board to shame him into loading himself up with a hundred dollars a year for local improvements. And this same generous Mr. Dumble takes $500 for his right of way Again, his Worship contended that proper levels of the several possible routes for this sewer should be taken before any definite plan is decided upon.

As the Mayor insisted on cancelling clause 2, it was referred back to the committee of the whole council. Consequently ways and means for securing early sewer connection with the new South Ward school will have to be threshed out once more.

ROLLING MILLS BYLAW.

A bylaw to aid the Peterborough Steel Rolling Mills Co., came up for its several readings. The bylaw provided for a grant of $6,000 to the company, with which to purchase a site, and a railway siding if necessary, also a fixed assessment on purchase price of land for ten any particular site, and also allows for the purchase of a railway siding on of the $6,000. Further, his Worship would not see that the Rolling Mills Co are agreeing to accomplish more within a given period than that promised and accomplished by the Cordage and Shovel companies, that the terms of their bylaw should be more liberal than those of the other two comparative bylaws.

Ald McWilliams explained that the $6,000 will be the maximum amount the city will be called upon to pay for a site and siding, should these cost say but $4,500, then the amount of bonus will be $1,500 only.

The company agree to have their buildings erected and plant running by April first, 1907. A clause was on suggestion of Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. Graham, inserted to the effect that the company will not oppose local improvements.

The bylaw passed council and will be voted on October 2nd, next.

INSPECTION OF MILK.

Ald McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That Aldermen McIntyre, Hall, Wilson and Elliott be a committee to have a bylaw prepared to license and regulate milk peddlers, and to provide for the inspection of milk—Carried.

RAPID TOOL CO. BYLAW.

A bylaw to grant the Rapid Tool Co. $1200 with which to purchase the old Ultimator property across the river south of Hunter street, and to fix their assessment at this amount for 10 years, passed its first and second reading. This company propose to be in operation January 1, 1907, and within six months of that date to employ at least 25 hands.

This bylaw will go to the people on October 2nd, next.

SEWER BYLAW.

A bylaw to authorize the construction of a sewer on Douro street as a local improvement, and to authorize the making of temporary advances to meet the cost thereof, passed its several readings.

Ald Hicks reported that the Water street sewer was constructed at $1.01 1-2 per ft. by day labor as against the lowest tender of $1.27 a foot, contract work; the latter would necessitate an inspector's service, thus adding 10 cents a foot more to the contract price. The council therefore resolved to construct this Douro street sewer by day labor, thus affecting the trial saving.

MONEY GRANTS.

A bylaw to authorize a grant of $100 to the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, and a grant of $350 to the Horticultural Society, passed its several readings.

Ald Wilson pointed out that it had been understood that the Exhibition people were to go $400 in consideration of the county giving them $200, but he county only gave $100, and he thought $400 for the Exhibition a pretty stiff figure to give.

On motion of Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald Wilson, the payment of Mr. White for his supplementary duties Bethune street drain.

The council adjourned at 12.30.

EFFECTS NORTHWEST PASSAGE.

New York, Sept. 5.—A Christiania Norway, despatch to the Sun, says that the Norwegian Polar Expedition on the ship Gjoa has reached Behring Strait, having thus accomplished the northwest passage.

Captain Roland Amundsen, who commanded the Polar expedition on the Gjoa, left Norway in June, 1903, to try the northwest passage.

In the summer of 1905 he established a base on King William's Island where he later reported that he had located the true magnetic pole.

The Gjoa went into winter quarters near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, and Captain Amundsen left there August 13 for a trip overland to announce his success. He travelled by dog sled and reached Fort Egbert, Eagle City, Alaska, on December 5, whence the news of his discovery was sent to the world.

He announced at the time that he would return to the Gjoa in the spring by way of Behring Strait and sea, making Gjoadic observations on the way.

The Gjoa set out early in the summer for the 1,000 mile trip to the strait.

Every room in Hotel de Cops was crowded to its utmost, and one guest was coerced to move, rating place in a wheelbarrow. P.C.'s Newand Mowarry were surely busy.

WILL PARALLEL GRAND TRUNK

Canadian Pacific to Construct Another Ontario Road

BELLEVILLE TO TORONTO

Railway Will Touch all the Lake Shore Towns.

Belleville, September 4.—The C. P. R. is to parallel the Grand Trunk between Belleville and Toronto in the comparatively near future. A survey party is to start out today under the direction of Mr. Harry Willwird, divisional engineer, Toronto, to begin the preliminary work of making surveys for the new line, beginning at this city and working westwards.

It is expected that the work will be completed within a year, when tracklaying will be commenced. The new line is to extend from Tweed to Toronto, and will prove a formidable competitor to the Grand Trunk. In fact, it would not be surprising if it captured the greater portion of freight traffic in the towns which it will tap. Unlike the Grand Trunk line, it will pass directly through most of the towns between this city and Toronto, as the members of the survey party have received instructions to get as close as possible to these places. In the case of the Grand Trunk, the stations along the line are frequently at a distance varying from half a mile to three miles from the business centres. This condition of affairs has proven a great inconvenience to the citizens of these places. The C. P. R. does not intend to make a similar mistake. The new line will run southwards from the Toronto-Montreal line at Tweed, to this city, and will then continue westwards to the Queen City, passing through Trenton, Brighton, Colborne, Grafton, Cobourg, Port Hope, Newcastle, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Whitby, Pickering and Scarboro.

Firemen's Fund Now Assured

Last night the Peterborough Fire Brigade held a meeting in their Simcoe street quarters, with Asst. Chief J. B. Metheral in the hair.

Perhaps the most important business brought before the meeting was the financial statement rendered by Mr. C. B. Lasalle, who as noted in a previous issue of The Times, has been in the city for several weeks getting out a "fire chart," already described in the local press as in the interests of the brigade. Mr. Lasalle last night made complete returns of his work, and after deducting expenses of printing, commission, &c., he handed the local fire laddies the handsome sum of $168 as the nucleus of a sick benefit fund. The factories, banks merchants, and other local institutions have almost unanimously responded to Mr. Lasalle's application for advertising space in the fire charts, which will be issued this week. The brigade members were thoroughly satisfied with the fire chart scheme.

Mr. Lasalle leaves today for Lindsay to work out fire charts in that town.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at last night's meeting, moved by Chief Rutherford, seconded by Mr. A. Ringer, that the Peterborough Fire Brigade form a firemen's sick relief association in connection with the department, and that all funds received from Mr. Lasalle and from other parties who may favor us for this fund, shall be devoted to this fund alone, and that the following officers be a committee to control this fund, viz., the assistant chief and secretary and treasurer with two elected members of the brigade.—Carried.

It was then moved by Chief Rutherford, seconded by Mr. W. H. Adamson that the brigade tender a vote of thanks to Mr. Lasalle for the work he has done for the brigade.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Turner, seconded by Mr. W. Evans, that the chief be made honorary president of the above fund control.

The meeting then adjourned.

A Rare Chance for Investment

Golden Prospects of the Loon Creek Mining and Investment Co.

Every reader has more or less knowledge of the mineral wealth of the State of Idaho. Many in this section, however, are not familiar with the marvellous wealth of the "Lost Packer" mine of Loon Creek, Custer County, Idaho. During his recent visit to this mine, State Mine Inspector Bell was astonished at the prospects of this district, and said officially, "The most important development in Custer Co. is the 'Lost Packer' mine at Loon Creek. The Lost Packer is at once a bonanza gold and copper mine. Its principal development practically exposes an ore body 10 by 45 feet wide, carrying a continuous rib or pay streak that is six inches to five feet wide of ore carrying from two to five ounces gold and 10 to 25 per cent. copper. This ore body averages two feet wide by 500 feet in length and 400 feet in proven depth."

The Loon Creek Mining and Investment Co., incorporated for one million dollars, own a property in the same mineral district as the Lost Packer, whose stock recently jumped from 10 cents per share of its present value, viz., $6 per share. A profit of 6000 per cent. to original investors.

The Loon Creek Mining Company's property not only in the same mineral district but shows every evidence of giving as good results. The directorate of the Loon Creek Company's mine are all men of high standing in the State, holding responsible positions. There is every reason to consider the those getting in "on the ground floor," and securing stock, as advertised in this issue, in the Loon Creek Mining and Investment Company at $1 per share, will meet with as good results as those fortunate enough to invest in the Lost Packer mine. For particulars see adv. in another column of this issue.

Important Local Business Change

Mr. Pappas Takes Possession of Former Palace Hotel.

Yesterday, Mr. M. Pappas, who will soon open a large billiard room and barber shop in the premises recently occupied by the Palace Hotel, began work, in conjunction with Mr. H. C. Winch, setting for the Chamberlain estate, towards altering both the interior and front exterior of the place. Mr. Pappas will remove and alter the whole front of the place. Two new plate glasses will be inserted, each 10x7 1-2 feet, in size. The present marble doors will be removed, the door pillars or iron columns at each side of the present doors removed, and a single door inserted to replace the present doors. The whole floor will be inlaid in up-to-date tiles, such as were in evidence in the late Palace Hotel bar. Mr. Pappas will also place a handsome plate glass door in the entrance leading up to the two top floors, between the recent Palace Hotel door and The Times Bookstore.

Yesterday Mr. Thos. Darcy, proprietor of the Burleigh Falls Hotel and Mr. Fred his son, of the Young's Point Hotel, signed a lease for the two upper flats of Mr. Pappas new premises. The Messrs. Darcy will use these extensive premises as an up-to-date and first-class restaurant and gentlemen's rooming house. The first floor will contain a fine general dining room with a private dining room for ladies. The top flat is to be entirely remodelled and fitted up as a gentleman's rooming apartments. Mr. Pappas is certainly one of Peterborough's enterprising and successful business men.

The Test Was Most Successful

Local Gas Holder Tank Shows Good Result Under Water Test.

An interesting and locally important test was made at the gas works on Monday. As noted in a former issue of The Times, the 150,000 feet capacity gas tank being erected by the gas company is now nearing completion. The work is now done except giveing the guide frames and ladders leading to the top. Mr. Larmouth, the manager of the company made application to the Fire, Water and Light Committee for the loan of several feet of the city's old fire hose for the purpose of filling the water tank with water.

This huge tank, which required some 60,000 gallons of water was filled by two 2 1-2 inch lines of hose applied with water by the hydrant at the corner of Queen and Simcoe Sts. It took the two lines of fire hose, under the supervision of Messrs. Henderson, superintendent, and Mr. R. Martin, foreman of the Peterborough Water Works, several hours to supply the large volume of water.

The officers of the Light and Power Company, as well as those in charge of the building of this huge tank, are to be congratulated upon the successful result of this test. Although the tank has not yet been entirely caulked, the tank was proven to be almost absolutely tight. The only leak discovered, even under the immense pressure of so large a quantity of water was one little hole, the size a small pin might make in a spot where the seams had not been caulked. This is a most exceptionally favorable test. The water tank is 73 feet 9 inches in diameter and 20 feet high.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Can You?

It is a matter each individual must decide for himself. He can be a leader and semi-god if he will, or he can go along through life a drugged clown, a cheap "hewer of wood or carrier of water."

Certain it is that while the Great Father of us all does not seem to "mind" if some of his children are foolish and stupid, he seems to select others (perhaps those he intends for some special work) and allows them to be threshed and castigated most fearfully by certain "levelers."

If a man tries flirting with these levelers awhile, and gets a few slaps as a hint, he had better take the hint or a good solid blow will follow.

And what are these "levelers?" With many the leveler that keeps him or her back is just plain old fashioned coffee, when it weakens heart, destroys digestion or sets up anyone of the many forms of disease directly traceable to it.

When a man tries to live upright, clean, thrifty, sober, and undrugged, manifesting as near as he knows what the Creator intends he should, happiness, health and peace seem to come to him. Does it pay?

This article was written to set people thinking, to rouse the "God-within" for every highly organized man and woman have times when they feel a something calling from within for them to press to the front and "be about the Fathers' business," don't mistake it; the spark of the infinite is there and it pays in every way, health, happiness, peace, and even worldly prosperity, to break off the habits and strip clean for the work out out for us. If, therefore, one would be properly equipped for the "business," whatever that may be, the coffee is shown to be the enemy in disguise, it pays to quit and use the "food coffee—Postum—the reformation is sure and easily established.

Free Use of C.P.R. Steamer "Amur"

To Carry Canada's Relief Supplies to San Francisco Sufferers---Peterborough's Contribution of Quaker Oats Arrived in Good Condition.

At last night's meeting of the City Council a communication from Norman Nanrose, secretary San Francisco Relief Committee, Vancouver, B. C. was received, giving details of the manner in which the supplies contributed by Canada for the relief of the sufferers from the San Francisco earthquake were shipped, and enclosing a detailed statement of goods purchased and forwarded by the Vancouver Relief Committee in behalf of Canadian municipalities.

In part, the letter read: "Sixty cases Quaker Oats from Peterborough arrived in good condition, and were forwarded to the sufferers. The relief steamer "Amur," was given free to be committee by the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., to convey supplies to San Francisco. On leaving Vancouver this relief ship carried stretched between her masts a large banner measuring 5x60 feet, on which appeared the name of Peterborough, and also the names of other cities for which the Vancouver Relief Committee acted in relief of the San Francisco sufferers. The banner was again raised on entering San Francisco harbor."

Why Stony Lake Traffic Was Slow

It seems that some unavoidable and unforseen delay was caused Stony Lake steamer passengers on Labor Day.

The cause of the delay was that the fine steamer Empress had to do double work. That favorite boat the Stony Lake on Monday morning took an excursion to Bobcaygeon and this left only the Empress to make the regular trip. This boat made the trip on the lake all right, but on the return, the Empress which connects with the early afternoon train for Peterborough had to carry a double load. It collected the passengers on the upper page of the lake alright, but when it came to the lower part the boat was crowded and there were three numerous calls yet to make but the proprietors, as is well known, never take chances on overloading the boats of their lines, as well as the Youngs Point Line, in compliance with the legal requirements and the safety of their patrons. This explains the whole trouble, and it is to the credit of the captain that, for the sake of so many freely offered dollars, he would not risk any chance of danger.

Three Gold Pins Presented Yesterday

Yesterday Mr. C. B. Lasalle, who as noted in the local press has for the past few weeks been engaged in getting out "fire charts" in the interests of the local fire brigade demonstrated his acknowledgement of services rendered by their local gentlemen.

Mr Lasalle, who was materially assisted in his canvass for advertising by "apropos" kindly words put in for him by Messrs. Thos. McDonough, Jos. Guerin and W. Ackerman of the city yesterday presented each of these three gentlemen with a pretty solid gold breast pin. It is needless to say that each of the three was taken entirely by surprise. Mr. Lasalle leaves this morning for Lindsay to engage in a canvas in that town will doubtless result in putting a good sum to the credit of the Scugog ville fire fighters.

Miss Kate Ross Is Now a Matron

Yesterday morning early a quietly celebrated wedding was performed at 509 Water street, when Miss Kate Ross, daughter of the late George Ross of Peterborough, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert H. Ross, a well known resident of this city, formerly of Woodstock. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Robert F. Macgregor, and was unattended. Mr. and Mrs. Ross were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

The bride and groom left on the 7.20 train for Muskoka, The bride was mos. charmingly attired in blue broadcloth with hat to match.

The many friends of both the contracting parties will unite in wishing them every happiness to be found only in a matrimonial career.

Three Possible Candidates

Who Will be Peterboro's Chief Magistrate for the Ensuing Year?

It now looks as though there would be a triangular duel for the Peterborough mayoralty next civic election. The three members of the City Council prominently mentioned in connection with the seat for 1907, are Ald. R. F. McWilliams, chairman of the Manufacturers' Committee; Ald. Robert Hicks, chairman of the Board of Works, and Ald. Frank Adams, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Whilst none of these city fathers has officially noted their intention of running the friends of each are advocating their claims in any event, for which ever of the three wears the honors of the mayoralty next year, each every or either of them has good stuff in his composition.

GETTING READY FOR SENATE.

Toronto, September 5.—The executive of the Reform Association of Ontario will meet in Toronto today. "Hurry up" orders have been received from Ottawa for the party in this Province to get busy and do something. It is understood that the resignation of Hon. George W. Ross as leader of the Provincial Opposition, will be considered at his request by the executive, and immediately acted on. This will allow Sir Wilfrid Laurier to make ready a place in the Senate for the Ontario war horse of Liberalism.

STILT WALKERS ARRIVE

Men Who Started Four Years Ago to Walk Around the World.

Boston, September 5.—Competing on a tour around the world on stilts, A. N. Houghton and Herman Dignon, both have arrived in the steerage of the White Star liner Arabic from Liverpool on the finish of their journey back to Chicago, where they are due in six months with a $6,000 wager awaiting them. They started from Chicago, February 18, 1903, on nine-foot stilts, which today measure only four and one-half feet, and have covered over 15,000 miles.

He grappled with the intruder, who had collected a quantity of plunder, and was almost ready to depart with it.

They engaged in a desperate struggle, but finally Signor Sarto threw his antagonist and held him till the police came in response to his cries.

Sarto was not injured in the encounter.

Countess Buys Colorado Land

London Society Leader Part Owner of Big Ranch.

Denver, September 5.—The Dowager Countess of Yarborough, known in London as the arbiter of exclusive British nobility society, has invested a large sum of money in a Colorado ranch.

In company with Hew Singers-Biggar, through whom she became interested in the State, and T. K. O'Donnell, she has purchased the Owens ranch, near Byers, fourteen miles from Denver. The ranch consists of 7,000 acres, and the consideration was $300,000.

Much of the land will be subdivided into small tracts, and sold to actual settlers. The countess is coming to Denver soon to see the property and visit socially.

Father and Son in Same Cell.

Montreal, September 5.—A father and son, both named William Plain, living at 200 West Lagauchetiere street, were arrested, but at different times, yesterday, for drunkenness. HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle, of Moncton, N. B., Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My trouble increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, gave me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn, U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 3, 1906

AMERICAN PURE FOOD LAWS

Nothing short of the placing upon meat products of labels which will not deceive the public, is the ultimatum which United States Secretary Wilson delivered to forty representatives of various packing houses, who met him at Washington. Hereafter, if the packers want their goods accepted for interstate shipment they must bear labels more specific than those used in the past. It will not do, for instance, to state merely that a package contains sausage. The label must distinctly describe the article, and plainly show that the sausage is made entirely of pork, or pork and beef combined, or of other ingredients. The same rule will apply to other products. The elimination of certain advertising features on the labels also will be insisted upon. The packers were particularly solicitous regarding the meat products already put out and held in stock, but Secretary Wilson assured them it was not his intention to open every package, but, to select a certain percentage of them, and if they were found to be as represented, he would authorize the issuance of labels for the entire lot, certifying that it had been inspected and had met the requirements of the law. In administering the law, Secretary Wilson said that he would apply the principle of common sense and that it was not his intention to be hypercritical or impose any unnecessary hardship upon the packers.

UNION LABOR ARROGANCE

One hears little of the printers' strike for closed shop and an eight-hour work day, which was declared last January. This kind of warfare comes high, over $400,000 having been spent in "strike" benefits during the first six months, wrung from the pockets of those who are paying the piper. The trouble with unionism is, the bosses do not appear to know when they have reached the limit. Already there is an agitation begun for reducing the hours from eight to seven—and this before the eight-hour day is won—for it is after all only the smaller shops who have conceded the shorter day. The fact that such vast sums are required for strike benefits is ample evidence of this.

In Seattle, some of the employing printers have been debarred by union edicts from working in their own shops. "Union cards," says the Seattle Times, have been taken from between twenty-five and thirty employers printers who have refused to pay the 10 per cent. assessment levied by the International Typographical Union." The printers whose cards have been taken away will not be allowed to work in their own shops. The 10 per cent. assessment is for the support of the strike for the closed shop and eight-hour day.

The presumption of the walking delegates and labor bosses in forbidding a man to work in his own shop is beyond all comprehension. The next thing will probably be to forbid a man to sleep in his own bed, to eat at his own table, to work in his own garden, to wear his own clothes, to drink his own whisky, or to do as he pleases with his own in any particular. The person who will submit to such preposterous dictation is not a man; he is an ass.

CAN CULTIVATE CANCER

German Professor Discovers Method of Artifical Growth.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—Dr. Otto Schmidt of Cologne has succeeded in making cultures of the cancer bacillus in a certain mixture forming on plates. When transferred to animals the bacillus caused genuine cancer.

In an interview with the correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger, Dr. Schmidt said:

"I can therefore claim to prove that cancer can be artificially produced in animals."

Dr. Schmidt showed several animals with cancer communicated through infection. He does not affirm that a remedy for cancer is now possible. Since he discovered the bacillus, Dr. Schmidt has been experimenting with the remedy, which has given good results, but apparently a cure is only possible when the cancer is little advanced. Where the ulceration was old, however, the disease was brought to a standstill, and the condition of the patient showed great improvement. Dr. Schmidt apparently has not told what his remedy is, but it is not a serum.

Physicians maintain a cautious attitude towards Dr. Schmidt's discovery.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

A ROW AT KINGSTON

Executive's Recomendation for a Job is Slighted.

Kingston, Sept. 3.—Further dissatisfaction is caused among local Liberals following up that created by the recent appointment of Major Shannon to the senior harbormastership of this district.

Several weeks ago the local Liberal executive made a recommendation for the position of chief engineer at the government dry dock here. Edward Hiscock, a prominent Liberal worker, received the majority of votes in the executive, and was slated for the position. This appointment has never been confirmed, however, and Saturday morning a sensation was sprung when the announcement was made of the appointment of James Gillies, another applicant to the position.

It is the feeling among local Liberals that Gillies was the choice of the Hon. Mr. Hargy, who has pushed him in ahead of the executive's appointee. Hiscock's supporters are up in arms, and were it not for the fact that the Liberal executive is a defunct body, owing to the recent disturbances over the Shannon appointment, a stormy session might be expected.

An Old Brain Twister.

The St. Mary's Argus, in its extracts from old files, under the head of "When St. Mary's was a Village," has the following:—"Forty-five years ago Dr. McLellan, now principal of the Hamilton School of Pedagogy, was principal of St. Mary's Public School. He conducted a column in The Argus devoted to the solution of mathematical problems and other questions which interested the pioneer readers of this paper. Here is a sample problem, which appeared in his column in 1860: "A young man having asked the hand of a farmer's daughter, in marriage, the old gentleman replied: 'Between my house and the roadside there gates, and if you will select such a number of apples that, after dividing half the number and half an apple more at the first gate, half the remainder and half an apple more at the second gate, half the remainder and half an apple more at the third gate, you will still have one left for my daughter, she is yours.' How many apples must the lover select, and how many must he leave at each gate, none being cut?"

For the Stomach Heart and Kidneys

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a Cause Cure—not a Symptom Cure.

It is common mistake to take artificial digestives for stomach troubles—or heart stimulants for weak heart—or so-called kidney remedies for diseased kidneys. These organs do not act separately or of their own accord—they have no control over themselves—and not once in 500 times is the sickness the fault of the organ. It is the fault of the nerves which control the organs—and only through these nerves can stomach, kidney or heart disease be cured. Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wisconsin, learned early in his medical experience that these inside nerves—these nerves the power nerves—that through them only was it possible to secure indigestion, heart disease, backache, insomnia, headache, heart weakness, nervousness, and Bright's disease. And that in one and all other affections of the kidneys. For all of these ailments are not separate sicknesses and are not to be treated as such. They are merely symptoms of inside nerve weakness, and when the nerves are restored the symptoms and the sickness disappear. The remedy which Dr. Shoop prescribed for these ailing nerves is known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It relieves the pain and distress of kidney, stomach and heart troubles quicker even than those medicines designed simply to give temporary relief. Dr. Shoop's Restorative can now be had of druggists everywhere. For sale and recommended by

J. D. TULLY.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 11-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 130 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

The carriage was ordered, and the duchess, the Lady Katherine Wardour, and Lady Etheridge withdrew to dress.

In half an hour they were on their way to Lester House, where in about twenty minutes they drew up and sent in their cards.

Lady Lester, of course, was at home to the Duchess of Beresleigh and her party. They were immediately shown up into the drawing-room, where they found her in an elegant morning negligee of white India muslin, trimmed with silver, reclining on a sofa.

She arose and floated gracefully on to receive the duchess and the younger ladies, all of whom she greeted with much exigence.

When they were all seated, she contrived to place herself next to the young baroness, to whom she turned with a vivid smile, and said:

"I was at your presentation yesterday, my dear Lady Etheridge, and I saw the sensation that was created. Permit me to congratulate—not you, my dear, but society, for its charming acquisition in yourself."

The young baroness bowed at this fine speech, while the rosy cloud rolled up over her fair neck and face.

She had not lost her lovely country habit of blushing at a compliment.

The conversation turned upon the incidents of the late royal drawing-room, the court circle, the Prince and Princess of Wales, the opposing cabals of St. James' Palace and Carleton House, and then diverged to the new political, literary, and fashionable stars that had arisen, or were about to arise, in the social empyrean.

When the various political planets had been discussed, Lady Lester suddenly turned to the duchess, and inquired:

"Oh, by the way, can your grace, who used always to be the first to introduce any new literary luminary to the world of society, tell us the author of the new poem about which every one is raving?"

"No; I cannot. I was about to ask the question of you, who have been in town so much longer than myself," answered the duchess.

"Ah! then nobody knows. It is reported, however, that the author is a lady who lives somewhere in the West End. Your grace has read the poem, however?"

"Yes; and admired it very much. It is wonderfully true and beautiful."

"And the author? Do you think it could have been written by a lady?"

"It is evidently the work of some clear-visioned, large-souled woman; one who has loved deeply, suffered greatly, and thought strongly; one who has come forth from some great life struggle, strengthened—one who has issued from some fiery furnace of sorrow, purified. I would give much to know her," said the duchess.

"It is rumored that the first edition of the poem is already exhausted, and that another is about to be issued, with the name of the author. How anxiously it will be expected!"

"She will be a star of the first magnitude, whenever she chooses to shine forth from her cloud of incognito," said the duchess.

"And of course your grace's drawing room will be the first sphere she will illuminate," said Lady Lester, following up the metaphor.

"I shall certainly seek her out when I know whom to seek, or where to seek her."

"Your grace secures every new star of genius—or of beauty," said Lady Lester, turning with a bow to the young baroness.

"Nay, not every new star; there must be some personal excellence higher than either beauty or genius to recommend an aspirant to my favor. This lady in question, I am sure, from her writings, possesses the excellences of which I speak. I shall be happy to discover her," said the duchess, rising, with a smile, to take her leave.

The young baroness followed her example.

They made their adieus, entered the carriage, and returned to Beresleigh House.

There a surprise awaited them.

While the duchess, the Ladies Wardour and Lady Etheridge were seated at lunch in the morning-room of her grace, a footman entered, and laid before the young baroness a letter sealed with the royal arest.

"Who brought that, Barnes?" inquired the duchess, looking suspiciously at the missive.

"A messenger in the royal livery, your grace."

"Does he wait?"

"No, your grace; he said no answer was required."

"You may go."

"Now, Rose, my love, open it, and let us know what it is all about," said the duchess, using a tone of gentle authority, which, however, upon any other occasion, she would not have ventured upon.

Rose, who had been turning the letter curiously in her hands, now broke the seal and read it, and as she read, the rose clouds rolled up over her fair bosom, neck and face.

"What is it, my dear?" inquired the duchess.

"It is," said Rose, hesitatingly and blushing yet more deeply, "a letter appointing me one of the ladies-in-waiting upon her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales, and commanding me to repair to Carleton House, where apartments will be ready for my reception."

The duchess could scarcely restrain an outburst of indignation.

"Am I obliged to go? Is one compelled to obey a royal mandate of this sort?" inquired Rose, in dismay.

"Heaven forbid! No, my love. On the contrary, you are obliged, by every consideration of self-respect, honor and delicacy, to decline the appointment. You cannot become the associate of Lady Jersey, and others of the Princess' household," said the duchess, with a crimson spot glowing upon her forehead, a sign with her of almost irrepressible anger.

And accordingly that afternoon a messenger was dispatched to Carleton House, bearing a note with Lady Etheridge's respectful submission to the Prince and Princess of Wales, entreating their permission to decline an hon or so far above her merits, and beg ging leave to remain their Royal Highnesses' most grateful and humble servant, etc., etc., etc.

The very same day brought invitations from the Duchesses of Devonshire, Gordon and Cumberland to various fetes, to be given by their graces in the course of the next fort night, to all of which were returned polite excuses for non-acceptance.

"I am in your hands, dear madam," said Rose to the Duchess of Beresleigh, "and will accept and decline invitations just as you advise. But, oh! I do long to go and see my dear Mis Elmer."

"You can go to-morrow, my dear, if you like, and upon reflection, I advise you to go about two o'clock, which will probably be the hour of the midday recess, when she will be at leisure," replied her grace.

"Then I will go to-morrow, for, oh, madam, I feel toward that high-souled lady as though she were a dethroned queen, and I look upon myself as a miserable usurper, whom the mob, in some transient ascendency over rightful authority, have raised to her throne. I know this fleeting glory of mine can not last! 'The queen shall enjoy her own again,' and I—where shall I be? Lost and forgotten in my native obscurity! But little shall I care so that right triumphs!"

His Part.

In the English "Cap and Gown" is told the following story of Oxford life. It is called "Hauled by the Dean." The dean, who had rebuked Mr. Brown for having assisted at the ducking of a fellow student, asks the offender, "What part did you take in this disgraceful affair?" and Mr. Brown replies meekly, "The left leg, sir."

A Facetious Convict.

"This confinement," said the long faced prison visitor, "must distress you greatly." "Yes," replied the facetious convict, "I find the prison bars grating." "Ah, life to you is a failure." "Yes. It's nothing but a cell."

No Chance to Grow.

Mrs. Newwed—Dear me, these eggs are very small, Grocer—They are indeed, mum, and I'm sure I don't know why. Mrs. Newwed—Oh, I dare say it's because you take them out of the nest too soon.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 3,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $35,-000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hundreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

A Woman's Kidneys

What Doctors Notice and What They Don't.

Disease in the kidneys is one of the last ailments for which a doctor looks when treating women. This is a great mistake.

Women are very prone to kidney trouble and in fact many physicians attribute a woman's languor and ill health to a derangement of the genital organs, when it's simply plain kidney disease, and nothing else.

Many so supposed female complaints are either kidney or bladder diseases.

Sick kidneys of course make associate organs sick also.

The result is back pains, bearing down sensations, utter weariness and headache.

But Dr. Hamilton's Pills go right to the spot.

They put life into the kidney that makes a worn out woman feel like new.

Indirectly the blood and nervous centres are assisted by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and the result is a proper performance of the function and a painless fulfilment of nature's command.

Thus it is that a woman can gain much happiness and abundant good health by the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

From her home near Portland, Ont., Mr. A. B. Coburn writes:

"For two years past I have been sickly and weak. My color was dull and sallow, and I felt exhausted and weary, as if all my strength were being eaten up with some hidden trouble. I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to use them. The change in a few days was surprising. They regulated my kidneys and bowels and cured all my suffering; today I am perfectly well."

You can rely on Dr. Hamilton's Pills with implicit confidence; their effect is wonderful. Sold by all dealers. Price 25c. per box, five boxes for $1.00, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—The Elks met last night.

—All the schools in the city opened yesterday morning for the fall term.

—The regular monthly meeting of the City Council was held yesterday evening.

—Rev. Dr. Torrance and Rev. F. A. Langfeldt will hold a prayer meeting at Stewart's Hall, Otonabee, on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

—Only one drunk up for trial after Saturday night, Sunday and Labor Day at yesterday's police court, speaks volumes for Peterborough's sobriety and morality.

—Rapid progress has been made on the erection of the new fire hall on Aylmer street. The brick work is nearly completed and the carpenters will start to work in a very short time.

—The Beaver Lodge committee and the Trip to Toronto committee will meet in Oddfellows' Hall on Thursday evening to take definite action in regard to the work of both committees.

—During Sunday night's windstorm one of the big metal chimneys on the Lock Works was blown down. No serious damage was done. The chimney was an old one and was rusted through, so that the loss is not great.

—P. C. McGinty while on his rounds yesterday gathered in a couple of gentlemen who were slightly the worse of liquor. One of them gives his name as Johnston Ferguson, while the other was so far under the influence that he forgot his name.

Sacred Music Sunday Afternoon

Arrangements have been completed whereby a sacred concert, will be given in Victoria Park next Sunday afternoon by the 57th Regimental band.

The music furnished, on account of the sanctity of the Sabbath, will not include any thing of secular character, will be of high class and appropriate nature, that has been specially selected and thoroughly practised. This most impressive sacred concert will begin at four p.m., thus eliminating all trouble with interferance with any of the Sunday school meetings.

Rev. F. J. Scott Has Resigned

Rev. F. J. Scott has resigned the pastorate of Murray street Baptist church. He announced his resignation after the communion service Sunday morning and his proposed action came as a great surprise to the congregation. Upon announcing his resignation Mr. Scott left the pulpit and the congregation who had been greatly touched by their pastor's words, reluctantly confirmed his action.

The rev. gentleman will enter upon the South American missionary field.

More Room Wanted In Coll. Inst.

It now is clearly proven that the Board of Education is not only justified, but actuated by the dictates of common sense, based upon practical experience in asking for a new Collegiate Institute. When the institute pupils gathered at that local seat of learning yesterday morning, after the holidays, it was clearly seen that the accommodation of the institute were inadequate to the requirements by fully 25 pupils.

Dredge "Trent" Outing.

One of the most successful and enjoyable outings of Labor Day was that held under auspices of the crew of the Dominion Government Dredge "Trent." The staff went to Rice Lake on the steamer Myrtle, and enjoyed every minute of their day's outing. Capt. Birnie was on the quarter deck and after good fishing and a thoroughly enjoyable time brought the Government boys back with a coat of tan and good words for their trip.

Mr. Frank Bell Was Honored.

Mr Frank J. Bell, the popular American consul for Peterborough, and clerk of the local division court, of the twenty-first annual convention of the Association of Division Clerks of Ontario held in Toronto, was elected vice-president. No Engines on Chemong Bridge

The special session of the County Council was resumed Monday afternoon after the members returned from the funeral of the late D. B. Kelly. All the members being present and Warden Johnston was in the chair.

The first business transacted was giving a third reading to the bylaw providing for raising by debentures $14,000 to pay for the construction of bridges last year and this year. The bylaw was read by Councillor Moloney and was passed.

The $14,000 debentures will be advertised in the Monetary Times. The said tenders will be received up to ten o'clock Saturday morning, Sept. 22nd, when the council will meet again to open the tenders.

The question of engines crossing Chemong Lake floating bridge was considered. Mr. Peck thought the county had a right to prohibit this. The county solicitor was instructed to draft a bylaw prohibiting this endangerment of the bridge.

The Lift Lock Dive Called Off.

As a slight indication of the circulation of The Morning Times, it might be noted that in Monday's issue we noted that a certain gentleman of the city would dive from the tower of the lift lock into the basin on a wager at 5 o'clock that morning, and there was a large crowd present of those who had seen the notice. Unfortunately the other party to the bet did not make good, although the party offering to make good was present. Whilst The Times has no power to compel those making such wagers to fulfil their promises, the matter is noted in these columns through the principal in the bet and a large crowd

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is a powerful, invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. The local, womanly health is so intimately related to the general health that when diseases of the delicate womanly organs are cured the whole body gains in health and strength. For weak and sickly women who are "worn-out," "run-down" or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office or schoolroom, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proven a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving powers.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womanly organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Cures obstinate cases. "Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of "female weakness," painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus or falling of the pelvic organs, weak back, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medical roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities.

Your druggists sell the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

Is authorized to act as

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

Thief Begs For Wife's Freedom

"Do What You Like With Me, But Let Her Go," Pleaded Harry Tompkins to Court--- Four Years in Penitentiary.

Toronto, Sept. 6.—Kissing his wife passionately on the lips, Harry Tompkins, the accomplished thief, seemed to feel her absence of six months more than his own of four years in the penitentiary. As Magistrate Denison said that Minnie Tompkins would go to the Mercer for six months, she burst into tears, tottered, and would have fallen had it not been for her husband's protecting arms. He clasped her to his breast, and she sobbed on his shoulder as he tried to whisper comforting words into her ear.

"Don't cry, little girl. It'll soon be over. It was my fault—all my fault. Don't cry."

With his arms still supporting her the convicted couple left the court room—Tompkins to four years' confinement in Kingston, his wife to six months' incarceration in the Mercer.

Tompkins throughout the trial has shown a bravado which has hindered his case and turned away all sympathizers, encouraging even his best friends. Only his wife stuck to him, and perjured herself in a vain effort to free him.

But "there's a little of the best in the worst of us," and that little was laid bare this morning when Harry Tompkins took the stand, and with gentlest pleading mien, begged Magistrate Denison to let his wife off lightly for her.

TOOK ALL THE BLAME.

"It was no her fault. She is innocent and honest. She never did a dishonest thing in her life. She did just what I told her, and when she gave false testimony on the stand it was only at my suggestion, and at my earnest persuasion. I'm to blame. Do what you like to me, but let her go."

"When she perjured herself it was at your suggestion then?" asked Mr. Corley.

"Yes."

"She is lawfully married to you?"

"Yes and all she did was for me."

"Yes, I think she's innocent of all wrong-doing," said the magistrate. "I think she wife is a poor, innocent fool who has allowed this man to make her a tool of his. The man, though, is no fool."

Sentence was then pronounced, and Mrs. Tompkins broke down completely.

Present at time of his sentence were Tompkins' father, two brothers and two other relatives. They have been long used to their wayward boy's vagaries, and exhibited no symptoms of profound surprise. They seemed to expect even a heavier sentence. His father took the stand and testified that he thought the boy was a good boy, although he had been away from home since 1892, when he left for Montreal.

The sentence of four years imposed on Tompkins was on each of four different charges, viz., they are to run concurrently. Minnie Tompkins was convicted on two charges of theft.

QUITE A CRIMINAL RECORD.

Almost from the time that he left home Tompkins has followed a criminal career. It is the old, old story of getting into bad company, and being led on from crime to crime. He has been arrested many a time, and has a record of convictions that is very unenviable, including a term for housebreaking.

Tompkins and his wife are two of six alleged criminals arrested a month ago in two Church street boarding houses, where the police captured a large quantity of plunder. The evidence against the other four was not very convincing, and they were warned to leave town. The sixth are claimed by the police to be the members of a gang of over twenty-five men and women who have operated extensively throughout Canada and the United States during the last two years. Some others believed to be members of the same gang are now in custody in Detroit. The leader is still at large, but the police have him under surveillance.

Pretty Wedding at 311 Stewart St.

Miss Edna May Stanger is Now Mrs. John Hepburn Miller.

Yesterday afternoon a pretty wedding was celebrated at 311 Stewart street, when Miss Edna May Stanger, eldest daughter of Mr. John Stanger, was united in marriage to Mr. John Hepburn Miller, of the firm of Alexander & Miller, and son of Col. J. W. Miller. The ceremony, witnessed by about thirty-five guests, was performed by Rev. J. C. Potter.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Stella, and charmingly attired in a costume of point d'esprit over white taffeta and Brussels net, made in princess effect and trimmed with Valenciennes lace and rows of insertion, and wore the customary veil and orange blossoms.

The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Norman Miller. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Mildred Brightman.

Mr and Mrs. Miller left on the 5.18 C.P.R. train for Toronto, Hamilton and Brantford, where a two weeks' honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will reside at 360 Brock street.

Rheumatism is not incurable, notwithstanding! Yes! But Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy will if faithfully used drive it out of the system. Its the blood that's at fault. Poisonous crystals like sand get into the joints and muscles. Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy prevents this. It drives rheumatism from the blood and then Rheumatism dies. We recommend and sell at J. D. Tully.

Miss Margaret Cox Now a Matron

Fashionable Wedding Celebrated Here Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon at 1.40 a brilliant assemblage gathered at the residence of the bride's home, Scott street when Miss Margaret Gertrude Cox, daughter of the late Aaron A. Cox, and niece of Hon. Senator Cox, became the bride of William Moxon Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johns of Cleveland, Ohio, and president of the Central Lithographing Company of that city.

The drawing room was profusely and tastefully decorated with natural flowers.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Prof. F. H. Wallace of Victoria University, Toronto, an old friend of the bride's family. The bride was attended by Miss Edna Johns of Cleveland, sister of the groom. Miss Emma Cox, sister of the bride, made a charming flower girl, and the four ribbon girls were Miss Ethel Amer of Toronto, cousin of the bride, Miss Louise Stanley, Rochester, N.Y., Miss Minnie Pearce, niece of the bride, and Miss Lillian Cox, sister of the bride.

The bride, preceded by the flower girl, entered the room, leaning on the arm of her uncle, Hon. Senator Cox, who gave her away. Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by Mrs. Harry Thompson. At the close of the ceremony Miss Trebilcock of Toronto, sang "O, Promise Me".

The bride was charmingly attired in a princess robe of white point de pique, made en train, trimmed with lace of silver over chiffon with an underskirt of taffeta. She wore the conventional bridal veil and orange blossoms and heather, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, and wore a heart shaped brooch of sapphires and pearls —the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Cox, mother of the bride, was attired in a rich gown of black lace over black satin.

After the wedding breakfast a reception was held, during which some two hundred tendered their congratulations to the charming bride and her popular husband.

The presents were of great value and beauty, including much silver and cut glass. Among the gifts was a beautiful Chickering baby grand piano from the bride's uncle, Hon. Senator Cox.

Mr and Mrs. Johns left on the 5.15 C.P.R. train for the west on their wedding trip. The bride's going-away gown was of fawn chiffon broadcloth over taffeta. The skirt was trimmed with velvet buttons and appliqué. The coat was Eton mode trimmed with baby Irish lace. The hat was of toque silk felt, appropriately trimmed.

The guests from outside the city, included the following, viz., Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Johns, Miss Edna Johns, Mr. Frank Johns, Mrs. T. H. Graham and Mr. Harley Smith, of Cleveland; Mr and Mrs. Chas. Stanley and Miss Louise Stanley, of Rochester, N.Y.; Mr and Mrs. A. L. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Amer, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cox, Mr and Mrs. H. C. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stirling, Miss Stirling and Miss Irene Stirling, Prof. and Mrs. Wallace, and Miss Clara Foley, of Toronto; Mrs. Ford, of Shreveport, Louisiana; Mrs. Richard Towns, of Philip, Miss.; Mrs. Hobbs of Cuba; Dr. A. Frost, of London, and Miss Trebilcock and Messrs. Clayton Coleman and Alfred Morrow of Toronto.

Mr and Mrs. Johns will be at home at their residence, "Somerset," Billings avenue, Cleveland, after November 3rd.

The fortunate groom is a popular business man of Cleveland, who has a host of friends.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY

Is the Motto of Ald. Geo. Ball—"Live and Let Live" is a Fair Business Proposition.

At Monday night's council meeting when the question of giving the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Association a grant of $400 was raised, Ald. Geo. Ball, while expressing his sympathy with the measure, took exception to the act of the directors last year in sending out of town for a portion of their printing. He could not see the consistency of a society which gets a big yearly grant from a corporation acting out of the limits of that corporation for any supplies that may be obtained from the ratepayers who are taxed for their equable portion of said grant. Further, in subsequent conversation, Ald. Ball remarked that there exists too much patronizing of out of town sources of supplies by business people who, to use a popular aphorism, proclaim from the street corners that it is the duty of all citizens to patronize home industry. Ald. Ball, to cut the words of Mr. O'Connell, may be a visionary reformer, but there is more truth than fiction in some of his arguments, to say the least.

Two Black Squirrels Caught.

This week as Mr. M. C. Tooley and Acting Chief of Police Adams were out fishing on the Otonabee at Campbellton, they were somewhat surprised to see two large black squirrels swimming across the river. They gave chase with their canoe and succeeded in catching both of the squirrels alive. As they were particularly fine specimens, they boxed them up and yesterday sent the pair by express to Alderman Stewart, Toronto, who will have them placed in Riverdale Park. During their week's outing those two gentlemen caught 32 lunge and 140 cat fish.

Mr. Crosbie, who is a leading bolt and rivet manufacturer in Scotland, speaks in highest terms of the Canadian future outlook. Mr. Crosbie yesterday, with his party took a trip over the lift lock.

ENGLAND IS VANISHING

IS SLOWLY DISAPPEARING IN "DAVY JONESS" LOCKER

Towns and Villages Swallowed Up by the Ocean—Remarkable Discrepancies in Coast Contour.

London, September 5.—Speaking of the remarkable discrepancies existing in the coast lines of England, the Pall Mall Gazette declare that the defence of a coast contour against the encroachments of the sea is of national importance, and it should be a national duty, after the manner adopted by our Dutch brethren across the German Ocean. If one compares the present coast line of some centuries ago, a remarkable discrepancy will be noticed. The tidal wave from the Atlantic, which divides on the Cornish coast, has much to answer for. One part passes around the north of Scotland into the German Ocean, and thence in a southerly direction, to be met by the other part sweeping up the English Channel. Backward and forward pass the detritus laden waters, grinding away at the cliffs of Albion and giving the sea each year a firmer grip upon the land. In the course of centuries acres and acres have disappeared; populous towns have vanished beneath the waves, and only a name and a memory remain where once a thriving multitude held sway.

Yorkshire alone has record of no fewer than twelve drowned towns and villages. There was Ravenspur, for instance, which was constituted a free borough by Edward I., at a cost of 1300, and became a seaport of almost national importance. There it was that Edward Balliol embarked with a force 2,500 strong in order to win the crown of Scotland. The town, bigger and more important than Hull, had five churches, a capacious harbor and a number of buildings befitting its rank and importance. Where are they now?

Traveling southward, one comes to Norfolk, Suffolk and Essex, three counties which in particular have suffered from the onslaught of the waves. When Cromer was an inland village, Shipden was a royal demesne; today Shipden has been drowned and Cromer is a seaside town, though how long it will remain so depends on its protective measures against the sea. It has already spent £36,000 on sea defenses. Or Lowestoft? During the twenty years ending in 1904 the sea denuded the beach of more than 200,000 tons of shingle, representing on the north side of the town alone nearly 300,000 square yards of material. Not less than £57,000 has been spent on protective measures, and on the south side of the town the low water mark has been driven back nearly seventy feet. But what much more remains to be done is evident from the fact that fourteen feet of cliff at Pakefield, near Lowestoft, recently disappeared, leaving the Cliff Hotel in such a perilous position that it is no longer habitable.

Dunwich, perhaps, is the most notable example of this terrible devastation. A village of a hundred-odd inhabitants and the ruins of a large church on the edge of a crumbling cliff are all that remain of the ancient capital of East Anglia, which, according to Stow, had "a King's court and bishop's palace, and Mayor's mansion, and fifty-two churches, and the same number of windmills, together with a spacious and well frequented harbor, in which were as many top ships as churches." No fewer than 400 houses were swept away in a single year in the reign of Edward II.; between 1555 and 1600, four churches disappeared; by 1677 the sea had "quietly stopped over" the market place; and by 1729 St. Peter's church and its graveyard were under water. In Kent the land has the upper hand, on the whole, though it is instructive to note that Reculver church in Whitsy Bay, was a mile from the sea in the reign of Henry VIII. Only a sea wall has saved from destruction the spires, which are maintained by Trinity House to serve as a landmark to sailors.

The Isle of Wight is in a pitiable condition. So recently as November last thirty-six feet of the shore between Freshwater Bay and the Yar River was claimed by the sea, and it is quite possible that within the next few years the Needles district will be cut off from the main part by the sea.

What do these losses mean? They mean that every year we lose a tract of land the size of Gibraltar; while on the east coast alone territory as large as Heligoland disappears. It has been calculated that in modern times alone Yorkshire has lost land equal to the area of Guernsey, and Kent a piece as large as Bermuda.

Some Local School Changes

When the children of this city returned after the midsummer vacation to those places which afford relief and renewed vitality to the various matters-families, the public schools, they found several changes had been made in the teaching staff personel.

Miss Dawson has been transferred from the principalship of George St. school to third room work in the South Central, and Mr. Kerr, who has had charge of the latter work takes the principalship of George St. school.

Miss Burns, who has had charge of the junior work in the South Central school, has been transferred to the Northern ward and her place is taken by Miss Watt, a new teacher. Miss Howson, who has had charge of the primary division in the George street school, has gone to Queen's College, and to fill her position Miss Pritty has been transferred from the part two work over which she had charge, and put in charge of the primary work. Miss Pratt's place is taken by Miss Hamilton.

SENSIBLE REVIVAL

Doctrine That is Being Preached by Best People of Peterborough.

There are all kinds of revivals, religious moral, and temperance, but today the chief interest seems to be in a revival for good health, and it seems to be the Mi-o-na doctrine that has the most adherents in Peterborough. Wipe out indigestion and stomach troubles by using Mi-o-na tablets and most of the misery and ill health would be blotted out of existence.

Indigestion and stomach weakness cause headache, backache, nervousness, debility, sleeplessness, pains in the side and lungs, poor appetite and a general unhealthy state. Take one little Mi-o-na tablet before each meal for a few days and you will soon find that life is filled with joy and health, that eating is a pleasure and food does not cause distress, and that your digestive organs have become so strong as to be entitled with the digestion of an ostrich.

A large box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold for 50c, and is successful and reliable in curing indigestion and all stomach troubles, with the exception of cancer of the stomach.

Germany Learns From Britain

And Britain May Also Learn From Germany, Says Chancellor Von Buelow--- English are Suspicious.

London, Sept. 6.—The Daily Mail publishes an interview had by its correspondent at Nordernay with Chancellor Von Buelow.

The Chancellor contended that although Germany had made great strides in the building of warships the navy was still very small in proportion to Germany's overseas commerce.

It was, however, sheer nonsense to argue that Germany thinks she is competing with Great Britain for the mastery of the sea. She might as well be accused of wishing to build a railway to the moon.

Regarding English suspicions that Germany is trying to checkmate Great Britain wherever she can, the Chancellor declared there was no foundation for them beyond commercial rivalry, which was as legitimate as it was universal throughout the world. This was as true in connection with the Bagdad Railway and Turkey generally, as anywhere else in the world.

"We are all commercial rivals in Turkey," he added. "I admit Germany possess an advantage in Turkey over some of her competitors, but it is one which nobody is likely to deprive them of except by excelling them in the one particular to which their advantage is mainly due. Let me quote the words of a high official living in Turkey. 'All of us,' said the official, 'are intent upon making money in Turkey, but whereas some try to do so without waiting to give a fair equivalent in return, those Germans who are successful there work for their hire. They work hard and conscientiously to produce something. For instance the Anatolian Railway and German hospitals and schools. They give fair return for what they get.'"

Speaking of international relations generally, Chancellor Von Buelow contended that all nationalities now adays are more or less interdependent. They are compelled to learn from one another, and they benefited from this. No nation had learned so much from another as had Germany from England, and she can still do so. England may correspondingly learn from Germany.

Referring to the recent meeting of King Edward and Emperor William the Chancellor said: "Again political questions were not discussed, for the simple reason that no such questions exist between England and Germany. The meeting of the monarchs marked as auspicious stage on the road to the gradual elimination of misunderstanding between the two countries."

Another English Destitution Case

Another case of destitution in connection with English immigrants brought out by the Salvation Army is now in evidence. It seems that last June, an elderly Englishman named Cook, was sent to Peterborough by the Army emmigration bureau, the understanding given Cook in England being that work would be furnished him immediately on arrival here. On arrival of Cook with his wife and three children, the family had neither means of support nor was work supplied him, nor did the family have a roof to cover them. Mrs. Cook says that when the family arrived here they were told by Adj. Jennings, that her husband would have to go out and hunt up a job. Cook went out to Otonabee and worked for farmers when work was available.

A few days ago complaints came in from neighbors in Otonabee that the Cook family were in a destitute condition. Agent Geo. Cochrane of the Children's Aid Society, made investigations, and found that the five members of the family, husband, wife and three children, had only one bed and no stove.

The poor family cooked their frugal meals on a heap of stones outside the house. They had not sufficient food to sustain life properly.

Mr Cochrane brought the whole family to the city on Monday night, when they were taken in at the Children's Shelter, where Mr. Henry, the caretaker, took charge of, and made them comfortable. The husband was brought before County Police Magistrate Edmison on a charge of non-support, and was remanded until Saturday. In the meantime, Mrs. Cook and the children are at the shelter. Cook is an old man, a retired British soldier.

It is now up to the Army to quit sending out people unable to support their families, to Canada.

Dixon Park Finally Chosen

Toronto Department of Education Settles Normal School Site.

The long threshed out and vexed question of where the new Normal will be located is now definitely settled.

Yesterday morning Mayor Best received the following letter from Mr. A. H. U. Colquhoun, Deputy Minister of Education, which sufficiently tells the town story. The following is the letter.

Toronto, Sept. 4.

Mayor Best, Peterborough,

Dear Sir.—I am directed by the Minister of Education, to state, in reply to your letter of the 30th ult., that the approves of the Dixon Park as the site for the Normal School at Peterborough, and accepts the proposal of the Peterborough Board of Education to extend the present North Ward school to a ten-room building as satisfactory.

The conveyance papers may now be made out in the name of His Majesty the King and forwarded to this department.

A. H. U. Colquhoun,
Deputy Minister of Education.

Robert Hill Wins His Case

The Dummer Township Tragedy is Once More Recalled.

As an aftermath of the Dummer township tragedy, in which the Bill boy was shot, news now comes from Toronto that Robert Hill, father of the murdered boy, took action to set aside the sale of Gow's farm to his father, on the ground that it was put through to defeat the lends of justice. He was awarded $650 damages, which have not been paid. The master-in-chambers gave judgment, allowing the plaintiff to revive the action and proceed to trial at the Peterborough sittings in October.

Fruit Thieves Are Arrested

Yesterday afternoon P. C. Newhall made an arrest that will probably have a tendency towards preventing a lot of trouble likely experienced by local fruit growers.

It seems that fruit growers and market gardeners, especially in the south portion of the city have had a deal of trouble over their goods being pilfered.

On Tuesday, Mr. Sanderson, a market gardener in the South Ward, saw several young men hanging about his tomato patch. He told the boys he would give them such of the fruit as they wanted, but would not allow them to help themselves. He then supplied them with tomatoes.

Yesterday afternoon he saw the same three youths, enter his garden and get busy with his tomatoes. The three would take a bite out of a large tomatoe, and then throwing the balance of such fruit away, carefully pick another. Mr. Sanderson laid a complaint with the police magistrate and P.C. Newhall, in quick time had two of the three alleged thieves under arrest. He expected to capture the third during the night.

This arrest will probably put an end to his troublesome practice.

The baseball season will be brought to a close on Saturday afternoon, when the Shamrock nine will play a picked team of the city an exhibition game on Riverdale Park. This game will no doubt be one of the best played here this season. The Shamrocks have defeated the Athletics and Strathconas separately, but the latter teams think they can pick a nine out of the two aggregations that will keep the Irishmen guessing.

A practise of the Peterborough Quakers is called for this evening on Riverside Park. The team accompanied by as many as possible are requested to be on the grounds at 6.45.

Hotel de Cops was again last night filled to its utmost, guests were registered from all parts of the city, amongst them being a young American by the name of Willis, who was allowed to occupy No. 1 for being drunk and assaulting a waiter boy. John Marshall was his next door neighbor. He tackled larger game in the shape of P.C. McHarry, but as usual came off second best. P.C. Newhall was quickly on the scene in both cases and on such occasion the undesirable guest had a rapid march to be well known cooler which has of late chilled the courage of so many local windbags. P.C. Newhall at one o'clock this morning gathered in the third member of the young men charged with stealing fruit from market gardeners.

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition.

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At times I was prostrated with nervous and sick headache. All day I was tired. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and sufferrd from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well."

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

UNION MADE

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 6 1906

A STRIKING OBJECT LESSON

Australia furnishes a striking object-lesson in the blighting effects which labor-unionism in the saddle may inflict upon a country. The so-called Labor party in Australia is not altogether dominant in the affairs of that country, it is true. But it holds a balance of power in the Federal Parliament, and by making coalitions with other parties and factions it is able to secure the enactment of much radical and whimsical legislation. The major part of the legislation which has been enacted in Australia of late years has been the result of compromises, coalitions and bargainings with the powerful labor faction; and thus, though in a minority, the Labor party has been able to dictate some of the most important and far-reaching legislation of the country. Great Britain seems to be drifting onto the same dangerous reefs and shoals—but that is another story.

The Australian legislation of the class here referred to is mostly experimental, one-sided, unjust, and injurious to the true interests of the country. To a large extent it has been directed against capital, and in not a few instances with blind, fanatical animosity as its impelling motive. The laborite fanatics of Australia have evidently forgotten that capital is as necessary as labor in the development of beneficient industry, and that the highest conditions of general prosperity are realized only when capital and labor go forward in harmony and co-operation. As a result of the short-sighted policies which have prevailed in Australia, capital has been kept out of the country, industrialism has languished, the resources of the country have been but little developed, and the people are bitterly complaining of poverty, which is largely of their own making. Since the era of labor union ascendency Australia has been bitterly unprosperous, regarded from any and every point of view. It is manifestly impossible for the country to become prosperous, industrially or otherwise, while labor-unionism is able to dictate the laws and policies of the country.

"Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad." It must be the intention of the gods to destroy the labor leaders of Australia, for the latter have certainly gone mad in the formulation and promulgation of their inordinate demands. These demands, as summarized by the Sydney Telegraph, are in part as follows:

"Land—The nationalization of land, cessation of Crown land sales, progressive land value tax, special taxation of land held and incomes derived by absentees, a State Bank, resumption of land at owner's valuation for taxation purposes, plus 10 per cent.

"Government—Abolition of the Legislative Council; all government work to be executed direct, without contractors; election of Justices of the Peace by the people; members of all Water and Sewerage Boards to be elected by adult suffrage; all iron required for the State to be produced from State mines; election of public school boards by the people; free education; all taxation assessments to be published.

"Local Government—Power to acquire property by local bodies, but with no power to sell. Local councils not to employ contractors. Municipal councils to be empowered to establish, and conduct any industry they think fit.

"Trades Unions—Effect of the Taff Vale decision to be set aside. A minimum wage for all classes of workers. Amendment of the Workshops and Factories Act. All employes must be paid a wage. Stamping of all Chinese goods. Amendment of the Trades Unions Act. Repeal of the Masters and Servants Act.

"National Industries—State ironworks; State farms and local colonies. State woolen mills and clothing factories; State mills for wheat, grain, and other produce; State export department; nationalization of any industry which becomes a monopoly, pinnacle of electors as to nationalizing the liquor traffic; Commonwealth bank of deposit and issue, and fire and fire insurance department."

"Mining Laws—Mining on private property without royalty, and only on the actual value of land taken and damage to improvements. Abolition of the leasing system on goldfields; strict enforcement of labor conditions."

These are only a part of the demands of the Socialistic Labor party. But they are enough to show what might befall if the dare-devil agitation should gain an absolute majority in the Australian Federation Parliament. One of the most obvious of the objects sought is the virtual extinguishment of all private enterprise, and the placing of all industries in the hands of the State, or central government (to be controlled, of course, by the laborite crowd). This would be the extreme of socialism. In order to reach it, it is proposed that ultimately the owners of properties considered large shall have their properties virtually confiscated by excessive taxation and by arbitrary undervaluation, at which they will be compelled to sell. This is, in fact, a scheme of spoliation which the Labor party proposes to legalize. Is it any wonder that progress is at a standstill in Australia?

King of Abyssinia Has Many Titles

Menelik Has Many Claims on Distinguished Ancestry.

London, September 5.—Menelik, King of Abyssinia, is today probably one of the most interesting of reigning monarchs. He claims to be a descendant of the Queen of Sheba, whose own son, of the same name, was reputed to be the son of Solomon. The emperor is a very impressive looking man. His face is full of intelligence and his manners are those of a gentleman no less than of a king. He sits in Oriental fashion, his legs crossed and his arms sustained by two cushions. He wears a red velvet mantle which affords glimpses of snowy white underclothing, and about his head is wound a white handkerchief. Diamond eardrops hang at either cheek, and both hands are adorned with rings. To converse with the stranger he makes use of his private secretary, who is also his interpreter, since he speaks no other language than those of Abyssinia. Some scrape of French he can, upon occasion, employ apropos, and to an English speaking person he will address a compliment, say a "howdo." The emperor's thirst for information is phenomenal, and his knowledge of other countries is more considerable than one might imagine from the meagre sources at his disposal. His throne is a sort of divan, and occupies a platform surmounted by a gilded canopy, the gift of France. At receptions each side of it is defended by two young princes with guns, while behind and around are grouped the ministers, judges and officers of the court. His wife, Taitu, rarely or never assists at the reception of visitors, unless some public ceremony is involved absolutely requiring her presence. She is said to be a woman of great force of character and to have been in her youth of striking beauty. She is now 47 years of age, and is the daughter of a former Ras of Gondar and one of the hereditary princesses of the absorbed kingdom of Siemon, the inhabitants of which are noted for their white skins. Several times married previously she became the wife of Menelik in 1883. They have no children. Menelik calls himself "the Lion of the Tribe of Judah, the chosen of the Lord, King of Kings of Ethiopia."

Our long experience with it, over sixty years, tells us there is nothing its equal for coughs, colds in the chest, bronchitis, hoarseness, sore lungs, weak throats, and weak lungs. Doctors tells us the same thing. Ask your doctor about it.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish."

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 3 1-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 130 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is but one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

The next day, when Colonel McElroy solicited a private audience of the Prince of Wales, and laid before his royal highness the letter of Lady Etheridge, respectfully declining the post that had been offered to her, the prince fell into a most unprincely fit of profanity, a luxury in which he only indulged in the presence of such familiars as Colonel McElroy.

"And this, then, Mac, is the result of your precious plan! You would suggest nothing more original than that I should make the beauty a lady-in-waiting upon the Princess. I might have known that the old Hecate of Beresleigh would counsel her to decline the honor. And she has declined it. What has your wisdom to say now?" said the prince, ironically.

"If your royal highness will pardon the most zealous and devoted of your servants, I have another plan," said the jackal.

"Ah, you have! Then let us hear it without much preface."

"It is a plan that, with submission to your Royal Highness, should be discussed with closed doors, as the courts say."

"Then close the doors and open your communication at once," said the prince.

The jackal obeyed, and then returned to his master to divulge his second plot for getting the beautiful and innocent young baroness into the prince's power.

CHAPTER XVII.

It was Easter Monday, and the young ladies had a holiday.

Laura Elmer sat alone in the deserted schoolroom reading with much interest a review of the new poem, when Miss Lester suddenly burst in, with a gayly bound volume in her hand, exclaiming:

"Oh, Miss Elmer, here is the 'Album of Beauty,' and the frontispiece is a portrait of that beautiful Baroness Etheridge, whom every one so much admires. Only look at her. What a lovely, lovely face! And they do say she was brought up in a cottage, like Lady Burleigh or the shepherd lord—you recollect. But, oh, do look!

And the eager child spread open the folio before her governess.

"Thank you, dear," said Miss Elmer, letting her languid eyes fall upon the picture.

"And now, Miss Elmer, I thought that would amuse you while we are gone to Richmond with papa. Good-by, dear Miss Elmer."

And, kissing her hand, the volatile creature flew out of the room.

Laura Elmer looked down upon the steel engraving that formed the frontispiece of the "Album of Beauty."

Yes, it was the same lovely face, the same sweet, serious young face, veiled by the same fall of fair ringlets. The attitude was pensive, the graceful head bowed like a fair lily, and resting upon the upper hand. Her costume was rich and gorgeous, as became her rank; but the expression of her softly-closed lips and thoughtful eyes seemed to repeat the words, "I know that this pageantry is passing away. I am but a poor player-peeress who must fret her hour upon the stage until the farce is over, and then be seen no more."

No such thought crossed the mind of Laura Elmer as she gazed upon the fair portrait. She only asked herself:

"Shall the world win this sweet creature? Alas, she must be more than woman, more than human, if this sudden elevation, this dazzling success, this bewildering adulation, does not utterly spoil her. She has been in town now many weeks and has not called to see me. Has she already forgotten her fervent expressions of friendship?"

Miss Elmer was interrupted by a rap at the door.

"Come in," she said, closing and laying aside the book.

"Good-morning, Miss Elmer. I beg you will pardon my intrusion, and send me off if it is unseasonable," said Mr. Cassinove, entering.

"I am quite at leisure. Pray sit down," replied Laura, smiling to observe that he also had in his hand a book that he was about to offer to her notice.

He bowed and took the proffered seat, saying:

"I have but lately become acquainted with the rare merit of a poem about which the whole literary world has been talking and writing for the last two months. You have not read it, I hope, that you will permit me to recommend a work which, to a mind like yours, will richly repay perusal."

And he laid the volume before her.

Laura Elmer blushed deeply as she took it up.

"I am much indebted to you for your kindness, Mr. Cassinove. I have been reading this morning what I consider to be the best review that has yet been written upon this poem. As you like the poem, perhaps you would also like the review," she said, tendering the last number of the Gentleman's Magazine.

It was now Cassinove's turn to blush deeply—so deeply that, as he met the eyes of Laura Elmer, mutual consciousness flashed from eye to eye, from heart to heart, from soul to soul, suddenly revealing the truth.

"You are the reviewer," said the glance of Laura.

"And you the poet," said that of Cassinove.

The heart of the young man beat quickly. His color went and came.

"I might have known it! I might have known it! That glorious poem is but another phase of the poet woman," he thought, and what next he might have said or done is uncertain, for at that instant a door opened and a servant announced:

"Lady Etheridge!"

And the next instant Rose was in the arms of Laura.

Cassinova, with a bow, had quietly retreated from the room.

"I did not send up my name in advance, dear Miss Elmer, because I wished so much to see you, whether you would or no. Do you forgive me?" inquired Rose, bashfully.

"Most welcome intruder, yes," replied Laura, installing her visitor in the most comfortable chair.

Rose seated herself, glanced at the queenly form of Laura Elmer, arrayed in its simple dress of black serge and the royal brow with its plain bands of black hair; then at the surroundings the schoolroom, with the signs of menial drudgery, and last of all, at her own magnificent array, and sighed deeply.

"It is a long, tedious play, is it not, Miss Elmer?"

"What play, my dear?"

"This comedy of 'The Changeling,' in which they make poor Rose take the part of the baroness," she said.

"My dear, how incredulous you are of your good fortune. The history of the past twenty years was indeed a play, as far as you and I were concerned. The history of the present is a reality. Believe it, accept it and improve it."

Rose shook her head sadly, and pressing her hand upon her bosom, said:

"Ah, Miss Elmer! deep in my heart here I feel how unreal is all I see around me. Yes, Miss Elmer, sooner or later the poor little sparrow will be plucked of her bird-of-paradise plumage, and it will be well if she is not left to shiver and die of cold."

"This is morbid, very morbid, my dear. You really must banish such thoughts," said Laura, so gravely that Rose suddenly [illegible], and said:

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 2,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and one shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when completed several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refinery against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 43 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

Sin Against Health

Why the Usefulness of All Organs is Destroyed by Costiveness.

Most important to health and comfort is proper action of the bowels.

By nature these organs are intended for the removal of the waste particles of matter which accumulate in the system.

Retain these wastes and you poison the blood, ruin digestion, bring on nervousness and anaemia.

Habitual costiveness is best overcome by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which establish regularity that is exactly consistent with nature.

Not a drastic purgative—not even a pain or sensation of gripe, because Dr. Hamilton's Pills are vegetable and free from irritating mineral substances found in so many widely advertised remedies.

In every case Dr. Hamilton's Pills do cure and bring sure relief from headache, biliousness and other manifestations of Constipation.

Jas. McConnell of Walkerton writes: "Since I was comparatively a young man I have not enjoyed real good health.

"My appetite was good and strength kept up, yet I knew something was wrong.

"Frequently I took bilious attacks and violent headaches. My stomach was disordered, skin was murky, under my eyes were heavy dark rings.

"Last winter I read through the 'Poison's almanac and decided my trouble was constipation. I used Dr Hamilton's Pills, and can hardly tell the help they have been. I am now as fresh, strong and well as a boy."

Just try the wonderful magic of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Sold by all dealers. 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. That is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles resident in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS CORPORATION

Is authorized to act as

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

A Clever Writer Has Disappeared

"Call of the Wild" May Have Been Heard by Man With Indian Blood---Wife and Child in the Dark.

New York, Sept. 7.—John Milton Oskison, a magazine writer of repute, holding an editorial position on an evening newspaper of this city, and in whose veins run a half strain of Indian blood, has disappeared.

His friends are divided in their opinion of his mysterious action. Some believe he has heard and answered the "Call of the Wild," that he had gone with a blanket to his mother's people. Others think he had felt the touch of "Wanderlust," and by a higher and stronger appeal has been called to Russia, the troubles of which country have intensely interested him. He left this city on August 15, his wife and child being uninformed of his mission.

Mr. Oskison, a graduate of the Leland Stanford University and the recipient of a post-graduate degree from Harvard, was born in Vinita, Indian Territory, in September, 1874. His mother was Rachel Crittendon, a Cherokee Indian woman of high character and attainment. After his post-graduate course in Harvard he came to this city and went into newspaper work (which he combined with work for the magazines. He won one prize offered by the Century with a short story entitled, "Only the Master Shall Praise," and in 1901 he won another for another magazine with a story, "The Greater Appeal."

It is in this last story which some of his friends see a clew to his action in the present instance. It was the tale of the call of the aboriginal life to one who had endeavored to escape the condition by civilization. The fascination, the charm of the life won, and there was a return.

"CALL OF THE WILD."

Influences had been brought to bear upon one whose artistic traits, sensibilities, and disposition were repeated in the writer, and among those who knew him it attracted more than passing attention at the time it is said Mr. Oskison often supplemented his story by an expression agreeing with the final decision of this hero. He was said to have expressed a longing to experience the life of his ancestors, declaring it fulfilled every desire and ambition. But all this was simply put down as the dreaming by the clear-headed writer and forgotten until after August 15.

It is known now also that for months Mr. Oskison was profoundly interested in the Russian struggle for liberty. He was a close student of affairs and when Maxim Gorky came to this country he made the acquaintance of the Russian writer, and through him of the refugees or agents of the revolutionary cause in this country. He was often heard to tell of his interest in the situation but it was never known he had any decided leanings for the cause. That he joined any society, group, or circle, his friends say is unlikely. They do not believe he is an emissary or agent.

Mr Oskison was married, and in this city lived in the Monroe, No. 824 West End avenue. The apartment was closed when he with his wife and their young child went to Gloucester, Mass., for his vacation. When he left his office there was no hint to any of his friends of anything to be done out of the ordinary. But a few days before his vacation time expired, August 14, he suddenly reappeared in the apartment house. The next morning he ordered the janitor to bring from the basement a trunk and this he immediately packed in great haste. While he was thus engaged Mrs. Oskison appeared. The door was locked, and she succeeded in gaining admittance with the aid of the janitor, and he declares there was a somewhat extended conversation between husband and wife.

This ended when a cab ordered the evening before drove up to the door, and, accompanied by his wife, Mr. Oskison, after the trunk had been strapped upon it, entered and was driven away. The cab drove to the down town ferry, and there the wife alighted, and here definite trace ends for the friends.

Two letters were received later in the newspaper office. One was formal, tendering his resignation, and the other addressed to his most intimate friend on the staff, with whom he had dined the evening before his departure without breathing a word of the step he was to take. Immediately thereafter it was announced quietly that Mr. Oskison had gone to Russia, although he could no speak the language nor French, and had not procured a passport. But it developed that the steamship stationers upon which the letters were written was of a line that had no departures on August 15.

Mrs Oskison has given up the apartment and has gone to Delhi, N.Y. Mr. Oskison's brothers have come to the city, and while ill professed to know his whereabouts and the object of his mission, still they appear to be keeping up a search. Mrs. Albert F. Dix, mother of Mrs. Oskison, has said there is no mystery in the voyage of her son-in-law, but friends still remember "The Greater Appeal," and the odd affair of the steamship stationery.

Mr. Cook Offers to Bet $1,000

He Will Back Tim Alert Against Orillia Belle for Ten Centuries.

Mr Cook the well-known local horseman now registered at the National Hotel, it was rumored yesterday, is out with a $1000 challenge. As our readers are doubtless aware, at the recent races in Toronto, it was alleged that the driver of Mr. Chas. Martin's fine horse Tim Alert, in which Mr. Cook is interested, could not have won had no Orillia Belle been pulled. Mr. Cook we understand is now prepared to wager $1000 that Tim Alert can beat Orillia Belle, Mr. Dale's horse, on the local track during the Peterborough Fair, or on any track mutually agreed upon. This looks as though Mr. Cook does not place much credit upon the alleged pulling of Orillia Belle. Should Mr. Cook's offer be taken it would ensure a fast and interesting speed competition for the local fair.

Absurd Rumors are Contradicted

The New C. P. R. Midland Short Line for Peterborough.

Our readers will remember that an Orillia paper, the "News-Letter," recently uttered a report leading readers to the belief that the coming C.P.R. Midland short line, via Peterborough, is to be abandoned.

The absurdity of this allegation is clearly demonstrated by the following extract from the report of the recent meeting of the C.P.R. Board of Directors at Montreal, which says,

An additional and more economical avenue for the movement of your traffic in either direction between the head of ocean navigation and the Georgian Bay will shortly be required. After careful investigation and surveys your directors are of the opinion that this can best be secured by the construction of a railway from Peterborough, and your Ontario and Quebec section to Victoria Harbor, a distance of 96 miles. By this route the distance from Montreal to Georgian Bay will be 358 miles, as against 440 miles by your present Owen Sound route, and the gradients will be much more favorable. It is proposed to enter into an arrangement with the Georgian Bay & Seaboard Railway Company, who have a Dominion charter, covering this territory to construct this line and to lease it to your company for a period of 999 years, at a rental equivalent to interest at four per cent. per annum on the bonds of the Georgian Bay and Seaboard Railway Company, issued with the consent of your company.

No Quorum at Board of Health

The meeting of the Board of Health called by Chairman Wm. Eyres for yesterday morning at nine o'clock to discuss various matters of importance went into what ex-President Grover Cleveland termed "Innocuous desuetude," as Dr. Burnham was the only member who showed up, besides the chairman and Health Inspector Dr Bingham. Therefore no business could be done and the meeting was adjourned for lack of a quorum. Whilst not knowing the "whys and wherefores" of the members' non-appearance, it seems that when matters of importance, such as sewers, milk testing, etc., are to be considered, public officers should make an endeavor to be present unless unavoidably detained.

Contractor Sheehy Gives Figures

Denies the Fact That Local Sewer Work is Cheaper by Day Labor.

Mr R Sheehy, the local contractor and a man with extensive experience in his business as our will be a letter designed to prove that sewer work can be done cheaper by contract than by the city employing and using day labor.

Mr Sheehy takes the Water street sewer as his basis of argument. This sewer, was presumably built by the city, at a cost of one dollar and four and a half cents per foot. He then compares the supposed expenditure of the city, showing that some of the items including pipe, cement, and other articles would not be purchased, at less by him, himself a large buyer of such articles at the prices quoted. He even hints at a possibility that some of the cement bought by the city might accidentally have been diverted to sewer purposes instead of to use in the granolithic pavements.

Mr Sheehy's statements, if correct should be, at least, explained or denied by the city officials aimed it if not correct.

New Directors of Star of the East

Rise of Great Local Interest is Now Prosperous.

The Star of the East Mine shareholders have held a most encouraging meeting in the Sons of England Hall, with a large attendance.

Perhaps the most important business transacted was election of directors for the ensuing year, as follows:—Messrs. J. H. Dale and E. H. Dale, Franklin; J. R. Steele and C. M. Cazado, Pittsburg; R. J. Munro, Peterborough; George L. Smith, Thos. Bowlette, Henry Lobrey and Warren O. Annis, of Pittsburg.

The secretary-treasurer, Mr J. R. Steele submitted a report of the development of the mines during the past year. His statement was of a most gratifying nature, and was considered highly satisfactory by those interested. Among the new features will be the installation of a new process for reclaiming the gold in the ore. $6,000 was subscribed within a few minutes to take up the bonus and bond stock of the company.

Among others who attended the meeting in the afternoon were B. H. Miller, of Oil City, Pa., and Wm. Leahy of Lakefield.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

In the absence of the police magistrate, whilst waiting for the Lakefield train to arrive, the police court did not open until 11 a.m. Mr. R. S. Armstrong acted on the bench. The first case tried was that of Homer Willis charged with having been drunk and disorderly in a public place on Wednesday. It seems that Willis was drunk on a street car and hit a man. The latter, however, did not lay a charge of assault. For his jag Willis was assessed $2 to be paid forthwith. He produced a roll and pulled off the sodakin.

John Mulhall was charged with having been drunk, and pleaded guilty to the soft impeachment. Another charge was brought against him of having assaulted P.C. Meharry while the latter was in discharge of his duty, viz., while the officer was arresting him.

The accused seemed to consider that the assault chaige should be embodied in the charge of drunk. On the second charge he was remanded until this morning at nine o'clock. He was fined $2 on the charge of drunk.

Three boys named respectively, Munden, Bellegham and Pitchford, were charged with having taken moion, and carried away a quantity of fruit from the garden of Ernest Saunders. They pleaded guilty, and were fined $2 each, to be paid forthwith.

Mrs. R. Devey Passes Away

Much regret is felt at Young's Point over the death on Wednesday, of Mrs. R. Dever, by paralysis.

The deceased was about sixty-five years of age, and for many years lived at Young's Point. Her husband, Mr. R. Dever, is still living. A family of eight children survive. The funeral will take place today.

Lindsay Boy Was Drowned

In the last issue received of the Lindsay Post, appears the following advertisement:

"Lost—A little boy, 7 years old, answering to the name of Garfield Burgrow. He had a blue blouse with white anchor spot on it, buttoned up the right hand side, dark pants, laces and stockings, no hat; missing since Saturday night at five o'clock. Information of the whereabouts of the child will be thankfully received. Frank Burgrow, Lindsay street, north.

The little fellow was last seen alive whilst standing at the wharf Saturday evening, just as the str. Estarion was pulling on for Sturgeon Point.

Yesterday morning about ten o'clock as Ald. Rea was passing his launch, the Neptune through the lock on Lindsay street, he noticed a body in the water, and with Mr. Cullen's aid, it was raised by means of a rope.

The deceased's face was badly bruised, and it is thought that the bruises were received in bumping against the locks by the running water near the outlets.

Coroner Blanchard on investigating decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mr and Mrs. Burgarrow, the parents of the deceased, formerly resided in Lindsay, but now live at Victoria Road, and young Burgarrow lived with his sister, Mrs. Andrew Miller.

Bullet Found in a 'Lunge

Yesterday as a well-known foreman of the Canadian General Electric Company was at breakfast, and eating a piece of fried muskinonge, he was somewhat surprised to feel his tee h grit on a hard substance in the fish removing the fish from his mouth, he found a perfectly preserved No. 32 short calibre bullet enclosed in the fish, which when caught and sent to him weighed about 18 pounds. The fish was caught in the Otonabee river near Campbellton, and must have been shot at but not killed as looking in shallow water. The bullet had lodged just below the top fin in the thickest part of the fish.

Cross Wires Make a Slight Blaze

Yesterday a considerable portion of the splendid maple tree, just at the main entrance to the Snowden [illegible] was destroyed. The large limbs of the tree were in contact with a wire crossing Charlotte street within a few feet of the five street car trolley wire. Shortly after the limbs had been sawn off, this wire fell across the trolley wire. At once a bright flame flared forth to the point of contact. Had this occurred whilst the limbs touching this wire were being the trolley were wet, there might have easily been serious trouble. Mr. Frank White, who climbed the tree and sawed the limbs off, as a heavy wind blew, swaying his lofty perch about, experienced some of what a sailor often encounters while up aloft. The street car authorities sent a man to have the crossing and dangerous wires removed as soon as notified.

Found on the Skin

PHOSPHATE

Direct from the Brain

We know that active brain work throws off the phosphate of potash but this produce is found on the skin after excessive brain work.

Brain workers, in order to keep well, must have proper food containing phosphate of potash to quickly and surely rebuild the used-up tissue.

That one can obtain such food has been proven in thousands of cases among users of Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts.

Both contain phosphate of potash in minute particles, just as it is furnished by nature in the grains.

This product blends with albumen and makes the gray matter that builds the brain and fills the nerve centers.

In no way can this gray matter be made except by the action of phosphate of potash upon albumen, and this mineral should be introduced to the body just as it comes from nature's laboratory, and not from the drug store. The human system is more or less fastidious about taking up the needed elements, and as might be suspected, it will favor the products of Mother Nature rather than the products of the drug shop, however valuable they may be for certain uses.

Athletes, lawyers, journalists, doctors, ministers, business men and others, who earn their living by the use of the brain, are using both Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts Food. Both products are manufactured for a reason. They were originated by an expert, and the regenerative value of both the Postum Coffee and the Food has been demonstrated beyond question. Made in the pure food factories of Postum Co. at Battle Creek, Mich.

Boy Was Frightened Speechless

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Frightened at sight of a bear, a little Italian, Taquinio Seminari, has been a patient in the General Hospital for the past five weeks, and only now is he able to utter a word or two.

The little fellow, fourteen years of age, was employed as a water carrier for a gang of Italians doing construction work on the James Bay Railway, when he was terrified one day at sight of what he believes was a big bear. Hurrying back to the men he could only gesticulate his fears—no words came. Meantime the cause of his terror has disappeared, and there was no more seen.

For several days the boy was kept there hoping that his voice would return but as he remained dumb it was decided to bring him to Toronto for treatment. The vocal organs appear to have been in a paralytic state but by the aid of some fellow-Italians who talk to him every day the little fellow seems to be gradually recovering his powers of speech, and it is believed that he will be all right in a few weeks' more.

Aftermath of Recent Seizure

A somewhat amusing feature of the recent Lakefield liquor case came to The Times knowledge yesterday. Our readers will remember that a few days ago License Inspector Joseph Seware raided, and subsequently convicted and had fined the proprietors of a Lakefield hotel, where liquor was known to have been sold contrary to the prevailing local option law.

It now transpires that when the officer named went to this hotel, there were several rusticators present who made their escape by the rear of the building. Two of them at once plunged into the river, to the back of the building and swam to an island in the center of the stream, one of whom had great difficulty in reaching terra firma. Still two more of those who had been imbibing, took to a row boat and pulled up stream as though his Satanic majesty was after them with trident and pitchfork. It is said that they rowed at full speed until Young's Point look was in sight.

Local Fall Fair is Booming

A most harmonious and encouraging meeting of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition directors was held Wednesday evening. The directors reported progress and appointed various committees to look after the various details of the work in preparation for the great annual event.

Yesterday Secretary Hall stated to The Times that the prospects for this year's fall fair are brighter than for many years. The directors are working like beavers and in perfect accord. The prize list, whilst somewhat revised still allows a list of premiums the should draw exhibits from all parts of Ontario. It is now up to our local citizens to do their share, and show by their presence or purchase of tickets that Peterborough's fall fair is an event worthy of support.

Rev. H. Symonds In Active Work

Concerning the Rev. H. Symonds, once of St. Luke's church, a Montreal despatch has the following:

Rev Herbert Symonds, Vicar of Christ Church Cathedral, has addressed an open letter to the Lord Bishop of Huron, London, Ont., on the question of church unity, pointing out the apostolic succession in the chief stumbling block, a doctrine which he could not affirm if other denominations would accept historic episcopate. Dr. Symonds asks Dr. Williams to interest himself in the assembling of the Christian Unity Committee of the General Synod of the Anglican Church, and to use his influence with that body to appeal to the Presbyterian Church to call another conference of all the Christian communions of the Dominion.

Grand Poultry Show This Year

Owing to the grand success of the poultry exhibition at last Peterborough Fall Fair, this department will receive special attention this season and everything points towards its exceeding anything seen here before. The poultry prizes are large and will doubtless result in pedigreed birds from all over the Dominion being present.

Special arrangements are being made for exhibiting these interesting and high class birds. Owners will be protected against any chance of loss by unforseen circumstances.

Local Sport Has Good Luck.

Mr. Herb. Snowden has returned from a duck hunting expedition at Pigeon Lake. During the few days awe Mr. Snowden succeeded in bagging eight fine ducks, and had splendid sport. The weather and the shooting was unusually good.

Mr. Alex Miller at Port Hope.

The Port Hope Guide says: Mr. Alex Miller, chief engineer of the Cerra, Company, Peterborough, is spending his vacation in town, renewing old friendships. Mr. Miller was engineer on the Midland Division for years, before he accepted his present position. He is a guest at the Queen's.

Philadelphia Excited Over a Scandal

City Waiting for Arrests of Prominent Directors of Trust Company---President Hipple Was Money-Mad.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—Rumors of arrests of directors of the noted Real Estate Trust Company fill the air. District Attorney Bell declares emphatically that no man will be spared in the effort to bring to justice those responsible for the dissipation of the depositors' money. The statement is made that two directors, who are also members of the bar, have profited to the extent of $75,000 in the past three years by accepting fees from Adolph Segal for passing on security rendered by him for loans from the bank aggregating $5,200,000. So far as is known warrants have not yet been issued for the men, but the public is awaiting with breathless interest the arrest of the directors, who stood high in the community before the crash and exposure came.

President Hipple's plaintive cry from the grave, "Segal got all!" has aroused the depositors to a high pitch of indignation. Lawyers representing many hundreds of them are taking an active part in the investigation of the affairs of the company, and facts are coming to light almost hourly revealing the new forms of duplicity on the part of men entrusted with the depositors' money, and the great funds of large and small salaries.

Investigation shows that the loss of the trust company will cost the Presbyterians less than $100,000. The leaders of the Church are congratulating themselves that the funds were low at this time of the year.

Receiver Earle expresses the opinion that President Hipple was "money mad," and there seemed to be no end to the variety of methods by which he juggled with securities which fell into his hands, and which concerning he sought to deceive the directors.

"He was not content with stealing the same bond or stock certificate once," said Mr. Earle, "but did it several times over."

Mr Earle said that these practices of Hipple had left the notes and papers relating to loans in almost inconceivable confusion.

Battling Nelson Is Rumored to be Dying

New York, Sept. 7.—A report is in circulation that "Battling" Nelson died yesterday in Goldfield.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—At the home of Battling Nelson in this city yesterday, the relatives declared that they had received no information which would lead them to believe that he is in a serious condition, and they did not credit the reports that he is dying. Several telegrams were sent to Goldfield to learn of Nelson's condition but no reply has yet been received.

No Trace of the Escaped Prisoner

Kingston, Sept. 7.—There seems to be no doubt but that Gebreiski, the Jew who escaped from custody by jumping from a G.T.R. train west of here on Tuesday night, had a confederate aboard, and that his escape was the result of a well-laid plan.

The elder prisoner complained of cramps all the way from Brampton and consequently got permission to go to the toilet room, where a key or a saw was evidently placed for use on the shackles.

The son of the prisoner is an expert train jumper, and had he been given a few seconds more time he would have followed his father to liberty.

No trace of the escaped prisoner had been secured up till this morning.

Arrangements have nearly been completed for the big ball game tomorrow at Riverside Park between the Shamrocks and an all star team, picked from the city. This will be a spirited contest, and should attract a large crowd.

The picked team will be picked from the following; "Wallie" Parnell, Brenlap, "Buck" Quinlan, Jimmy Pilling "Mike" Belleghem, Sheridan, McMillan, Kendry, Roddy, Shaw, Curtis and Lang.

FOOTBALL.

The Crescent Club is considering forming a junior city rugby league. If this is accomplished it is likely the Maple Leafs and Junior Shamrocks will join.

RUGBY.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Football Club will be held in the Y.M.C.A. parlors this evening at eight o'clock, when it is expected that the largest crowd that ever attended a football meeting in this city will be present. Enthusiasm over a senior team in this city this season is running high. The question of a senior team will probably be settled at this meeting.

Mr A. H. Stratton has been elected president, and Mr. D. Stone, secretary-treasurer of the Crescent Rugby Club. Messrs. Ray, Theobald and Stone will form the executive. A good work-out will be held tomorrow afternoon at Nicholls Oval at 2.30 when all members are requested to be present.

The Govenor-General's Tour

Nelson, B.C., Sept. 7.—The Governor-General and Lady Grey and party, eight in all, arrived here on the C.P.R. steamer Kuskonook a few moments after the noon hour yesterday.

At unique feature of the public reception accorded the distinguished visitors was the steaming out of some 35 motor launches.

The fleet made a very pretty spectacle dressed out with flags and bunting, amid Earl Grey expressed a great appreciation of the incident.

A formal address was presented by Mayor M. G. Giller in the Exhibition grounds, where the school children and a large crowd of spectators were assembled. The vice regal party then drove through the principal streets of the city.

His Excellency is suffering from a rather severe cold, and with Lady Grey will remain here today, visiting Greenwood Friday, Rossland Saturday and taking a drive up to Kaslo and Lardeo on Sunday.

The other members of the party will spend the balance of the week here fishing and visiting the ranches along the lake.

The whole party will go up the Columbia River en route to the coast on Sunday morning.

Never Changed Its High Seas Laws

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 7.—During a recent excursion on the Canadian steamer Premier on July 16th last, while coming down the St. Clair river a row was started among the party, during which Robert Smith, a passenger, claimed that he was assaulted and robbed.

The same two men, Walter and William Mitchell, of Detroit, who are accused by Smith, also compelled Captain Sackhouse, of the Premier, at the point of a revolver, to make a landing on the United States side of the river.

A preliminary hearing in extradition proceedings in the United States court here was adjourned until next week.

If the Mitchell brothers are taken to Canada, they cannot be charged with piracy in Canadian waters, and will face only the minor charge of assault and robbery.

The Canadian Government never changed its high sea laws so as to include the Great Lakes, although the United States Government was forced to do so many years ago.

Dan Spence Ambulance at C.O.E. Co.

Yesterday evening the Dan Spence ambulance was summoned, and quickly arrived at the Canadian General Electric Company's works. It seems that one of their employes was taken ill, and was sent at once to the Nicholls Hospital. The sick man, whose name by request we omit, was not seriously disabled, and will be about again in a few days.

When Run-Down, "Draggy," Used-up

You Lack the Vigor, Courage and Staying Power that "Ferrozone" Can Supply.

Night comes and it's hard to sleep. Morning dawns and the anxious, tired feeling is still there. Don't neglect this gradual decline; it can't cure itself. But by forming rich, pure blood, Ferrozone will quickly supply the nutriment and building material your system craves.

Instantly you are aware that some powerful force is building up your depleted energies. At once you feel braced, toned, strengthened. Search the world over and you won't find anything to tone up a weak system like Ferrozone. Physicians claim it is the most strengthening, uplifting medicine ever discovered.

No more spells of tiredness, but bounding, joyful health when you take Ferrozone, of which Mrs. H. S. Todd, of Rowsman, Man., speaks in the following words of praise:

"I state my case because I think it may assist other women to health. A year ago I was almost a wreck. I was pale and emaciated, suffering from nervousness and hysteria. Little things going wrong in the house bothered me. The doctor advised different treatments but they didn't help. He said my low condition was due to weakness that might never be cured. Ferrozone had a peculiar grateful effect and built me up quickly. The ills I suffered from are cured. I am now strong and vigorous and was made so by Ferrozone."

Why not cast aside the chains of sickness and enter the bright, happy life of robust health. Let Ferrozone help you—let it cure you once and forever. Price 50c. per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 7, 1906

THE UPPER AND THE NETHER MILLSTONE.

The evolution of modern industrial activity has brought about a condition of affairs unprecedented in the world's history. Practically all of the great business enterprises of today are carried on through monopolistic combinations, popularly known as trusts. All of these tend to delimit and discourage individual initiative, and in the same manner to promote and encourage concerted action, in one industry and another. There is nothing inherently wrong in the abstract idea of concerted action. So long as the public interests are not menaced, men may properly combine in one capacity or another without objection. But the difficulty is that industrial combinations are usually against the public good, either in whole or in part. The increased powers which they give to those who manage them are almost sure to be abused, to the injury of the public.

But the fact must not be lost sight of that there are two kinds of trusts or monopolies, as The Times has again and again pointed out. There are the capitalistic trusts on the one hand, and the organized labor trusts on the other hand. Both trusts are essentially the same in principle, though their methods are different. The object, in each case, is to secure a monopoly of the product dealt in; to secure better opportunities and more favorable conditions for the beneficiaries of the monopoly that are enjoyed by those who are on the outside of the combination.

The 'coal-trust,' for example, is organized for concerted action to the end that those comprising the combination may secure a monopoly of the business of mining and selling coal. So far as possible it shuts out all competitors from the field of operations, thus securing to itself a monopoly of the trade, and securing also, for its product (coal) the highest price the traffic will bear. Running in close close connection with, though adverse to, the coal monopoly, is John Mitchell's labor monopoly, or trust. Precisely the same underlying motives inspire Mitchell's labor trust as those which inspire the coal trust. Mitchell's organization seeks to secure a monopoly of the labor employed in mining coal. It aims to shut out all competition in the labor field by refusing to allow non-union men to work in the mines. It is true that the labor union trust is not able to deprive all non-unionists of work, but it would do so if it had the power. Mitchell's trust also endeavors to secure for its members the highest wages obtainable, through the power of concerted action and by "cornering" the labor market to the limit of its power. There is no more greedy, unjust and unscrupulous monopolistic organization, or trust, in the world, than that of the United Mine Workers, of which John Mitchell is the head. Its aims are as much against the public good as are those of the coal trust or any other trust. The reasons for destroying the power of one monopoly are as potent as those for destroying the other.

James Lynch is president of the International Typographical Union, which is also a monopolistic combination, designed to shut out legitimate competition between workmen in the printing trade. It employs coercion, intimidation, and other illegal methods to carry out its purposes. It impudently claims a right to monopolize all the work to be performed in the printing business. It tries to limit the number of printers by refusing to allow more than one apprentice to a certain number of journeymen printers in any establishment which it dominates. And it seeks, by limiting the supply of workmen, to increase the wages and to dictate the hours of labor. These objects are essentially those of the most selfish and most dangerous monopolies. The printers' trust is not opposed by an employers' trust, at present, but by an association organized to protect the interests of employers against the buccaneers of Lynch's labor trust, and it is succeeding very well in this protective purpose.

Almost all of the great capitalistic trusts have their counterparts in labor trusts which are no more just, no more honest, no more worthy of public toleration than they. The great majority of the people do not belong to these trusts of capital or of labor. They are between the upper and the nether millstone. They must suffer from the extortions of both forms of monopoly. They are suffering severe discomfiture and loss, not only from combines of capital but from combines of labor. The body politic will in time rid itself of the baneful effects of these malignant growths. But while the people are hammering at the monopolies of capital they should not forget that the monopolies of labor are equally at variance with the highest interests of the public.

An Accident of Local Interest

As many of our readers are aware, Mrs. James Dolan, and some of her children, have until recently been living in Milwaukee, Wis. Yesterday she received a copy of the Milwaukee Sunday Sentinel in which is noted an accident which occurred to a next door neighbor and intimate friend of her's in the city made famous by its extract of malt.

The article in question, reads as follows,

Pewaukee, Wis., Sept. 1.—Charles Oulver, living at 1927 State street, Milwaukee, was accidentally killed late this afternoon while talking with Jacob Zaun on the steps of Zaun's hotel. He was holding a 22-caliber rifle between his knees, when the weapon was accidentally discharged, the bullet passing through his lower jaw into the brain. Mr. Oulver died instantly. The body was taken tonight to a Waukesha undertaker, and will be taken to his late home in Milwaukee tomorrow.

Mr. Oulver was a travelling salesman for the Meddis Fur Hat Company of Milwaukee, and came to Pewaukee on Thursday to spend a few days with some travelling men friends who have a cottage near the village. Mr. Oulver borrowed the rifle with which he was killed today to go after squirrels tomorrow. Before returning to the cottage at which he was staying he stopped to talk with Mr. Zaun and the accident followed.

Mr. Oulver was about 40 years of age and was a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Oddfellows and of the United Commercial Travellers. He leaves a wife and two children, who were at their Milwaukee home when the accident took place.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 11-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 178 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"But I did not come here to be lectured for croaking, Miss Elmer. I came to see you, to talk over all that has passed since we met, and especially to bring you this book."

And, to the ludicrous astonishment of Laura Elmer, Rose produced the third copy of that poem that had been offered to her.

But Laura drifted easily from the book to other topics, and she and Rose fell into a familiar conversation, talking of much that had passed since they last met, which to relate would only be to repeat events with which the reader is already acquainted.

And Rose terminated her visit—the happiest visit, she declared, that she had made since coming to town.

"There are gleams of sunlight on the shadiest path," said Laura Elmer, when she was left alone; and she fell into a pleasant reverie that lasted until the servant came to announce the carriage for the afternoon drive.

She then quickly put on her bonnet and mantle and went down to the front hall, where she was met by Sir Viucent and Mrs. Ravenscroft.

Laura's position toward Mrs. Ravenscroft was growing daily more embarrassing. Since the day of that unhappy young lady's rencounter with the stranger in the park her conduct had been marked by a singular anxiety and vigilance. The present occasion was no exception to the rule, but was destined very much to complicate the duties and perplex the mind of Laura Elmer. The carriage door had scarcely closed upon them when Helen Ravenscroft, keeping her veil down, peered anxiously through every window in turn. As the carriage rolled on, this course of watchfulness was still pursued, until at length, just as they were about to enter the park, the restless woman suddenly became still and contented.

Laura Elmer looked out and saw the cause of the sudden change. The person whose appearance she had evidently watched and hoped for was at hand—that is to say, the light-haired man was riding in attendance upon the carriage.

Laura Elmer's face flushed with indignation. She suddenly pulled the check-string and ordered the coachman to turn and drive back to the house; but the man, not fully comprehending the unexpected order, only drew up, and touching his hat, waited for further directions.

While Miss Elmer was hurriedly repeating her orders from one window Helen Ravenscroft suddenly let down the other, and, snatching a letter from her bosom, threw it out at the feet of the rider, who, leaping from his horse, picked it up, and then springing into his saddle rode rapidly away. Helen dropped back into her seat and burst into a horrible laugh.

"In the name of Heaven, what have you done?" cried Laura Elmer, turning around in dismay.

"What Hades cannot undo! You may betray me now; tell all you know. It will be too late! too late!" replied Mrs. Ravenscroft, with a wild laugh.

"Most unhappy girl, I fear, indeed, that you have betrayed yourself. I very much regret having concealed your first rencounter with that evil man from Sir Vincent Lester. And I warn you that I feel it my duty to yourself and your family to inform him of that which I have witnessed," said Miss Elmer, gravely.

"I free you to do so, but it will be in vain! in vain! All Hades cannot undo what I have done to-day," said Helen, in exultation.

The carriage rolled rapidly back to Grosvenor Square. When they arrived they were met as usual in the hall by Sir Vincent Lester, who greeted them with much surprise, exclaiming:

"You are back early. No one is ill, I hope?"

"No, Sir Vincent; but as soon as you have disposed of your unhappy charge I must have an interview with you," said Miss Elmer, in a peremptory manner.

"Certainly, Miss Elmer. James, show Miss Elmer into the library; I will attend upon you there immediately, Miss Elmer," said the baronet, leading away Mrs. Ravenscroft, who, in passing, turned upon the governess a look of wild defiance and triumph.

Laura Elmer went into the library, and threw herself into an easy chair to await the coming of the baronet, who now entered.

He advanced smiling, and saying:

"Miss Elmer, I feel myself much flattered by this mark of confidence. It is an honor——"

"A truce to compliments, if you please, Sir Vincent. Forgive my interruption, but I have that to communicate which may make you grave enough," said Laura Elmer, very seriously.

The baronet bowed, took a seat opposite to her, and became politely attentive.

"What I have to communicate, Sir Vincent, relates to the unhappy young lady from whom we have just parted."

"Helen Ravenscroft!" exclaimed the baronet, in alarm. "She has told you——"

"She has told me nothing, Sir Vincent. She has confided in me no more than you have."

Laura then related all she knew and had learned regarding Miss Ravenscroft and the mysterious man with fair hair and light-blue eyes.

When she concluded with the most recent incident, in which Miss Ravenscroft had flung a letter from the window and declared that she had done what could not be undone, the baronet's face turned ghastly white, his head dropped upon his chest—he seemed completely overwhelmed and crushed.

Laura Elmer looked at him in terror, and then started toward the bell-rope, when the baronet raised his hand, with the one word "Stop!"

The tone was peremptory, though the word was almost inarticulate.

"Miss Elmer, there are times when belief in the fatalism of the Turks, and the predestinism of the Calvinists, forces itself upon my conviction, and I think that we are not only foredoomed to commit certain crimes, but that every means will be taken to insure our doing so. Miss Elmer, I esteem and respect you, and wish to stand well with you. I pray you, therefore, whatever the next few days may bring forth, judge of me as leniently as you can—as of one who has been 'more sinned against than sinning.' And, with one final request, I will bid you good-morning; and that is, that you will speak of the events of this day to no living soul unless you should be judicially called upon to do so."

Miss Elmer gave the required promise, and retired, full of sad thoughts, from the library.

CHAPTER XVIII.

One morning Rose received a copy of the new edition of the poem that all the world was talking about.

Turning to the title page to discover who had sent it, she burst into an exclamation of joy, with the words:

"Oh, how stupid of me! I should have known it! Why, an idiot might have known that much!"

"What is it, dear Rose?" inquired the duchess.

"Why I ought to have known at once who was the author of 'Woman,' and I was an idiot not to have known it!"

"Oh! the author's name is there! Who is she, then?"

"Why, Laura Elmer, of course! I was very, very dull not to have known it before!"

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 300 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 3,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

"BROKEN" GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 600 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 600 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, in veins those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hundreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

Merely to restore normal bowel action and gently stimulate the liver is all that the wise physician recommends.

To keep the system pure and clean, nothing is so effacious as the vegetable pills of Dr. Hamilton, which are composed of such herbs as mandrake, butternut and dandelion; they contain not an atom of any substance that could injure even an infant.

By their certain action on the Liver Dr. Hamilton's Pills cause bile to be secreted which forms the stimulus that moves the bowels: this is nature's own method and the best one.

Mr. R. Hamly, of French River, Ont., writes as follows. "I was inclined to bilious attacks and frequently was too ill to work. Most remedies purged and weakened my bowels, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills gently stimulated my liver, and by strengthening the stomach made a perfect cure. My health has been just splendid since I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills from your druggist or storekeeper, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00 By mail from N. C. Polman & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

WARM WEATHER WILL HELP

Now is the Time To Get Rid of Your Catarrh by Using Hyomei.

Every one who is afflicted with catarrh should take advantage of the warm weather to get rid of this annoying and distressing disease, for the right treatment in August and September will give benefit much more quickly than in the winter and early spring.

The germ killing and health giving Hyomei when breathed in the summer months has an even more beneficial action than when used in the colder weather. It is Nature's own remedy for the cure of catarrh. It goes to the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing and driving from the system the catarrh germs.

Hyomei is the simplest, most pleasant and the only guaranteed cure for catarrh that has ever been discovered. It is sold under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not give complete satisfaction.

At this season of the year, the first day's use of Hyomei will show a decided improvement in health and in a short time there will be no further trouble from catarrh.

You take no risk in buying Hyomei. The complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c.

For sale by all dealers. The R. T. Booth Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither —being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula of each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted FREE, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Clothes Line Thieves at Work.

Mrs. A. Killingbeck, 378 Sherbrooke street had her clothes line stripped. Fortunately the family dog heard the thieves at work, and giving tongue caused these midnight marauders to decamp before making a clean sweep. As it was they carried away a valuable lot of clothes.

TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS CORPORATION

Is authorized to act as

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL XXXIV, NO. 213 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1906. PRICE TWO CENTS

To Tunnel the Belle Isle Straits

Great Railway Project Projected to Connect Canada and Newfoundland.

Montreal, September 7.—The project for the tunnelling of the straits of Belle Isle and the construction of a railway, via the proposed tunnel, across the interior of Labrador, and traversing a portion of Newfoundland to the east coast of the island, where it will connect with a fast line of steamships for Europe, is now fully provided for by charter and is engaging the attention of prominent railway men. The management of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway, which is destined to form a link in the proposed project, has been approached by an English promoter who has obtained important privileges from the government of Newfoundland, including charters for constructing a railway from the boundary of the Canadian and Newfoundland Labrador, at Blanc Cablon, to the Straits of Belle Isle, and for tunnelling the Straits. His franchise for the latter mentioned work gives him twenty years in which to complete it. He has also secured an annual subsidy of $75,000 from the government of the island for a line of steamships between Newfoundland ports and Great Britain. The Quebec and Lake St. John Railway has a charter for the construction of a line of railway through the Labrador peninsula to the eastern boundary of the province of Quebec, and it is altogether likely that this charter will be utilized in the execution of the present project. The application to this effect of the promoter of the undertaking has been favorably received by the management of the Quebec and Lake St. John road, which has assured him of its readiness to co-operate in any project having for its aim the shortening of the route from Quebec and western points to Europe.

The promoter has personally ascended some of the large streams running south into the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and has brought back with him a large and interesting series of photographs illustrating the character of the country in the interior of the Labrador peninsula, and the forest wealth existing in certain parts of the country to be traversed by the new line of railway. The route of the railway will be along the tableland in which many of the north shore rivers take their rise, which is known from the reports and plans of surveys who have been through the country to be comparatively level, and which will require but little bridging. Then, again, the Saguenay river, on account of its great depth and breadth, cannot possibly be bridged below Chicoutimi, and therefore the Lake St. John Railway will be able to be utilized from the west of the Saguenay to Quebec, thus obviating the necessity for building a new road between those points.

The construction of the tunnel under the straits is not expected to be a particularly costly affair. At the point where the bed of the straits is to be pierced, the breadth of the straits is but ten miles. This is opposite Point Amour. The depth of water is about 150 feet. At the usual cost of tunnelling, the work is not expected to cost more than six millions of dollars.

From the Newfoundland end of the tunnel it will only require the construction of some thirty miles of railway to reach Hare Bay on the northeast coast of the island, which is said to be always clear of fogs, and which is not much more than 1,500 miles from the west coast of Ireland. By building some distance further south a connection might be made with the port of St. John's, via the Reid system of railway, and St. John's is only 1,640 miles from the west coast of Ireland, or three days' voyage by fast mail and passenger ships.

The distance by water from Montreal to St. John's, Newfoundland, is 1,670 miles, so that the ocean passage from St. John's to Ireland is only about 30 per cent. more than that distance, or 1,440 miles.

The saving in both time and distance by the proposed new route is so great that the promoters are confident that there will not be the slightest difficulty in financing the scheme. It is quite possible that Imperial assistance may be forthcoming for it.

Preliminary surveys are likely to be commenced any day.

Peterboro's Plan Worth Emulation

Whilst Ottawa Has Low Water Our Local Interests are Preserved.

The following Ottawa despatch taken from the Toronto World, speaks for itself, reads as follows:

"Owing to be very low water in the Ottawa, the lumbering interests are suffering much loss.

The water is unprecedently low and at Hawkesbury the mills are completely shut down, 600 men going out of work.

Eddys have had to shut down at night and J. R. Booth has reduced his night shift. The steamers are also finding navigation more difficult."

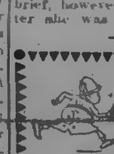
The Times can remember, before the present capable superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, took the matter in hand, that the same conditions, as existing at Ottawa, were only too often in evidence here. Complaints from lumbermen, flour mills and other industries of this city, were loud and long during the dry season, but the action of Mr. McClellan in so satisfactorily conserving the water has put an end to all trouble in this particular. There is now an even flow of water from one end of the system to the other by regulating and conserving the water of the upper lakes.

If Ottawa desires to put an end to their present trouble, they should follow the example set by Peterborough, as to conserving the sources of their supply.

DROWNED IN FATHER'S SIGHT

Asbury Park, N.J., Sept. 6.—Miss Frances Wadsworth, a daughter of Frank Wadsworth, of Newark, was drowned at Bradley Beach, while her invalid father, half distracted, watched her sink out of sight. She was caught by a receding wave and carried out.

When she was taken from the water physicians worked five hours and at one time Miss Wadsworth was made to breathe and her heart beat faintly. The hopeful signs were brief, however, and a short time after she was pronounced dead.



POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday morning Fred Metcalf, an employe of Mr. C. E. Gunsolus, the Hunter street harness maker, pleaded not guilty to a charge of "non support." The accused's wife in evidence said they had been married by Rev. J. G. Potter in 1905. Since that time the only clothing he had given her was the pair of boots she then had on, and they were not paid for. All she got out of him in the way of money was his payment of the rent. When she would ask for money he would stand her off, and say he would buy her clothing. They have not even got a stove for cooking purposes. They had one child which died last week. He did send her $8 when shortly before her baby was born, she went to her mother's in Barrie, taking her husband's two children by his first wife with her; this was no sent until she had frequently written and telegraphed for it.

Defendant said he makes about $12 a week, and gave his wife $8 or $9 a week. It was her fault, not her.

The magistrate deferred sentence until October 8th, but the husband must give his wife $3 a week until reconciliation is made.

John Mailhall, it will be remembered after having had his bank roll lightened $2 at Thursday's session of the police court, for having disordered more tangle-leg than his mental safety valve would have advised him, was then charged with having assaulted P. C. Newhall, while in the discharge of the latter's duty. This charge was enlarged and yesterday morning John was assessed $10 more with an alternative of 15 days midst the moss-grown cloisters of Castle Newbiggin. The prisoner claimed not to remember assaulting the cop, but he load of red-eye was doubtless responsible for this lapse of memory.

P. C. Newhall, the only witness for the prosecution, said that on Thursday morning P. C. Mebarry had the prisoner in custody, and the latter was very violent. Witness went to Mebarry's assistance and received several kicks on the shins. Prisoner's language was scandalous.

The magistrate fined him $10, to be paid forthwith or in default of payment 15 days in jail. "I am leaving very leniently with you," remarked this Worship, "Anyone who assaults a policeman hereafter will be heavily punished." He then gave the prisoner some good advice by telling him it would be better for him and his family if he were to shun the flowing bowl.

Objects to Being a Fugitive

Kingston, Sept. 8.—Tired of his forty-eight hours' liberty after jumping from a G.T.R. train near Fredericksburg on Tuesday evening Jacob Jubreiski, the Chatham fur thief put himself in the way of capture near Odessa this night. Trudging along the road he met two Kingston bank clerks and asked them the way to the city. They drove into Odessa and informed the village constable, who followed the road for several miles, finally overtaking the Jew, who willingly gave himself up, and was brought to police quarters here, where he awaits the arrival of the Chatham authorities to be transferred to the penitentiary.

Jubreiski regretted his attempt to escape, and is satisfied to serve his term within prison walls than to be a fugitive from justice.

He says they he managed to slip his handcuffs by complaining of their tightness. The constable cared them enough to admit of his squeezing his hands through.

He states that his son refused to escape with him.

After jumping through the train window he fell right down beside the track, striking on his side and injuring his right knee and his left breast.

He smashed the shackle on his ankle with a stone, and spent Tuesday night in the bush. Then he struck northwards.

Yesterday he decided to give himself up being footsore and hungry.

CAN DRINK TROUBLE

That's One Way to Get It.

Although they won't admit it many people who suffer from sick headaches and other ills get them straight from the coffee they drink and it is easily proved if they are not afraid to leave it to a test as in the case of a lady in Connellsville.

"I had been a sufferer from sick headaches for twenty-five years and anyone who has ever had a sick headache knows what I suffered. Sometimes three days in the week I would have to remain in bed, at other times I couldn't lie down the pain would be so great. My life was a torture and if I went away from home for a day I always came back more dead than alive.

"One day I was telling a woman my troubles and she told me she knew that it was probably coffee caused it. She said she had been cured by stopping coffee and using Postum Food Coffee and urged me to try that food drink.

"That's how I came to send out and get some Postum and from that time I've never been without it for it suits my taste and I have been entirely cured of all my old troubles. All I did was to leave off the coffee and tea and drink well made Postum in its place. This change has done me more good than everything else put together.

"Our house was like a drug store for my husband bought everything he heard of to help me without doing any good but when I began on the Postum my headaches ceased and the other troubles quickly disappeared. I have a friend who had an experience just like mine and quitting coffee and using Postum cured her just as it did me.

"The headaches left and my general health has been improved and I am much stronger than before. I now enjoy delicious Postum more than I ever did coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason" and it's worth finding out.

AN ANSWER TO TORONTO'S MAYOR

The Chief Magistrate's Recent Attack on St. Lawrence Service

IS TOTALLY UNCALLED FOR

A Times Representative Takes a Trip Over the Route and Finds the Service First Class and Officials Most Obliging.

Those who, a few days ago, read the statement of Mayor Coatsworth, of Toronto, published in a paper of that city, might be inclined to think that the trip from Niagara to the Sea, on the steamers of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, was an exceedingly hazardous journey, and that the tourist or traveller who ventured to make the trip was taking big chances, saying nothing about the discomforts which were to be encountered en route. The statement of Mr. Coatsworth was, we believe, never taken very seriously, and had no perceptible effect in lessening the rush of travel over this world-renowned route. The mayor, if we remember right, took the trip on Saturday, August 11. There is always, we were told, a greater number of passengers on Saturdays than on any other day in the week. In order to secure similar conditions, a representative of The Times chose the following Saturday, and was informed that on that day the boats had a record crowd on board.

It is needless to add that the splendid steamer Toronto was equal to the occasion; the officers and crew doing everything in their power for the passengers.

At Prescott, where the passengers were transferred to a smaller steamer, there was, of course, a crowd, but no such conditions existed as claimed by Mr. Coatsworth. There was ample seating accommodation and plenty to spare. As is natural on steamers running the rapids, everybody is desirous of seeing the rapids from the bow of the boat, and the passengers crowded this part of the vessel. If the boat was as large as an ocean liner the same thing would have happened. Mayor Coatsworth's statement that there were only three hundred seats for five hundred passengers was denied by the officers of the boat and also by several passengers who were on the steamer referred to. Our representative found the crew extremely courteous and obliging. The fact that no serious accident has ever occurred on this part of the route, which Mr. Coatsworth appears to regard as dangerous, is ample proof that the Company's officers are competent and exceedingly careful.

The journey from Montreal to Quebec, on the steamer Montreal, is always a delightful one. This splendid boat is said to have cost in the neighborhood of $650,000, and is regarded as one of the most magnificent lake steamers afloat.

On arrival at Quebec those intending to take in the marvellous beauties of the Saguenay River were transferred to the steamer Murray Bay. For those who have no knowledge of this famous river, we give below a brief outline of the trip:

Leaving Quebec at 8 a.m., the Falls of Montmorency are seen on the left, and the Island of Orleans is next passed. Salt water begins at Crouse Isle, where is located the quarantine station. Stops are made at the picturesquely situated villages of Baie St. Paul, Eboulements and St. Irenee before the most popular watering place on the north shore is reached.

At Murray Bay is situated the palatial Manoir Richelieu, owned and operated by the R. N. & O. N. Co. This hotel ranks with the best summer hotels on the continent, both as to equipment and location. Murray Bay is noted for its boating and health restoring atmosphere and its drives and amusements are numerous and enjoyable.

At Tadousac the R. & O. N. Co. operate another commodious and excellent hotel, the "Tadousac," replete with all modern improvements. After a couple of hours stop, the steamer quietly proceeds by night up the Saguenay to Chicoutimi.

Chicoutimi is at the head of navigation. The Chicoutimi River from the west here joins the Saguenay.

Leaving Chicoutimi in the morning, the trip is made down the Saguenay by daylight. The scenery of this river for wild grandeur and variety is unequalled on the continent. After Ha Ha Bay is reached the settlement ceases, and the great river continues to grow more solemn and awe-inspiring until the climax is reached at Capes Trinity and Eternity—the Sentinels of the Saguenay—rising to a heighth of 2,300 feet and presenting a scene never to be forgotten. The scenery from there to Tadousac baffle description.

Tadousac is reached early in the afternoon, and Murray Bay in the evening. Time is given at these points to permit the tourist to visit the hotels. The following morning the steamer is again in Quebec, where the traveller has the whole day before him before embarking on steamer in the evening for Montreal.

The thanks of the writer is duly and hereby tendered to the officers of the steamers Toronto, Prescott, Montreal, Murray Bay, Brockville and Kingston for courtesies shown en route, and to Mr. E. A. Carter, District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

Col. J. Z. Rogers Is Answered by Dept.

Complaints re Trouble by Deposit of Dredgings to be Taken up.

It now seems that the Peterborough Canoe Company, as exercised over trouble alleged to have been given them by operations on the present Otonabee river dredging, and are in communication with the Department of Public Works.

It will be remembered that the dredgings at first taken from the river were piled along the river bank, and that, afterwards, the city's new land was filled in. Now the water can not be in except at the lower end, thus causing a lot of dead water. Besides the river is the southern end, where the Canoe Company has dockage rights has formed into an eddy and all the refuse and rubbish from the river flows in, and has obstructs entrance to the wharf. There is an offensive odor surrounding the neighborhood, caused by the stagnant water, which may prove injurious to public health.

Col. Rogers has instructed his solicitor to write both the Minister of Public Works and to the City Council. This has been done and yesterday a reply was received from Ottawa, stating that the matter would be investigated immediately.

Mr. Mongraw Was Unsuccessful

An Aftermath of Last Summer's Forged Cheque Case.

At the division court yesterday, Mr. Chas. Mongraw sued John Kelleher for $30, the case being a result of the forged cheque of a few months ago. It will be remembered that Kelleher sold a cow and calf to a man named Appleby, receiving in payment for same a forged cheque. Before the fact of the forgery was known, however, Appleby had sold the cow to Mr. Mongraw, the latter paying $2 down. Kelleher went to Mongraw and asked him to return the cow back. Mongraw refused to give up the animal, so Kelleher secured a replevin and secured possession of the cow and calf. Mongraw then sued for $30. The judge ruled in favor of the defendant, ordering him, however, to pay Mongraw the sum of $2, costs to be borne by the parties. His Honor held that the case was similar to that of buying stolen property. A. P. Ponsonby appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. Denniston for the defendant. The case may be appealed.

Can't Build Side-walks Fast Enough

City is Handicapped for Want of Men and Increased Facilities---Sewerage System Will Also Have to Be Improved Upon---City Engineer vs. Bogue.

The Board of Works met last night when there were present, Chairman Ald. Hicks, and Aldermen Wilson, McIntyre, Elliott, Graham, Adams and Johnston.

Col. J. Z. Rogers asked that the filling in of the channel at the end and towards the south of King street be stopped as the filling up prevented the flow of water from the Peterborough Canoe property, thus damaging it. The Board considered it the duty of the Government, and not of the city to attend to the matter, and accordingly they left the question with the Government.

The application of the Otonabee Power Co. to erect poles on certain streets, as received at Monday night's council meeting, was on the recommendation of the city engineer granted.

WATER STREET SIDEWALK.

The engineer reported on the Water street sidewalk and opening of Edinburgh street, as follows.

To Ald. Hicks, chairman Board of Works.

Dear Sir,—As requested I have laid out a line of sidewalk on west side of Water street between Dublin and Antrim, and have also struck the grade for Water street. I find that it will require 850 cubic yards of filling to bring the street to proper grade, and will cost $382.50 for gravel from the pit, the manholes on sewer will have to be raised which will cost about $40, $442.50 altogether.

Regarding the opening of Edinburgh street, between George and Water, it will require 550 cubic yards of filling and cost $247.50.

The material might be procured from cellars, but would take much longer to complete than it would if hauled from the pit.

On motion of Ald. Adams, the grading and sidewalk on Water street over the old gully between Dublin and Antrim streets, was ordered to be proceeded with as soon as the work now under way by the Board of Works is completed.

A letter from Ald. Tovey asked that the sidewalk on Park street at the west side of Dutchess street be repaired. This was referred to the city engineer to have the repairs attended to.

The walk on Hunter street will also be repaired.

STREET OPENING.

Mr. McKee reported as to the opening of Aylmer and George streets south. That is to say, Mr. McKee, who has been engaged by the city to value the several properties it is necessary for the city to acquire in order to extend the two streets in question, reported on the options secured and the properties already purchased.

UNSETTLED CLAIMS.

Mr. Jas. Bogue waited upon the Board and asked why his claims for settlement on the East Ward outfall sewer had not been met. Mr. Bogue claimed $100 extra for delay caused him by the city through the castings for the sedimentation tank not arriving till October 27th, thus necessitating considerable important work to be done in the cold weather.

The city engineer claimed that the castings were ordered to be on hand on September 1st, and arrived in five instalments from September 18 to 27th Oct. inclusive. He did not see that the delay caused any additional expense to Mr. Bogue. Mr. Bogue argued that it did as he had to keep front on of the sedimentation tank by means of fires, etc.

Mr. Bogue claimed extras for changing the grade from Mulligan St. to the C.P.R., this was necessitated by the action of Inspector Bartlett unknown to the city engineer.

$400 extras were also asked for a change on the grade by the city engineer from Mr. Chapman's plan. Mr. Hay, while admitting this change, contended that it was, if anything, in the contractor's favor. Mr. Bogue however, took exception to this, having to excavate from 10 to 12 inches deeper from manhole to manhole than called for by Mr. Chapman's plan, and tendered on by him. The city engineer replied that he followed Mr. Chapman's plan as closely as possible, but had to change the levels somewhat by reason of the uneven surface of road. Still he considered that Mr. Bogue is not entitled to any extra pay for this work.

Mr. Bogue claimed pay for 10 feet, 15 inch pipe south of sedimanation tank, Mr. Hay admitted eight feet additional.

Mr. Bogue also claimed a loss of $160 through not having been paid for the city according to contract.

Also $50 for lumber left in sewer to protect the pipes from waste surroundings. Mr. Hay claimed that it was necessary to leave this amount of timber in the sewer.

Ald. Hicks explained that the city did not wish to keep Mr. Bogue out of any moneys due him; still as he and the Board know nothing about the work all they could do was to accept the engineer's report. He suggested, however, that Mr. Chipman be asked to come down from Toronto and arbitrate between Mr. Bogue and Mr. Hay.

It also transpired that as the outlet pipe had been laid into the lake without any city official being present, and consequently the city engineer had withheld the cost of this work, $400, the work having been done without any inspection. Mr. Bogue replied that Inspector Bartlett knew very well this work was going on. It was no his fault that no city representative had been present.

The city engineer here pointed out that he had been handicapped in this job from start to finish. The contract had been let two months before he had seen the plans and specifications, having been understood that Mr. Chipman was to take charge of the work. Finally, when he took hold of he job, he could not find a single stake to Mr. Chipman's levels, which necessitated his taking this own levels as accurately as possible in accordance with Mr. Chipman's plans. He (the city engineer) remarked to Mr. Chipman, when he came down from Toronto, regarding the matter, that the fact of him having to make levels from Mr. Chipman's plans after the contract had been let was sure to create trouble between him and the contractor.

Mr. Bogue said he did not wish to go into litigation with the city, but he felt confident that he could secure this pay for all changes in the plans. He did not feel disposed to wait several months more for his dues; neither was he willingly to abide by the arbitration of Mr. Chipman, but he would accept the decision of Mr. Henderson, of the waterworks, between the city engineer and him.

This matter was left in the hands of the Board, to endeavor to arrive at an agreement with Mr. Bogue as to who shall act as arbitrators on his claims for extras over and above his contract price.

The complaint of Thos. Kinneas & Co., on George street, near the C.P.R., of surface water backing up into their cellar, was gone into.

The city engineer advised that the fall of the outfall sewer is not sufficient to carry off the storm water at times. The cheapest and readiest remedy he could suggest would be to put in a pipe to carry off surface water into the river when the sewer's capacity is overtaxed. Subsequent discussion as to the sewers, localities that suffer at times from storm freshs revealed the fact that the whole sewerage system of our sewer system must be materially improved upon. The engineer will look closely into the complaint of the petitioners, and report definitely as to the best course to pursue to remedy their grievance.

NEW SIDEWALKS.

The Board took up the question of how much granolithic walks to build this season. In view of so many petitions for walks, the Board recognized that they can't handle the amount of permanent work called for with one gang of men, so large is the city growing. An earnest effort will be made to run the two mixers.

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre.—That Jackson avenue, Lake and Perry streets sidewalks be built; then the walks in the north, and next those in Ward Five.—Carried.

Ald. Johnston contended that the second mixer should be called into requisition at once, and build the small sections of walks petitioned for.

Street Commissioner Evans said he could not and would no attempt to run two mixers, he is four men short, and can't get suitable men to do the finishing, nor one to look after another gang. If he Board can get the needed men all well and good; but he can't supervise two gangs.

Ald. Johnston contended that this work is piling up year by year, and a start should be made at once to use two mixers, and push he required work through in earnest.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott.—That if the second mixer can be manned, it be put in operation right away.—Carried.

A petition for a granolithic walk west of Stewart street, from Dalhousie to Townsend street.

MORE SEWERS.

Sewers will be constructed on Douro street, from Mark to Dickson street, and on Aylmer street from Edinburgh to westerly limit of lot 46, plan 78.

Ald. Johnston moved, seconded by Ald. Adams.—That these sewers be done by day labor under inspection of Mr. White.—Carried.

SHEEHY vs. ENGINEER.

In reply to Contractor Sheehy's contention that the city engineer's figures on the Water street sewer are not correct, Mr. Hay replied that there was a slight omission in the matter of cement, which would raise the price two cents a foot. This was occasioned by the correct returns for cement not having been given him. Otherwise his figures are correct in every particular.

Ald. Adams contended that cement is not being used as freely as called for by the construction of the sewer ing Ward Five, this being noticeable as in the case of the manholes. The inspector will be instructed to look into this matter.

Ald. Adams also offered that the the ratepayers are being charged double for sewer connections on Mark street, they being taxed twice the amount of the cost of the work. The contract price for these connections is $16.50, and they cost but $8. The Board contended that they are paying no more than other ratepayers.

The Board then adjourned.

Dominion Ministers Here

Hon. R. H. Emmerson and Deputy Minister, Will Inspect Trent Valley Canal.

The Hon. R. H. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Mr. J. M. Rutter, the capable Deputy Minister, and staff, will probably arrive here this morning on their official tour of inspection, and will, it is understood, make an official visit over a portion of the Trent Valley Canal system.

It is thought that the cost of maintaining, and proposed improvements for the coming year, will aggregate $145,000. Last year the amount for this work, we understand, was about $60,000, but the increase for this year is explainable by the fact that one or two concrete dams are proposed.

The Minister and his efficient deputy are hearing nothing relating to their branch of the Dominion's interests to subordinates, which is most commendable and shows they are determined that none of the public's money shall be wasted or misapplied.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 7 1906

A CASE FOR THE AXE

It has been discovered in Toronto that picture post cards by the thousand are being sold there, chiefly to American tourists, with a representation of the Toronto Armouries, the military headquarters of the city, with three large and flaunting United States flags flying from the pinnacles of the building. Imagine the anger of American citizens if Union Jacks were to be pictured as waving over the headquarters of the American soldiers in the United States, or any of the other public buildings in say Chicago or New York! Yet the card monstrosity first mentioned is being regularly sold by a large firm of dealers in Toronto. It happens that the firm is an American one doing business in Toronto, and it gets its cards made in Germany. Here is another case of insult to Britain in "made in Germany" goods. It is peculiar, though, if the Germans put the flags on without being ordered. For it is hardly likely that they think there is only one flag on the American continent, at least if their commercial knowledge is as perfect as it is generally credited with being. Torontonians are not getting worked up over the affair. They can stand the indifferent quality of the joke without fuming, but what must Col. Denison or W. F. Cockshutt think of it when before the assembled British Chambers of Commerce in London they boasted that "Toronto was the most imperially-minded city in the wide-flung British dominions?" Such sentiment, and then to find the Stars and Stripes flying over the Toronto Armouries! It demands the beheading of the offender, and Col. Denison is the man to do it.

ROOSEVELT MUST RUN

Bryan's Advocacy of Government Ownership of Railways Will Force His Hand.

Cleveland, Sept. 7.—Mayor Tom L. Johnston stated that Roosevelt would be compelled to run for President in 1908 as the result of Bryan's advocacy of government ownership of railways. He said he believed "capital would force the President to make the race again. Continuing, Mr. Johnson said,

"Bryan's declaration of principal means two things; the nomination of Roosevelt and the driving of thousands of Democrats out of the party. To all such Democrats I say "God-speed." For every one that leaves 10 men of the other parties stand ready to take his place. Roosevelt will be nominated, Bryan will be nominated, and Bryan will defeat Roosevelt. That is my firm belief."

C. P. R. Directors Travel Out West

Winnipeg, Sept. 7.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, accompanied by several directors of the company, will arrive in the city the latter part of the present week.

It is the intention of the party to look into the handling and returns of the wheat crop of the West, and, if necessary, to introduce measures that will facilitate a better transportation on their line.

The party will proceed from here to Kenora and Brandon, where matters of much importance await their attention.

In Brandon a meeting of the union elevator men will engage their attention, and at Edmonton the new C.P.R. bridge across the Saskatchewan river will receive their inspection from [illegible] will receive their attention.

Employed Detective To Watch Hotels

Owen Sound, Sept. 7.—Joshua Warrington, proprietor of the Royal Hotel, and Andrew Fogarty, proprietor of the Albion Hotel, were each fined $50 and costs by Magistrate Creasor in the police court yesterday morning, for violating Owen Sound's local option by-law. George Welch, proprietor of the City Hotel, was also charged with committing a breach of the by-law, but his case was adjourned until next Friday morning.

The license inspector and constables have, for a considerable time, been unable to prove that the by-law was broken by any of the hotelkeepers. Accordingly a private detective was engaged, and he has been quietly carrying on his work for the past four weeks. It is understood that many prosecutions will be made against hotelkeepers in Owen Sound; and this result is a result of the detective's work.

FORMULATING NEW TARIFF

Three Ministers Hold Daily Sessions to Determine on Changes to be Submitted.

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—In Ministerial circles it is promised that the Department estimates will be ready to be placed on the table of the November session immediately the address is disposed of.

It is also stated that the tariff will be brought down promptly, and it is expected that good progress will be made with it before Christmas.

WOMEN SUFFER NEEDLESS MISERY.

There are hundreds of thousands of women in America suffering from Pelvic Diseases, endangering their lives by neglecting treatment. If they will write to me I will give them the benefit of my extensive experience in treating this class of ailments. —S. B. Hartman, M. D.

IN view of the great multitude of women suffering from some form of female disease and yet unable to find any cure, Dr. Hartman, the renowned gynecologist, has announced his willingness to direct the treatment of as many cases as may make application to him during the summer months, without charge.

Miss Mary Mayger, 206 Delhi street, Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"Before taking your medicine I was completely run down.

Headache and Backache.

"My back and head ached all the time and I was so nervous that it was impossible for me to attempt any work.

"After using two bottles of Peruna there was a wonderful change and I am now a well woman.

Gratitude.

"I cannot express my gratitude sufficiently and I am recommending it to all my friends."

Dr. Hartman's treatment will be conducted by correspondence.

The medicines prescribed can be obtained at all drug stores.

Complete Treatment.

The Doctor will prescribe all medicines, applications, hygienic and dietary regulations necessary to effect complete relief.

Furthermore, all correspondence will be held strictly confidential.

Entire System Affected.

Mrs. James Golloher, Norwood, Ontario, Can., writes:

"I was suffering from systemic catarrh for about two years.

"In damp weather I was unable to do my work, as my back and sides would ache, and I thought if I did not soon find a cure I could not live long.

"I saw where Peruna had cured hundreds who had suffered as I was suffering. I decided to try it.

"After taking the first bottle, I felt a big change.

Completely Cured.

"I have taken five bottles and I am completely cured.

"I thank Dr. Hartman for his kind advice to me."

Dr. Hartman's offer will hold good during the entire summer months.

Any woman can become a regular patient by sending a written statement of her age, condition of life, symptoms of her derangements, and previous treatment.

Dr. Hartman's Advice.

Mrs. Lizzie Sharpe, 208 Friendship street, Providence, R. I., writes:

"Some time ago I wrote you, asking advice in regard to my health, describing my symptoms.

"Following your advice and taking your medicine for only five weeks, I am thankful to say I am a well woman.

"I had suffered for a number of years with constipation, indigestion and female troubles of the worst form. I was unable to do my housework without help.

Satisfactory Results.

"After taking Peruna I have experienced the most satisfactory results. I am like a new woman.

"I do all my own housework for seven rooms, thanks to Peruna.

Recommends Peruna.

"I want to recommend Peruna to all who are similarly afflicted."

The principal remedy which Dr. Hartman relies upon in curing catarrhal diseases of women is Peruna.

Hundreds of women sufferers find Peruna a household remedy. Many of these women have written letters of thanks for the benefit they have obtained.

Dr. Hartman's Experience.

As is well known, Dr. Hartman is the President of the Hartman Sanitarium, an institution which has a department devoted to the treatment of female diseases.

He is thus brought to see a great many of such cases every year, the most of whom return to their homes to complete their treatment by correspondence.

Those wishing to become patients by correspondence should address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium Columbus, Ohio.

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been afflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 11-3 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 138 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

I consider this the best chance open to the public today. If you win, you will win heavily and soon. Don't delay. Write or see me at once.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH
A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"Laura Elmer! Your friend, Laura Elmer! She who was brought up and educated as the Baroness Etheridge? Are you sure?" exclaimed the duchess.

"Why, of course, I am sure now. I ought to have been sure at first. Look, your grace!"

And Rose opened the volume, spreading before the duchess the title page, upon which appeared the words, "Woman: a Poem. By Laura Elmer." And then turning a fly leaf, she exhibited an autograph of the words—"To Rosamond, Baroness Etheridge, with the love of Laura Elmer. June 1st, 1800."

"Laura Elmer! Laura Elmer! whose education and whose antecedents fit her to adorn any circle, and whose genius entitles her to the very highest consideration! Katherine, my dear, sit down immediately, and write her an invitation to our party of the tenth. There is time enough yet, if you send it off immediately. I will call on her myself to-day. I hope she will soon resign her situation—it is ridiculous, a woman of her genius; however, I suppose genius may be said to consecrate every position; and I really must secure this new literary star for our party of the tenth! Are you writing the invitation, Katherine?"

"Yes, mamma."

"Oh, I am so overjoyed! My dear Miss Elmer! I might have known that she only could have written that poem!" exclaimed Rose, delightedly.

The duchess rang, and ordered her carriage, and then turning to Rose, said:

"I shall call on Miss Elmer this morning; but must leave it to you to persuade her to accept our invitation of the tenth. I can well conceive that a lady of Miss Elmer's pride and delicacy may shrink from the idea of appearing in circles which once she might have honored as the Baroness Etheridge of Swinburne, but which she can now grace only as a successful woman of genius. But she loves you, and will come to us if she can be made to feel that it will make you happy."

On the evening of the tenth, the beauty and fashion of the town were assembled at Beresleigh House. The duchess had informed many of her friends, who had told all the others, that the new star, the unknown poetess, would be present. And among other interesting subjects of conversation, the expected arrival of Miss Elmer was discussed.

At length were successively announced the names:

"Lady Lester," "Mr. Ruthven Lester," and "Miss Elmer." And the party entered.

Every one knew the Lesters. The queenly woman, on the arm of Lady Lester could therefore, only be Miss Elmer.

A murmur of irrepressible admiration greeted her appearance as Lady Lester conducted her through the drawing-rooms toward the place where the duchess stood to welcome her guests.

The facts of her antecedents, as well as of her present social rank, were unknown or ignored. That she was Laura Elmer, the protegee, patronized by the Duchess of Beresleigh, and by Lady Lester, was deemed a sufficient passport to the favor of the most exclusive conservator of rank present. That her beauty, dress, and address were all of a very high order, was another recommendation, though probably a less important one.

Lady Lester and Mr. Ruthven Lester never relaxed their polite attentions, and Laura Elmer became the lioness of the evening.

Laura, in returning home with the Lesters, was occupied with one thought.

"Shall I see Cassinove to-night, and bid him 'Good-night,' before we retire?"

Her secret hope was gratified. He was standing in the hall when they entered.

Lady Lester was in great good-humor, and came in complimenting Miss Elmer. Seeing Mr. Cassinove, she said:

"Ah, Mr. Cassinove, you should have seen what a sensation our friend created at the Duchess of Beresleigh's party to-night. Congratulate her, sir."

"The duchess and her friends are rather to be congratulated, madam," said Mr. Cassinove, gravely and sweetly, as he bowed to Laura Elmer.

Their eyes met.

"The approbation of one esteemed friend is better than the admiration of the whole world besides," said Laura Elmer, in a tone that made his heart thrill with joy.

"Good-night," she said, holding out her hand, receiving and returning the slight pressure that sent him happier to his rest.

Laura Elmer retired to her room; but the adventures of the night were not yet over. In her life of isolation and solitude she had formed the habit of reading in her chamber every night until she became sleepy. For this purpose she always kept a volume on hand. The book now in progress of perusal happened to be "Ivanhoe." Feeling too much excited by the events of the day to go at once to sleep, Laura looked about for her book, without being able to find it. Then suddenly recollecting that she had left it in the drawing-room below stairs, and feeling the more anxious to read it because it happened to be out of her way, she threw on her dressing-gown, took a taper, and went softly down the stairs to repossess herself of her missing treasure. The house was quite still; the world seemed buried in the deep repose of the still small hours.

As she reached the lower landing a sudden draught from the library door, left at the foot of the staircase, blew out the taper. At the same moment, the sight within that library spellbound her to the spot with astonishment. The lights were all out, but, by the smouldering fire of the grate, she saw the figures of two men seated at the writing-tables near the rug. The one with his face fronting the fireplace was Sir Vincent Lester, and even in the red and lurid light of the dying fire his face was ghastly pale, his brows were corrugated, and great drops of agony were beaded upon his forehead.

The other figure sat with his back toward the door, and, consequently, his face was hidden from Laura Elmer; but by the general contour of his form and by the peculiar air of his head, and especially by his light hair, she recognized him as the mysterious stranger who had twice met Mrs. Ravenscroft in the park, and whose relations with the family of Sir Vincent seemed, too, as baleful as they were inexplicable.

It took but one instant to impress this strange scene upon the brain of Laura Elmer, and then deeply shocked by what she had inadvertently witnessed, she turned hastily to retrace her steps, to her chamber.

In her hurried retreat, a few words from the library reached her ear, the first from Sir Vincent Lester, in a voice half-suffocated with emotion.

"For her sake, then, she loves you."

A derisive laugh from the other was the only reply.

"Oh, Heaven! you would not destroy her!" burst in anguish from Sir Vincent.

"I will give you ten days, and then ——"

Laura heard no more; she had passed out of the reach of the voices.

She gained the privacy of her own room, and with no disposition either to sleep or to read, retired to rest.

CHAPTER XIX

The long looked for day of Lady Haworth's rural breakfast and promenade at her superb villa at Richmond came at length.

At an early hour the Duchess of Beresleigh and her party, consisting of The Baroness Etheridge and the Ladies Wardour, entered their carriages to proceed to the scene of Arcadian festivity.

The morning drive from London to Richmond, along the banks of the beautiful Thames, through sunny meadows and shady groves, in all the luxuriant verdure of an early summer time, was the purest enjoyment of natural scenery that Rose had experienced since leaving her beautiful home at Swinburne Castle.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 300 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 3,600 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.50 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $88,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 51 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hundreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

What Does It Mean?

Dr. Hamilton Gives a Full and Satisfactory Explanation.

Look at your tongue!

Sometimes it's heavily coated sometimes it's clear and red.

Study this out and you'll find some interference with the functional activity of the body.

This means the bowels are not regular, the liver is sluggish and the blood is contaminated.

Strong cathartic pills act so destructively on the intestines as to provoke deathly sickness this often frightens people from taking medicine when they badly need it.

To the multitude of dangerous purgatives now on the market, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a notable exception, they neither gripe, cause sickening or headache, yet they cleanse and purify the entire system in one night. No other laxative acts with such mildness and certainty Giving proper stimulus to the liver and kidneys, strengthening the stomach and lending valuable aid to digestion, it's small wonder that such many hours results accompany Dr Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Geo O'Hogerty of Amherst, N. S., writes, "Last winter I worked in a lumber camp and neglected my health I was dreadfully constipated and had a headache that fairly made me reel at times. I was sick and miserable, and hadn't the slightest ambition to work or stir around. I felt heavy and dull and had a bad taste in my mouth. I sent into the city for Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I knew were good for my condition. They fixed me up very quickly and have kept me in good condition ever since. There are other men in the camp that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills also. They say they wouldn't be with out the pills for ten times their price.

Every dealer in the land sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills—25c per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson, and Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S. A. and Kingston, Ont.

Mr. John E. Code Has Taken Control

New Manager for the London Life Insurance Comes from Almonte.

Mr John E. Code, of Almonte, has been appointed manager of the London Life Insurance Co. of this city and has now entered upon his new duties, taking the place of Mr. Stockhouse.

Referring to Mr. Code's departure from Almonte, the Gazette of that place says:—

"The numerous friends of Mr. John E. Code will be pleased to learn that he has secured a well-deserved promotion in the insurance business, having secured the position of manager of the London Life at Peterborough, and left for that city on Tuesday to assume his duties. He will have a number of agencies under his charge, and as he is a hustler of the first order in the business, we have no doubt he will give the best of satisfaction to the company."

Rheumatism is not incurable, suffering! Yes! But Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy will if faithfully used drive it out of the system. It's the blood that's at fault. Poisonous crystals like sand get into the joints and muscles. Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy prevents this It drives Rheumatism from the blood and then Rheumatism dies. We recommend and sell it J. D. McDonald Estate Co. Hustling

The McDonald estate's steamer left yesterday for Nogee's Creek with the scow and the company's cookery barge in tow, together with supplies for Mr. P. McGrath, foreman, who with his gang of men starts work at once for the fall and winter season. This is an early start and demonstrates that this enterprising lumber company as in times gone by, are determined to keep to the fore and be ready to supply Peterborough's rapidly growing demand for lumber and other products of the forest.

Mr. A. Davey Badly Hurt.

On Thursday afternoon, Mr. Andrew Davey, while driving Mr. C. N. Brown's floor and feed delivery wagon had a most painful accident. One of the reins having caught under the horse's tail, Mr. Davey leaned forward to release it. The horse suddenly kicked out with its hind legs and the breching strap buckle breaking the iron clad hoofs caught Mr. Davey in the leg. The iron cut a complete hole through both the trouser leg and the under drawers, and made a gaping wound in the flesh How the bone was not broken is almost miraculous. Dr. Young dressed the wound and yesterday Mr. Davey pluckily went to work though in great pain.

A Real Estate Offer Declined

Mr. Thos. Darcy, Burleigh Falls, and his son, Mr. Fred Darcy, of Peterborough, both practical and experienced lumbermen, and, who as noted in a former issue of The Times have sublet from Mr. M. Pappas, the two upper stories of the late Palace Hotel, for use, on the first floor as a restaurant and the top flat for rooming purposes, yesterday made the former an offer of $1000 a year for the ground floor alone.

The offer was made on the basis of a ten years' lease, even offering to pay $2,000 down or five hundred years' rent in advance. Mr. Pappas, however, although this would have given him a handsome profit on his own lease, with no expenditure on his part, declined this offer, preferring for business purposes and to keep faith with the public, to retain the ground floor for his business The Messrs. Darcy will, however, have the two top floors Mr. Pappas has on the way from Montreal, and expects to receive today, the handsome plate glass fronts and mirrors for his new establishment. The fixtures will arrive from Toronto.

Messrs Darcy have concluded arrangements for having their new restaurant second to none, and will have a ladies' private dining room in connection, as well as splendidly furnished bedrooms, the latter, for gentlemen only on the top floor. This will be one of the handsomest [illegible] in the city, and Mr. Pappas is spending several thousand dollars on fittings alone.

Mr. Allen Wins in Watter's Case

The case of Mrs. Walters v. James Allen, for $18 for value of certain wearing apparel, was tried in the Division court yesterday. It will be remembered that Mrs. Walters left the C.P.R. Hotel on July 18th, when it was run by Mr. Allen, and coming back for her clothing said some of it was missing.

The judge held that as Mrs. Walters was only a servant of the hotel, defendant was not responsible for her property. Mr. Goodon, who appeared for the plaintiff, did not agree with him on this point and the judge granted him time to put the case in writing.

The case of ex-P.C. Jos. Stewart v. the city, to recover $1.50 costs incurred by him whilst going to make an arrest, was postponed until Monday.

Board of Education and Mayor Best.

It is likely that the Board of Education at their regular meeting Monday night will have some opinions to express relative to Mayor Best's action regarding the new South Ward school matter. It seems that some of the Board are not expending large sums for buggies to throw them to the mayor over this matter. Time will tell.

READ AND YOU WILL LEARN.

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root, all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous or harmful agents and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Is authorized to act as Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

GERMAN IS BLACK POPE AFTER SECOND BALLOT

General Wernz Elected Head of the Jesuit Order---Progressive and Energetic ---Pope is Pleased.

Rome, Sept. 9.—Francis Xavier Wernz, a German, was yesterday elected general of the society by the Congregation of the Company of Jesus, in succession to the late Father Martin, who died last May.

Following the election, a messenger was immediately despatched to the Vatican to inform the Pope of the choice, which, to become effective, requires the papal sanction.

It is learned that two ballots were taken before the final choice was made.

At the conclusion of the decisive balloting, announcement that a new general of the order had been chosen was communicated to the outer world by the pining of a bell, which was the signal that the meeting was at an end. Thereupon, the rector of the college, upon whom had been placed the responsibility of maintaining the seclusion of the conference hall, opened the door to the council chamber.

Formal acknowledgment of the election then was first made to him by a secretary. At the same moment Father Alfred Muertens, procurator-general of the Jesuits, who had been especially appointed by the congregation, started for the Vatican to inform Pope Pius of the company's choice. He was received immediately by the Pope, who expressed great satisfaction over the selection of Father Wernz.

POPE IS PLEASED.

"He is just the man fitted for the position," said the Pope. He charged Father Muertens to take to General Wernz the apostolic benediction, and also an affectionate letter of greeting which he wrote to the new general.

In the meantime General Wernz was receiving congratulations from members of the order and many others at his own room in the college, where he went immediately after the announcement of the election. Father Francis Xavier Wernz was born at Rothwell, Wurtemburg, on Dec. 2, 1842, and at the age of 15 years entered the society, of which he has just been chosen head. In 1882 he received an appointment as professor in the Gregorian University, and has been rector of the university since 1901. He is a consulting member of the congregations ecclesiastics, extraordinary affairs and index council, and is recognized as a progressive man of present-day ideas and extremely energetic.

ARCHBISHOP CONSECRATED.

Monsignor Aversa, apostolic delegate to Cuba, yesterday was consecrated titular Archbishop of Sardi. The solemn ceremony was performed at Casa Ganagainst by Cardinal Merry del Val and the papal secretary of state, assisted by Mgr. Kennedy, rector of the American College.

Anti-clerical societies had decided to make a demonstration at the function against Cardinal Merry del Val, and the policy of the Vatican, but the police interfered and forced them to hold their meeting in private.

Brighton Can Now Get Power

Can Also Secure Representation on the Company's Board.

The Toronto World's special from Brighton says that with reference to an article in the Toronto press in regard to the deputation from the council of Brighton waiting on the Hydro-Electric Power commission, and alleging that they were afraid they would not receive power from the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., and further complaining that they had no representation on the directorate of the company, the directors of the company say they were much surprised to learn of this situation, as the president of the company is Samuel Nesbitt, a resident of Brighton.

They further say that if the council will communicate directly with the directors they will be glad to satisfy them that they will receive power from Healey Falls the same as the other frontier towns, as the transmission line will pass through Brighton, and furthermore the company are quite willing to give Brighton satisfactory representation on the directorate.

The lease was issued a few weeks ago, and since then the engineers have been busy surveying the property for the development of the power.

The Port Hope Guide adds that that paper has learned from Brighton that the whole trouble is a want of confidence of the council of Brighton and citizens with the president of the company. We also learn that the whole matter was ventilated in Brighton council last night. (Since the council had sent a communication to the Toronto Globe) and that the company upon doing certain acts which they will agree to do will receive the strong support of the Brighton council and citizens.

Speaking of the lease which has been granted to the company by the Ontario government we might remind the public that it was granted at the request of twelve municipal councils of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham notwithstanding the strong opposition of some Peterborough and Lakefield citizens, which district is already in possession of some dozen heavy water powers largely unused. Northumberland and Durham counties are not afraid of any outside influence aimed at depriving them of their power.

Getting Ahead of Moulders

The Strike Has Had the Result of Inducing Manufacturers to Buy Moulding Machines.

Chicago, September 8.—Secretary Paul Blatchford, of the Metal Trades Association, yesterday predicted a termination of the strike of 600 iron moulders in the foundry shops of Chicago within a month, as a result of an important discovery made by local manufacturers.

As an experiment 100 moulding machines recently were installed in the big foundries where it had been found impossible to secure men to replace the foundrymen who struck on May 1. The trial proved successful, according to the employers, who assert the machines turned out as much work as three skilled iron moulders.

Orders immediately were sent to New York for 500 more of the machines.

In Chicago and Milwaukee, where the strike of the moulders also is in progress, it was predicted 1,200 machines will be in operation before another month. If this proves true it is figured by employers that they will have need for less than half of the former employes.

Petition for Free Delivery

Ald. McWilliams, owing to prevalent and growing agitation for a free mail delivery in this city has drawn up a petition to the post office department for such service here. These petitions will be circulated and will doubtless be very largely signed.

The petition reads as follows:

To the Hon., the Postmaster-General of Canada,—

The petition of the undersigned residents of the City of Peterborough humbly sheweth:

1. That the postal facilities now afforded in this city are altogether inadequate to the needs of the community. The present post office was built in 1887, since which time the population and business of the city have more than doubled and continue to increase at a rapid rate. No enlargement of the post office has been made, except a small change in 1905, which proved a help, but utterly inadequate to the need.

2. The large increase in the population has made it impossible for the staff, of the post office to have any adequate knowledge of the people, and in consequence there have been constant mistakes in delivery and complaints. We believe that no improvement short of a house delivery will remedy the present difficulties or establish a satisfactory service.

3. This city is now the largest city in Canada which has not a delivery, and is larger than other places were, when given a delivery. The revenue derived from this post office exceeds $30,000 per annum, while the cost of operation is only $6,000.

For the above and many other reasons, your petitioners would respectively urge that a postal delivery has become a necessity in this city, and your petitioners pray that such service may be established at the earliest possible date.

BRITISHERS BEATEN

Russian Troops Included Them With Other Victims of Outrage.

London, September 10.—The Standard's correspondent at St. Petersburg says that J. Foster Fraser, the Standard's special correspondent, and his secretary, were arrested in Tuesday's round-up of 2,000 persons in the streets, and were taken to the yard of the governor's palace, where they were beaten by the Circassian Guards. Probably only the intervention of the adjutant of Governor-General Scallon saved their lives.

BASEBALL.

On Saturday afternoon the best ball game played this season at Riverside Park between the Shamrocks and All Stars was witnessed by only about half the attendance that the merits of the game deserved. From start to finish the game was hot, well played and interesting. The seemingly invincibles, in a close contest, went down to defeat by one run made by a great steal by Shaw in the eighth innings. The Shamrocks got nine hits and the All Stars of the City League 7. Pilling struck out 12 and Quinlan for the Shamrocks 16.

The total score was 6—5 in favor of the All Stars.

H. Moody very ably umpired the contest.

Pretty Wedding at Newmarket

Nuptials of Mr. E. R. Hatch and Miss Alice M. Patridge.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place on Tuesday, September 4th, at "Ferngrove," 293 Prospect avenue, Newmarket, the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Patridge, when their only daughter, Alice Maud, who has been very favorably known as an elocutionist, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Edgar R. Hatch, a foreman in the Office Specialty Company, of Newmarket, and late of Stratford, Ont.

Promptly at the appointed hour, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Coon, organist of the Methodist church, the bride entered the spacious drawing-room, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The room was handsomely decorated with pale pink asters, ferns, and streamers of white from each corner of the room to the center, from which hung a very pretty fern ball, dotted with asters. The arch was very prettily covered with evergreens and asters. At the rear of the arch, while the ceremony was being performed, the guests stood under electric lights, which made the effect a perfect bower of beauty. The bride looked charming in a handsome gown of silk chantilly lace completely covered with seed pearls, the bertha being draped with fluted chiffon, the whole being made over ivory taffeta. She wore the bridal veil, which was caught with a spray of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white asters, tied with streamers of white ribbon. The only ornament worn by the bride was a handsome gold watch and chain (Elgin make), it being the gift of the groom.

Pretty little Burle Bogart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bogart, led the bridal party into the drawing-room, looking very dainty in white swiss, trimmed with insertion and baby ribbon, and carried a basket of white sweet peas, done with fluted chiffon, and tied with pink ribbon, in which was placed the wedding ring. Miss Libbie C. Penrose, of Pine Orchard, assisted the bride, and wore a very pretty gown of ivory silk, trimmed with insertion and ribbon, and carried a bouquet of pink asters, tied with pink ribbons. The bride's mother wore a costume of black paletta silk, with touches of white.

The groom was supported by Mr. Ritchie, of Guelph. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. J. Fullis, of Toronto, formerly of Newmarket.

The sweet music rendered by Miss Coon, during the ceremony, and while receiving congratulations, had a very pleasing effect. While the register was being signed in the hall, Miss Dolan, of Toronto, [illegible] sang very sweetly "Angels Guard Thee;" after which the guests, numbering about fifty, repaired to the dining-room, where everything in season was awaiting them. The catering being done by C. T. Simpson in fine style. The bride's table was prettily decorated with streamers of white ribbon and asters. The decorations outside, where small tables were set, were in red, white and blue. Miss Elsie Penrose played while the refreshments were served.

The bride received many handsome presents from friends far and near, among them being a quarter-oak bedroom suite, and a check of $25.

The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold bracelet, to the little flower girl a gold ring, and to the groomsman gold cuff links.

The bride's going away suit was of pearl grey plaid tweed, with the fashionable tourist coat, opening over a blouse of ivory silk.

The happy couple left on the 8.45 train, amid showers of rice and confetti and the best wishes of many friends, who followed them right into the train and showered them with rice until they were compelled to say good by.

The bride will receive at the home of her mother on the third Wednesday in October, afternoon and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatch are at present the guests of Mrs. T. E. Fitzgerald, and Miss Della Taylor, city, for a few days.

Miss Della Taylor, also Mrs. T. E. Fitzgerald attended the wedding of Miss Patridge in Newmarket on Tuesday.

HUNDREDS OF MEN IDLE

Low Water Causes Ottawa Valley Mills to Close.

Ottawa, September 10.—The remarkable low water conditions prevailing in the Ottawa river is becoming a serious matter for those engaged in the lumbering industry. At Hawkesbury the big mills of the Hawkesbury Lumber Company are idle, and about six hundred men are temporarily out of employment. In Hull the Eddy Company's sawmill has suspended operations in the day time, and runs only at night. J. R. Booth's mill is running full in the daytime, but only half of it is operated at night. The trouble is that it is impossible to get logs over the slide at Hull, and the supply of logs from the upper Ottawa is cut off. It is many years since the water has been so low.

Advertised for a Wife and is Happily Wedded

Toronto Blacksmith Gets a Bride as the Result of an "Ad" in a Philadelphia Paper.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 9.—A "wife wanted" ad. in a Philadelphia newspaper was the means of getting a bride for Alexander Mackenzie, a Toronto blacksmith. Mackenzie was married in Pittston, a suburb of this city, Thursday, to Miss Almira Bean, the young woman who answered his ad. for a spouse. They left last night for Toronto, shortly after the wedding ceremony.

Mackenzie had never seen his wife to within a few hours of the marriage ceremony, and neither had Miss Bean ever cast eyes upon her husband-to-be. They had, however, exchanged photographs. On meeting, both admitted that the realization exceeded their expectation, and declared themselves anxious for the happy hour of the wedding to arrive.

Almira Bean was a domestic in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hackenberger, in West Pittston, and some months ago saw a matrimonial ad. in one of the Philadelphia newspapers. Thinking it would be a good joke she answered it. Mackenzie was the man who had inserted the ad., and in a few days he made reply to Miss Bean's letter. She was pleased with his letter, and answered back. Thus it was kept up for several months until at last came the formal proposal and exchange of photographs. Miss Bean accepted Mackenzie, and set Thursday as the day for the marriage.

Mackenzie doffed his smith's apron came to this city, and thence to Pittston, where he met his future bride for the first time. With a few intimate friends, Mackenzie and Miss Bean went to the home of Rev. Dr. Severson of the Pittston Presbyterian Church, and were quietly married. A little reception followed, and then the newly married couple left for Toronto.

Express Driver Gets Legacy of $350,000

Montreal, Sept. 9.—One of the saloon passengers on the Allan Line steamer Tunisian, which left for England yesterday, was James Broderick Roach, who for some time has had been engaged in driving an express wagon in Montreal. He is going home to England to receive a legacy of $350,000. News of his sudden possession of wealth was received by him Thursday in a cablegram from Messrs. Shirley & Johnston, a firm of solicitors in Plymouth. Mr. Roach, who was formerly connected with the Fifth Royal Highlanders, came to Canada some years ago and go work in this city. He formerly lived in Newcastle, Natal, and is now twenty-five years of age. His father was one of the early settlers in South Africa, and after the son had left for Canada the elder Roach struck it rich. Eventually the father died, and in his will it was arranged that James Broderick Roach should be paid his share of the million dollars which the father had left when he reached the age of twenty-five. Mr. Roach's birthday was his week, and as a birthday present he received the news of his good fortune. He is one of three heirs to his father's estate.

Mr. Cannon came here from Lewiston to fill an engagement to speak at a Republican rally in advocacy of the re-election of Representative Chas. E. Littlefield.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

AUSTRALIA IS ANGRY OVER NAVAL MATTER

Imperial Defence Committee Turned Down its Proposal for Defence With Scant Courtesy.

Melbourne, Sept. 10.—The Imperial Defence Committee's uncompromising and contemptuous treatment of Capt. Creswell's official scheme for a torpedo flotilla for Commonwealth coastal defence, contained in the committee's memorandum published last week, has greatly angered the advocates of an Australian navy in Victoria, Queensland, and South Australia.

The tone of patronage permeating the memorandum is especially resented, as is the Admiralty's refusal to sell the Commonwealth Government or the State Premiers any discarded cruisers now being disposed of at scrap-iron prices.

Mr. Bent, Premier of Victoria, speaking at Brighton on Friday, referred bitterly to the obstacles thrown by the Admiralty in the way of his getting a training ship for lads.

The Age describes the British official attitude as an insult to Australia's legitimate naval aspirations.

It is rumored here that Lord Elgin, Mr. Winston Churchill, and Lord Tweedmouth personally opposed the repression of Australia's desire for separate naval forces to supplement and co-operate with the Imperial Navy, but were overruled by their colleagues in the Cabinet and the Government's technical advisers.

An Australian navy, as part of the policy of "Australia for the Australians," will be a burning question at the coming elections. The Ministry will on Tuesday introduce a voting bill, which, if passed, will greatly improve their chances at the polls.

WHAT WAS PROPOSED.

London, Sept. 10.—Capt. Creswell is the Naval Director of the Commonwealth, and his report on the naval policy was presented to the Australian Government in December last. It was drawn up in reply to specific enquiries from the Commonwealth Government as to what the country required in the way of a navy, what would be the cost, and what class of vessels should be obtained. Capt. Creswell recommended the establishment of a force of destroyers and torpedo boats to be used for the purpose of defending the coastal and overseas trade of the Commonwealth, in the possible absence of the Naval Squadron kept in Australian waters. He suggested a force of:

Three cruiser-destroyers.
Sixteen torpedo-boat destroyers.
Fifteen torpedo boats.

The cost he put down at £2,300,000, and the upkeep at £120,000 a year in time of peace.

On enquiry at the Admiralty it was found that the matter was in the hands of the Imperial Defence Committee, and, as a last resource, would be decided by the Cabinet. The Admiralty therefore, has no voice in the matter.

SITUATION EXPLAINED.

Captain R. M'Collins, C.M.G., Secretary of the Department of Defence of the Commonwealth Government, is now in London, and he was kind enough to explain the present position.

"Before the Commonwealth came in to existence," he said, "the States of Queensland, Victoria, and South Australia each had small local naval forces. Queensland had two gunboats, Victoria had an old coast defence vessel, the Cerberus, which was and still is the property of the Imperial Government. She was sent for the purpose of harbor defence by Mr. Childers, about 35 years ago. She had ten-inch muzzle loader guns, and is, of course, obsolete. Victoria also had a flotilla of torpedo boats, and maintained a permanent force of bluejackets. She had taken the lead in local naval matters because she had borrowed from the Admiralty, for the purposes of command and instruction, Imperial naval officers — Capt. Thomas, Capt. Muns, and Capt. White. The two latter are now Admirals Altogether, before the Commonwealth came, Victoria had a fairly efficient little local flotilla. South Australia had a gunboat called the Protector, built at her own expense at Elswick. The other States had no naval forces.

Girl is to be Hanged Smiles When Sentenced

St. Petersburg, Sept. 10. — The court-martial which tried Angelie Kochopitchkina, the girl who assassinated General Min on Aug. 25, at Peterhof, sentenced her yesterday to be hanged. She maintained her composure, and smiled on hearing the sentence, which is subject to the confirmation of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, commander of the Guards Corps.

The ministry of finance is perfecting measures for absorbing the scrip by the land banks in payment for private estates acquired in accordance with agrarian program, so as to prevent too great a depreciation of the sudden flooding of the market, and has decided to authorize the investment therein of funds accumulated in the government's hands for pensions, barrack construction, etc. The purchase of scrip by insurance companies, including the American, which are required to invest a part of their reserves in government securities, is authorized. The report that the government is seeking to induce foreign investment in the land scrip is denied at the ministry of finance.

In addition to the sale of crown appanage lands hitherto announced, the government has found it possible to distribute a portion of the state lands held by the government, which consist largely of forest reserves.

A further measure of relief will be the lowering of the interest on arrears of payments on land previously purchased by peasants through the land banks. The difference will be charged to the state treasury.

HOW MANY OF US

Fail to Select Food Nature Demands to Ward Off Ailments.

A Ky. lady, speaking about food, says: "I was accustomed to eating all kinds of ordinary food until, for some reason, indigestion and nervous prostration set in.

"After I had run down seriously my attention was called to the necessity of some change in my diet, and I discontinued my ordinary breakfast and began using Grape-Nuts with a good quantity of rich cream.

"In a few days my condition changed in a remarkable way, and I began to have a strength that I had never been possessed of before, a vigor of body and a poise of mind that amazed me. It was entirely new in my experience.

"My former attacks of indigestion had been accompanied by heat flashes, and many times my condition was distressing with blind spells of dizziness, rush of blood to the head and neuralgic pains in the chest.

"Since using Grape-Nuts alone for breakfast I have been free from these troubles, except at times when I have indulged in rich, greasy foods in quantity, then I would be warned by a pain under the left shoulder blade, and unless I heeded the warning the old trouble would come back, but when I finally got to know where these troubles originated I returned to my Grape-Nuts and cream and the pain and disturbance left very quickly.

"I am now in prime health as a result of my use of Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Rats Attacked Helpless Woman

Elizabeth, N.J., Sept. 10. — Mrs. Elizabeth Van Hart, 60 years old, a paralytic, was bitten to death by rats in her home in this city early yesterday morning.

She was absolutely helpless, and was unable to call for help, although her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Van Hart, slept in an adjoining apartment.

The rats, it is thought, attacked Mrs. Van Hart while she was asleep, and severing an artery, she old lady bled to death before help arrived. Awakened by the loud squealing of the rats in the adjoining room, Mrs. Van Hart, the old woman's daughter-in-law, entered the room.

She says it was swarming with the animals. They attacked her as she entered, and alarmed, she fled from the house. Passersby returned to the room with her and beat off the rats.

According to the undertaker, one of the woman's feet was horribly mutilated, and the other leg and one eye had also been attacked. Near the bed, the house in which he woman was found is a butcher's shop, which has been recently vacated. It is thought the rats were made bold by hunger and attacked the helpless woman while she dozed in a chair.

Adopted Son to Get 13 Millions

New York, Sept. 10—The Sun says: When the will of the late William Zeigler was filed for probate after his death, in May last year, at his country place at Norelton, Conn., it was found that he left practically the whole of his estate to his adopted son, Wm Zeigler, jr., and that to his widow he had bequeathed only an annuity of $50,000 a year, his country house, and his own residence at 324 Fifth avenue.

The widow was dissatisfied with the provisions of the will, although she was willing that the greater part of the estate should go to the adopted son. She started to contest the will, alleging that her husband's mental condition at the time he made the will was not such as to enable him to make a proper testamentary disposition of his property.

Since the announcement of the beginning of the suit nothing has been heard of it until yesterday, the accounting filed with Surrogate Fitzgerald by the executors showed a settlement had been made with the widow. The account shows that she consented to settle the suit for a payment of $2,185,000.

Japanese Strikers Rioters.

Tokio, September 10.—The trouble between the street car companies and their employes resulted yesterday in a demonstration, that degenerated into incipient rioting in several districts. Cars were stopped by mobs throughout the city, and five of them were smashed to bits. Several persons were seriously injured. Further agitation is expected.

"WHY SO WEARY?"

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous.

You have to work hard. This uses up lost of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sicknessof any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from overpowering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight hacking cough also added to my burden.

"My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 66, I consider Ferrozone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE LATEST "FLAG INCIDENT."

The flag incident at the Toronto exhibition is one of those regretable occurrences absolutely without any significance. Among other things, exhibitions are regarded as more or less "trade-pullers" for the communities in which they are held. The enterprising gentlemen who control the destinies of [illegible] consider all dodges that come to their net, says the Montreal Star. For advertising purposes, they would sue anything or anybody from the King of England to a balloon ascension; from calling it the "World's Exposition" to decorating it with Boer flags. That they should have the Stars and Stripes prominent among the colored cloth used for decorative purposes goes without saying. Like the folly of the man who wanted to pull the flag down, the fact of it being up had no significance. There are many in Canada who are irritated at seeing such frequent use of foreign flags for decorative purposes on occasions when we celebrate, and that irritation has nothing to do with any feeling of animosity towards any of the foreign countries. In the United States the constant use of the flags of outside nations—especially the British Empire—is almost invariably the occasion for expressions of disapproval.

Let us frankly confess that in the vast majority of cases the use of the American flag in Canada, especially in the summer time, is simply an overworked advertising device. It is known that there are many tourists here during certain seasons, and it is hoped by a cheap class of dealers that a display of the American flag will draw them trade. In other cases the display is purely a piece of courtesy towards a neighbor with whom we are on friendly terms. We are quite aware that the frequent floating of the American flag in Canada is misunderstood by our visitors, and is taken by them far too seriously as evincing sentiments which do not exist in this country. We have a flag of our own of which we have no reason to feel ashamed, and it were well that all of us use only our own, but those who choose to fly the American flag, with about the same feeling that they would dress their building with Chinese lanterns, have a right to protection, because this is a free country.

New Use for Bertillon System.

Baltimore, Sept. 8.—The Third National Bank of this city, which has inaugurated a twenty-four-hour day has adopted the Bertillon system of identifying its depositors.

The tellers will always have the description cards convenient, and when a depositor whose face is unfamiliar asks to have a cheque cashed it will be easy to identify him by referring the filing cabinet.

TO LOCATE SHIPS

Halifax, Sept. 8.—Chevalier Warren, in an interview regarding the progress which had been made in the direction of undertaking commercial work at Glace Bay Station, stated that himself and associated were satisfied with the progress they were making. Improvements and enlargements immediately in hand will cost upwards of $40,000.

Signor Marconi is at present engaged on the improvement and perfection of a device for the determination of ships. By means of this device the location of any ship can be accurately determined in the thickest weather.

The apparatus will be first tested on the Mersey during the coming winter.

Signor Marconi regards this invention as of inestimable value in the navigation of the St. Lawrence River.

WROTE "BLACK HAND" LETTERS

Now Italian will Spend Five Years in the State Penitentiary.

New York, Sept. 8.—Vincenzo Tricoli, an Italian, 20 years old, was given a sentence of five years in State Prison today for writing three extortion "black hand" letters.

This is the first conviction for this crime.

In sentencing Tricoli Judge Rosalsky said: "You are a member of a vicious gang that has been striking terror among the ignorant of your own race. Your gang has gone so far as to commit murder when the moneys they demanded was not forthcoming. I am imposing this sentence on you that your companions in the practice of 'black hand' extortion may be warned."

Tricoli was convicted of writing the letters to Salvatore Grasso, a shoe dealer. He demanded $500 and threatened to blow up Grasso and his family if the money were not paid.

ENGLAND TO HONG KONG

Toronto, Sept. 8.—Mr. A. A. Porter, an Englishman of wealth, arrived at the King Edward this morning on a pleasure jaunt around the world.

"I am going all the way from England to Hong Kong by the Canadian Pacific Railway route. I came over on the Empress of Ireland, and was much pleased with that boat. We made the trip from land to land in three days, 19 hours. This is a big change from the old 10 day style. It will bring the Mother Country and Canada just so much nearer together, too, and promote closer relations between the two.

Mr. Porter had not been in Canada before, and though Quebec a very pretty city, and Montreal a notable, business center.

"You have no special mission here or in China?" he was asked.

"No," was the reply, "as the American says, 'I was just born idle.'"

WAYWARD GIRL KILLED

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 8.—In an attempt to escape from the house of the Good Shepherd, Detroit, where she was temporarily confined, Mildred Daniel, the 16-year-old daughter of a Windsor family, fell from the third storey window of the institution, and sustained injuries from which she died two hours later.

The girl had given her parents much trouble because of her waywardness.

They were arranging to send her to relatives in Eastern Ontario in the hope that separation from influences here might effect her reformation.

How He Got His Cherries.

We hear a lot nowadays of the scarcity of farm labor, and of the dilemma in which farmers find themselves to secure the gifts of a bounteous Providence. But The Clinton New Era caps the climax with a story, which is too good not to reproduce: "A good joke is told at the expense of one of Clinton's independent gentlemen, who having made provision for the picking of his cherries with a certain person who afterwards found it impossible to fulfil his contract, went into the orchard, cut the valuable tree down, stripped it of its heavily-laden limbs, and proceeded to pick fruit 'under the shade of the old apple tree.'"

Artificial Halos or "Sun Dogs."

An experiment which illustrates in a very curious manner the actual philosophy of the formation of halos or "sundogs" is performed as follows: Take a solution of alum and spread a few drops of it over a pane of glass. It will readily crystallize in small, flat octohedrons, scarcely visible to the eye. When this pane of prepared glass is held between the observer and the sun or even a candle (with eyes very close to the smooth side of the glass) there will be seen three different but distinct and beautiful halos, each at a different distance from the luminous body.

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 11-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 120 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH — A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

It was nearly twelve o'clock when they reached the villa, an elegant mansion of white stone, crowning a commanding height above the river. Behind the house stood a tall, close, well-kept wood; before it rolled a green lawn, in all the dewy freshness of June, and adorned by grand old oak trees, standing singly or in groups, at various distances, between the mansion house and the water's edge.

The lawn presented a strange and grotesque scene. Such anachronisms of history and geography, such solecisms of rank and caste, of politics and religion, might have afflicted the uninitiated beholders with temporary insanity. It was covered with a multitude of people in the costumes of all countries, all ages, and all classes.

The Duchess of Beresleigh was dressed as a Roman matron, the Ladies Wardour as Roman maidens.

Lady Etheridge, as Aurora, was beautifully arrayed in a floating, cloud-like robe of azure and rose-colored gauze. A single diamond, like the morning star, blazed upon her fair forehead, and a large veil, like a silvery morning mist, covered her form. Her dress, her figure, and her graceful motions excited universal admiration as she passed, but the close, black velvet mask concealed her lovely features.

The scene, so novel and so entertaining, engaged her youthful fancy. She knew that under those various and grotesque disguises the aristocracy, celebrity, beauty, and fashion of the town were present.

Some, from the peculiarity of their figure, gait, and manner, the duchess was enabled to identify and point out to her young charge.

"That fine-looking woman, dressed as the Goddess Diana, is the beautiful Duchess of Devonshire, my love."

"Yes; there is no mistaking her graceful carriage. But who is that stately woman in the character of Cleopatra?"

"I think the Margravine of Anspach; there is the Margrave, as Marc Anthony."

"Oh, can you tell me who that veiled beauty, dressed as an Eastern princess, and wafting all the perfumes of Arabia as she walks, can be?"

"Yes; she is the beautiful Mrs. Bristow, lately returned from Constantinople. She has taken the character of 'Nourmahal, the Harem's Light.' You remember the Feast of Roses, in 'Lalah Rookh?'"

"Yes."

They passed on. Breakfast tables, covered with all the luxuries of the season, were set at intervals about the lawn. A large number of masked figures in white dominos, officiated as masters of the ceremonies, and stood in readiness to marshal the guests to the tables. It was rumored that they only awaited the arrival of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, who was to honor the fete with his presence.

This was the first the Duchess of Beresleigh had heard of the anticipated presence of the prince, and the rumor somewhat disturbed her; but she consoled herself with the thought that, in a crowd of five hundred people, her party might easily escape royal notice.

A little after one o'clock an agitation that moved the multitude as the winds sway the waves of the sea announced that the prince had arrived, though where he was could be known only to his hostess and the very few others who were in the secret of his disguise.

The signal was given for breakfast, and the masters of the ceremonies began to arrange the guests at the various tables. The masks were not laid aside even during that long feast which made the business of eating and drinking rather inconvenient and awkward.

At the close of the breakfast the tables were swept away as if by magic, and the real business and pleasure of the day commenced.

Music, dancing, waltzing, games, and singing went forward everywhere over the grounds and in the house.

The duchess and her party remained as spectators only, not wishing to enter into the active amusements of a company where all the figures were masked, and most of them quite unknown.

At length an enterprise was opened in which the duchess thought herself and party might safely join. A number of young children, dressed as fairies and without masks, came around among the guests to distribute tickets for a grand lottery, to be drawn at the villa at four o'clock.

The duchess, her daughters, and Lady Etheridge took tickets; and as the hour of drawing was near at hand, they repaired to the house. A crowd was already around the wheel. Many blanks, with a few trifling prizes, were drawn. The crowd of ticket-holders, and also of uninterested spectators, poured into the house, filling up the halls and rooms. The second prize was drawn by the Duchess of Gordon—it was an emerald ring of great value. The crowd pressed near to see it, and Lady Etheridge felt herself forcibly separated from the Duchess of Beresleigh, and pressed onward toward the wheel. Her number was called out. Expectation was on the qui vive. She drew, and obtained the first prize—a gold locket set around with diamonds of inestimable value.

She blushed deeply at her success, and turned the jewels as if in search of the secret of unfastening it, when she felt herself touched upon the shoulder. She turned and saw a lady masked and in the costume of Minerva, with helmet, shield and spear, standing near her, who stooped and whispered:

"It opens with a spring; press the diamond there under the ring and it will fly open; but do not open it here."

Rose, disturbed by being addressed by a stranger, looked around for her party, but could not see them anywhere. The crowd had entirely cut her off from their company.

"You are in search of the Duchess of Beresleigh? I will conduct you to her side," said the masked lady.

"Thank you; I shall be very much obliged," answered Rose.

"Follow me, then, if you please," said the unknown, leading the way—first through the drawing-room, where the lottery had just ended, thence through a room fitted up with musical instruments of every description, and in which a number of opera singers were performing for the amusement of a portion of the company, to the door of an adjoining apartment, which she opened, saying:

"The duchess has gone into this room to rest and refresh herself; enter and you will find her."

Rose crossed the threshold and found herself in a luxurious apartment, fitted up in the Turkish style, with ottomans and other voluptuous accessories. In the midst of the room stood a round table, laden with rare wines, fruits, jellies, sweetmeats, etc. There was no one in the apartment, and Rose looked around, expecting the appearance of the Duchess of Beresleigh. Supposing that she had, perhaps only retired for a few moments, Rose felt no uneasiness, but seating herself upon an ottoman, touched the spring of the locket, for the purpose of examining it. The case flew open and revealed the miniature of the prince, set in brilliants. On the reverse side were the words: "L'Amour est l'Ange du Monde."

Flushing with confusion and alarm Rose turned to leave the room and seek the duchess elsewhere, when her purpose was prevented by the entrance of a mask in the costume of Phoebus Apollo, who advanced toward her, saying:

"Apollo greets Aurora, the Sun salutes the Morning Star."

"The Morning Star always disappears with the rising of the Sun," answered Rose, gliding toward the door.

"Nay, pause, beautiful one! He is no stranger that addresses you. Behold!" And the unknown lifted his mask, revealing his features.

"The prince!"

The heart of Rose beat with agitation and terror; yet controlling herself by a great effort, she courtesied deeply to the heir of the crown, and speaking with the most respectful coldness, said:

"I am fortunate in having this opportunity of returning to your royal highness a jewel which could only have reached my hands through the greatest mistake."

And she laid the locket on the table before him, and turned to leave the room.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 4,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (840 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

Improve Your Complexion

Give Up Cosmetics and Seek the Cause of Your Bad Color.

When it's so easy to bring back the bloom of youth, to remove the blemishes and fill the hollows, isn't it foolish to plaster on cosmetics?

Sallowed skin and fallen in cheeks are produced by disorders of the alimentary canal.

Remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of.

Just imagine how much happier you will feel when those pimples and murky look have gone.

Dainty looks came to Miss Vrooman, a well-known resident of Belfast, from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Read what she says:

"My friends all admit that I have a very delightful complexion. This I owe positively to Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I used to look so yellow I thought it might be jaundice. There was simply no color in my cheeks at all. Today my skin is clear and never gets that murky, dull appearance it had before. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have also given me a good appetite and improved my general health also."

Not only the complexion, but every organ of the body is strengthened, cleansed and made healthy by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Buoyancy, vim and a feeling of vigor invariably follow their use. Sold in yellow boxes by all dealers; 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—The Board of Health is billed to meet this morning at 9 o'clock.

—The fine steamer Stony Lake has been repaired and busy as usual once more.

—Yesterday after at five o'clock a well attended "tea for strangers" was held in St. John's church Sunday school.

—The next meeting of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada, which Chief Bonzel attended last week, will be held in Montreal.

—A regular meeting of the Board of Education will take place at the secretary's office, 437 George street, this evening at 7.45 o'clock p.m.

—The Junior Auxiliary of St. John's church will meet in the schoolroom on Wednesday, Sept. 12th, at four o'clock. The president requests a full attendance.

—The special Salvation Army Band was on hand in full force and played several selections on the corner of George and Simcoe streets in excellent style.

—There is no truth in the reports that the Government has decided not to use the armories here. They only want a few years to consider or another coming election to get busy.

—Messrs. Chas. Jones, the ginger beer manufacturer, and R. Tivey, on Saturday, returned from a two weeks fishing trip to Hales' Bridge. They caught 42 bass, two maskinonge, two pike, and catfish by the bushel. They report that the fishing recently was no good.

Local Lady Makes a Mistake

Last Saturday, a George street merchant told a tale of home life perhaps worth repetion. It seems that the merchant, on Friday evening, whilst looking for something in his china closet, had the misfortune to accidentally knock down and break two or three jugs belonging to a set particularly prized by his good wife. It is needless to say he heard of his "carelessness" more than once, in fact he said his slumbers were postponed by hearing "How could you be so careless? I never make blunders like that," till the "wee sma' hours."

On Saturday morning he took a list of "tomato catsup," ingredients to his grocers. The order, in the exact quantities measured out, as per the receipe, was filled and delivered. When the merchant got home at dinner time, he noticed something wrong in the domestic atmosphere. His wife, nearly in tears said, "That catsup is spoiled! Did you make a mistake in the order?" Fortunately for him he had kept the order as written by his wife. She quickly glanced over and then compared it with the receipe in her cook book. With an apologetic air she then admitted she had transposed the quantities of two ingredients. Instead of one ounce of red pepper and a quarter of a pound of mustard seed, she had written it "an ounce of mustard seed and a quarter of a pound of red pepper," and in her hurry had poured the various packages into the preserving kettle. The catsup was seven degrees hotter than she had been over the broken cups, too hot to use in fact. She does not refer to his "carelessness" now, and with a wistful air said, "—— you might run down and get two more baskets of tomatoes to mix with this hot stuff so as to make it usable."

Changes at the New Oxford

Mrs. Mary Bowman, proprietress of the "New Oxford House," formerly the C.P.R. Hotel, last week effected considerable improvements in that popular place. She had an immense new hot water boiler inserted which supplies first, as well as cold, water to the bath rooms, which have been entirely replumbed and furnished with new modern bath tubs. On Saturday a new copper "work board," thirty-two feet long, fitted up in the most recent style was added to the bar. This work board which is possibly the most modernly devised in the city is a beautiful sample of the plumbers' art, and ensures absolute cleanliness to customers as well as facilitating operations by the man behind the bar. Mrs. Bowman is determined to have the New Oxford run in a manner that will leave no cause for complaint either by customers or the general public, as the license law, as well as the dictates of common decency will be strictly enforced.

Judgment to be Given Today

Samuel Killen of Ennismore Sues Auto Bus Co. for $60.

Judgment will be given today in the Division Court case of Samuel Killen, resve of Ennismore, against the Chemong Auto Bus Company for $60 damages, said judgment being reserved from Friday's trial.

The action was based on injuries which the plaintiff's wife had received by being thrown from a buggy, the horse having taken fright when meeting the auto bus on the Chemong road. Evidence for the plaintiff was given by Mr. Killen, his wife and several others. Their evidence was designed to show that the auto had not been carefully handled and due precaution taken to prevent accidents of this kind.

For the defence the principal witnesses were Mr. Bruce Lee, and the chauffeur in charge at the time.

Sacred Concert a Grand Success

Yesterday afternoon the largest crowd that has gathered this year in Victoria Park, heard a most enjoyable sacred concert given by the 57th Regiment Band, Mr. Gliddon wielding the baton. The program was entirely composed of sacred music, and was most admirably rendered. The band was out in full force, and showed by their rendition of the various numbers that they had taken great care in practising for the event. Every available place was occupied by well dressed and well conducted citizens, ladies being in a large majority. The park presented a beautiful scene, the golden September sunshine looking through the foliage upon a well-kept green sward covered with gaily dressed happy girls, and as pleased men friends glad to have so pleasurable a change from their usual Sunday promenading of the streets. A Times man, passing through the park heard words of praise for the music everywhere, and in a great many places hopes that the Sunday sacred concerts would be continued next season. One young man was heard say, "I tell you Jim this is way ahead of playing cards up in the room like last Sunday."

The program rendered was as follows.

March—Dominicaise.
Cornet solos — (a) Dream of Paradise," (b) "Queen of the Earth." by Bandsman Hughes.
Selection—"Yule Tide."
March—Religioso, No. 3.
(a) Berceuse.
(b) Memories.
Euphonium Solo—"The Palms," by Bandsman Crook.
Selection—"The Holy City," with incidental solos by cornet and euphonium.
Hymn—"A Few More Years."
March—Religioso No. 1.

Cambridge Beats Harvard Eight

Cambridge defeated Harvard in the boat race on Saturday. The river was lined by perhaps the greatest crowd that ever witnessed a boat race here. The majority of the expert opinion favored Cambridge, but Vivian Nickells, the Oxford oarsman, and quite a number of other past masters in the art of rowing, bet heavily on Harvard.

Local Cigar Man Chaffed.

Mr W. J. O'Brien, the George street cigar man, had to take some good natured chaffing Saturday night. It seems that Mr. O'Brien recently had a large consignment of cigars made specially for himself, and in honor of the local hitherto invincible baseball club, got out labels for these goods on which the name of the cigars appears as "The Shamrocks." When that club succumbed to the All Stars Saturday afternoon, O'Brien's friends gave him a roast. Still they bought the cigars just the same.

Pre-Payment Meters a Success.

The Peterborough Light & Power Company have installed a number of meters made by the Pre-payment Meter Co. of this city. These meters which are adapted to the use of either gas or electric light, and which the name of the manufacturing firm largely explains, are proving a great success. The Peterborough Light & Power Company have ordered a number more of these meters for their electric light services, and they will be installed within a few days. Peterborough made goods usually turn out O.K.

Eggs Were Down Saturday.

A somewhat laughable (except for the gusty cussing it) accident occurred in the grocery store of Messrs. M. L. Henry & Co., the George street grocers on Saturday morning. It seems that owing to this firm going out of business and selling out at cost, the store was packed on Saturday morning like sardines in a box. Two thrifty housewives both made a rush to get Mr. Kelly to wait upon them, and colliding at the end of a counter where was perched a basket containing about ten or fifteen dozen of eggs, knocked it to the floor. One of them had her shoes completely changed from black to egg-yolk-tan, and each of their skirts were splattered with broken hen-fruit.

Eminent Doctors Praise Its Ingredients.

We refer to that boon to weak, nervous, suffering women known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. John Fyfe one of the Editorial Staff of THE ECLECTIC MEDICAL REVIEW says of Unicorn root (Helonias Dioica) which is one of the chief ingredients of the "Favorite Prescription":

"A remedy which invariably acts as a uterine invigorator * * * makes for normal activity of the entire reproductive system." He continues "In Helonias we have a medicament which more fully answers the above purposes than any other drug with which I am acquainted. In the treatment of diseases peculiar to women it is seldom that a case is seen which does not present some indication for this remedial agent." Dr. Fyfe further says: "The following are among the leading indications for Helonias (Unicorn root). Pain or aching in the back, with leucorrhoea; atonic (weak) conditions of the reproductive organs of women, mental depression and irritability, associated with chronic diseases of the reproductive organs of women, constant sensation of heat in the region of the kidneys; menorrhagia (flooding) due to a weakened condition of the reproductive system; amenorrhoea (suppressed or absent monthly periods), arising from or accompanying an abnormal condition of the digestive organs and anemic (thin blood) habit; dragging sensations in the extreme lower part of the abdomen."

If more or less of the above symptoms are present, no invalid woman can do better than take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one of the leading ingredients of which is Unicorn root, or Helonias, and the medical properties of which it most faithfully represents.

Of Golden Seal root, another prominent ingredient of "Favorite Prescription," Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says:

"It is an important remedy in disorders of the womb. In all catarrhal conditions * * * and general enfeeblement. It is useful."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal root:

"In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

Prof. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, says of Golden Seal:

"Valuable in uterine hemorrhage, menorrhagia (flooding) and congestive dysmenorrhoea (painful menstruation)."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription faithfully represents all the above named ingredients and cures the diseases for which they are recommended.

TORONTO GENERAL TRUSTS CORPORATION

Is authorized to act as

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

CITY BOARD OF WORKS IN SESSION LAST NIGHT

Water Street, South of Sherbrooke, Will not be Opened at Present---Dalhousie Street to be Opened.

The Board of Works of the City Council met last night when there were present, Chairman Ald. Hicks, and Aldermen Johnston, Tovey, McIntyre, Graham, Elliott, Bull, Wilson, McWilliams and Mason.

A petition from W. Harper for grading work to protect his premises from flooding was referred to the engineer with power to act.

The Peterborough Shovel Company's request for filling work to facilitate a ready shipping of their goods from their premises, fronting Rink street was referred to the engineer to report.

The Board decided to open Dalhousie street and leave the opening of Water street, south of Sherbrooke street, in abeyance. This will somewhat relieve the position in which Houdry & Sons have been placed by the previous action of the city in demanding the removal of their buildings (old bridge works) which are erected on Dalhousie and Water streets. When the bridge works acquired the property in question on which to erect their buildings (subsequently purchased by Houdry & Sons), it was understood the said buildings should be removed when the city found it necessary to open Dalhousie and Water streets. Messrs. Houdry & Sons will have to accept the Water street boundaries as defined on Cameron's plan, in return for the city not pressing the opening of Water street at present.

The question of building sidewalks again being taken up, Ald. Mason thought it unwise to put into operation this year, which action would probably entail spending more money than appropriated for sidewalks. He thought the engineer and city commissioner should be given a free hand to take up sidewalk construction to the best advantage possible with one mixer and one gang of men.

Ald. Wilson moved, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That the granolithic walk on Water street north from Antrim to Inverlea street be constructed, to Inverlea street be constructed, first, then the walk on George St., north of Smith, before acting on the resolution passed at last meeting re sidewalks.

Board of Health's Important Meeting

Pure Milk, Pure Water and Sewers Are Considered.

Yesterday an important meeting of the local Board of Health was held yesterday morning with Chairman W. Eyres presiding. Others present were Messrs. R. Neill, A. Parker, Geo. Schneider and Dr. McNulty, Medical Health Officer; Dr. Bingham, Sanitary Inspector Chief Rogse; and Architect Blackwell.

The first business taken up was the pollution of the waters of the Kawartha Lakes, and especially the Otonabee river and Stony Lake. The chairman's report of what the water commissioners had done as to the inspection of the river as far as Lakefield, and the placing of the Provincial Board of Health proclamation in conspicuous places around the lakes was presented.

Mr. R Neill explained the position of the cottagers at Stony Lake, and said that something should be done to stop those who are deliberately

Chairman Eyres advocated enforcing the law strictly between Peterborough and Lakefield, the village included. To do this a man must be employed who is competent for the work, to carry out a rigid inspection and prosecute every offender. He had consulted the city solicitor as to the powers of the Board, and the latter advised him to apply to the council.

Mr. Neil thought a committee of the City Council should take the matter up.

Regarding the inspection of milk, a motion was passed that the Board recommend that the council appoint a competent man, and would further recommend that the board meet the council, or a committee of the council to take up this matter at once.

Mr. Porter, of King street, petitioned the Board of Health for a sewer on that street.

A motion was passed ordering this sewer to be built at once. Sampling of water from a well on Mr. Porter's property will be sent to Toronto for analysis. The Board adjourned till tonight.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Was in the City

Hon H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Mr. J. M. Bailie, his efficient deputy, and the chief engineer, arrived in the city yesterday morning over the C.P.R. from Toronto. The minister as noted in yesterday's issue is on his annual inspection of the Trent Canal system. The trip this week will be right through to the Georgian Bay.

The distinguished visitors were met by Mr. J. H. McClelan, superintendent of the canal, and Mr. Grant, superintending engineer, and the party drove to Lakefield. There they boarded the government steamer Sovereign, and proceeded up the canal en route to a point 28 miles past Orillia, where the present system of the canal ends. The minister is one of the few heads of Government departments who do not leave the country's great public works to the mercy of reports made by subordinates, but as exemplified by the present trip, sees things himself.

A Conundrum.

The junior reporter of this g. f. j. was taking a ride the other day on the local street cars. It was about eleven o'clock p.m., the mystic hour when all law-abiding Peterboroughans lose their thirsts. The Times man happened to notice a man running after the car and vainly trying to attract the conductor's attention. The reporter notified the conductor, who stopped the car. The belated passenger, who was somewhat under the influence of liquor, had no sooner climbed aboard than he delivered himself of the following remarks:

"Say, Mr. Conductor, does this road run to accommodate the passengers or the passengers run to accommodate the road?"

Locally Made Goods Praised

Enthusiastic Endorsation of Peterboro's Sandstone Brick.

The Toronto Star referring to goods made in the city, and goods of competitively new origion says, concerning the Sandstone Brick;

"The bricks tested showed unexpected strength and resistive powers. It only crumbled after 120,000 pounds had been applied to a single brick. The highest pressure on any other brick tested at the School of Practical Science was 98,000 pounds. The new bricks, too, withstood half an hour an 4,000 degrees of heat. The building regulations require brick able to withstand a pressure of 100 tons to the foot. The Sand and Lime Brick have been tested to a pressure of over 200 tons to the square foot."

The following are claimed to be the characteristics of sand-lime bricks.

Improves with age.
Great crushing strength.
Low in porosity.
No scaling.
Slight heat conductivity.
Unaffected by acids.
Absolutely sanitary.
No disintegration with extreme climatic changes."

And still further eulogistic reports too long for publication here.

Inquest Ended Verdict Given

Result of Death of Christian Science Patient Explained.

Last night the coroner's jury, with Coroner Dr. Gray presiding, met in adjourned session to inquire into the death of the young man Arthur Randlett, who had been under treatment (?) of Todd the Christian Science Healer (?).

No more witnesses were heard, but Mr. A. P. Poussette made a very plausible and, as far as existing conditions allowed, convincing speech, tending to explain the young man's death.

After a long absence considering their case the jury brought a verdict as follows:

THE VERDICT.

"We, your jury empanelled to find the cause of death of Arthur Randlett, find that the deceased came to his death from hemmorhage, caused from typhoid fever, and are of the opinion that his death was accelerated by neglect and want of proper attention by those in charge, and would suggest that the Government be memorialized to enact such legislation as will enable such cases to be properly dealt with.

Ruins the Beauty of Former Friend

Paris Milliner Throws Vitriol Into the Face of Successful Rival.

Paris, September 10.—Two milliners of Paris after a rather romantic series of adventures, had a quarrel over a man which has terminated in tragedy. The tragedy took place outside a cafe, when one of the milliners, Rosalie Mouton, flung vitriol over her rival, Blanche Biretti, and destroyed her beauty forever.

According to the narrative of Rosalie Mouton, who is awaiting trial, the two young women were associated in trade in Paris, and, being desirous of seeing something of the world, they sold their business here and embarked at Havre for Cuba. They took with them a large and varied assortment of Paris fashions and set up as milliners in Havana, where they prospered.

There they met the man who has been the cause of all the trouble. He is French and favored Rosalie Moutor, his fair countrywoman. Blanche Biretti is a Neapolitan born, but was long domiciled in Paris.

She became horribly jealous of her partner, Rose, from whom she succeeded in filching the Frenchman. Blanche added to her wickedness by robbing her partner, or at least by appropriating the greater part of the funds of the millinery business. Well, provided with money, Blanche and her lover started for Europe and settled in Paris.

Mademoiselle Mouton, seeing herself betrayed and abandoned, continued for some time alone at her business, and then, selling off, left Cuba for France. Coming to Paris, she set steadily to work to find her former partner, Blanche Biretti, and came across her outside a cafe in the Rue de Crimee.

Italian's Dream of Coin Ended

Yesterday morning a prominent member of the local Italian colony, desiring reliable information, came to a Times' representative for advice. He produced a number of regularly printed, glazed, duly filled in, and seemingly authentically signed receipts for sums ranging from say $10 to $10,000. The Italian, as near as can be put in waxing, said; "Say, master, I fieda da business papers signed by lots of business mans. Tella me, what ough: I to get for dese papers? If dose papers lost some man's have to pay a da mon two times. Sure I ought to getta good mut for fina dose papers."

The Times man looking over the receipts at once saw "Peterborough Business College," printed across the face of each receipt and conjecured correctly that they were only dummy receipts used by the scholars in their book keeping work and consequently valueless.

The Italian on having the matter explained looked disgusted over his hoped for financial boom being so sadly "busted."

Elopes With Her Father-In-Law

Paris, September 11.—A wedding party in a country district near Paris had an unexpected ending last night. A little before midnight the bridegroom, tired of dancing, sought his bride, intending to slip away with her to their new home.

She was, however, not to be found, and the bridegroom rushed to his home to see if by chance she had gone there by herself. Not finding her, the groom and his mother-in-law became anxious and made inquiries, and at last learned that the bride had been seen getting into a carriage with the bridegroom's father and had then driven off to the station.

A few hours later the distracted groom received a letter from his bride of an hour, in which she explained that her love for his father made it impossible for her to be happy with his son, and that she had therefore run away with her lover.

SIMPLE CATARRH REMEDY

Take a Hyomei Treatment Four Times a Day and be Cured.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous cures and is today recognized by leading members of the medical profession as the only advertised remedy for this disease that can be relied upon to do just what it claims.

Until recently your physician would have said the only way to cure catarrh would be to have a change of climate, but now with Hyomei you can carry a health-giving climate in your vest pocket and by breathing it a few minutes four times a day, cure yourself.

The Hyomei treatment is simple and easy to use. It destroys all catarrh germs in the air passages and enriches and purifies the blood with ozone. When using Hyomei the air you breathe will seem like that on the mountains, high above the sea level.

A complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c. You run no risk whatever in taking this reliable treatment.

BYLAW TO ENFORCE SALE OF PURE MILK

Will Be Prepared by City Solicitor. Bell Company and City not Yet Agreed re Underground Wires

The Committee of the Whole Council met last night, when there were present Mayor Beck, and Aldermen Johnston, McIntyre, Tovey, Hicks, Hicks, Graham, Bull, Elliott, Wilson, McWilliams and Mason.

The question of an agreement with the Bell Telephone Co. by which they should get permission to lay their wires under ground came up for discussion, and the committee agreed that the latest amendment to the draft agreement decided upon by the council when Mr. Smith, the Bell Company's district manager met in consultation with the City Council and suggested by an higher authority than Mr. Smith on the Bell's executive, would give the company unrestricted rights and deprive the city of any rights which it might acquire by any subsequent act of the Railway Commission under the new law. The council considered that the Bell Company are seeking perpetual rights to the privileges they hold at present.

Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—The solicitor be instructed to inform the Bell Telephone Co. that the city cannot agree to the modifications in the draft agreement of August 6th, suggested by Laurence McFarlane of the Bell Co.—Carried.

INSPECTION OF MILK.

Ald. McIntyre called a meeting of his special committee to draft a bylaw to license and regulate the sale of milk and provide for the inspection of the same.

According to the law but $1 license fee can be charged for the privilege of selling milk. This bylaw will come under the supervision of the city medical health officer, or some other inspector appointed by the council, who would have authority to inspect the premises from which milk is brought into the city for sale, but he could not revoke any man's license without the sanction of the township medical health officer. The act provides for a fine of $50 for any violation of any bylaw framed according to the Provincial Act.

Ald. Bull moved, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That the city solicitor be authorized to prepare a bylaw licensing and regulating the sale of milk and providing for the fullest powers for the inspection of milk and dairies.—Carried.

This is a much desired and commendable measure fathered by Ald. McIntyre to secure the relating of pure milk to the preservation of public health, and will undoubtedly pass council at its next meeting.

FRANCE ON PATH OF SECOND REPUBLIC

Financial Burdens are Driving the Country to Ruin, Says J. Cornely

INCOME TAX LAST STRAW

Effort to Keep Up Army on a Par With Germany More than Country Can Stand.

Paris, September 10.—The last election was the triumph of the radicals, but the radical majority is not collectivist. It was elected by petits bourgeois, small house owners and industrialists. It was not elected by the collectivist workmen. It follows that all collectivist experiments find it hostile, and resolutely hostile, because the new recruits of universal suffrage, who have triumphed, are small land owners, and guard their little properties with more energy perhaps than large land owners guard their large properties.

As a consequence, the collectivists are being obliged to attempt something to keep their electors. The majority, to keep its electors, will in turn be obliged to deny collectivism in order to do so.

Such is the coming stumbling block. It is not, however, this fatal scission which gives rise to anxiety, but rather the financial crisis, which finds its expression in a deficit in our budgets and by the necessity of imposing fresh taxes.

LIKE A PREVIOUS RECORD.

People who study the history of France know perfectly well that the second republic, that of 1848, traversed a similar crisis to that which the third is traversing. It got rid of it by what is called the "forty-five centimes." The assembly decided that existing tax would be augmented by 45 centimes—that is, 45 centimes per franc. The second republic did not succeed with this, for the 45 centimes were the principal cause of the discontent which threw France into the arms of Prince Louis Napoleon, who afterward became Napoleon III., and who quietly led us to Sedan.

The third republic does not seem inclined to resign itself to a measure so frank or so brutal. As it, too, needs much money and as it has social expenses to meet, like the second republic and military expenses like the empire, it is trying to get out of the difficulty by the income tax. [illegible] remains to be seen if the income tax will not cause as much discontent as the 45 centimes.

FEARS THE INCOME TAX.

I believe that the income tax will be a deplorable measure and that it will have a fatal effect on the future of the republic, and in spite of all declamations I persist in believing that the government should seek the money necessary for social reforms in a reduction of the military expenditure.

In France there are two budgets—the social budget which is the republican budget, and the military budget, which is the budget of the empire. A choice must be made, for one cannot keep both going. Something must be found which will allow a reduction of the army or we are lost, and the republic is with us.

We must leave military budgets to military monarchies, such as Russia, the unfortunate Russia, which is being torn to pieces and which is to ruin us by the coming coup, for on account of the constant obsession of the fear of Germany we have confided all our economies to Russia in the hope that she would oppose her sword to Germany—a policy of dupes.

Today it is the Czar who is manifestly unequal to his role of autocrat, and it is of this that Russia is dying. He only dreams of bringing about the intervention of William II., and we will lose our millions and have the shame of believing all we were told. The Russian adventure will be the end of the page in the history of our generation.

BOY'S UNUSUAL CRIME

Strikes Another Lad With Brick, Then Buries Him Alive.

Chicago, September 11.—Robert Gordon, sixteen years old, confessed today that he struck Joseph Reed, eight years old, with a brick, stunning him, and then buried him alive beneath a sidewalk in front of his father's home. The boy's body was found where Gordon said he had been buried, and Gordon was arrested.

The absence of the Reed body was noticed about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon and search was made. Gordon led the elder Reed through the neighborhood for several hours, and about 10 o'clock last night took him to where the body was buried and assisted in digging up the body. When taken to a police station Gordon confessed that he enticed the boy to the basement of the Reed home and maltreated him. When Reed attempted to escape, Gordon struck him on the head with a brick. He then buried him alive under the sidewalk.

Five other boys, ranging in ages from fourteen to twenty years, who had been drinking with Gordon before the crime became known, are held by the police. The Reed and Gordon families live near one another, and have been friends for several years.

New Batteries Below Quebec

Quebec, September 11.—Few people are aware of the importance and magnitude of the new fortifications now in course of construction at Beaumont, some ten miles below Quebec, on the Levis side of the river. The work which has now been in progress for some time past, will require about two years to finish. It is being executed by the Militia Department at Ottawa, under the superintendence of Captain Houliston, C. E., of the engineering branch of the service. These fortifications will consist of two big gun batteries of two guns each, destined to command a large water stretch of the lower St. Lawrence from the heights of Beaumont. Nearly one hundred men are at work and the foundations are almost completed. Both batteries will be concealed in solid rock formation, one at a height of 100 feet above high [illegible] They will be fitted to accommodate a garrison of over a hundred men, and when completed will be equipped with guns of long range and of the latest pattern.

TYPHOID AT WINNIPEG

Near Two Hundred Cases in Month of August.

Winnipeg, September 11.—According to the report on infectious diseases in August furnished to the Provincial Board of Health to the City Department, 192 cases of typhoid fever were recorded at the health office during the month. Of these thirty-four were claimed by health officials to have come from outside points for hospital treatment. It is stated that the number of August patients is about the same as the number for the corresponding month last year. Numerous cases of fever are being reported daily. The majority have been reported from district lying between William avenue, the C. P. R. tracks, Mann street and Bella street, in this district the best of sanitary conditions do not yet prevail, although conditions have been much improved.

Mr. Dumble brought up the subject of old bricks sold, for which payment had not been made—Referred to property Committee.

The inspector's report of the cadet corps was received.

Mr. Hill noted that the $50 fee granted for the Cadet Corps by the Government should be given to Mr. Hodgson for his work in this connection. This be moved, and the motion carried.

Mr. Dumble asked whether girls were getting physical training. It was explained that since the gymnasium was burned the girls had not had such training. The girls had shown evident good from the training.

Mr. Dumble asked whether girls were getting physical training. It was explained that since the gymnasium was burned the girls had not had such training. The girls had shown evident good from the training.

Mr. Dumble gave an epitome of the requirements of the proposed Collegiate Institute, and suggested as the appropriation was limited it would be better to have a cheap sketch plan presented. Dr. Morrison thought we might present the plans in possibly ten days.

Mr. Hill, referring to the North Ward school, noted that the building must be ready for operations by next September. He thought it would be good to have the committee in charge of the South Ward school building, take charge of the North Ward extension, and that they report as soon as possible. Dr. Burnham recommended that Mr. Dumble's name be added. Mr. Hill's motion carried.

Mr Dumble noted that the building in the North Ward would have to go to the west, towards the burial ground, instead of the north, and suggested sundry details.

Architect Fletcher here produced plans of the building.

Mr Pringle brought up the matter of encouraging sports and moved that $25 be granted towards the purchase of medals and other prizes.—Carried.

Mr. Hill showed conclusively the need of the new South Ward school by calling attention to the fact that in the South Ward school there were 103 pupils or about three times the proper number in one room.

Mr. Morrison, as chairman of the Collegiate Institute Building Committee moved that he had had new plans prepared for the building. He wanted to get figures of cost from practical men; this would cost something, and he wanted authority for such expenditure. In reply to a question of cost of the building as to the $40,000 on hand, he said, "We are having plans prepared for a building of moderate cost. Dr. Dr. Burnham moved that as much as $50 be allowed for such purpose.—Carried.

Direct to Bermuda.

Halifax, N. S., September 11.—It was thought that the battleship Dominion, which a couple of weeks ago sustained injuries on the coast of Prince Edward Island, would call at Halifax on her way to Bermuda to effect repairs, but a wireless message from the Dominion, sent yesterday, when the battleship was off Sable Island, states that she is on her way to Bermuda direct, and that all was well on board.

Roosevelt's Hard Sense

"In speaking to you, men of the greatest city of the West, men of the State which gave to the country Lincoln and Grant, men who preeminently and distinctly embody all that is most American in the American character, I wish to preach not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the Strenuous Life—the life of toil and effort, of labor and strife; to preach that highest form of success which comes not to the man who desires mere easy peace, but to the man who does not shrink from danger, from hardships, or from bitter toil, and who, out of these wins the splendid ultimate triumph."—Speech at Chicago.

Those who knew how the weak boy Roosevelt stripped himself of the things which made him weak, and by application, made himself the magnificent man of today, can appreciate what may be accomplished by resolute determination to be and to do. This gives the opportunity to say here that any boy or man who finds himself held back, with hands tied (metaphorically) by some unnatural habit say for instance Coffee drinking, and finds the physical body working badly, liver and nerves disordered and unfit for that life of keen effort which Roosevelt speaks of and which leads up to success, can use his common sense, cut out the enemy and strip of the load that holds him back. Try leaving off Coffee. Use Postum Food Coffee and get the double value, i. e. a release from the drug habit and the strong natural stimulus of the rebuilding food elements presented in Postum.

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored, and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 424 King St. East, Toronto, who says:

"After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would wake with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism, which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound, and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c boxes or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., or Kingston, Ont.

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 10 1906

A LITTLE LAY SERMON

The news columns of the daily press are teeming with evidence of the growing cheapness with which human life is being regarded. Inhuman murders, reflecting more the fang and claw of the jungle than a state of civilized society, are occurring with alarming frequency. Even the brute creation from which even the beast is spared, bears still more melancholy testimony to the fact that it is not a mere blood-thirsty tendency in human nature that is gaining the ascendancy. While men are holding the lives of others more cheaply, they are setting a tragically smaller value upon their own.

Recently a young man threw away his life because a woman had "done him wrong," and a tragedy of higher degree was also enacted, wherein a man slew himself that his family might have the benefit of his life insurance. These two instances would appear at first to represent almost opposite extremes, but at the root they are the logical result of the same false premise. "Life is a failure; death will straighten out the tangle; therefore it is right that I should die." This is the melancholy syllogism of the suicide.

But suicide is only another form of murder. The very etymology of the word shows this. It differs from other slayings only in the profits. It cannot escape on such grounds from the divine injunction, "Thou shalt not kill."

In a sense it requires a high degree of moral courage to take one's own life. But it is a greater and a higher view to accept the poet's truth that it, "is nobler to fulfill the harder part of standing still."

Christ gave for all time the mute and splendid example of carrying His cross to the very brow of Calvary. It is easy to shirk and shift the burden to other and often weaker shoulders.

It is often far harder to live than to die and the true heroism of life is to resist the temptation of "the bare bodkin," to bear the "fardels, the whips and scorns of time, the proud man's contumely, the law's delays, the spurns that patient merit of the unworthy takes. Sometimes it is not enough to "take arms against a sea of troubles." Sometimes mere "opposing" does not "end them." But he makes a fatal mistake who adopts Hamlet's sad heresy and believes that "the question" is, "to be or not to be."

The real question is vastly more than that. The real question is whether we shall be and do right or wrong; having done the right thing, to meet all else bravely and patiently; having done at all times the wrong thing, to seek forgiveness with repentance and the new paths into which it will lead us. Above all, the question is to hold our lives as a talent given into our keeping, not to be thrown away.

If we look at the question in this spirit, many crosses that appear heavy will be found lighter; many prizes toward which we struggled fiercely will be found of little worth after all. Some of the reasons for counting the game lost and for quitting it will seem only the pitiful folly of those who saw through a glass darkly.

HITS THE UNWORTHY ONES

The new Agricultural Act, designed to promote the best interests of the farmers through the holding of creditable fall fairs, promises to put about one hundred societies out of business. It has been found that these cannot live up to the regulations of the Department and a consequence of their almost total reliance upon the Government grant is seen in their retirement from the field. The well, the public funds should only be used to encourage societies that have merit and stamina and are offered by farmers and others who are willing to [illegible] their aims conform to the best methods of up-to-date agriculture. The present measure will, on the other hand, have a beneficial effect upon the societies whose grants will be increased. With a sphere of influence of the better kind and their ability to give larger prizes greatly strengthened, their service to the public will be proportionately improved. This is what the Minister of Agriculture is aiming at, and the Province generally will approve the policy taken. It stands to raise the standard of our fall fairs, which in many cases, under a somewhat loose system, have been allowed to degenerate into apologies for the genuine article.

Rats Attacked Helpless Woman

Elizabeth, N.J., Sept. 10. — Mrs. Elisabeth Van Hart, 60 years old, a paralytic, was bitten to death by rats in her home in this city early yesterday morning.

She was absolutely helpless, and was unable to call for help, although her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mabel Van Hart, slept in an adjoining apartment.

The rats, it is thought, attacked Mrs. Van Hart while she was asleep, and severing an artery, the old lady bled to death before help arrived. Awakened by the loud squealing of the rats in the adjoining room, Mrs. Van Hart, the old woman's daughter-in-law, entered the room.

She says it was swarming with the animals. They attacked her as she entered, and, alarmed, she fled from the house. Passers-by returned to the room with her and beat off the rats.

According to the undertaker, one of the woman's feet was horribly mutilated, and the other leg and one eye had also been attacked. Near the door in the house in which the woman was found is a butcher's shop, which has been recently vacated. It is thought the rats were made bold by hunger and attacked the helpless woman while she dozed in a chair.

The Curious Seasickness.

"Seasickness is a curious trouble," says a physician. "It is probably due to the disturbance caused by the motion of the ship to the little organs that govern the sense of equilibrium. In the inner ear are three little semicircular canals. In movement in any plane the fluid in these canals disturbs and telegraphs the sensation to the brain, which is then able to control the balance of the whole. By the motion of a ship this delicate apparatus of the canal system is, it is suggested, thrown out of gear and wildly telegraphs wrong messages to the brain. And that portion of the brain is intimately connected with the nerve that controls the happenings in the region whence the trouble arises. The whole system, in brief, is short circuited."

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 1-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 120 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

But he took her hand and reseated her upon the ottoman, saying:

"Nay, retain the gift, most beautiful Rose, and behold the giver at your feet."

And then, with the grace, fervor and eloquence of which he was the perfect master, he told, to perhaps the hundredth hearer, the oft-repeated tale of his unchangeable love—a prince's love.

"'A prince's love!' a prince's insult! an insult as deep, coming from your royal highness, as though it had been offered by the lowest hand in your dominions!" exclaimed Lady Etheridge, indignantly.

And so saying, with her beautiful countenance exalted to fervid enthusiasm, Lady Etheridge passed from the room, while the eyes of the prince followed her with a gaze full of admiration, wonder and reverence.

He did not attempt to detain her; persuasion, not force, was the weapon of the prince.

This admiration of her virtues only strengthened his desire to win her heart. He pulled the bell-rope impatiently, and a page entered.

"Send my equerry hither," was the order of his royal highness.

The page bowed low and disappeared.

A few minutes elapsed, and Colonel McElroy entered the presence with a deep reverence.

The prince regarded him with an angry and sarcastic expression, saying:

"I have to congratulate you, sir, on the eminent success of your second stratagem!"

"Your royal highness has at least received a private interview with the lady, which was all that I could pledge myself for," replied the equerry, bending lowly.

"And this is the result!" said the prince, angrily taking up and throwing down the locket. "She has returned my gift with a gratuitous lecture!"

"Perhaps a more costly offering would have been more successful."

"I do not believe she can be bought!"

"Pardon me, your royal highness did not, perhaps, bid high enough."

"I do not believe she can be bought!" angrily repeated the prince.

"Pardon, once more, your royal highness; but one who knew this world right well declared that every man had his price, and I have never yet met the woman who had not hers. It is but a question of more or less expense, of shorter or longer time."

"I offered her the rank of a duchess."

"She is likely to obtain that honorably, and without the aid of your royal highness."

"What, then, was left for me to do? I could not tempt her with a rank of a princess and the prospective rank of a queen."

"No, your royal highness; it is rather too late in the day for that."

"What, then, was to be done? What the deuce do you mean by your talk of the conquest of this woman being a matter of more or less expense, and of shorter and of longer time? I care nothing for expense, but a great deal for time! I must win that girl, whatever it may cost, McElroy! but I must win her soon! By my soul, she is the most enchanting creature I ever saw! Tell me, what is to be done?"

"If your royal highness would trust me——"

"What! after two failures?"

"With submission to your royal highness, I would humbly suggest that this second stratagem has scarcely been a failure on my part, since it has accomplished all that it promised—a private interview with the lady, an opportunity of pleading your cause to her alone."

"That is true, and if my pleadings proved unsuccessful, you are not to be blamed, I suppose?" said the prince.

McElroy bowed in answer, adding: "Nor should your royal highness be discouraged with the manner in which the lady met your advances. She was unprepared, surprised; she was not, perhaps, so accustomed to be wooed as your royal highness is to winning, and, perhaps, you had not discovered her price."

"Then why the deuce do you not discover it for me? What else do I keep you for?" demanded the provoked prince.

"To serve your royal highness to the best of my poor ability, as becomes your humble servant, and, if your royal highness will deign to leave this affair exclusively in my hands, giving me authority to conduct it as I see fit, I think I can pledge myself to bring it to a successful issue."

"Then I give you a carte blanche to do as you please in this matter, with one proviso, that you do nothing unworthy of the prince."

"On my head be it if I do!" exclaimed this zealous and unscrupulous instrument of the royal pleasures and vices, as he mentally formed, against the peace and honor of Lady Etheridge, a plan the most diabolical that ever entered the head of man or fiend.

Meantime, the subject of this plot, hurrying through the music-room and through the drawing room, everywhere sought the Duchess of Beresleigh, whom she found at last at the hall door.

"Well, my love, I have been seeking you all over the house and the grounds for the last two hours; but believing you to be most probably within the villa, I took my position here like any porter, as the most likely place to see you as you should pass out. But what on earth is the matter? You are pale and trembling. You are agitated. You are ill. What has happened to alarm or distress you, my love?" exclaimed the duchess, on observing the greatly disturbed appearance of Rose.

"Oh, madam, let us go hence! let us return home at once!" exclaimed Rose excitedly.

"Willingly; it has been a pleasant day upon the whole, but I, also, am quite tired. I will not ask you for an explanation of your distress until we have reached the privacy of your own dressing-room at Beresleigh House," said her grace.

The carriages were ordered, and the duchess and her party prepared to return.

While they stood waiting, the duchess sought to cheer her drooping young friend. Pointing to the beautiful and varied landscape of hill and dale, and grove and river, all bathed in the clear sunlight of a June afternoon, she said:

"Do but look up, Rose. What a glorious day! With what a lively green the fields and groves are clothed; how deeply blue and clear the sky, how high the dome of heaven."

Rose looked up and heaved a sigh.

"Ah, madam, so I thought when we came out this morning. Now, alas! I might say with Hamlet, that 'it goes as heavily with my disposition, that this goodly frame, the earth, seems to me a sterile promontory; this most excellent canopy, the air look—you—this brave, o'erhanging firmament, this majestical roof fretted with golden fire—why it appears no other thing to me than a foul and pestilent congregation of vapors.'"

The carriages now came up; the duchess and her party entered, and were driven home to Beresleigh House.

Her grace lost no time in seeking Lady Etheridge in the dressing-room of the latter.

"Now, my love, that we are alone, you may tell me what so distressed you at the villa."

"Oh, madam, an event that makes it necessary that I should beg your grace to absolve me from my promise of spending the season with you, and to sanction my immediate return to Swinburne Castle," said Rose, excitedly.

London, September 10.—The Standard's correspondent at St. Petersburg says that J. Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 2,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $95,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 51 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern Independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

We would suggest that you write us immediately for free particulars, copies of letters from bankers, etc., which will be sent free. We will also send you a copy of our book 'Oil & Gold' if you wish it. This book gives history and statistics of the prominent Oil fields and Gold districts of the United States. Address

Mr. H. Bradburn Is Convalescent

We are pleased to state that Mr. Henry Bradburn, concerning whom many alarming rumors have been prevalent during the past two days, is again able to be about, although still feeling somewhat stiff.

It might be noted that on Saturday evening, Mr. Henry Bradburn, an elderly man, met with an accident on George street near the corner of Hunter street. Whilst crossing over the street, he fell, and a buggy coming up George street could not be stopped in time, and the wheels passed over his body. Mr. Bradburn was stunned, and it was at first though he was badly hurt. The injured man was removed to his home on Water street, in the Dan Spence ambulance, where he was shortly afterward attended to by Dr. Halliday. Upon examination it was ascertained that his injuries only amounted to a few rather severe bruises, and a bad shaking up.

Think of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure if your nose and throat discharges—if your breath is foul or feverish. It contains Oil of Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., incorporated into an imported creamlike petrolatum. It soothes, heals, purifies, controls. Call at our store for free trial box. J. D. Tully.

Local Erratic Orthography.

Canada is a country where compulsory education is in vogue. Still, notwithstanding and nevertheless as an absolute matter of fact, proven not by any pedestrian on George street the following advertisement is displayed in public on the main thoroughfare of the city, on a large case displaying the vendor's goods is an "ad," which reads thus, the orthography being exact: "Post Cards with View and your Selph, 2 for 25c. Still, while the spelling is some what erratic the goods are all right.

Rheumatism is not incurable, stubborn? Yes! but Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy will if faithfully used drive it out of the system. Its the blood that's at fault. Poisonous crystals like sand get into the joints and muscles. Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy prevents this. It drives them outfrom the blood and then Rheumatism dies. We recommend and sell. H. J. D. Tully.

Mr. Fitzgerald Enlarges Coal Plant.

Yesterday Mr. J. E. A. Fitzgerald, local coal and wood dealers, put a number of men to work on a new coal bin on his premises, just west of the G.T.R. Lakefield line. This new storage room will be fifty feet long, and will about double his present storage capacity. The Grand Trunk also have men at work extending the switch fifty feet further so as to supply the new coal storage.

New Canada Life Co. Offices.

The local offices of the Canada Life Insurance Co., have recently upon changes made in the Bank of Commerce Building, been transferred from their former location to the apartments previously occupied by Mr. Orias Laplante. The Insurance Company occupied their new quarters yesterday.

Compulsory Sewerage Report

The Board of Health, in reference to a recent suggestion, concurred by the City Council, that all houses in certain parts of the city should be compelled to connect with the sewerage system, have received the following report, from the medical health officer and sanitary inspector, viz.:

To the Board of Health;

Gentlemen.—Your health officer and sanitary inspector recommend that the following places be connected with sewer, viz.; All places on the east side of Water street, between Hunter and King streets, not already connected; also on the west side of George street, between King and Dalhousie street, not already connected; also on both sides of McDonnell between Bethune and Stewart street; also it is recommended that Metherall's terrace on the corner of George and Murray streets be connected with the sewer. Also the terrace on the north side of London street and east of George street be connected with the sewer. Also that the house occupied by George Carlton be connected with the sewer, so as to do away with the cesspool.

Hon J R Stratton In a Big Deal

The New York Life Assurance Co., had a mortgage upon the Board of Trade Building, corner of Yonge and Front streets, Toronto. The building and land which cost over $400,000, were sold under the mortgage some weeks ago for $200,000. The transaction has been completed and the deed has been registered in Toronto. It is in the name of James Robert Stratton. It looks as if the Hon. J. R. has been making a large buy of Toronto real estate. It is looked upon as one of the best centers in the city.

A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of.

The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised, should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 50 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dummer Farmers on an Outing

The fine steamer Stony Lake was tested and proven capable on Friday and Saturday last, when some 150 farmers of North Dummer held their annual outing. The itinery included a trip from Lakefield to Lindsay, where a stop over night was made. The party returned Saturday evening after a very pleasant trip, and all present were loud in their praises of the way the "Stony Lake" officers and crew looked after their comfort.

The committee in charge consisted of Mr. Henry Moore and Mr. J. J. Crowe, who deserve credit for the splendid arrangements.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE IN SESSION

Tenders For Electric Fire Alarm System to be Advertised for---Electric Wiring for New Fire Hall.

The Fire, Water & Light Committee of the City Council, met last night when here were present, Chairman (Ald. Adams, Aldermen Mason, Ball, Elliot and Duncan.

The question of what system of fire alarm should be installed in the city. The two systems demonstrated here are the Anderson system of Toronto and the Gamewell system handled by the Bell Telephone Company.

After a long by discussion on this matter, Ald. Duncan moved, seconded by Ald. Ball,—That the city clerk be instructed to advertise for tenders for an electric alarm system. —Carried.

ELECTRIC WIRING.

It transpired that the matter of wiring of the new fire hall for electric light is not included in the building contract, as understood to be the case by some members of the committee.

Chief Rutherford said the hay mow in the new fire hall is very small. There is not sufficient room for a man to stand upright in it, and the mow will probably hold but a couple of tons of hay.

Ald. Duncan offered that there should be a big space for fodder, so that everything could be kept up there.

The committee will meet at the new fire hall at nine o'clock this morning to look into these matters.

Regarding the lighting system, Chief Rutherford said he would prefer incandescent lamps, one in each room, and two chandeliers with three good lamps on each.

Ald. Duncan suggested that the committee also look into this matter this morning, in which he members acquiesced.

Ald. Elliot moved, seconded by Ald. Ball,—That the chairs in the market building be repaired and also that the town clock be painted.

POOR ICE SUPPLY.

The committee expressed their dissatisfaction with the manner in which the two drinking fountains are being supplied with ice by Mr. Rohill who has the contract for so doing.

Moved by Ald. Mason, seconded by Ald. Ball,—That the chairman be ordered to procure a supply of ice from another dealer for the fountains unless they are found to be neglected in this direction, and charge the loss of same to the man who has the contract for this work.

SWAM THE HUDSON RIVER

Woman Covered the Distance, One Mile and Three-Quarters, in 57 Minutes.

New York, Sept. 11.—The record for swimming the Hudson River was reduced by sixteen and a half minutes yesterday by Miss Alice Fitzgerald, of this city.

The swim began at a point on the New Jersey shore opposite Riverdale station, and ended on the New York shore, about 150 yards south of the station.

The river at that point is one mile and three-quarters wide, and Miss Fitzgerald swam it in fifty-seven minutes and a half.

She is 18 years old, and about five feet 10 inches in height.

Clerk's Action Saved Her

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Bertha Kirkpatrick, the 21-year-old wife of Robert Kirkpatrick, 111 Oak street picked up a bottle of carbolic acid in G. Marshall's drug store, Queen and Berkeley streets, at seven o'clock last evening, and drank some of it before the clerk had time to grab the bottle from her hands. His prompt action caused her to cough violently, thus ejecting some of the acid. Dr. Sweeny was called, and antidotes were applied, after which the woman was removed to the General Hospital, saved from any serious effects. The woman had asked for carbolic acid at the drug store, and picking up the bottle as it was being filled, remarked that it did not look like carbolic. No reason is assigned for the strange action, as it was not known that the woman was worrying.

Crossed Sea to Die on Sweetheart's Grave

New York, September 12.—A dramatic scene occurred on the French line pier yesterday just before the steamer La Provence left for Havre. Among the passengers was Luigi Contantini, 31 years of age, who was bound for his old home in Lecco, province of Lombari, Italy, to keep a suicide pact to die on his sweetheart's grave.

Antonio Contanantini, a brother of the passenger, made the scene and afterwards told his brother's story.

He said that Luigi became betrothed to Josephine Ballatini, in Italy, against her parents' wishes and Luigi came to this country to seek his fortune. He located at Beaver, Oklahoma, and wrote for Josephine to go there, but her parents forbade it. She wrote that she intended to commit suicide and news came that she carried out her purpose. Thereupon Luigi sold his property at Beaver and started for Italy to kill himself on the girl's grave.

He told his brother the story and bade him farewell. Entreaties failed to swerve the man and on the pier yesterday Antonio made his final appeal. He clung to his brother passionately, imploring him not to go. Luigi shook his head. Antonio then half dragged his brother to an open space on the pier, fell on his knees, raised a crucifix aloft and renewed his pleadings. Luigi could not be moved and finally turning his back on Antonio went on board La Provence.

When the ship sailed, Luigi stood at the rail watching Antonio, who had again fallen to his knees and with outstretched arms was beckoning to his brother.

Germany's Great Naval Activity

London, September 12.—Advices from Kiel reveal feverish and protracted activity at the German Imperial yard. On August 26th the new cruiser Ersatz Hilfz was launched. It has also been noticed that a distinct departure is being made in the placing of armor plates. Formerly the plating in battleships consisted of an armor belt at the waterline throughout the vessels length. In the future the substructures of the machinery connected with the turrets will be heavily protected. The bottoms will also receive heavy plating. The two divisions of torpedo-boats which are to be turned out by the Germania Yard of Kiel during the present year will consist of vessels with a displacement of 437 tons and 6,000 horse-power engines, which will give a speed of 28 1-2 knots. Still greater will be the displacement of the two new divisions of torpedo-boats, twelve boats each of which have been ordered from the Schichau Yard, for the displacement is to be 925 tons, and the engines are to be of 9,000 horse-power, so that these bigger torpedo-boats are to have a speed of 30 knots. Their coal bunkers are to hold 150 tons, and their armament will consist of one 8.8 centim. and of two 5.2 centim. quick-firing guns. Toward the end of next year these Schichau-built boats will join the German navy, and they will be among the most powerful seagoing torpedo-boats possessed by any power. It may be added that in 1910 the German navy, on a peace footing, will consist of 2,526 officers and 44,838 petty officers and seamen.

Canada's Record in Cheese Exports

Ottawa, September 12.—Some highly interesting figures as to Canada's export of cheese and butter to Great Britain are given in a report received at the Department of Trade and Commerce from Mr. W. A. McKinnon, Canadian trade agent at Bristol. Quoting from the Colonial Dairy Produce Review, Mr. McKinnon says that out of total imports of 190,062 tons of cheese by Great Britain during the past year, Canada supplied 96,894 tons. This was over eight times the quantity received from the next largest exporting country, which was Holland. During the year the exports of Canadian butter to Great Britain totalled 15,115 tons, an increase of 2,896 tons. This constitutes a new record, being 13,200 tons. As a result of the hot and dry summer, the production of English butter and cheese was curtailed, and, as a result, the trade agent says the Canadian trade can look forward to successful operations, owing to the increasing demand at excellent prices.

Lamps in Ball Room Exploded

Brussels, Sept. 11.—The village of Chene le Loug in the Luxembourg is in mourning. The young people of the commune organized a grand ball. It was held in the hall room of the court house.

The room was lit up by coal oil lamps, which shook in their insecurely brackets when the dancing became vigorous.

Suddenly one of the lamps fell and exploded with terrific force. The explosion sent sheets of the lamps crashing to the floor. Dancers and ball room were filled a few seconds a mass of flames.

There was a mad rush for the door. Women and girls were badly trampled and their condition is serious.

TROLLEY CARS COLLIDE

Twelve People Were Injured in a Mishap at New York.

New York, Sept. 11.—Twelve persons were injured, one of them probably fatally in a collision between two trolley cars at the New York end of Brooklyn Bridge yesterday.

The accident occurred while the early morning rush to the city was at its height, and was witnessed by hundreds of persons who were passing through the bridge terminal at the time.

A Park avenue, Brooklyn, car had stopped at a loop entrance to wait for a switch to be adjusted.

Another car which was following came to a stop a few feet behind, and a moment later a third car came bowling down the steep incline, crashed into the second, and forced it ahead with terrific force into the Park avenue car.

Both ends of the second car were wrecked. In the crash Motorman Julius Scharff, of the third car, was probably fatally hurt. Both his legs were terribly crushed.

None of the passengers injured was dangerously hurt, though nearly all had painful cuts or bruises.

Traffic was blocked for nearly an hour.

Railway Rate War May Rage

Grand Trunk System May Join Issue With Two United States Roads.

Montreal, September 12.—It is expected that Mr. W. E. Davis, passenger traffic manager of the Grand Trunk system, will be called to New York this week to attend a meeting of the presidents and executive officers of the lines operating between New York, Boston and Chicago.

The meeting will be one of the most important the officers of these lines have attended for a long time, as it will be decided whether or not there shall be a rate war between the companies.

For weeks the matter has been carefully considered by Mr. Lucius Tuttle, president of the Boston & Maine Railroad, who accepted the position of disinterested referee, and agreed to arrange the differences between all the parties.

A month ago Mr. Tuttle wrote, saying that he would postpone any decision until September 1. This is the tenth of the month, and it is now thought in some railway circles that obstacles may have turned up which prevent him giving a final decision.

Meanwhile, the arrangement entered into on June 1st that the old rates from Chicago eastward should be resumed, pending the result of the meetings of the officials, still remains, and it altogether depends upon the coming announcement of Mr. Tuttle as to whether or not the Grand Trunk System, the New York Central and the Erie road will commence cutting and make glad the heart of the traveller to and from Chicago.

A FAILURE IN EUROPE

Mayor McClellan Says Municipal Tram Cars are Not a Success.

New York, September 12.—George B. McClellan and Mrs. McClellan arrived Saturday ynight on the American liner St. Paul, after a European trip of eleven weeks. Asked regarding his statement endorsing W. Travers Jerome for governor, printed in a Paris newspaper, the mayor said: "Jerome is by far the strongest and most logical candidate for governor.

Asked whether he had made any close observation of municipal traction lines in Europe, the mayor said:

"Municipal tram cars in Europe are a decided failure."

LABOR EXODUS ALARMS CUBA

Financial Panic Will Cause More Damages Than the Revolution

MEANS LOSS OF MILLIONS

Sugar Planters Cannot Get Men Enough to Harvest—Credit Refused.

Havana, September 12.—In this city a movement, sudden, but peaceful, was begun yesterday, which it is felt will react throughout the entire island, and which will soon render the fruits of victory of little avail to the government. The laborers, the immigration of whom the government at great expense has been encouraging for the past two years have suddenly begun to leave the island. One thousand have already gone and hundreds more are preparing to follow.

This will render it practically impossible to harvest the sugar crop as there has, in previous years, been a great scarcity of men, even with the assistance of hundreds of others, who are now leaving.

As a result a financial panic is feared. No one at present will lend money even on the best security.

This puts the planters in a very bad way. It usually takes ten per cent. of the expected sugar crop in borrowed money to harvest it. This money is obtained at this season of the year, usually without difficulty. It was expected that the value of the crop would amount to about $90,000,000. This would mean a needed advance of $9,000,000 and the foremost business man of Cuba said last night it would be impossible to get a loan of $10,000.

Banks have refused all accommodation, merchants have countermanded orders and wholesale business and large operations have practically stopped.

The possible political future of the island, the failure or success of the Palma government and the attitude the United States may take do not concern the great business community so much as the actual conditions and outlook. Whatever may come from those important factors they sadly and emphatically say that the credit of Cuba is destroyed and that she can not recover in years under any form of government. Prompt restoration of order may save a little from the wreckage, peace would check the exodus of labor and save to 1,250,000 people $70,000,000 which the harvesting of the sugar crop annually puts in circulation among them for labor material and supplies expended in the cutting and manufacture of the season's output.

Maximum Penalty Life Imprisonment

Bowmanville, Sept. 12.—Wm. Terry and Charles Wilmot of South Darlington, farm workmen employed by Erastus J. Burk, were arranged in the police court yesterday morning before W. M. Horsey, P.M., who read the charge against them, as follows:

"That on Saturday, Sept. 8th, on the public highway between lots 14 and 15 B. F. Darlington, you, William Terry, and Charles Wilmot, did unlawfully aid and abet together, and did unlawfully assault Richard Ford, with intent to commit an indictable offence, and did seize and bind his arms with a rope, blindfold his eyes, and smear his body with tar, and the further to assault the said Ford, and did use further violence toward him, and did threaten to take the life of Ford, thus putting him in bodily fear."

The magistrate said he would not ask the prisoners to plead to the charge, which, if proven, according to section 269[illegible] of the Criminal Code, makes them liable to imprisonment for life and to be whipped, but would adjourn the court to two o'clock to permit the County Crown Attorney, W. F. Kerr, K.C., of Cobourg, to attend the hearing.

The prisoners are defended by D. B. Simpson, K.C., of this town. There is great excitement in the locality over the inhuman treatment of Ford.

Was Killed by Game Warden

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 12.—An investigation of the shooting affray on the mountain near Sugarnotch brought to light the fact that Adam Ruscas, whose body was found had been shot by Game Warden Fred Rowe.

The latter claims that while passing through the woods he came upon Ruscas and a companion. Ruscas carried a gun and had a bag well filled with game.

The Warden demanded that both men surrender, but they refused.

The warden claims that Ruscas opened fire on him and he returned the fire, shooting Ruscas through the heart.

Rowe received a number of buckshot in the legs, and is in the city hospital.

Drug Clerk's Awful Mistake

London, Ont., Sept. 12.—The death of Mrs. John Labatt, which occurred at the family residence, Queen's avenue, last evening, was due to an unaccountable mistake on the part of a clerk in a local drug store.

Mrs. Labatt, who was the wife of the well-known brewer, had been under the care of her physician for a few days, and last evening a prescription was sent to the druggist's for her. A clerk who has had eight year's experience and was considered very careful and reliable undertook to fill it, but in the place of a non poisonous ingredient he used nux-vomica, the result being that Mrs. Labatt died in three-quarters of an hour after taking a dose of the medicine.

Coroner MacLaren and Crown Attorney MacLaren were notified, and an inquest was commenced this morning. No evidence was taken, an adjournment being made for a week.

The act of the clerk is considered to be purely a mistake, and it is not at all likely that he will be prosecuted.

Mr. Labatt is at present in Sault Ste. Marie, and he will not reach London until this morning.

Liquor Men and Labor Baaten

Portland, Me., Sept. 12.—Governor Wm. T. Cobb, Republican, running a platform devoted almost exclusively to a continuance of the prohibitory law of the State, was re-elected yesterday by a plurality of less than 8,000, which, with but few exceptions, is the smallest margin of votes ever given a Republican Governor in Maine. Cyrus Davis, the Democratic candidate, contended for the re-submission of the liquor question, which was enacted by the State four years ago. Yet more interesting from a national standpoint was the re-election of Congressman Chas. E. Littlefield, Republican, in the Second District, by a greatly reduced plurality. Congressman Littlefield's candidacy was the subject of bitter antagonism by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who sought his defeat on the ground that he had voted against organized labor in that he opposed certain labor measures at the last session of Congress.

Youth Unloaded With Debris

New York, Sept. 12.—John Pfifer, 17 years of age, a brakeman employed on a train used in the excavation that is in progress for the Pennsylvania station and tunnel, met death in an unusual way early yesterday.

The rock and dirt, when loaded on the trains, are taken to the North river, where the trucks are emptied into ninety foot chute, which carries the debris to the scow.

Pfifer fell unnoticed into the chute and was sent with it down a chute. His red light, bobbing along the dirt, gave warning that something was wrong.

A search in the scow uncovered Pfifer mortally hurt.

He died in a few minutes.

Oliver's Inquiry Favorable to Preston

London, Sept. 12—The Birmingham Post's London correspondent says the result of Hon. Mr. Oliver's official investigation into the special emigration propaganda carried on in the Canadian office here under the direction of Mr. W. T. R. Preston has been distinctly favorable to that gentleman.

The Dundee Advertiser says he order issued by the post office that mails to Canada cannot be sent by the steamer Baltic, sailing on Wednesday, unless specially marked via New York is one which might well be made permanent with advantage to the public. The Advertiser says mails per the Virginian leaving Liverpool on Friday may be delivered in advance of the Baltic's.

HORRIBLE DREAMS

Fortunately Don't Always Come True

Whether dreams are the result of things we have thought about the day previous, or to something we have eaten is sometimes a question hard to answer.

A Penna. woman has noticed that horrible dreams came from the excessive use of coffee. She writes:

"For 20 years I've been drinking coffee and have been troubled more or less with nervous headaches, shortness of breath, horrible dreams and palpitation of the heart.

"The doctor said I would have to give up coffee—said I had what is called 'coffe heart.' I would try to stop it, only to begin again worse than ever.

"One day I read an advertisement about Postum and decided to try it. The effect was simply wonderful. I quit coffee and each day I drank Postum and in a week I began to grow stronger and less nervous. This kept on until now I feel like an entirely different woman. To my friends who ask me what has wrought about such a change in so short a time, I say 'It's Postum.'

"I have now been using Postum for two and a half months and have not the least desire for coffee. I find Postum tastes best by putting it in cold water and letting it come to a boil slowly—then boil 15 minutes." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

POLICE DRAG NET OUT FOR TERRORISTS

A Thousand Arrests, Mostly of Jews, are Made in Warsaw---Children are Being Used to Assassinate Autocrats.

Warsaw, Sept. 12.—It was learned here yesterday that the reign of bloodshed at Siedlec had ceased, at least for the time being. Troops are camped in the streets, and a systematic search of houses and persons is being carried on.

The authorities have opened an inquiry into the events which led up to the outbreak. There is great need for medical assistance for the wounded.

According to the best information the number of persons killed in Siedlec is about 100. The number of houses burned reaches 27.

Many Jews managed to get out of the city and flee to the neighboring villages.

UPRISING IS SUBDUED.

Kamyshin, Sept. 12.— The arrival here of the Governor and a strong force of troops from Saratov has resulted in the subduing of the uprising.

The town had been given over for two days to fighting between the police and the mob.

Taking advantage of the absence of most of the garrison to suppress disorders in Nicholaevka, the revolutionists organized a revolt on Sunday.

They freed a number of political prisoners and threw barricades across streets which they held with success against the police.

The number of persons killed or wounded has not been established, but in one hospital there are 20 wounded.

The disorders in Nicholaevka also have been subdued.

BOMBARDED BY ARTILLERY.

Stavropol, Sept. 12.—It is reported here by telegraph that the village of Shuiguti has been bombarded by artillery in consequence of disorders which commenced there following the arrest of M. Onipko, the peasant leader of the outlawed parliament, who is to be tried by court martial for complicity in the uprising at Cronstad, last July.

The inhabitants of the village fled and their houses were destroyed.

The artillery, according to report, is now moving against the village of Petroffskaia.

EXPEL THE SUSPECTS.

Warsaw, Sept. 12.—In a search for terrorists made here last night some 200 houses located in different parts of Warsaw were ransacked by troops.

About 1,000 arrests were made, and most of the prisoners are Jews.

Many children were taken into custody. They are employed by the terrorists to execute attempts upon Government officials because the movements of children do not awaken suspicion, and they are not liable to capital punishment.

The authorities have ordered that all suspects be expelled from the city.

SHOT HER DEAD.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 12. — There was a revolt yesterday in the Central Detention Prison, in consequence of the death of Mlle Semenova, a girl of 22, a young and enthusiastic Social Democrat, who was also shot and killed instantly by a sentry when she showed herself at the window of her cell overlooking the court yard.

The furious prisoners expelled the warden, barricaded the prison and laid the corpse of Mlle Semenova upon an improvised bier in the central cell, refusing to deliver it to the authorities, and swearing they would die rather than surrender it.

Troops were summoned, but the authorities fearing bloodshed, temporized and sent for the brother of Mlle Semenova, to whom the insurgents delivered the body.

Grand Duke Nicholas, after an investigation of the affair, personally ordered the dismissal of the officer of the guard, which was drawn from the unpopular Semenovsky regiment.

Mlle Semenova was a medical student and was seeking to divide with the prisoners some sugar which she has surreptitiously obtained when she was shot.

RUNNING.

Referring to a former Peterborough man, but now living in Boston, the Boston Globe says concerning the five-mile race at the meet of the New England A.A.U. at Wood Island:

"When the five-mile run was called, fifteen men were on the line. At the pistol A. R. Whelton, of Lawrence, took the lead and set out the pace. Lee, the New England champion, was in second place, several yards behind. Dowling was third, with Burns and Dick Grant about twenty-five yards in the rear, taking it easy. Tom Hicks, the Marathon champion, was bringing up the rear.

"It soon became evident it was going to be a race between Lee, Whelton and Burn, for on the mile Burn had taken third place right behind Lee who was a yard behind Whelton. Side by side, Whelton and Lee ran, and Burn using a shorter stride kept right with them. Dick Grant was fourth. At the end of the second mile there was only a dozen left. Lee then took the lead, but he kept it only a short time, when he let Whelton make the pace again. Lee tried Whelton out by trying a few sprints, but he found the Lawrence man staying there with him.

"There was no change then as he men ran lap after lap in that order, the others dropping out entirely leaving the three men to battle alone. When the last lap was started the crowd cheered and then began the gruelling. Lee and Burn shot away from Whelton, the former trying to lose Burn in the sprint. In this he failed for Burn ran one one hundred yards from the finish and passed Lee, and came home a winner by a few yards. Whelton was one hundred yards behind. Burn's time was 27 min., 9 2-5 sec.

Premier Whitney Says Power For All

Toronto, Sept. 12.—"The interests of the public are foremost and paramount in the minds of the Government, and you can depend upon it that the Government will see that those municipalities who want power (will get it—and get it at the right price."

Such was Premier Whitney's declaration to the press yesterday afternoon. All morning he was closeted with the Attorney-General, Hon. J. J. Foy, and had brief visits from Hon. Dr. Pyne, Hon. Col. Matheson, Hon. Mr. Hanna and Mr. J. P. Downey, and Mr. H. L. Colquhoun, Deputy Minister of Education. He had been asked concerning the Healey Falls matter.

"I believe the public mind is grasping the true phase of the question," the Premier continued. "There can be no surer safeguard than the rates are under the control of the Government, and you must remember that the Government has never declared its intention to take hold and develop power.

"I think the whole matter will be satisfactorily cleared up in a day or so," he concluded.

The Premier's left hand, which was severely cut on Monday, has given him much trouble. It commenced bleeding freely again yesterday, and he had to have the wound dressed and bound.

Dominion Coal Is Now in Good Shape

Montreal, Sep. 12.—"The Dominion Coal Company has had the most strenuous season in its existence," was the statement made yesterday by Vice-President Wanklyn, who has been almost the entire season at the mines. "The main reasons for it were the great scarcity of labor and the fact that the large proportion of the customers of the company want from 15 per cent. to 40 per cent. more than last year.

"The Dominion Iron and Steel Company went almost double the amount they took last year. The labor situation is very much better than it was around August 1st, due to the fact that the men who have farms on the neighboring country are now returning to the mines, while the Newfoundland fishing catch has not been as good as expected and a number of the men are again available. By dint of the hardest kind of work, the company is now a little ahead of the game, and the indications are that, barring accident, it will be able to fill the obligations of the season. The physical conditions of the company's properties are fine, and the quality of coal being procured is especially high."

HOW CONSTMPTION START

Tired When You Waken—Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out—Snap All Gone.

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start today. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Ferrozone cures because it can furnish the body with sufficient nutriment and building material.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops, and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Howd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this:

"Household worries and care had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

NEW RUSSIAN PREMIER'S POLICY

That the new Russian Premier Stolypin has no intention of following the advice of the French publicists and inspire the Czar to summon the moderates of the Duma "without an instant's delay," is revealed in an interview secured from him by the St. Petersburg correspondent of Le Temps, of Paris. On the contrary, Mr. Stolypin informed the correspondent the Government would take its time. While waiting it was drafting no fewer than seven new laws, these dealing with religious sects, the civil status, civil marriage, and the equality of rights. Into the latter question, says M. Stolypin, enters the difficult Jewish problem, which cannot be settled by a stroke of the pen or without the Jews themselves being consulted. "This is a reservation," observes Le Temps, "which may be interpreted to mean that the Jews may expect nothing at all." It does not appear that any bill dealing with the agrarian question is to be introduced. An immediate solution of this problem is, M. Stolypin says, impossible. It will appear, he believes, like a phoenix out of a new regime. M. Stolypin's idea is, creating a new regime is to look for some process ly tread on the toes of acquired rights. of transition which shall not sudden- His local agrarian commissions are now, he says, engaged on this work of discovery. But in no case will there be compulsory expropriation of private or monastical property; that would be an act of pillage which the Czar would not sanction. But then, he says, expropriation is not necessary; the amount of land required has been grossly exaggerated, and the state domains in Europe and Asia should be ample to meet the demand.

Perhaps we all pay too much attention to these scares that the health faddists get up. Our grandfathers were in the habit of holding on to life until around the century mark, as a rule, and yet they lived largely on pork and doughnuts, with mince pie as a sleep inducer just before retiring.

A Western newspaper editor committed suicide the other day on account of financial troubles. It has been suggested by the Concordia Kansan that he hadn't been in the business long, or financial troubles would never have caused him to commit such a rash act—he would have been used to that sort of thing.

Man Elopes With His Stenographer.

Kingston, September 11.—There was an elopement here Friday. The parties are W. N. Lemmon, painter by trade, and Jessie Dunlop. The man in the case was married, and leaves a wife and two children penniless. The girl was Lemmon's stenographer and boarded in the family. It has been learned that Watertown, N. Y., was their destination.

ROMANCE BEGAN WITH TOOTHACHE

Now Miss Margaret Fleming Sues D. S. McCutcheon for Breach of Promise

Toronto, Sept. 11—The story of a sad romance, which began with a toothache and ended with a breach of promise suit, was told in a bulky pile of affidavits which were filed at Osgoode Hall yesterday. The suit with which these papers are connected is the sequel of Miss Margaret Fleming, a daughter of John M. Fleming, a farmer near Grand Valley, against D. S. McCutcheon, a druggist, formerly of Grand Valley, and now of Moosejaw, for damages for breach of promise to marry.

As Miss Fleming tells the story, both parties in the suit were guests at a social function in Grand Valley when Miss Fleming went in search of Mr. McCutcheon to consult him about some soothing drug. When the toothache was attended to they sat together on a lounge until Miss Fleming no recollect but they were being watched through the window by a crowd of men.

After Mr. McCutcheon had effected these results Miss Fleming says she wanted to go back to the latter, but Mr. McCutcheon persuaded her to go home. He took her home, arriving there at two o'clock in the morning. He explained the circumstances to Mr. and Mrs. Fleming, and Miss Fleming says in her affidavit asked her to marry him.

Later however, Mr. McCutcheon went out West and returned to Grand Valley with a bride, whereupon Miss Fleming commenced her action for damages.

In the meantime Mr. McCutcheon decided to move his business to Moosejaw, and Miss Fleming took steps to have him arrested on the ground that he was trying to escape the suit. He was released when his father gave $2,000 security for his appearance at the trial.

In his affidavit Mr. McCutcheon admits the toothache and that he took Miss Fleming to his home in order to cure it. He says, however, that he wished to go back to the hall and that Miss Fleming refused. He denies that he asked Miss Fleming to marry him, saying that at the time and for some time before he was already engaged to his present wife.

Mountain of Mud Overwhelms a Township in the Caucasus, Russia

Tiflis, Sept. 10.—Practically without warning the side of a mountain rising above the Township of Kwareli broke away, and in a sea of semi-liquid mud, sand, and stones, swept down on the township and overwhelmed and obliterated it. Some 255 persons have been buried alive. Fifty-five bodies already have been recovered from the mire, which is about six feet deep.

In addition to the lives lost, countless head of cattle perished, and the crops were destroyed. Kwareli Township occupies an area of five kilometers, in the district of Telavi, in the Caucasus.

Similar disasters are of common occurrence in Caucasian valleys.

This has been a year of disasters, as the following partial list will show:

Eruption of Mount Pesuvius destroys a dozen cities and towns, causing a loss of $100,000,000 and 1,000 lives.

Earthquake in California and fire in San Francisco result in the destruction of 400 lives and $350,000,000 of property.

Earthquake in Chigi and fire in Valparaiso cause a loss of 5,000 lives and $350,000,000 of property.

Sinking of emigrant ship, in which 300 Italians are drowned.

Mine horror in France ends the lives of 1,100 men.

Overflow of the Yangtse River drowns 10,000 Chinese.

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum- Shrum Mountain, 11-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 35 miles distant, 150 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH — A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"Explain, my love," said the duchess.

Lady Etheridge, with deep blushes, commenced, and related the details of her enforced interview with the prince.

"Ah, I see it all now. The breakfast, the masked promenade, the lottery, all was got up for the especial purpose of bringing about your meeting with his royal highness. There are men, and women, too, I am sorry to say, of the highest rank, who thus lend themselves to the purposes of royalty. You are right, my love, we must leave town; but we shall turn not to Swinburne Castle, but to Beresleigh Court, where I shall still claim you as my guest," said the duchess.

And this course was immediately decided upon. But an unforeseen event that shall be related in the next chapter prevented the contemplated journey, and turned the fate of our heroine.

CHAPTER XX.

The next morning, while Lady Etheridge was engaged in giving directions to her maid in regard to the safe keeping of her costly jewelry, preparatory to her journey into the country, a letter was laid before her, which, opening, she found to be the appointment of herself as maid of honor to the Queen, with a command to her to repair immediately to Windsor, where the court was then residing.

With the letter in her hand, Rose went to the dressing-room of the duchess, and, being admitted, put it into her hands.

"My dear, this is fortunate. You need not now leave town; the court of Queen Charlotte will be a refuge," said the duchess, with a smile.

Rose answered that smile with a brighter one. Young, beautiful, wealthy and noble—queen of beauty and of fashion in her first London season—she was well pleased to be delivered from the necessity of leaving town at the very acme of her social triumph.

"You need not countermand your packing, my dear, as you must take your wardrobe to Windsor with you, of course," said the duchess.

"When should I leave?" inquired Rose.

"To-morrow afternoon, at farthest. I shall go down in a few days after you. Now, run away and superintend your preparations."

And the interview closed.

The evening of the same day a tall, thin, dark figure of a man, with his coat collar turned up and his hat pulled low over his brow, might have been seen treading some the narrowest courts and alleys in one of the most crowded parts of the central London. He paused before a great, dilapidated house, that had, in the olden times, been the town mansion of a proud prelate; but, long fallen from its high estate, was a tenement crowded with beggars, tramps and thieves, who, after pursuing all day long, their nefarious trades through the streets, retired here at night, some to eat, drink and sleep, some to concoct new plans of robbery, and others to hide from the pursuit of the law, for as yet the character of this house was unknown to the police, and its moldering walls yet afforded sure refuge for fugitives.

"Disgusting place! Whatever can Roberts be hiding for now? For nothing that has brought him much profit, or he would not be perdu here; he would get out of the country," said the man, as he entered the wide, open hall door, and picked his way, loathingly, along a lofty passage and up a broad staircase, common to all the tenants of the building, and as filthy as the foulest outside alley, or the most neglected stable yard. The only modification was that on every successive landing the dirt was a little less thick and moist, as though the adhering contaminations from without had gradually fallen off from ascending footsteps. From the open doors of every room in this house squalid children tumbled in and out, and the querulous voices of angry, drunken, or suffering men and women were heard.

Through all this the visitor passed up to the third floor, and turned to a door on the right, and gave a peculiar rap.

"Come in," said a very pleasant, manly voice.

The visitor entered a large front room, dark, dingy and scantily furnished, yet free from the dirt that defiled the lower rooms and passages.

"Eh! what the deuce, Roberts; that was your voice, but where are you?" inquired he, looking about him, in the semi-obscurity of the apartment.

"Here," answered the same clear, soft voice, as the owner emerged from some dark corner and opened the window shutters, letting in a sufficiency of light to reveal the room and its meagre furniture—a large, four-posted bed, with dark and tattered green curtains, a worm-eaten oak table, rickety chairs, and so forth.

The occupant was a well-dressed, handsome, fair-haired man, with a sweet, happy and candid expression of countenance.

"Welcome, most noble Mac, to the old palace of the lord bishops of Ely. It is many centuries since the followers of a court honored its halls with their presence," said the inmate of this room, advancing to meet his visitor.

"Eh, good Heavens, William, what has brought you, the greatest epicurean in town, to this beastly place?" exclaimed the visitor, in dismay.

"Necessity, good Mac; necessity which knows no law. But I may ask, in my turn, what brings the most assiduous courtier of the day into this same 'beastly' place?"

"Remotely, the same necessity; proximately your note of this morning."

"Ay, my note. I wrote to you by a trusty messenger to send me ten pounds; I thought you would have sent it."

"I chose to bring it. I have been for days in search of you, and considered myself very lucky this morning in receiving your note."

"Even though it cost you ten pounds," laughed the fair-haired man.

"Even so," said the other, going to the door and securing it. Then, returning to the side of William Roberts, he said:

"I wish to engage you in an enterprise of some danger, but much profit."

"You know, Mac," said the softspoken man, "that danger is a decided ly objectionable element in any enterprise in which I am to be engaged."

"Oh, I know, William, that courage is not among your vices, but avarice is certainly one of your noblest virtues; and this adventure, if it has the least spice of danger, has also the largest promise of profit."

"Explain."

"I will, darkly. For instance, a certain nobleman has become desperately enamored of a certain beautiful girl, without parents or guardian to protect her. He cannot marry the girl upon account of our national prejudice in favor of a man having but one wife, and she is not to be won on any other terms. To-morrow afternoon this girl takes a journey to Windsor in a post chaise, with no attendant but her maid and footman. She must be waylaid and carried off."

The fair-haired, soft-spoken man shook his head, murmuring:

"Ugly business! ugly business! Is your nobleman privy to this proceeding?"

"Nay, now, William, you do not show your usual perspicacity. My lord will do nothing, and permit nothing to be done, unworthy of a nobleman."

"But yet he would avail himself of any circumstance that placed this girl in his power."

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 5,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

FIFTEEN CLAIMS developed (3 of which), one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.80 to $2.60 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $35,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (8 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hundreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

Pale Faced Girls

Thousands Using Successful Cure For Paleness and Anaemia.

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested.

At night she is restless, she dozes, but doesn't sleep soundly.

Vital force must be increased, new blood must be supplied and a general rebuilding take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton had invaluable experience in these cases and found nothing so prompt in building up the young women as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food ready for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

Full of spirit, ruddy and rosy is the girl that accepts her cure by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The following recent letter from Miss Etta McIlveen, of Haliburton, speaks for itself:

"In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly, and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed. "Formerly I felt tired and depressed. I looked as if a severe illness was hanging over my head.

"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I cheerfully advise every young woman to use them."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

Labor was never as scarce in Peterborough as it is today. Several of the local factories are handicapped, as are contractors, for the want of men. A contractor yesterday said to The Times, "Peterborough ought to advertise for men in the Toronto and Montreal papers. There is no need for men to go to the North-West harvest for work. This city can give all the work that several Hundred more men can do, and the prosperity of the city absolutely requires more men.

A Driverless Horse Race

Yesterday morning a dual runaway occurred on Aylmer street. A horse drawing Mr. Adam Hall's delivery cart, started the circus by running away, no driver being in the wagon. This horse came down Aylmer street from Brock street at a gait that would make Harry Direct or Lady Gothard envious. As the horse in its mad flight reached the corner of Charlotte street, the wheels of the rig collided with those of Mr. A. Rountree's cart, then delivering mineral water at the Queen's Hotel. This set Mr. Rountree's horse agoing, and from there on it was a rip and tuck race between the two horses. Every few feet along Aylmer street, men would run out and try to stop, at least one of the flying steeds. If the black was stopped for a second the boy would fly on only to be overtaken in a few seconds by the black and vice versa. It was a pretty and close a race as the most enthusiastic follower of the races could wish to see. At last the horses were captured, one at Bolivar and the other at Lake streets. Not much damage was done.

Even Pigs Know Good Fish

To demonstrate that even pigs have intelligence was clearly shown a few days ago. It seems that a local city father and several others of his own calling went down the river for a few days' outing. The worthy alderman caught two splendid muskinonge and a good string of bass. At Clarry's Landing, at the delta of the river the fishermen dug a hole and in it placed their prey to preserve the fish spoiling in the canoes. On their return after a further fishing trip the alderman went to gather in his lunge and bass. Alas! several hogs had been busy with their capture and had eaten the two muskinonge. They had simply spurned the bass. On close examination it was ascertained that the bass were "wormy." This shows that even hogs know a thing or two.

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast, as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's peculiar diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

Administrator, Executor, Trustee, Etc., Etc.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

GIRL'S TESTIMONY MAY HANG HER FATHER

Child Destribes at Coroner's Inquest How Her Mother Was Murdered---Killed Wife With an Ax.

New York, Sept. 13.—Before ten-year-old Rose Ann Walsh had finished her story yesterday of how she had seen her father, Thos. Walsh, strike down and kill her mother on Aug. 23, Coroner Acritelli and the twelve men who sat as jurors at the inquest and practically everybody else was wiping their eyes.

Thomas Walsh killed his wife in their home at 1923 Second avenue. He used an ax. The principal witness against the man is Rose Ann, his only child. There is a possibility that the man is an epileptic and this alone can save him from the electric chair, as the child's evidence seems incontrovertible.

"My papa did not work that afternoon," she said. "He came home and slept most of the time, then got up and sent me for a pint of beer. Mamma refused to drink any of it; she never would drink anything. She was busy getting supper ready for the boarders. You know papa did not work regularly and we had to take boarders.

"Then he waked up and called for mamma. She was hard of hearing and did not know he wanted her until I ran to tell her. She had to put the meat on to cook and told me to tell papa she was awfully busy and could not come. The next minute he rushed into the kitchen. He grabbed mamma by the hair and knocked her head against the wall. Then he let her go and grabbed for a bottle, but he did no hit her. Then I picked up all the bottles and hid them under my bed."

At this point the little witness began to cry softly and looked at her father, a great, big, rough looking man, who sat at a table with his counsel, gazing stupidly into space.

"Mamma began to cry and say, 'Tom, dear, please don't.' She went to the stove to turn the meat, as it was burning. This made him mad again, and he grabbed an ax from behind a table. 'That ax there (pointing to a blood covered ax lying on the lawyers' table), and hit her on the head. She cried, O, Tom, for God's sake, O,' but he hit her again. She fell when he hit her the third time and she never moved. Blood came from her nose and ears.

"I ran out and called the neighbors. 'My, God, Tom, what have you done?' they said. He answered, 'I don't know; I could not help it.' He ran away. They made me go to bed. I had only one shoe off when I waked up. Poor mamma was gone. I haven't seen her since."

The child's testimony, together with that given by the police and neighbors, made the verdict a mere formality in holding Walsh to the grand jury.

As Rose with her two step-sisters started to leave the courtroom Walsh leaned over the table as if to talk to the little girl, but she brushed by him. Out in the hall two women whispered something to her, and, turning straight around, she walked back into the courtroom and up to her father, and, throwing her tiny arms about his neck, kissed him.

"Don't cry, papa," she said, as he broke into a loud sob. "It will be all right."

New Heat System For Peterboro'

Mr A. H. Braintress representing the Dominion District Steam Heating Co., Limited, is in the city, and last night gave The Times a call. Mr. Braintress's company are introducing a new system of heating private houses, banks, offices or any building requiring heat during the winter months.

His system, already successfully adopted in New York and other cities is simply this in the fewest words. Instead of each house or building having the dirt, ashes, trouble, danger of fire and the thousand and one discomforts inseparably connecting with running stoves or furnaces, a central station, where a huge boiler is in operation, distributes steam to their various customers through huge mains, like those used for gas. These underground pipes are specially insulated to prevent radiation of heat for a steam, artificially propelled and regulated, as it passes to the consumer.

The steam used by each customer is regulated and measured by meter. The meter shows the amount of water condensed for steam during the passage through the radiators, and the amount of water found in each separate house system determines the amount of steam charged for. The system is applicable alike to houses now using steam or hot water. Mr. Braintress will possibly establish a company in Peterborough, to handle his system.

Descendants of Squire Coatsworth.

Kingsville, Ont. Sept. 13. — Today two or three hundred descendants of the late Squire Joseph Coatsworth of Gosfield South, will spend the day together. Squire Coatsworth came from England 100 years ago, and settling with his wife in Gosfield, South Township, resided there until his death. His descendants are scattered far and wide and include Mayor Coatsworth, Toronto; Mayor Wigle Windsor; Sheriff Ler, of Sandwich, and other prominent Ontario men.

Work Progressing Next The Times

Work is progressing rapidly on the splendid new premises of Mr. M. Pappas the enterprising cigar man. Yesterday the workmen engaged in getting the former Palace hotel put into shape, got the large frames for the plate glass windows, (the largest in the city, it might be noted) into shape for placing the glasses. However, the glass did not arrive on the train expected, but will be imported today. Mr. T. Darcy yesterday completed arrangements for entirely remodelling and refitting the entire two upper stories preparatory to their occupation by himself and Mr. Fred Darcy, as a large restaurant and rooming house. A handsome and expensive colored plate glass door will be placed at the restaurant entrance, being just between the restaurant and The Times Book-store.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

The docket at yesterday's session of the police court was a disappointment to the Restful Recuperation and Idle Hours Clubs as only one case was before his worship and that a simple d. & d. charge. This charge whilst being lessened with spicy details, generally caused a furtive look to sieze upon the eyes of the members present and a cold shiver to play tag up, down, round and between the various joints of their spinal vertebrae, in view of the fact that they next might be under the eagle eye of the presiding dignitary.

Alfred Cooney gathered in, the preceding evening, in the East Ward by P.C. Meherry, pleaded guilty to having not put the "peg in" at the proper stage of the game, or having in plain Anglo-Saxon, loaded up his hold with a larger cargo of liquid and spirituous refreshments, than Nature's underwriters would have insured. Alf. had been drunk and admitted the soft impeachment.

His Worship, to whom Alf, seated in the private box facing the forum is no stranger, after explaining that a considerable time had elapsed since his last fall from the platform of strict sobriety, was allowed to go and went in one, two, three, 2.08 1-4 time. On the distinct understanding that the next jagger would land him where the dogs do not get a chance to bite, nor do the schooners sail over the bar at five cents per sail.

Local Painters Do Good Deed

Disciples of Michael Angelo Assist an Injured Brother.

Whilst the results attained by the painters art is only "skin deep," the affections and readiness to help a brother painter in distress is deep and directly tangible.

It might be recalled that some two or three months ago a local painter, by name Alexander Reading, met with a serious accident. As Mr. Reading was working on a new summer residence being erected at Stony Lake he, in some way slipping from his lofty perch on the roof, whilst shingling, fell to the granite rock some feet below. His feet were badly crushed, and at one time it was feared might require amputation. This disaster, however, owing to modern skill and good physical condition of the patient was not necessary.

As Mr Reading has been for some weeks out of employment, through his injuries, and will, for the same cause, be several weeks still unable to work, his confreres in the trade throughout the city are generously subscribing to a presentation fund. Already a handsome sum has been subscribed, and by Saturday night, when the presentation will be made, there will be many audible evidences of the proverbial generosity that always characterizes both painters and printers. Mr. Reading, it might be noted, was, up to this issuance of The Times, in total ignorance of the above kindly act. However the matter is now so generally known, owing to the long list of subscribers, that we violate no obligation to those from whom first intelligence of the news was had. This is a kindly act, based upon no idea of self interest and will doubtless be appreciated in the spirit actuating the idea by both Mr. Reading and the public in general.

No Gambling at Fall Fairs

Whilst the memory of several games of chance interrupted at the last Peterborough Fall Fair, is still fresh in the minds of our readers, it will be of interest to such to learn that visitors to such exhibition this year will be protected from shafts being sunk and samples of their mineral or paper wealth being extracted by slick and smooth tongued fakers. A Toronto despatch of yesterday says,

"The Department of Agriculture has received many enquiries from parties who want to operate games of chance at the fall exhibitions. The correspondents seem to be anxious to find out what games are against the law and what are permissable. Mr. H. B. Cowan, superintendent of fall fairs, states that according to the new act, no mention is made of knife or cane stands, but that all forms of drawing numbers from envelopes are against the law. The department intends to be very strict, this year to prosecuting violations of the act. It is felt that sufficient warning has been given to men operating such games.

Rheumatism is not incurable, suffer[er] Yes! But Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy will if faithfully used drive it out of the system. Its the blood that's at fault. Poisonous cry[stals] like acid get into the joints and muscles. Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy prevents this. It drives rheumatism from the blood and then Rheumatism dies. We recommend and sell. at. J. D. Tully.

GRAPE-NUTS
FOOD.
QUESTIONING A FRIEND

If one takes the trouble to carefully question a person that has been using Grape-Nuts Food for two or three weeks, the facts will be brought out that gradually there comes over the body a feeling of increased strength, particularly of mental strength and ability.

The mind works clearer and more actively when it plays upon a brain that is refreshed, rebuilt and properly constructed by the food elements intended by Nature for such work.

This is a profound fact regarding Grape-Nuts. The food contains just the kind of material Nature must have to unite with albumen, from which to rebuild the gray matter in the brain and nerve centers throughout the body. Therefore the user can expect and obtain a definite result from the regular use of Grape Nuts.

SCHOLARS BLOW UP SCHOOL HOUSE

Chose a Navel Method to Have a Few More Holidays

ALL ADMIT THEIR GUILT

School Being Held in Temporary Quarters, and All are Reluctantly Attending.

New York, Sept. 13.—According to a Trenton, N.J., despatch to the World, vacation was not long enough for the boys of the Prospect Hill school, two miles from Newtown, Pa! so they blew up the school house with dynamite. The building was badly damaged, but temporary quarters were obtained and the school was opened notwithstanding.

The boys had asked the school board for a longer vacation. This request was refused. They then decided to burn the school house. Later they conceived the idea of blowing it up, as they did, on the night before the opening of the school term. They got dynamite in a quarry close by and waited until it there was no one about, to explode it.

The explosion shook the little settlement of Prospect Hill. Volunteer firemen formed a bucket brigade to extinguish the flames which followed the explosion.

The boys make no denial of their guilt. They say that if the month of September had been added to their vacation they would have been satisfied.

The Board of Education is in a quandary as to what to do with the youngsters. All of them are attending school on the temporary quarters much to their chagrin.

Laid to Rest This Morning

Funeral of the Late Miss McCabe Will Be Held This Morning.

The funeral of the late Miss Kathleen McCabe, who passed away on Tuesday evening at the residence of her father Mr. John McCabe, 22 Gilmour street, will be held this morning at nine o'clock from the family residence, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The deceased young lady was sixteen years of age and had been ill for several years. She was the eldest of a family of eight, who, with her parents, are left to mourn her loss. They will have the sympathy of a large number of friends in their bereavement.

Mrs. Hanna Has Now Recovered

It will be remembered that at the second session of the coroner's jury investigating the cause of death of the late Mr. A. Randlett, who died after treatment (?) by a man, by the name of Todd, a professed "Christian Scientist," one of the jurymen insinuated that Todd had tried to attend a Mrs. Hanna, who had been taken to the hospital and had her life saved. This juryman has since, it is alleged, ascertained that his charge was inaccurate and that Todd had not attempted to get into the hospital as alleged by him. Mrs. Hanna has recovered.

She was finally coaxed away from her dangerous position and held till the asylum wardens came for her.

Canada's Wealth In Far North

United States Consul at Dawson Makes Interesting Report Upon the Fur Trade.

Washington, D.C., September 13.—Consul Gabriel Bie Ravendal, of Dawson City, furnishes an interesting report on the fur trade of Northern Canada. He believes there is no immediate danger of fur bearing animals being exterminated, and declares that there are vast unexplored regions in which fur bearing animals abound. He writes:

"Inasmuch as Northern Canada is frequently designated the last great fur preserve of the world, it is worth while to study the character of the supply in these parts, its permanency as well as the number and proportion of the skins obtained.

"Complete statistics are not available. However, some light is thrown upon the subject by a table purporting to show the annual sales of the Hudson Bay Company. Large quantities of furs reach the market through other channels. For more than two centuries the fur trade has been vigorous prosecuted in Northern Canada, and yet the supply, save in the case of two or three varieties of animals, shows no formidable signs of exhaustion.

"The buffalo, whose hide was once an important article in commerce has disappeared before the advance of civilization.

"The beaver can apparently only be saved from a similar fate by extraordinary measures of protection. So, too, the fur seal of the islands and waters of the Pacific. The sea otter and the silver fox have been rare for many years.

"Fur buyers seem to agree that fur bearing animals of the North, with the exception of those noted, are not playing out.

"Vasts extents of territory still almost approximately virgin and unexploited exist and the Indians are proving surprisingly careful in preserving game.

Object to Pigmy Appearing In Cage

New York, Sept. 13.—The Times says a committee of the colored Baptist ministers' conference still call on the mayor today on behalf of Ota Benga, the African pigmy, who is being exhibited with the monkeys at the Bronx Zoological Park. The ministers will ask the mayor to save the little African from what they term "The degrading exhibition" of a human being in a cage disporting himself with apes.

Many South Ward Lots are Sold

Messrs S. J. Murphy & Co., the enterprising Charlotte street real estate dealers and manufacturers' agents, yesterday showed a chart and other incidental documents showing that the firm has already this week sold eighteen lots on Princess street for building purposes. These lots are situated near the new South Ward school, and this sale demonstrates conclusively that there is a strong and seemingly well assured "boom," in property in this section of the city. A majority of the eighteen lots sold, as above, will be built on this fall and residences will be erected upon the balance of them ere "The Robin's Nest again."

Mr. Geo. Collen Has Arrived

Mr. George Collen, late of London, England, who has joined the teaching staff of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, has arrived in the city. Mr. Collen has studied with eminent teachers in France, Germany and Italy, and will be a decided acquisition to the already most efficient teaching staff of the Conservatory. Peterborough's Conservatory of Music is now most complete in every detail and possesses facilities for imparting high class musical tuition that are absolutely unsurpassable in every respect.

One candidate was initiated and another proposed. After the usual business was transacted, a committee from Queen Alexandria invited the members of Court Stanley with their friends to a social to be held Sept. 19 in S.O.E. hall. RUSSIAN SOLDIERS ACT WITH GREAT BRUTALITY

Enraged at Continuance of Murder---Conditions are Becoming Unbearable---One of the Most Important Leaders Captured.

Warsaw, Sept. 13.—The soldiers on duty here, enraged at the continuance of murders by the terrorists, are acting with great brutality.

Governor-General Skallon is taking energetic steps to prevent an attack on the Jews, who are in a state of panic.

CONDITIONS BECOME WORSE.

Krasnoyarsk, Western Siberia, Sept. 13.—Conditions here are becoming unbearable. There is terrible corruption and depravity among those in authority, which make the people an easy prey of the agitators.

The peasantry are an ignorant lot easily amendable to good or bad influences, but all the advice which they get now is in the direction of lawlessness and crime.

Murders and robbery in the country and in the cities are daily, almost hourly occurrences.

The streets in Krasnoyarsk are unsafe after dark.

Meetings are held daily in the woods surrounding the city. The principal agitators are Jews, but they are too clever to be caught. The railway employes are revolutionary to a man, but remembering the awful repressions of General Meller-Zakomelsky, who cleared up the Siberian strike last fall with a ruthlessness that is almost incredible, they are afraid of the initiative.

SEDLCE IS QUIET.

Sedlce, Sept. 12.—The town is comparatively quiet today.

People are beginning to move about on the streets, and the shops are opening again, although occasional shots lead to temporary renewals of the alarm.

Some revolver shots fired from a garret yesterday morning drew a volley from troops below, but no casualties resulted.

About three hundred wounded persons have been cared for in the hospitals or attended by ambulance surgeons.

TERRORIST LEADER ARRESTED.

Moscow, Sept. 13.—Vladimir Mazury, the leader of the Moscow section of the "Flying Group," and his principal lieutenants have been captured after a running fight with agents of the secret police, in the course of which Mazury was wounded.

Mazury is a mere youth, and when he was caught he begged the officers to kill him immediately, recognizing that he would undoubtedly be executed.

He was the directing spirit in the bank robbery committed here last March by Helenzoff, and he is accused of the murder of Col. Von Losblinkoff, of the secret service, during the revolt of last December.

He is considered to be one of the most important leaders of the entire terrorist group.

CONDEMNED TO DEATH.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 13. — General Moeller-Zakomelsky, who suppressed the mutiny at Sevastopol, and later was General Rennenkamp's lieutenant in crushing the insurgents who controlled the trans-Siberian lines for months last winter, has been appointed commander of the Fifth Army Corps, the headquarters of which are at Warsaw.

It is a matter of current gossip that Governor-General Skallon's mind has been affected by the bomb outrages in Warsaw and the constant threats against his life.

Despatches report twelve condemnations to death on account of attacks on policemen and for highway robbery, eight in Moscow, two in Warsaw and two in Riga.

Bumper Crops In United States

Both Wheat and Oats Indicated Larger Than Ever Before.

New York, Sept. 13.—The Journal of Commerce says: The Department of Agriculture's September report on the cereal crops was a decided surprise, so far as corn was concerned. It indicated an improvement of 2.4 points on the September 1 average condition, comparing with August 1, and this improvement is gifured by the statistician of the New York Produce Exchange, Henry Heinzer, as the equivalent of 67,000,000 bushels. The indicated corn harvest is now 2,780,069,000 bushels, which compares with a 1905 yield of 2,707,993,540 bushels, and which has until now been the bumper crop of corn.

The condition of spring wheat, on the other hand, shows a decline of 3.5 points, or, according to the produce Exchange estimate, 12,000,000 bushels, but the indicated increase is still about 8,000,000 bushels ahead of 1905, and adding the indicated spring and winter yields this year, we have a total of 759,071,000 bushels, 16,000,000 above the combined 1905 wheat harvest and 11,000,000 bushels ahead of the heretofore record yield of 748,460,000 bushels in 1901. The minor are as a rule satisfactory.

Entombed in Tool Box.

London, Ont., Sept. 13. —William Mason, employed as watchman on paving work, sat down in the company's tool box, intending to doze only a short time, but fell into a sound sleep, and a policeman put sang by closing the box open, shutting down the lid, which fastened with a snap lock. Mason awoke, but could not get out, and it was four in the morning before his feeble cries for help were heard by two men, who broke open the box. Mason was much exhausted when released.

Mother and Daughter Charged With Murder

St. Thomas, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Louise Smith and her daughter Lizzie Smith were charged with murdering the latter's babe at the police court and inserting it in a stock box in a cinder heap.

The inquest opened yesterday before Coroner Luton. Mrs. James Sheldon, who, with her husband and five children, occupied two rooms with the Smiths in the Victoria block, said the child was born at three o'clock on Thursday, no physician being in attendance. The child was alive, and appeared to be lusty and healthy. Mrs. Smith was out when the child was born, and on her return immediately went out and secured two bottles of some liquid, which she fed the babe, and kept two quilts over its head. The babe died about 2.30. The babe was left lying on the floor till Friday morning, when Mrs. Smith put it in a peach basket, put a paper over it, and took it out and buried it in the ravine.

ADULTERATED MAPLE SYRUP

Only Small Proportion Passes Test for Purity Made at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—The Inland Revenue Department has issued two bulletins giving the results of the analysis of samples of maple sugar and maple syrups. Of 85 samples of syrups analyzed only eleven were genuine. Of the Montreal syrup samples, two were genuine, one doubtful, and nine adulterated. Only two maple sugar samples were analyzed, and both were genuine. Of ten samples of sugar and two of syrup secured in Toronto, none were genuine. The second bulletin gives particulars of the analysis of 171 samples of maple syrup and 52 of maple sugar; 67 syrups and eleven were found to be adulterated, which is equal to 39.7 per cent., as compared with 58.5 per cent. obtained in

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

THE SCOURGE OF CONSUMPTION

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired, Languid or Run Down Get Protection Before Too Late.

No child, man or woman is safe from consumption unless their blood is pure, rich and nourishing.

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develops.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrozone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manotick, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferrozone: "For two years I was ill, I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tiredness hung over me like a load of lead. Housework of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

IS THE PRIZE WORTH THE STAKE?

A few years ago Mr. Walter Wellman, of Chicago, undertook to show the world how easily the North Pole could be discovered, if you only sent the right man. He returned from the pole but with a heap of private knowledge of the difficulties. This year the same enterprising gentleman induced a paste its first page on the pole, as evidence of Yankee get-there grit, and to let the seals and bears know they can find a home and welcome whenever they honor Chicago's Zoo with a visit.

This time all the latest resources of science were to be employed. The balloon idea was probably regarded as new when Andree took it up and lost his life in the venture. Wellman adopted the old flying scheme originated by an Englishman, thinking to make it a novelty by employing the French flying machine and adding whatever American genius could suggest as improvements. It really seemed that at last science was going to achieve what perseverance and pluck have again and again attempted, with old time resources, without success. Wellman's contagious enthusiasm seemed to insure a triumph, and neither money nor pains were spared to make failure impossible.

And yet the balloon machine constructed by the first experts, and the complicated scheme devised by Wellman, advised by practical explorers, balloonists, geographers and meteorologists, have all gone wrong. We cannot be surprised at any breakdown in machinery or defects in schemes of any kind. What the public are entitled to complain of is the shortsightedness of persons in being too cocksure before they know the true quality of the materials and the real nature of their task. It is the old story of the king who marched his men to the top of the hill and then—when he realized what he had undertaken to do—marched them down again. Captain Nares came back with his report in one word—"impracticable." It is probable this will be the verdict in all future attempts.

If all dyspepsia sufferers knew what Dr. Shoop's Restorative would do for them, Dyspepsia would practically be a disease of the past. Dr. Shoop's Restorative reaches stomach troubles by its direct tonic action upon the inside nerves—the true stomach nerves. Stomach distress or weakness, fullness, bloating, belching, etc. Call for the Restorative. We recommend and sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, F. D. Tully.

Leaving Cuba.

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 12.—A Cuban censors' arrived here yesterday on his way to Washington, traveling incognito, on a government mission. Three hundred passengers also came on the same steamer fleeing from the troubles on the island. They report that the rebel army has now more than a thousand men armed and equipped. The situation, they report, is more gloomy than ever before, and the Cuban Government is powerless to help itself.

The New Law Regarding Weeds

Strong Steps Taken to Prevent the Spread of Noxious Weeds.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir—In view of the numerous enquiries which are being received by the Ontario Department of Agriculture respecting the Act "to Prevent the Spread of Noxious Weeds," I append herewith a synopsis of the act in order that its provisions may be more clearly understood, and should be glad if you will allow the same to appear in your columns.

Yours very truly,
NELSON MONTEITH,
Minister of Agriculture.

Toronto, September 5.

The Act to prevent the Spread of Noxious Weeds makes it incumbent on every land owner or occupant of land to cut down and destroy, when growing on his land, the following weeds: Canada thistle, ox-eye daisy, wild oats, burdock, as often as is necessary to prevent the ripening of their seed, provided that the destruction of growing grain crops is not involved thereby.

The operations of the Act may be further extended by by-law to any weed or weed and to any disease of grain or fruit trees (excepting Yellows and Black Knot in fruit trees).

In order that the provisions of the act may be properly enforced, it is provided that the council of any city, town, township or incorporated village may, and upon petition of fifty or more ratepayers shall, appoint at least one inspector for the purpose. The inspector is required to serve a notice in writing on the owner or occupant of any land within the municipality (or within his division of the municipality if there is more than one inspector appointed) where said noxious weeds are growing, requiring him to cause the same to be cut down or destroyed (unless the land be sown with grain), the cost of doing this work to be charged against the land with the other taxes imposed by the municipality.

Where such noxious weeds are growing upon non-resident lands (by which is meant "lands which are unoccupied and the owner of which is not resident within the municipality"), it is not necessary that the inspector should give any notice before proceeding to cut down or destroy the weeds.

In the event of the land being railway property, the notice shall be given to the station master of the company resident in or nearest the municipality.

The owner or occupier of land is also required to destroy, at the proper time to prevent the ripening of their seed all noxious weeds growing on any highway (not being a toll road) adjoining his land, from the boundary of such land to the centre of the road. It is the duty of the overseer or inspector of highways in the municipality to see that the act, as it relates to the keeping of highways clear of weeds, is properly enforced, and in case of neglect after notice has been given to the owner or occupier, the work may be performed by the municipality and the costs added to the taxes against the land. In the event of their being no overseer or inspector of highways the enforcement of the act in this regard falls upon the clerk of the municipality.

Every offence against the act is punishable by fine on summary conviction before any justice of the peace, the fine to be paid to the treasurer for the use of the municipality. Every inspector, overseer of highways or other officer who refuses or neglects to discharge the duties imposed upon him by this act is liable, upon conviction, to a fine of not less than $10.00 or more than $20.00.

SHE WAS VICTIMIZED.

London, Sept. 12.—At the Bow St. police station Lillian Brittle, charged with the unlawful possession of two 50-dollar notes stolen by W. J. Upton, was discharged on the suggestion of the prosecuting attorney, who stated that she had been victimized by the man.

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 11-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 2½ miles distant, 120 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. A NOVEL SOUTHWORTH

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"Nay, I do not even say that; but what I say is, that I shall place this beauty in his power, and give him the opportunity and the choice of playing the desperate lover or the magnanimous hero."

"Perilous! but what aid do you require from me personally?"

"Such aid only as shall make you 'personally' perfectly safe. You must engage six or eight of your most resolute companions. They must start for Windsor to-morrow morning, and go on until they reach Hounslow Heath. There at some convenient place, they must disguise and mask themselves, and lie in wait for the post chaise containing this girl and her servants, stop it, bind the servants, and carry off the girl. This must be effected without bloodshed, and with as little violence as possible."

"Difficult, my dear Mac! very difficult! But my own part seems to be very easy—only to send down these fellows, and, I suppose, be their paymaster."

"Nay, not quite so easy as that, either, William. You and I must go down to Hounslow Heath, a little farther on toward Windsor, say in that piece of wood half a mile from the 'Magpie,' and rescue this young lady from the ruffians."

"Rescue her? I don't understand! Why in the world should she be carried off if we are to rescue her?"

"Simply for that very purpose—that we may rescue her. This enamored nobleman of whom I speak is a man of the highest honor. He would never countenance violence. If your ruffians, for instance, after carrying off the beauty, were to carry her to him, she would be sent back in honor to her friends, and they would be transported for their pains. But if you and myself should be so fortunate as to rescue this beauty from the hands of the robbers, at a spot near the country house owned by this nobleman, and carry her to that house as a safe refuge for the night, there is no law of honor to prevent my lord from receiving her with the most exigent hospitality, and rewarding her gallant deliverers with princely munificence."

"With 'princely munificence!' I understand it all now, my dear Mac."

"Pray understand no more than is necessary to carry out our plans, which you see have only the least flavor of the spice of danger for your friends, and none at all for yourself. You have only to help me to rescue a young lady from the power of thieves, who will be instructed only to make a show of resistance. You will have all the glory and profit, and none of the danger."

"Humph! And this profit, dear Mac?"

"Five hundred pounds, when the lady is safe at Howlet Close, the country house of which I spoke."

"I am your man, dear Mac. And now, as it is dark enough without for me to emerge from my inner obscurity, I will go out and beat up the necessary recruits. You can find me in this room again to-morrow morning, dear Mac, for, like ghosts that visit the glimpses of the moon,' I have to get back into my grave, this house, as soon as it is light without. Ah, Mac! times have changed since you and I served together in the Forty-fifth. I have gone—down, down, down; you—up, up, up. I hide in the darkness of an old rookery; you bask in the sunshine of a court."

"It is your own fault, William. You have twice the genius I have, but you are too effeminate, too much afraid of labor, pain, and danger. What you would do must be done in profound secrecy, and is done with so much caution and hesitation as to defeat its purpose. If you had an enemy, William, that you were obliged to get rid of, you would not challenge him and run him through the body, as I should, because you would not like to see his blood flow, and would very much dislike to have your own spilled. No, you would get rid of your enemy by administering to him some slow, sweet poison, that should bring on a gentle decline, and easy, painless death. Nay, I could even imagine you sitting by the bed, smoothing the pillows, and soothing the last hours of that enemy whom you had so gently conducted to death—you are so benevolent as well as so effeminate."

The fair-haired man smiled softly and brightly, murmuring:

"You were always a flatterer, dear Mac, even before you dreamed of becoming a courtier."

They shook hands and parted.

"A desperate crisis when a man feels himself driven to an act for which he does not know whether he shall be rewarded or reviled," murmured the personage called Mac, as he descended the stairs.

* * * * * *

That same evening the Duchess of Beresleigh and family were due at Lester House, where Lady Lester received her "dear five hundred friends." They went early, intending to return early. And, again, the two young women—the antipodes of the social world—met, to be the rival stars of the assembly—Rosamond, Lady Etheridge of Swinburne, a snow-white, golden-haired, blue-eyed and rosy-lipped beauty; and Laura Elmer, the governess, a tall, dark, brilliant brunette and genius—the poetess of the day.

The humble position of Miss Elmer was not known or suspected beyond the families of Beresleigh and Lester.

Lady Lester, as I said, patronized Miss Elmer as the influential friend of the Baroness of Etheridge, and society accepted Miss Elmer at the hands of Lady Lester.

That evening, as usual, the Duke of Beresleigh avoided Lady Etheridge, leaving her to be attended and followed by a troop of lovers, while he himself divided his attentions impartially among the ladies of his acquaintance present.

Rose was principally surrounded by aspiring bachelors and widowers and their anxious mothers and sisters; and Laura by old litterateurs, who were, with an odd mixture of curiosity, jealousy and admiration, welcoming a newcomer into their Olympian sphere, and by others who, without having any literary jealousy or matrimonial designs, simply delighted in the conversation of a brilliant woman, or were proud of a poetical celebrity.

Sir Vincent Lester was present, but looking so ill and so preoccupied as to draw upon himself the notice and the softly-murmured criticisms of many present, until at length Lady Lester, observing these things, went and whispered to him her advice that he should plead indisposition, and retire. And Sir Vincent, glad to escape, immediately followed her counsel.

Lady Lester, in watching the movements of Sir Vincent for the last few days, was in serious anxiety for his health and reason; and could find but one solution for the problem.

"He is in love with Miss Elmer. These dark-haired people are very uncertain, impulsive and unreasonable, and difficult to be restrained by church or state; I am sure, of the two evils, I would rather the girl should encourage him a little than that he should be looking and acting so strangely as to draw upon himself the animadversions of all our friends," she thought.

While Lady Lester was thus seeking and not finding out the true explanation of the baronet's uneasiness, her son Ruthven Lester, by patience and perseverance, in watching and availing himself of the first opportunity had succeeded in detaching Lady Etheridge from all others, and leading her into the recess of a bay window, where, with the confidence of a young man, on admirable terms with himself, he declared his passion, and made a formal offer of his hand.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 2,000 feet square and all bond veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN DEVELOPMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Silverplume mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $35,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

Are You Often Bilious?

Read This and Learn How To Prevent Attacks.

Biliousness is merely a term applied to a condition that exists when the body is over-loaded with bile.

The complexion turns yellow, eyes look dull, pimples, itching and eczema break out, headaches are ever present. Biliousness has two great causes, constipation and defective liver action.

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are taken they not only correct the bowels, but act directly on the liver, regulating its bile secretion.

Unlike ordinary medicines, which purge and give temporary relief, Dr. Hamilton's Pills remove the condition which causes biliousness; thus permanent cures are effected.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills do cure biliousness and liver ills under all circumstances.

We prove this by the statement of Mr. Fenwick Luddington, of New Harbor, N.S., who writes: "Three months ago I had no expectation of ever getting free from periodical bilious attacks. They were preceded by dizziness and dreadful headaches. If I stooped over my head would swim and a nauseous feeling crept into my stomach.

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills fixed up my liver, drove all the bile out of my blood and made me a well man in a few months. Today I enjoy a good appetite, excellent digestion, and the best of good health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills did it all."

Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today. Sold by all dealers; 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Havelock to Have a Park.

The village of Havelock council have decided to draft a bylaw authorizing the issue of $2,400 for the purchase of suitable property for a public park. The Havelock Taxation rate is now 26 mills on the dollar, on an assessment of $195,000. While it is thought the park property purchase bylaw will carry, there is some opposition to the scheme.

St. John's Harvest Festival.

The annual Harvest Festival in connection with St. John's church will be held this coming 3rd 8 o'clock. The choir has prepared appropriate music for this thanksgiving event, and the preacher will be Rev. Canon Baldwin, of St. Luke's church, Toronto, an exceedingly gifted speaker. The church is being beautifully decorated with the fruit of the earth.

Wild Rice Crop is Small.

Owing to high water during the past summer the wild rice crop on Rice Lake this year will be far below the average, in fact only amounting, it is estimated to about one-tenth of the normal crop. The Indians are now at work gathering this harvest, which is mainly gathered by Indians paddling a canoe through the dense sub-aqueous fields of grain and beating the rice, with their paddle blades into the canoe.

Local Men on a Fishing Trip.

Mr. M. C. Tooley and C. H. Clement drove down to Campbellcroft late last night to join Messrs. Robt. Adams, W. Ray, Robt. Ray and John Doris, who have been on a two weeks fishing trip there. The party will all return this evening. It is now up to these friends to get their fans out and keep the breeze going as the fish stories fly.

SENSIBLE REVIVAL

Doctrine That is Being Preached by Best People of Peterborough.

There are all kinds of revivals, religious moral, and temperance, but today the chief interest seems to be in a revival for good health, and it seems to be the Mi-o-na doctrine that has the most adherents in Peterborough. Wipe out indigestion and stomach troubles by using Mi-o-na tablets and most of the misery and ill health would be blotted out of existence.

Indigestion and stomach weakness cause headache, back ache, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness, pains in the side and limbs, poor appetite and a general unhealthy state. Take one little Mi-o-na tablet before each meal for a few days and you will soon find that life is filled with joy and health, that eating is a pleasure and food does not cause distress, and that your digestive organs have become so strengthened that you can almost be credited with the digestion of an ostrich.

A large box of Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold for 50c, and is successful and reliable in curing indigestion and all stomach troubles, with the exception of cancer of the stomach.

For Sale by all dealers. The R. T. Booth Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

Are You Tired, Nervous and Sleepless?

Nervousness and sleeplessness are usually due to the fact that the nerves are not fed on properly nourishing blood; they are starved nerves. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes pure, rich blood, and thereby the nerves are properly nourished and all the organs of the body are run as smoothly as machinery which runs in oil. In this way you feel clean, strong and strenuous—you are toned up and invigorated, and you are good for a whole lot of physical or mental work. Best of all, the strength and increase in vitality and health are lasting.

The trouble with most tonics and medicines which have a large, booming sale for a short time, is that they are largely composed of alcohol holding the drugs in solution. This alcohol shrinks up the red blood corpuscles, and in the long run greatly injures the system. One may feel exhilarated and better for the time being, yet in the end weakened and with vitality decreased. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery contains no alcohol. Every bottle of it bears upon its wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in a full list of all its several ingredients. For the druggist to offer you something he claims is "just as good" is to insult your intelligence.

Every ingredient entering into the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" has the unanimous approval and endorsement of the leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice. No other medicine sold through druggists for like purposes has any such endorsement.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only produces all the good effects to be obtained from the use of Golden Seal root, in all stomach, liver and bowel troubles, as in dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments, but the Golden Seal root used in its compounding is greatly enhanced in its curative action by other ingredients such as Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure triple-refined glycerine.

"The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. For 50 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A By-law to Aid the Peterborough Steel Rolling Mills Company, Limited.

Passed the day of 1906

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH BY THE COUNCIL THEREOF THEREFORE ENACTS AS FOLLOWS:—

1. This By-law shall take effect on the final passing thereof.

2. It shall and may be lawful for the Corporation of the City of Peterborough to borrow a sum not exceeding the sum of Six thousand dollars and to issue the debentures of the Corporation for the same, such debentures to be sealed with the Corporate Seal of the said City of Peterborough and signed by the Mayor and Treasurer and countersigned by the Secretary of the Commissioners of the Peterborough City Trust, and to be payable within twenty years after the issue thereof and to bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, payable half-yearly on the thirtieth day of June and thirty-first day of December in each year, and to have coupons attached thereto for the payment of such interest; such debentures as to principal and interest to be payable at the office of the Secretary of the Commissioners of the Peterborough City Trust in the City of Peterborough.

4. The proceeds of the debentures to be issued under and pursuant to this By-law when sold shall be given to the Peterborough Steel Rolling Mills Company (Limited) to aid the said Company in the promotion of the said manufacturing establishment by the payment of or on account of the purchase money of land within or adjacent to the limits of the Municipality of the City of Peterborough for the location of the said industry and to procure a railway siding thereto if necessary upon and only upon and subject to the terms and conditions hereinafter mentioned, and until the said conditions shall have been fully performed and satisfied, the said Company shall not be entitled to the said money or any part thereof or to any interest in or right to the same.

The conditions upon which the said grant shall be made are as follows:—

1. That the said Company shall obtain a good title in fee simple to suitable and sufficient land for the purpose of its manufacturing establishment within or adjacent to the limits of the City of Peterborough and shall, if the purchase price thereof should exceed the said sum of Six thousand dollars, make up the balance of such purchase price over Six thousand dollars.

2. That the said Company shall on or before the first day of April, 1906, erect, complete and equip with proper and sufficient plant and machinery on the said land so purchased substantial buildings suitable for its purposes which with the said buildings shall cost not less than $35,000.00 and shall on or before the said date have the said manufacturing establishment in running order and actual operation and employ therein at least fifty hands.

3. That the said Company shall execute an instrument, in form approved of by the City Solicitor, which may be registered against the said land providing that the said land shall be held by the said Company subject to the condition that in the event of the same within the period of ten years from the date of the payment over to the said Company of the amount paid to it under the terms of this By-law ceasing to be bona fide used as a Rolling Mill or Iron Works substantially in accordance with the capacity thereof for the period of twelve consecutive months, or ceasing to employ in said business at least an average of fifty hands for at least ten months in any year, that the said land and the buildings and machinery thereon shall become the absolute property of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough and free from any claim thereto or therein of the said Company or its assigns unless the said Company or its assigns shall within six months after such period of twelve months for which the said land shall have ceased to be used as aforesaid, pay the Corporation of the City of Peterborough the full sum paid by the said Corporation for or towards the purchase of the same and for the railway siding under the terms of this By-law.

PROVIDED ALWAYS that if the failure to so use the said land is due to strikes or to the destruction of the buildings or machinery by fire or tempest, the time during which the said land shall so cease to be used in consequence of such strikes or destruction of the buildings or machinery (not exceeding in either case one year) shall not be counted in the said period of twelve months which entitles the Corporation to the ownership of said land or to be paid the sum aforesaid.

5. The said Company shall prior to the first day of March in each year file with the City Clerk a Statutory Declaration made by an officer of the Company who shall therein state his knowledge of the facts, proving that the Company has complied with and is observing all the terms, conditions and provisions of this By-law and those contained in the said instrument, and on the neglect of the said Company to furnish such declaration it shall be prima facie that such terms, conditions and provisions have not been performed, observed and kept.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL XXXIV. NO. 217 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1906. PRICE TWO CENTS

NEW CANADIAN PACIFIC GRAIN ROUTE TO SEA

Will Not Touch Peterborough, but Will Cross River at Nassau.

COMPANY TO SPEND FIVE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS

New Line Will Join C.P.R. at or Near Havelock ---A First-class Road to be Built.

Some few months ago The Times had a call from Mr. J. W. Leonard, Assistant General Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who informed us that the company's engineers were having difficulty in locating the proposed new grain route so as to touch at Peterborough. He though the grade west of the city would be too steep to be undertaken, and would necessitate crossing the river at Nassau, three miles to the north of the city. Mr. Leonard, however, stated that another effort was then being made to secure a route through the city, but he did not believe it would be successful. It now appears he was correct in his opinion. TThe Toronto News interviewed Mr. Leonard and in its report says;

"That Mr. J. W. Leonard, superintendent of the construction department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is having a busy time of it in providing for new lines in Ontario, is evident from his statements in an interview with the News reporter.

"The new C.P.R. line from Victoria Harbor, which was intended to go to Peterborough,' said Mr. Leonard, 'will probably not touch that town, but pass a few miles north and strike the main line between there and Havelock. We find that by making this change we can shorten the road and get better grades. That is the reason the tenders which were all in on July 7 have not yet been decided upon. The surveys for the altered route will be through in about ten days, and then we can go ahead.

"The maximum grade will be 3-10 per cent., which means that one of our 180 per cent. freight engines will haul 2,600 tons. The same engine on the present road from here to Havelock can haul only 1,100 tons.

"This line, when completed, will be the best grain road leading from the lakes. It will cost $5,000,000, including the terminals and elevators, which will form a large part of the expense.

"The western part of the road will require a lot of heavy work, and will be proceeded with all winter."

St. John's Church Harvest Festival

The Sacred Building Beautifully Decorated - Special Music and Sermon.

The Harvest Festival at St. John's church last night was fairly well attended. The church had been beautifully and profusely decorated with grain, fruit and flowers, emblematical of the bountiful harvest with which the country has once more been blessed. This was the work of the ladies of the congregation, who are to be congratulated on the splendid results of their zealous and commendable work.

The music was of a specially pleasing and joyous character, and the offertory anthem, "Hear Us, O Lord," Barnby, was very effectively rendered, a really excellent feature of which was a duet in canon between treble and tenor.

Rev. Canon Davidson was assisted in the service by Rev. L. A. Langfeld, and Rev. Canon Baldwin of All Saints' church, Toronto, delivered a very appropriate sermon.

The pleasure of a truly beautiful service was considerably marred by the electric lights going out shortly after service commenced, and connection could not again be secured during the rest of the evening.

This festival service will be repeated on Sunday evening, and the decorations will not be removed until after that event.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—Now that the Toronto World and Mr Teddy Roosevelt are reforming our spelling, it is time the rest of us who pose as up-to-date men and new women, did out little best to help reformation generally along. I wish to endorse, now that spelling which used to be considered correct and English grammar, which in the past was thought classical, is now known to be effete in this up-to-date generation, this saying, which as I am really a twentieth century personage I spell as it should be spelt. (I leave the gentle reader to decide whether I am an up-to-date man or a new woman.) I think this saying referred to both references to we, he and company who are doing their best for modern English spelling. The saying which I wish to draw the attention of the public as a mode which they might well follow is, "I are shore youse is right."

On the eve of his wedding to Miss Nettie Reed, about forty friends of Mr. Jos. J. Roller Skating Rink Is Now Assured

The Old Time Sport to be Again Revived in Peterborough.

Our enterprising fellow citizen, Mr. S. J. Sheridan, in company with a couple of Toronto gentlemen, have secured a lease of the Charlotte St. rink, which he will turn into a roller skating rink at once, and will operate it as such until the curling season opens, when the rink will be given up to the disciples of the roaring game until spring, when roller skating will be resumed.

Although the lease is not yet signed, we understand that all details have been completed.

This will be welcome news to many who are fond of this very excellent and health-giving pastime.

THE PRICE OF COAL

Another Advance of 25c. Per Ton Being Contemplated.

It is probable that within the next few weeks there will be another advance of at least 25 cents a ton in the price of coal. It is claimed that this has been made necessary by the action of the operators who during the months of April and May last, during the suspension of work by the miners, pending a settlement of the wages question, refused to sell or allow any coal to go out. In spite of that, however, the operators adhered rigidly to their rule of advancing the price 10 cents per month on each ton to the dealers, and the result was that the dealers, unable to buy early in the year, were compelled to pay 20 cents per ton extra on their year's supply.

Speaking on the matter yesterday a prominent dealer quoted to The Times that the selling margin was now too small to maintain the present prices, and that in view of the [illegible] yesterday [illegible] to buy, [illegible] there would have to be an advance in the selling price.

KILLS CATARRHAL GERMS

Hyomei's Healing Air Reaches Every Part of Nose, Throat and Lungs.

Hyomei is the only scientific and thorough way to cure catarrh. Stomach dosing does not reach the catarrhal germs in the air passages and cannot possibly drive them from the system. By breathing air medicated with Hyomei the germs in the nose, throat and lungs are killed and all traces of catarrhal poison are effectually driven out.

Some people may think that Hyomei is simply for catarrh of the head and throat, but it is equally effective in catarrh of the stomach, liver or kidneys. The catarrhal germs are in the mucous membrane and Hyomei not only kills the germs in the air passages, but enters the blood with the oxygen, thus killing the germs in the blood and freeing the whole system from catarrh.

Hyomei is sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money unless it cures. A complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles 50c.

C. P. R.'s New Line.

The Canadian Pacific Railway's new road from Montreal to Toronto will leave the present line at a point near Kemptville Junction, run to Brockville and from there follow the St. Lawrence River and north shore of Lake Ontario to Toronto. It will pass through all the towns on the route instead of running along the water about a mile or a mile and a half from the towns. The 3-10 grade will be the maximum, and we hope to have a good fast service. It will be six or eight months before the surveys of the new Montreal-Toronto road are completed and tenders can be called for.

Destroyed Their Nets.

St. John's, Nfld., September 11.—The French shore question has been revived under a new aspect. A French vessel fishing within territorial waters on the northeast coast, having complained that people on the coast destroyed their nets, British and French warships investigated, and the Imperial Government invited the Colony also to investigate and punish its subjects if found to be in the wrong.

The colonial cruiser Fiona, with officials, has been dispatched to the scene to hold a full inquiry. The incident is likely to lead to the adoption of Anglo-French regulations for conducting fisheries on the French shore.

Mr. Tippett, a student pastor, who has been supplying at Coldspring's Congregational Church this summer, he went to Rice Lake on Monday, spent the night with a friend, and in the morning went out in a canoe to fish. They had succeeded in hooking a large lunge, and in trying to land it the canoe was upset. Mr. Tippett could swim, but Mr. Ash could not. The former, it is stated, caught deceased, and after he lost consciousness got him moored to the upturned canoe. Mr. Wm. Burnett, merchant, of Cobourg, who was out in a boat, heard the clergyman's call for help, and went to his assistance, but it was soon discovered that in Mr. Ash's case life was extinct. Deceased was a most highly respected citizen and an ardent supporter of the Liberal party. He leaves a widow and family. An Indian Girl's Sentence Commuted

Washington, Sept. 14. — President Roosevelt has commuted the sentence imposed upon Lizzie Cardish, a fifteen-year-old Menominee Indian girl, from life imprisonment in the Fort Leavenworth Prison to confinement in a reformatory until she reaches the age of 21.

The Indian maiden was convicted of arson in the Federal Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin, which imposed the sentence of life imprisonment.

Her crime consisted in setting fire to the Indian school building on the Menominee reservation in Wisconsin. The aboriginal mind of Miss Cardish conceived the idea that by burning the school building she might escape attending school.

The case presented so many features of human interest that it appealed to the President.

Lively Fight With Cuban Insurgents

Havana, Sept. 13.—Col. Avalo's report of the capture of Consolacion del Sur, Sept. 9, which was effected in conjunction with the movement of an armored train, was received last night by General Rodrigues, commander of the rural guards. It is the first recital of one of the liveliest fights of the present war.

Colonel Avalos, with 450 cavalry and infantry, approached the town at eight o'clock Sunday morning. The cavalry advanced, first the infantry entering the town from both sides, and steadily driving back the insurgents, whose force is estimated at 1,500.

The insurgents were entrenched in the quarters of the rural guards, and occupied positions in the church and city hall and behind pillars and porches. The insurgents were slowly dislodged.

Colonel Avalos says that the triumph of the Government forces was due partly to the disorganized condition of the insurgents.

Seventy wounded and nine bodies were found after the fight. Two lieutenants and four rural guards were wounded.

The Government forces captured 150 horses and many accoutrements.

WATCH AMERICAN INTERESTS.

Washington, Sept. 13.—With a view to caring for American interests in any emergency that may arise in connection with the Cuban revolution, several United States cruisers have been despatched to those waters.

No Churches Will Be Closed

Paris Sept. 13.—There was an animated discussion in the course of the Cabinet meeting held at Rambouillet yesterday relative to the application of the Separation Law.

The result was that the Minister decided to enforce the enactment in its entirety with resolution and firmness, but, at the same time, to pay the greatest degree of respect possible to the conscience of the people.

No church will be closed before December, 1907.

The Government can issue a decree of closing only in cases where worship has not been exercised during a twelve-month preceding the enactment, or where no worship association has been formed.

It was the general sentiment of the members of the Cabinet that a great change in public feeling would occur before such sections became necessary.

Then decree opposition will subside, thus obviating the dangers of a religious conflict.

VODKA DRINKING GROWS

Reports Show Heavy Increase in Receipts of Government Over Last Year.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.—The growing indulgence in spirits by the Russian peasant, despite the present famine and distress, is shown by a report of the Ministry of Finance on the receipts from the vodka monopoly, which for the last seven month was $183,750,000, an increase of $25,750,000 over the corresponding period in 1905.

[illegible] important factor in the financial condition of the Government, as the receipts are $10,000,000 greater than was estimated in the budget estimates.

A number of Provincial Governors have issued proclamations regarding peasants concerning the use of spirits, and warning them that excuses for the non-payment of taxes will not be acceptable in view of this condition.

GREAT SOURCE OF POWER

Prospects are That Georgian Bay Canal Will Become Live Issue at Next Session of Parliament.

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—It is expected that some announcement of policy by the Government as to the construction of the Ottawa and Georgian Bay Canal will be made during the coming session.

The feasibility of a hydro-electrical development of 1,250,000 horse-power on the Ottawa River, it is now said, will be demonstrated when the report of surveys made during the past two seasons, in order to arrive at an estimate of the cost of building the canal in question, is presented to Parliament.

As a great carrying route, with a depth of 20 feet in its channel and a depth of 25 feet on the mitresills of its locks, competent engineers say the canal would be unrivalled in North America, and grain from Duluth could be transported to Montreal in the largest carriers within four and one-half or five days.

Fire Burned Thirty-Seven Years

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 13.—The fire in Anchor Colliery of the Reading Company, which started thirty-seven years ago, is still burning as fiercely as ever.

When the fire got beyond control of the fire-fighters the mine was closed and filled with water. It has been filled since that time.

Recently it was decided to pump out the water in the hope that the fire had been extinguished, but yesterday when much of the water had been taken out it was found that it was still burning.

A Serious Situation.

The Ottawa normal school has opened with 110 students enrolled, not one of them of the male persuasion. In London out of 80 there are 12 men. What Peterborough will do when the new school is up and running remains to be seen. I begins to look as if something more would have to be done by the Government if we are to keep the men in educational work. The situation is a serious one—much more so than would appear at first glance.

THE USE OF ENGLISH IS HOPE OF THE WEST

Goldwin Smith Says it Alone Can Wield the Polyglot Population---The Irish Catholics Not British.

London, Sept. 14.—Goldwin Smith, interviewed for the Canadian by Rolph Kingsmill, and replying to a remark in an interview that Goldwin Smith had been charged with being an anti-imperialist said;

"What is Imperialism? The only Imperialism I can understand is the Imperialism of Rome or Spain at the height of her golden days, as really an all-potent world power, an imperialism with supreme omnipotent control, centralized and applied to the governance of the whole Empire. I do not think that is quite what Imperialism today desire, but it is my conception of genuine Imperialism."

As to Carnegie's plan of "race compact" Dr. Smith is at a loss to understand what is meant.

"I fail to understand how any scheme for British or Anglo-Saxon organic union can be made to work."

Referring to the Canadian West, Dr. Smith said;

"It is well the school system is the English. By the unity of language the polyglot population of the great West can be welded if any educative influence can wield it. In Canada the purely British people are now in the minority. The vast French population, added to by tens of thousands of representatives from a score of foreign nations, greatly outnumbered the British.

"Of course, I do not class as British Irish Roman Catholics and their descendants. It is a fact undeniable that the Irish Roman Catholics are not British either in blood, habit, or political aspirations. But the great matter in the West will be English-speaking, and an English-speaking West will always prosper."

Referring to the hope of Archbishop Teche, that the rich land beyond the great lakes would be French Canadian in population, Dr. Smith said the day was long gone past when there existed any prospect of that hope's gratification. French-Canadians have their enclave in Quebec. They seem satisfied with it, and their leaders are able and earnest.

Dr. Smith's information was not sufficiently complete to permit his giving an opinion on the question of Imperial trade, but he believed the reciprocity movement was making some progress.

Threatened Wife With Revolver

Mrs. Maynard Says Husband Also Flourished a Razor.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—A story of domestic unhappiness culminating in the wife going back to her former home, the husband seeking her there and shooting his father-in-law was told in the General Session before Judge Winchester yesterday. This was the first case to be tried, and in it William Maynard, of Scarboro township, was charged with shooting his father-in-law, Charles Sheard, with intent to do bodily harm. The shooting took place on May 26th and Maynard swears that he lost his head, but that he shot at a horse which was standing near, and which he feared was to be hitched to the buggy to take his wife away. He stated that he did not hold any hard feelings towards his father-in-law.

BULLET STILL THERE.

The plaintiff end of telling the defendant on May 26th last that the latter's wife was half-starved, and [illegible] he was no good. The bullet, we now said, was still in his left shoulder. It is of .32 calibre.

The defendant's wife stated that their two years of married life had been unhappy, the relations had at times reached to quarrels, and that her husband had struck her by many times, had held a revolver to her face and threatened her with a razor.

The defendant testified that he had found almost everything taken out of his house soon before the affair happened. He stated that about two weeks before the shooting his wife had wounded him in the hand with a butcher knife. He asserted that while in jail he had written 20 letters to his wife without getting one answer, and that he still loved her.

The medical testimony was that the bullet could now be removed with five minutes' work, it having worked out of the bone in which it lodged.

The address to the jury was given at two o'clock.

Leprosy Hereditary, not Contagious.

Washington, Sept. 14.—After displaying rare heroism by the devotion of a lifetime to a study of leprosy, Eugene H. Plumacher, American Consul at Maracaibo, Venezuela, has decided that the dreaded malady is not contagious, but is hereditary to a degree not reached in any other disease. He has made an exhaustive report to the State Department, telling of his personal attendance upon lepers afflicted in the most revolting form. His report indicates that leprosy is curable, but that there is little hope in Venezuela or other Latin-American leper colonies, where nutritious foods and expensive drugs rarely are provided.

Millionaire Has Lost His Reason

Henry K. Wampole Worried Too Much Over the Defalcations of W. H. Brick of Perth.

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—Henry K. Wampole, the millionaire chemical manufacturer, while being taken from here to a sanitarium in New York yesterday, escaped from his nurse at Jersey City. While it is believed he has made his way to his home in Merion, near here, the family and physicians refuse to give out any information.

Mr. Wampole's condition is said to have been brought about through worry over the disappearance of the manager of the Perth, Ont. branch of the chemical works, who is alleged to have absconded with $40,000 of the firm's money. The mental worriment of Mr. Wampole became so great that it made a nervous wreck of him. The belief that his partners in the business would think him careless in the management of the firm's affairs caused Mr. Wampole's nervousness, and his relatives concluded that a long rest would be beneficial. It is reported that W. H. Brick, the defaulter, is in Japan.

Bench Warrant for This Woman.

Toronto, Sept. 14.—The General Sessions came to a standstill yesterday morning for two hours Mr. Robinette could not go on with the Dobson case still going, and it was decided to proceed with the case of Agnes Scott, charged with malicious injury to property, in she did not put in an appearance at all. Judge Winchester threatened to issue a bench warrant for her, but a constable was despatched to bring her from 34 Arthur street, where she lives. He got back about noon, and reported Mrs. Scott's former residence empty. Enquiries from neighbors were to the effect that the Scott family had left last week, leaving no address. The constable found from an expressman, however, that they had gone to a little cottage on Claremont street, where two men had gone the furniture over a fence, and so into the house. The constable knocked at the door, but no one came.

Stabbed in the Back.

Orillia, Sept. 14.—Newton Kirkland, a respectable laboring man, was stabbed in the back Tuesday night by Joseph Kean, a railway contractor employe, recently out from Ireland, and may die from the effects of the wound, the knife having penetrated his left lung.

Charles Quinlan, of Toronto, a companion of Kean's, both of whom were the worse for liquor, endeavored to quarrel with Kirkland, and slapped him in the face. Kirkland entered the Queen's Hotel, whither he was followed by his assailants. Kean drawing a jackknife and stabbing him in the back. Both men were arrested, and yesterday morning committed for trial on a charge of attempted murder.

A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. WARLIKE GERMANY

Germany isn't going to be caught napping. She has a fine army, a navy only second to that of Great Britain, and now she is meditating a large scheme of new coast defences. The development of the naval fortifications along the coasts of the North Sea and the Baltic is advocated in various quarters. There is said to be official anxiety for the naval port of Wilhelmshaven, which, in the event of a blockade at the mouth of the Elbe, would run the risk of being completely isolated. The idea of constructing a coastal canal to connect the Jade, Elbe and Ems has been revived. In view, however, of the financial and other difficulties which the scheme presents, the fortification of the mouth of the Jade is suggested as an alternative. Thus, one naval critic proposes that the island of Wangeroog, which lies nearly broadside of the mouth of the river, should be strongly fortified. The question of strengthening the defences of the Baltic ports is regarded as being of hardly less importance. The extent to which Kiel is vulnerable was demonstrated recently, when a combined attack by land and sea upon the fortified approaches to the harbor resulted in a victory for the invading fleet, which forced the channel past Fort Falkenstein and the lines at Friedrichsort. This incident has precipitated a warm public discussion between the advocates of an aggressive naval policy on the one side and the believers in a defensive policy on the other.

ELECTRIC VEGETABLES

We have seen what electricity has done, but we have only just begun to see what it can do. By spreading currents from an electrical machine over a plot of growing carrots Professor Lemstroem of Helsingfors, has increased the yield by 20 per cent. during the first year and 30 per cent. in succeeding years, as compared with similar plots not electrically treated. On small parcels of land experiments with potatoes, the currents being generated in the earth by means of copper and zinc plates sunk at intervals and connected by insulated wires above the growing vines, have recorded an increased yield of from 60 to 100 per cent. The large harvests of Spitsbergen and Finland—more bountiful than in districts lying much further south—have been attributed by many scientists to the electrical influence of the aurora borealis. These phenomena occasioned the artificial experiments of Prof. Lemstroem, which tend conclusively to show that the action of electricity is beneficial to growing and ripening vegetation.

What electrical stimulation will do to the generous earth remains to be seen. If it won't hurt it farming is soon going to be much different than it has been.

Detectives Capture a Much Wanted Man

London, Sept. 13.—Although the American police worked secretly and the Fleet Indian, an expert international letter thief, had left New York and booked a passage for London, the English police didn't locate their man until after he made a haul, and even half the proceeds, and this is the case was in no danger of loss.

When Luchu reached London he went to the Langham Hotel, and walking down the corridor saw a chambermaid put the key of a room under the mat. He waited until she was out of sight, and then the usual procedure. The loot is variously reported, $15,000 being the most generous estimate. Luchu did not leave London for the highest grade, but he was not of wealth, and the New York police cabled the news to the Scotland Yard. The chief commanded a man with red hair and a clipped ear, but with the detectives were in the dark.

One day two of them were on the platform at Liverpool Street station, and expensive horseboat, on which were half a score of vivacious young men and women. They were having a merry time, and presently Luchu sang in" champagne. Everybody was welcome and so the detectives boarded, and had some. Curiously, some of the bottles left a bit of everything good that was going. They were having a lovely holiday, when suddenly one of the detectives remembered that a man with red hair and a clipped ear was wanted. Their host bit to be these. So they got acquainted a little better and found out his name was Fred Luchu, and that he was an American doctor with money "to burn." The detectives communicated with Scotland Yard, and were told to bring the man in on suspicion.

FATE PLAYS CRUEL TRICK

Paris Couple Lose a Fortune by a Series of Accidents.

Paris, Sept. 13.—Mme. Poudet was 76 and very wealthy. Her dearest friends were a couple named Mirard who kept a little shop in Palais-Royal. Mme. Poudet had no children relatives and often told the Mirards that she would leave her fortune to them.

Last week they received a letter from her saying that she was not feeling so well and desired their presence next day as she was going to make a will in their favor and wanted them to hear it. The Mirards closed their shop immediately and decided to hurry into Paris. A friend agreed to take them in. He had an automobile. But it was an ancient one, and in the first ten minutes broke down. The Mirards alighted and hurried to catch a bus, but all the seats were occupied. They then waited for a street car. After proceeding a short distance the car ran into a brewery wagon which broke down across the track.

The Mirards then hailed a taximeter cab and finally landed at Mme. Poudet's several hours late. They found the house in an uproar. A lawyer and his clerk had been in attendance to draw the will for two hours, but audience had insisted that they wait for the Mirards. Just before their arrival madame had been seized with an epileptic fit and the doctor was unable to bring her back to consciousness. Within half an hour Mme. Poudet was dead. The Mirards were in despair at the cruel fate which had robbed them of a fortune.

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 31-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 150 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. A NOVEL SOUTHWORTH

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

Lady Etheridge, inwardly amused at his self-conceit, thanked him for the honor he intended her, but begged leave to decline it. And when the young gentleman would have pressed his suit, she terminated the interview by rising and joining the company.

And soon after the Duchess of Beresleigh ordered her carriage, and they returned home.

* * * * * *

An engagement to a breakfast given by the Hon. Mrs. Hobart, at her villa, near Fulham, occupied the forenoon of the next day, so that it was between four and five o'clock that Lady Etheridge, accompanied only by her maid, entered her carriage to set out for Windsor. The ride that afternoon was through one of the most beautiful suburbs of the town, and up over the green meadows and shady groves bordering the river. It was quite dark when the carriage reached Hounslow, and stopped to water the horses at the hotel.

"We wish to reach Windsor in good time to-night. Are the roads safe?" asked the coachman.

"Ay, ay, the roads be well enough; but there hasn't been a traveling-carriage passed the heath for the last week that hasn't been stopped by footpads. And a passil o' very suspicious-looking characters went by here a couple of hours ago. You'd a deal better stop where you are for the night," answered the ostler, as he held a pail of water for the "nigh" horse to drink.

The latter part of this speech counteracted the former, for the coachman immediately came to the conclusion that there lurked an interested motive in this forewarning; so, instead of communicating it to Lady Etheridge, he replied:

"Oh, I think we will try to get on, at least as far as the 'Magpie,' where we can sleep if necessary." And gathering up his reins, he drove on.

They were soon out upon the open heath, where nothing could be more weird, dreary and desolate than the aspect of heaven and earth. The sky was overclouded, dark, and lowering—not a single star was visible. The heath was bare, lone, and shadowy, from the murky centre to the obscured horizon. The only sound was that of the solitary carriage, as it rolled along the night road. Yet no sense of fear troubled the heart of Lady Etheridge; she had heard none of the rumors of outlying footpads, and was ignorant of the warning given by the people at Hounslow. She was lying back among the cushions in that dreamy, luxurious state induced by being carried along with an easy, rapid motion through the darkness, when suddenly and silently the carriage was stopped and surrounded by dark, masked figures. Lady Etheridge, her heart paralyzed with extreme terror, sat transfixed and speechless, while her maid uttered scream after scream. At the same instant the coachman fired one shot from his double-barreled pistol, and was about to fire another when he was mastered and disarmed.

"Yield quietly, and no harm shall befall you!" said one of the assailants, as they threw down and gagged and bound the struggling man.

The door of the carriage was then opened, and the inmates summoned to come forth.

Lady Etheridge, controlling her excessive terror, drew off her diamond ring, took off her watch and chain, drew out her purse, and offering them all to the men, besought them to set her coachman at liberty, and let her proceed upon her journey.

But the loud screams of the maid drowned at once her proffer and their reply.

"Stop the mouth of that screeching vixen, and let us hear what the lady says," commanded a leader among the assailants, and in another instant the poor screaming maid was seized, gagged, bound, and laid by the side of the helpless coachman, with the taunting words:

"Mary loves company, my lass!"

Lady Etheridge was again summoned to come forth; but, controlling her agitation, she said:

"Listen to me! Here is all the money and jewelry that I have about me; take it all, free me servants, and let us pursue our journey."

"Yes, my lady, certainly, your ladyship," said the leader, pocketing the offered valuables, and gently, but forcibly, lifting Lady Etheridge from the carriage.

Resistance on her part was perfectly vain; expostulation was equally useless. Half fainting with terror, she was borne along and forced into another closed carriage, where she sank among the cushions, utterly overcome by terror. The carriage started, and she left herself borne swiftly onward through the darkness—whither, she dared not even guess—she felt herself in the power of unscrupulous ruffians, and she prayed for speedy death as for the least evil that could befall her. Intense terror takes no account of time. It seemed to her that she had been driven through the darkness for an eternity of anguish, when suddenly the gallop of horses was heard, a pistol was fired, torches blazed around the carriage, and a sonorous voice cried out:

"Stop, villains, on your lives!"

At the same moment the heads of the horses were seized, and the driver, as if struck with panic, sprang from the box and fled.

"This is deliverance! Oh, thank Heaven!" cried Lady Etheridge, nearly swooning under the strong reaction of feeling.

The carriage door was then opened, and a tall, dark, military-looking man, holding a torch in his hand, appeared, and, bowing respectfully, hoped that the young lady was quite uninjured.

"Oh, quite, I thank you," replied Rose, still too strongly agitated to require an explanation of this unexpected deliverance.

"The miscreants have fled, young lady—even the fellow that was upon the box; but if you will kindly tell us where you wish to be driven, I will gladly perform the duty of your coachman."

"We were on our way to Windsor when we were stopped," said Lady Etheridge.

"Windsor! you are entirely out of the road, madam. Windsor lies some fifteen miles off to the left, and the crossroads are difficult and dangerous traveling by night."

"Then where is the Magpie Inn, which my unfortunate servants thought we could reach by supper time?"

"The Magpie Inn, madam, is on the London and Windsor road, full twenty miles from this spot."

"Then I have been taken very far out of my way," said Lady Etheridge, in perplexity.

"Some eighteen miles, I should judge, madam."

"Indeed I do not know what to do," exclaimed Rose, in perplexity. Then, as a bright thought flashed through her brain, she said: "Yes, late as it is, I will request you to drive me directly to the nearest justice of peace, if you know of one in the neighborhood."

"Certainly, madam, under all the circumstances, the wisest plan. It is the very advice I should have offered had I dared to counsel," said the stranger.

"You know of one, then?" gladly inquired Rose.

"Yes, my lady; there is Squire Howlet, of Howlet's Close, about a mile from this spot; he is a very zealous magistrate, and will not mind being knocked up in the night to receive such important information as of this daring violence."

"I am the more anxious to see a magistrate as soon as possible, that I may send assistance to my unfortunate servants," said Lady Etheridge.

"And—pardon me, where were they left, madam?"

GAVE EMPLOYEES BEER

The Port Hope Brewing & Malting Co., Limited, appeared in the police court yesterday before Thos. Long, J.P., charged by the chief of police with being the holders of a wholesale liquor license and allowing liquor to be consumed on their premises contrary to section sixty-three of the Ontario Liquor License Act of 1897.

Only one witness, an employee named S. Grove, was called, and he admitted having consumed beer on the premises.

The magistrate imposed a fine against the company of twenty dollars and costs under the section quoted, and reminded the witness of his personal liability also of a fine under section fifty-nine of the Act.

The conviction is the first of its kind under the Act in Port Hope, and was a surprise to employees of the firm.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 2,000 feet square with over 1000 feet in backs in one direction.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore ($40 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.50 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,500 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $35,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,000 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hundreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

Proper Medicine For The Blood

Drives Away That Tired Feeling; Makes You Feel Brisk.

To every one is sure to come that tired, exhausted feeling.

When the blood is weak, thin and debilitated, circulation is slow, and in consequence the system is congested with poisons and wastes that should be driven off.

The sensible person acts on the teachings of experience and cleanses his system with a course of Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

No medicine can be more certain to quickly cure. Convenient to take, just one pill at bedtime; safe, because entirely vegetable; unfailing, because proved by thousands that Dr. Hamilton's Pills set you up in a few days.

From Chebogue, Pt., N.S., comes the following from Mrs W. A. Reynolds: "A year ago my health began to fail, I lost appetite, became nervous and sleepless. My weight ran down, I became thin, hollow-cheeked, and had black rings under my eyes. I really felt as if the charm of life had left me and when springtime arrived I was in the "blues." I read of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and got five boxes at once.

"Within a month my appetite and color were good. I gained strength and felt like a new woman. New life and vigor returned, and my friends scarcely knew me. A medicine that will do this should be in every home."

Good health means much to you. Success and happiness depend upon it. The maintenance and source of health is found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c per box, or five boxes for $1.00, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

The Lindsay show, which takes place on September 20, 21 and 22, is generally a corker. The directors of the fair work themselves instead of "working" the public. This g.f.j. will be there, sure.

Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all diseases should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yes criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weakness, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the poor, over-worked housewife can not get the needed rest from her many household cares and labor to enable her to secure from the use of his "Prescription" its full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which his treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to absain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking his "Favorite Prescription" they abstain from being very much, or for long periods on their feet. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

A Horse Stolen.

A man named Moore, who has been living in town for a year or more, doing little or nothing, hired a horse from the livery barns of Dr. McKercher on Monday last, and neither he nor the horse has been seen since. The police of the surrounding district have been notified.

The Victoria Museum.

Visitors to the city complain of lack of attention at the local museum. This should not be as the museum is a center of attraction for young and old alike. Dry rot overtakes all societies more or less unless they get a little newspaper criticism, and a little shaking-up occasionally. This g.f.j. will be glad to hear that the committees are working in harmony if not in unison, and that our forebodings are groundless.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL XXXIV, NO. 218 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1906. PRICE TWO CENTS

TRENT WATERWAY TO BE MADE 8 FEET DEEP

By the Spring of 1908 it May be Completed ---Hon. J. Israel Tarte to be Chairman of Harbor Board.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Authority will to be almost certain that the cutbe taken from Parliament at its spe lot will be at Trenton. A survey is proaching session for the immedia also being made of the Port Hope completion of the Trent waterway route, but the other seems to be afthrough. Lake Simcoe through to Georgian Bay, and it is hoped that by the proved. both as the natural line spring of 1908 an eight-foot waterphysically, and from the commerway will be available from Georgian cial point of view. Bay and the Upper Lakes down as far as Peterborough. This will involve an outlay of something like half a million dollars. There is already a water route open from Peterborough to Lake Simcoe, so what remains is the deepening of the Severn River at any points where there is less than eight feet of water. The lower end of the Trent waterway from Peterborough to Lake Ontario is still being surveyed, but it seems

Ottawa, Sept. 15.— Hon. Mr. Tarte's name is certainly one of those under consideration in connection with the chairmanship of the new Harbor Commission of Montreal, and although no appointments have yet been made to this body, there seems a strong probability that the ex-Minister of Public Works may be given the direction of the harbor works, under, of course, the supervision of the Federal Government.

What suggestions will be put forward at the conference is of course a matter of conjecture, but it would not be surprising if he federal ministers were to suggest that in return for increased subsidies, complete control of the fisheries should be handed over to the Dominion Government. It is a question which will have to be settled some day, as conditions will continue to be unsatisfactory as long as there is divided authority. The Dominion ministers will doubtless take advantage of its present opportunity to make a deal present opportunity to make an effort to make a deal with the provinces.

with the Dominion. Thus, in respect to the fisheries, there has since been a divided jurisdiction. Then the Maritime Provinces have always claimed a share of the $4,000,000, which Canada received from the United States by what is known as the Halifax award, when Canada and the United States decided that under the terms of the Washington treaty, that the Americans should have the freedom of Canadian waters in return for the access of Canadian fish to American markets, it was agreed that Canada was giving more than she was receiving. What compensation Canada was to receive was to be adjusted at a later date. This adjustment resulted in Canada receiving $1,000,886, and Newfoundland $1,500,000. No portion of the sum Canada received has ever been paid over to the provinces.

THE UNION JACK IN MANITOBA

Must Fly on Every School House in Province During School Hours

ROBLIN GAVE ADDRESS

Denies Rumor of a Fall Session of Parliament—General Elections Before Next Summer.

Winnipeg, Sept. 15.—From the first of January, 1907, on every school throughout the Province of Manitoba a Union Jack must fly. This was a recent decision of the Provincial Legislature, and to all appearances the move is meeting with general approval throughout the province. Premier Roblin, speaking to a crowded hall of young Conservatives, brought up the subject.

"The Provincial Government," he said, "has decided that after the first of January, 1907, every school of this province must have a Union Jack flying during school hours. The Government will provide the flag and it will be the duty of the trustees to replace any such flag that may have become useless. The rule of the department will be that any school teacher or board of trustees that neglects or refuses to float a Union Jack in school hours will forfeit their right to the people grant. I trust in making this move we will not be misunderstood. We welcome the various people that come to our province, who are born under foreign flags, who speak a different tongue, and we give them the benefit of our civil laws; endow them with civil rights, the benefit of our criminal law; the free education of the schools, all of which are the outcome of the civilizations and benefits that follow the Union Jack, and I think the man who comes from a foreign country in order to better his circumstances, and objects to perpetuating the glories of our flag, who declines to have his children infused with British patriotism, is a man that is undesirable."

Continuing, Mr. Roblin said to the young men:

"I presume you realize that the term you are beginning tonight is the most important in your history. Before you can adjourn for another summer holiday, general election must take place. The last general election saw Winnipeg with forty thousand people. Today Winnipeg has a population of 100,000. The rumor of a fall session and dissolution is nonsense. The fourth session of Parliament will not be called until the spring time. At that session we must have a redistribution of seats, after every census such a redistribution is demanded."

BABE IN BASKET LEFT AT DOOR OF LOCAL BARBER

The Father Supposed to Be a Local Barber's Assistant Who Skipped Town About Two Weeks Ago.

Yesterday evening about five o'clock, some excitement was caused on Simcoe street in the neighborhood of Haskill's barber shop, situated just to the east of Messrs. Ormond & Walsh's drug store.

P. C. Meharry, at the time the cause of this excitement was created was getting shaved in the above noted barber shop. As he came out he discovered, right by the door, a large basket containing a live infant some two weeks old. It has since been ascertained that a woman left the basket at this spot and quickly faded away. The infant was a healthy child. On top of the contents of the basket was a piece of note paper inscribed, "Fot Jack LeFay, Haskill's barber shop."

It seems that LeFay "jumped" the town some two weeks ago, and the local police say that a woman had taken out a warrant against him in Millbrook about two weeks ago. P. C. Meharry brought the basket and its contents to the police station and Constable Adams afterwards carried the outfit to the Children's Aid building, where Mrs. Henry took charge of it.

LATER—Further enquiry into the above case of child desertion revealed the fact that although the babe in question was taken care of last night by Mrs. Henry, matron of the Children's Aid Society, home other home will have to be found for the infant, as this institution does not undertake the charge of any child under 12 months of age.

The woman who left the basket with the child in, is described as being an elderly woman of between 45 and 50 years of age.

Mr. C. B. Routley's Father's Death

Referring to the father of one of Peterborough's leading merchants, Mr. C B. Routley, the Kingston Whig says,

"William Kent Routley, a resident of Kingston since 1841, and one of its most prosperous and respected citizens, passed peacefully away on Saturday. He was born in Tiverton, Devonshire, England, in 1831, and came ten years later to Canada, settling in this city and living on Sydenham street, though in different houses through all the intervening years.

"For a time he was associated in business with the late S. P. White and then working out on his own account and with continued success. Some years after he had embarked in trade the big fire occurred on Princess street, and his store and stock disappeared in this great conflagration. He at once rebuilt, and resumed his calling and continued it for another thirty years.

Mr. Routley was a man of quiet demeanor. He was interested in any good cause and work, and encouraged it as he found occasion, and with the confidence, geniality and cheerfulness, which was characteristic of him. He was very honorable in all his dealings and went into retirement through failing health, with the regard of all who knew him.

Relic of Former Lumbering Days

A party of local fishermen near Lehead, or rather recovered from the water, during a trip to Campbellstown on Thursday, a relic of bygone days that recalled reminiscences of Peterborough's earlier lumbering times.

As the fishermen were sitting with their cigars outside Messrs. Adams and Tooley's lodge at Campbellstown a peculiar rippling of the river was noticed a few feet from shore. One of the party putting a short cartridge into his gun let drive at the place, all present thinking the peculiar motion of the water was caused by a huge turtle or some aquatic animal. The shot went straight to the mark but did not kill anything, the object fired at having been dead some 15 to 50 years. The rip On the piece of wood was stamped the current of the river flowing over a three and one from a huge log. On the price of wood was stamped plainly "C.P." in a diamond shaped device. This piece of log was cut for one of the many logs brought from the back country by the late Mr. Charles Perry, father of Mr. Frank Perry of the Lock Works, once collector of customs in this city.

This old curiosity was brought to the city by the fishermen as a curiosity of by gone days.

A Port Hope Insurance Case

The Port Hope Guide says:—We understand that one of our local insurance agents will be called upon to appear at the first sitting of the Division Court and the case promises to be a very interesting one. The defendants in the case are two young men of this town, brothers, who claim that the agent misrepresented the policy to them, and when it arrived they refused to accept it. The agent then garnished their wages in the Pik and Ideal factories, and the young men have now commenced action to recover their money. Crown Attorney Kerr, of Cobourg, is looking after their interests. Considerable interest is centered in the case, and there is likely to be a lively time when it comes up for hearing.

ENDED HER LIFE

Woman's Body Found Hanging Out at the Cemetery.

Hamilton, Sept. 14.—The body of Mrs. J. Limberg, who was reported missing yesterday, was discovered by an attendant at Hamilton Cemetery early this morning. She evidently went there yesterday afternoon and deliberately suicided, hanging herself in an outhouse. Relatives identified the remains at the morgue.

In the spring the unfortunate woman narrowly escaped being killed, falling out of a third-storey. She had been mentally unbalanced since.

The Question of Fisheries

Will Occupy Attention of Premiers at Coming Convention in Ottawa.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Next to the matter of a readjustment of provincial subsidies the biggest and most complicated question which will be discussed with the provincial premiers when they meet here in October, will be that of the fisheries. It will be remembered that when the Federal and Provincial Governments submitted their cases to the Privy Council in 1898 a judgment was given which left matters in an even more complicated state than they were in before. In brief the Privy Council decided that any proprietory rights passed previous to Confederation by the provinces still belonged to them, but held that the general control of the fisheries remained

Fighting Fires With Locomotives

Novel Methods of Subduing Forest Fires in the West.

New York, Sept. 15.—Under the direction of the New York State Forestry Commission, the New York Central Railway has organized a novel fire brigade for the purpose of fighting forest fires. An emergency train, drawn by a locomotive of a specially constructed type, and carrying a crew of firemen railroaders is used. The locomotive has a powerful pumping attachment; with couplings for hose, and after a run of fifty miles or more is quite ready to perform all the duties of the ordinary fire engine. When a call is sent in for the railroad brigade the fire-fighting train gets under way without loss of time as steam is always kept up. The largest number of calls come from the Adirondack region, where the brigade has succeeded in checking the spread of many fires which might otherwise destroy the beautiful forests. The fire train has already proved to be one of the most successful and valuable of all the special service departments of the railway's equipment.

Not in Favor of Preferential Trade

London, Sept. 14.—At the Chambers of Commerce at Bristol discussing preferential trade within the Empire, Mr. Davies of Bristol said: "While having due regard to our foreign trade, we ought to give our attention to colonial trade." It was this trade which could be most hopefully developed.

Joseph Walton, M.P., argued that there was no practical basis on which we could act up preferential trade with even Canada.

E. Parkes, M.P., replied that the preference given us by Canada had increased our exports thither by over a hundred per cent.

A. J. Hobson, Sheffield, argued we could give Canada no preference without raising the price of our people's food, and Canadian manufacturers would hardly resist the admission of our goods on any terms which would bring them in real competition with their own. Any such position would not strengthen the bonds of the Empire.

Among the resolutions reaffirmed was one in favor of cheaper postage with Canada, so as to afford British merchants and manufacturers the same trade opportunities as enjoyed by the United States.

Reckless Man Killed While Blasting

Owen Sound, Sept. 14.—A saw or named Samuel Locking, aged 59 years, was struck with a forty-pound mass of rock yesterday morning while engaged in blasting, and was instantly killed. He was standing about forty-five yards from the scene of the explosion, at a point in a new sewer on Jackson street hill, and was acting upon his companion's warning to run when the unfortunate missile struck him between the shoulders, killing him. The coroner has decided to hold an inquest.

Locking's tragic death was not accompanied by great surprise, as he has long been noted for his carelessness while engaged in blasting. He is survived by a widow and grown-up family.

Buffalo Police Have a Mystery

Inquire Into a Woman's Death and Question a Former Canadian Nurse.

Buffalo, Sept. 15.—Dr. W. W. Turner, who conducted a hospital for women at 1016 Niagara street and 713 Prospect avenue in this city, is a prisoner at police headquarters, and the police are trying to unravel the mystery of the sudden disappearance of Gertrude Knight, of Philadelphia from his Niagara street establishment where large quantities of blood stained clothes and bedding were found. The police were first attracted to Dr. Turner's Niagara street place on Wednesday morning, when, following a quarrel with Miss Geddes, his head nurse, Dr. Turner went through the place with an axe, smashing furniture and windows.

While investigating the cause of the disturbance the police found a bed saturated with blood and a furnace partly filled with blood-soaked cotton. It was learned that a patient who gave her name as Gertrude Knight of Philadelphia occupied the room on Tuesday. Miss Geddes the nurse, a former Canadian, told District Attorney Abbott yesterday that his patient left the hospital on Wednesday and took the 11 a.m. train for Philadelphia. Her testimony in this respect is partly confirmed by Mrs. Ayres, a boarding-house keeper, to whom Dr. Turner sent some of his patients. She said a woman came to her place Tuesday night and left for Philadelphia Wednesday. She did not know her name, however.

While investigating the Knight case the police learned that Edith Pinner of Hoboken, N.J., died at the Prospect Avenue Hospital on September 8. Miss Pinner's body was shipped to her home at Hoboken, N.J., by Undertaker Mortimer J. Prouty. In the last year, Prouty stated yesterday, he has buried six women and two children for Turner.

It was first suspected that the Pinner woman and the woman who disappeared from the Niagara street place were the same. This theory was dismissed yesterday when a trunk found in the Niagara street hospital was opened by the police. It was filled with women's fine clothing and a bundle of letters addressed to Gertrude Knight. All the unexplained circumstances that now remain have to do with her physicians consulted by the police doubt the statements regarding Miss Knight's sudden departure from Turner's place. They say the woman who occupied the blood-stained chamber on Niagara street lost so much blood that it would be impossible for her to travel so soon. They are also puzzled to know why she should leave her trunk and clothing at such a place.

Miss Geddes was taken to the District Attorney's office yesterday. She admitted that Dr. Turner's lady with an axe followed a quarrel with her, but steadfastly declined to divulge the cause of their trouble.

NO CHARGE IS LAID.

Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 15.—There have been no further developments in the case of Dr. W. W. Turner, who is held by the police, and no charge has been made against him. Assistant District Attorney Murphy states that "so far as this investigation has gone it has developed the information that there was no murder at 101 Niagara street," the residence of Dr. Turner. "The supposed victim left Buffalo on Wednesday morning to visit friends on her way home. Our information is that she was perfectly well when she left. The row at the hospital on Wednesday morning had nothing to do with her. The woman was leaving the city at the time of the row between Dr. Turner and Miss Geddes, the nurse. The trunk found at the hospital was to have been shipped to the woman after she reached home."

A Large Increase in Population

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—The census-taking of the past summer in the three Prairie Provinces shows that Canada now possesses a population west of Lake Superior of something over a million souls.

Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta together represent a population of about 805,000, which is almost double the census showing of five years ago.

The returns from Manitoba are not quite complete, but will show something over 360,000, as compared with 255,211 in 1901, and 152,506 in 1891.

Saskatchewan and Alberta both show more rapid gain. The former contains a population of about 260,000, and the latter of 185,000. Five years ago the census of the same district, portions of what were then the North-West Territories, have a population of 165,551. In 1891 this same region was found to have a population of 66,799.

Rev. Dr. Chown to Have Assistant

Montreal, Sept. 15.—The various committees of the Methodist General Conference settled down to serious work this morning, and the likelihood is there is a good deal of business ready for the general session this afternoon.

The Temperance, Prohibition, and Moral Reform Committee will probably present a report, recommending the appointment of additional agents to assist Rev. Dr. Chown, who is in general charge of this work. The idea is that these special agents should be appointed temporarily, in case of special needs. A further idea that Rev. Dr. Chown has is that the Church should set aside a special Sunday, to be known as "Christian Citizenship Sunday," on which the sermons will have to do chiefly with the duty of a Christian as a citizen.

Municipal Bylaw Defeated in Seattle

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 14.—Municipal ownership of street railways, as represented in a proposal to bond the city for $4,270,000, of which $1,172,000 was to be charged against the general funds of the city and the rest to be an indebtedness against 20 per cent. of the gross receipts of the system, when in operation, was defeated at a special election here yesterday. Out of a total of approximately 13,000 votes cast, municipal ownership lacked 935 of a plurality.

It was proposed to build a municipal street railway system that would parallel and extend beyond the lines of the Seattle Electric Railway Company, owned by Boston capitalists.

In the Toils.

A man by the name of O'Brien, was gathered in by P. C. Newbail and registered at Hotel De Cops, pleading weariness and a swollen head, having played too long with the glorious jug.

Later on the same officer noticed Joseph Bickerby, with his hope on, interfering with ladies passing by, and making use of abusive language near the corner of George and Simcoe streets. He, also was given the soft side of a plank to sleep on. It may be noted that Joseph was up before his Worship yesterday morning and fined $4.00.

Got $5 Reward For Giving Up $20,000

New York, Sept. 14.—According to the Sun yesterday, William Fenlon, an employe of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway at Portchester one day last week found a cigar box lying on the station platform. He took it into the baggage room and opened it. The box was packed with $100 bills.

An hour later a well-dressed woman rushed into the baggage room and asked him if he had seen a cigar box.

"What did it contain?" asked Fenlon.

The woman answered, "Twenty thousand dollars."

Fenlon put his hand under the counter, and, taking hold of the box full of money, handed it to the woman. Too nervous to give her name, or even thank him, the woman rushed out of the room and boarded a train for New York.

Fenlon received an anonymous letter yesterday containing a $5 bill and thanking him for his honesty.

DRASTIC SOCIALISM

New Zealand's Land Proposals Are Attracting Attention.

London, Sept. 14.—The Times' Wellington correspondent says that the Government land proposals, the most drastic in the history of the colonial legislature, are creating intense interest in New Zealand, especially the clauses compelling owners to sell within a decade the excess of land held beyond $250,000 unimproved value, and the provisions preventing the present owners of 1,000 acres of first-class land or those of 5,000 acres of second-class land adding to their estates either by freehold or leasehold. The correspondent adds that the proposals will be sturdily combatted.

Machinery For Cobalt.

Cobalt, Sept. 14.—In order to expedite and facilitate operation at the Columbus Cobalt Silver Mines the manager is now installing a complete steam power plant, consisting of boiler, steam drills, pump and air blower, with a complete outfit for rapid mining. While sinking the big shaft, at 52 feet deep a blind cross vein running out at right angle from the big main vein was discovered. At 60 feet deep it has improved so fast that all the miners look upon it as a phenomenal find, and all predict it will soon run into pure silver ore.

Five of Party Were Drowned

Halifax, N.S., Sept. 15.—One of the most pitiful drowning accidents in the history of the Province occurred yesterday at Port Felix. By it five young people lost their lives. Minnie, aged 15, John, aged 11, and Maggie, aged 9, children of Mr. Frank Fougere, postmaster and mail driver of East Port, Felix, accompanied by their three cousins, Clara, aged 18, Maggie, aged 14, and Marion, aged 12, children of Mr. Joseph King, Port Felix, left their homes in the morning to pick blue-berries. About six miles back of Port Felix they attempted to cross the lake in an old leaky flat keg there for the purpose of berry-pickers.

They succeeded in reaching a small island in the lake by going two at a time in the boat, but on returning the six got in, and when about two-thirds of the way across the boat filled, and turned bottom up. Maggie Fougere and Maggie King got on top of the boat, but it turned back again, throwing them in the water. Minnie Fougere then caught the boat, and managed to paddle ashore with it. After reaching the shore Minnie saw that the two boys locked in each other's arms. The two younger girls also had hold of each other, and the larger girl was sinking. Johnnie Fougere called to his sister to tell his mother he was trying to swim ashore.

The girl hastened to her home, where she arrived in about two hours. She still heard those in the water screaming for help after she left the lake. A searching party left for the scene, but when they reached the lake there was nothing to be seen, and, owing to the lateness of the hour, the search for the bodies had to be abandoned till this morning.

Trepoff's Niece Was Would-be Assassin

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—The identification as Tatiana Leontieff of the woman who killed an aged French man named Mueller at Interlaken, Switzerland, on September 1, in mistake for M. Durnovo, former Russian Minister of the Interior, opens up the final chapter of an interesting romance, as Mlle Leontieff is one of the nieces of General Trepoff who was concerned in an unsuccessful attempt upon the life of her uncle in 1905. This caused an immense sensation at the time. Mlle Leontieff was arrested and confined for some time in an insane asylum. She was eventually released upon her promise to leave Russia for ever. This she did,

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle, of Moncton, N. B., Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for woman's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. I lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, gave me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

PETERBOROUGH, SEPTEMBER 15 1906

JOHN BULL AND UNCLE SAM

The movement towards a closer bond of union between Great Britain and the United States is treated in an article in the Chicago Daily News by E. P. Bell, who says: "Great Britain and America are undergoing relative changes that reach to the ultimate springs of being. Place over individualized out of all knowledge of each other and therefore out of all sympathy with each other by two great breaks or gulfs—one historical, one physical. At the end of the American war of independence, Britain went her way, America hers. One day, crossing by fast steamers, these peoples met again, and lo! they were strangers—marvellously alike, their skins both fair, their principles and language practically the same—yet strangers. Circumstances would not let this condition stand. The problem was to equalize two temperaments, to weld two characters, to fuse two minds. This process is actually going on every hour and every year in Britain and America. If it were arrested these nations would remain permanently sundered, and harmonious civilization for which they have bled would fight alone. The fortunate thing is that whether Anglo-American propogandists meet or not; whether brilliant dinners are held or not; the psychic interfusion will continue until when a Briton meets an American, or an American a Briton, he will know his man as he knows his own closest native neighbor. The mixing of British and American characters, it may be hoped, will save both, the one from too little, the other from too much action—as a farmer hitches a gentle horse with a wild one and gets good work out of the team. The British can teach the Americans civic honesty, zeal and efficiency; the joy and worth of the holiday; they can teach them to love flowers and dumb animals; they can subdue their rhetoric, modulate their voices, sprinkle cool patience on their too irritable souls. And they can get something valuable from the Americans—candor, responsiveness and generosity; their honest, open, healthy self-confidence; somewhat of their youthful energy, imagination, fire and music."

GOSSIP

Justice has not been done the gossip. The wiseacres indulge in sententious rebuke of Mrs. Sinner, yet a large portion of the conversation one hears in all informal assemblies when there is no restraint upon the flow of talk is largely gossip. The habit is commonly supposed to be affected chiefly by women. The injunction "Let your women keep silence in the churches" would seem to give them license to speak freely everywhere; but the male gossip is much in evidence on all occasions. Gossip is not necessarily slander. The light and airy persiflage which gives so much grace and interest to social intercourse is a form of gossip which makes life worth living.

The painfully silent person does not get on very well in any circle, so that it is better to talk a little innocent chaff than not to talk at all. The gravest persons, when introduced, begin their conversation with meaningless platitudes about the weather, or indulge in inane gossip until they find some common ground for sane intercourse. The intelligent reading world pays an unconscious tribute to gossip in assigning to such writers as Pepys and Boswell a place among the English classics. The charm of certain modern histories is due to the fact that they record gossipy trifles which were once regarded as much beneath the dignity of historical narrative.

It is important, that a distinction should be drawn between the vicious scandalmonger and the purveyor of more or less frivolous but innocuous information which gratifies the laudable desire to be up with the news of the neighborhood. In England there remain relics of strange instruments known as "gossips' bridles," with which persons who were too free in the malicious use of their tongues were punished in the market place. It is unfortunate that the device has fallen into desuetude, with the ducking stool for common scolds, but the amiable chatty people who carry the news like the wandering roundabouts of old, far from being common nuisances, are public benefactors and not to be scoffed at or railed at. Modern journalism, particularly that of the country-side, owes much of its piquancy to the gossip columns, which faithfully minister to neighborly curiosity.

Gossip is the pillar of the social fabric, its prop and stay. Everybody on good terms with his neighbor must gossip with him, and it is more important," says a keen student of human nature, "that a person should be a good gossip and talk pleasantly and smartly of common friends and the thousand and one nothings of the day and hour than that he should speak with the tongue of men and angels."

MR. OZIAL ROUNDS.

A Resident of Welland Finds Relief in Pe-ru-na.

SUFFERED 15 YEARS.

Mr. Ozial Rounds, Welland, Ont., a retired lumberman and a resident of Welland for half a century, writes:

"For fifteen years prior to 1900 I was a sufferer from hay asthma and chronic diarrhea. I grew weak and emaciated and was tortured with insomnia.

"I was treated by eminent physicians but, if anything, was worse than ever. In fact, I was in as miserable a condition as a man could be.

"However, I chanced to try Peruna and noticed an improvement. This encouraged, I continued, and after taking several bottles of your precious Peruna, I was entirely well and a wonder to myself and friends.

"If, at my advanced age, 83 years, I have obtained such good results from Peruna, after so many years of needless suffering, there can be no doubt of its efficacy in the treatment of younger persons."

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 9 1-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 130 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life's incomes. Here bankers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

"In a thick wood, about the middle of the heath, and half way between Hounslow and the Magpie Inn, as nearly as I can judge."

"Not dangerously wounded, I hope, my lady?"

"No, quite unhurt, I believe, but bound and gagged, and desperately frightened; besides being exposed to the damp night air that may of itself be the death of the woman. The coachman, I hope, is more inured to exposure."

"We will drive immediately to the magistrate's, and send assistance. I will take the box."

"Will you first kindly inform me to whom I am so deeply indebted?" inquired the lady.

"My name, madam, is McCarthy—Colonel McCarthy, of the Eleventh Infantry. My companion here is Captain Roberts. I must entreat you to be so kind as to give him a seat in your carriage, as his testimony will be necessary before the magistrate. Roberts, come hither."

The person named had hitherto kept in the background, but now advanced to the side of the carriage.

It happened that the face of Lady Etheridge was partly averted when Roberts came up. And Roberts no sooner caught a sight of her face than he started and retreated perceptibly.

"Excuse me one moment, madam," said the man who called himself McCarthy, bowing and hurrying after Roberts.

Lady Etheridge had seen nothing that passed in that moment in which her head was averted.

McCarthy hurried after Roberts.

"Roberts, what was the matter? you ran away as if from the face of a constable instead of that of a pretty woman. What was the meaning of it?"

Roberts was too much agitated to answer at once, but after struggling violently with some strong inward emotion, he asked:

"Who is this lady whom we are engaged in deceiving?"

"She is the Baroness Etheridge of Swinburne, in her own right. There, now, confound you, if you ever breathe that, your tongue will have tied a knot around your neck."

"The Baroness Etheridge of Swinburne! Whe-ew!" exclaimed the man Roberts, sinking into thought.

"And now we must hurry back to the carriage. It is uncivil to leave the lady alone for a moment; but first tell me why you ran away from her."

"Presently, presently, dear Mac. You must permit me to ride beside you on the box, first, because it will not be civil to thrust me in upon the lady; and secondly, because I will not intrude upon her."

"Durst not face her, you mean."

"As you please, dear Mac. You always had a finer appreciation of nice shades of meaning than myself. At any rate, it would not only be uncivil, but it would be unwise, for either of us to [illegible] the Baroness Etheridge without wanting explanation as to how we happened to come to her rescue, and neither you nor I have a story ready to tell."

"There is some truth in what you advance, so you may as well mount by my side. Well, here we are at the carriage," said McCarthy.

Roberts pulled his collar up and his hat down, to obscure his face, and keeping out of the range of view from the carriage windows, went round and mounted upon the box.

McCarthy went up to the carriage window, bowed, and said:

"Captain Roberts will not intrude upon your ladyship; he will ride on the box beside me."

"I thank him very much," replied Lady Etheridge, very glad to be left alone.

McCarthy then mounted the box, and the carriage drove off. As they left the spot, Lady Etheridge caught a glimpse of two men leading away the horses that had brought these deliverers; and with a pang of undefinable dread, she thought they had very much the air of the ruffians who had first attacked her carriage.

The carriage rolled rapidly on, and soon entered a deep wood. The sky had been overclouded all night, and now the rain began to fall. Lady Etheridge thought with anxiety of her servants, and longed to reach her journey's end that she might send relief to them. In the thickest part of this wood the carriage at length drew up before an old-fashioned, gloomy-looking country house. McCarthy got down and knocked.

After a little delay, the door was opened by an old servant, in a very suspicious state of readiness.

"Well, Jones, your master has been in bed hours, of course?"

"Yes, please your honor."

"And the housekeeper, of course?"

"Yes, please your honor."

"Well, show us into the most comfortable room at hand, and then see the horses put away, after which come to me," said McCarthy, and he helped Lady Etheridge to alight, and attended her into the house.

The old servant preceded them into the drawing-room, and retired to attend to the horses.

McCarthy seated Lady Etheridge upon a sofa, and inquired what refreshments she would be pleased to take. Rose declined any. Soon the old servant showed himself at the door, and McCarthy went out to speak with him. After a few moments he returned to the drawing-room, and going to Lady Etheridge, said:

"Mr. Howlet is ill, and must not be disturbed to-night. In the morning, however, we can have an interview with him. In the meantime the housekeeper is getting up, and will attend to all your comforts for the night."

"I feel very grateful; but, oh, my poor coachman and maid exposed to this rain storm!" exclaimed Rose, sorrowfully.

"Be comforted, madam; it is most probable that before this hour some passenger upon that frequented road has discovered and released them; indeed, I think it quite certain to be so because a rumor was rife along the road that a carriage had been waylaid and robbed, and a lady had been carried off. It was this rumor that led us to challenge the suspicious-looking vehicle in which we found your ladyship a captive. Now, how could such a rumor have got afloat so soon, if your servants had not been discovered and released?" inquired McCarthy, ingeniously.

"Oh! Heaven grant that they may be!" said Lady Etheridge, fervently.

The appearance of the housekeeper now interrupted the conversation. She was a tall, stout, coarse, and florid woman of fifty years of age, with a [illegible] face and overdressed form and manner to the respectability of her office.

"I very much regret that your master is too ill to rise. I commend this lady to your care, and hope you will make her comfortable."

"I shall endeavor to do so, Madam, would you choose refreshments before retiring?" said Mrs. Thomas, addressing Lady Etheridge.

"No, I thank you, I need rest more than anything else," replied her ladyship.

"Then I will show you at once to your room," said Mrs. Thomas, lighting a bedroom candle, and leading the way.

Lady Etheridge bowed to Colonel McCarthy, and followed the housekeeper from the drawing-room.

They passed up a flight of broad stairs, along several intricate passages, and finally entered a large, sombre chamber, with the windows and the heavy, four-post bedstead thickly curtained with dark damask.

The housekeeper set the candle upon the mantelpiece, laid out a nightdress, and wishing the guest a pleasant night's repose, withdrew from the room.

But weary and exhausted as she was,

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 3,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore ($40 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines, above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut many of the richest mines in the State at great depth, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $35,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

No better investment now offered. For particulars address

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 81 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,500 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,500 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hdreds of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 50 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

25 Cents Per Share

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

Dr. Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Cathartics

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles.

He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure, a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective mode of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.

"I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Lueders, from Cornwall, Ont., "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble. I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly; there are none better. They at once relieve and prevent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from my experience can be depended upon as a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."

Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease.

Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pills a marvelous medicine. Although active, they do not gripe or cause inconvenience, still they cleanse and purify the system, thereby maintaining a high standard of health. Fine Concert in Victoria Park

Last night a very large crowd of citizens gathered in Victoria Park and heard one of the best band concerts of the season, and unfortunately the last for this summer.

The program rendered was as follows:

March—Orchard Lake Cadets.
Overture.
Cornet solo—"Killarney," by Handsman Hughes.
Medley—A Highland Patrol, 'The Wee McGregor."
Idyll—"The Forge in the Forest."
Characteristic—"A Kansas Two Step."
Baby's Sweetheart.
Godfrey's Reminiscences of Scotland.

FORESTERS ATTENTION!

The Members of Court Chemong No. 530 I. O. F. are requested to meet in their Court Room, George Street, tomorrow (Sunday) at 6 p.m. for the purpose of attending Divine Worship at St. Andrew's Church. Please bring Badges. All Foresters are invited to attend.

Fall Fair at Kinmount.

The Galway Fair held at Kinmount this year was a great success. The exhibits were good, the attendance was good and the attractions, especially the races were good. A large crowd from Lindsay was present, including people from Cameron, Fenelon Falls, Burnt River and other points. The races were well contested and most interesting. Dr. Johnston's fast mare was entered in the green race and got third money. In the free for all Mr. Cook's horse, Miss Paisley captured second place.

Is Coming

Our lady readers should make note that Prof. Dorenwend will be at the Oriental Hotel on Tuesday, Sept. 25, with his celebrated hair goods styles, in wigs, switches of wavy and straight hair, pompadours, transformations etc. These goods are so well known that it is hardly necessary to say that they are the finest production in the world. Consultation is free, so call and see what he can do towards improving your appearance and make you look younger.

Jealousy Over a Butter Award.

Fenelon Falls Gazette says: Victoria County butter is the best in Canada, according to the judgment of the judges at the Toronto Exhibition, who gave the red ticket to the product of the Lindsay creamery. Lucky for it that the proprietors of the Fenelon Falls creamery had not time to get up an exhibit for the fair, or the award would have been in grave danger of coming a few miles further north.

A White Crow Seen.

Fenelon Falls Star says; Mr. Wes. Wagner, who lives near Hall's crossing, four miles east of here, shot a white crow on his farm on Friday last. The bird is a beautiful large specimen and is pure white. White sparrows are becoming quite common in this section, but this is the first time we have heard of a white crow.

Lindsay Boy Badly Bitten

Lindsay Post says: Willie White, the young son of Mrs. W. A. White, Bond street, was severely bitten last Saturday evening by a collie dog owned by citizen residing in the neighborhood. The animal's teeth tore the boy's cheek, and one entered the neck close to the jugular vein. The wounds were cauterized immediately and no serious danger is apprehended. Relatives of the lad informed the police of the incident, and former the police of the incident, and demanded the prompt destruction of the dog and no doubt their reasonable request has been carried into effect.

Local Bible Society Meeting

The local agency of that most estimable and wide spread agency for dissemination of Christian religious and principles, the British and Foreign Bible Society, will be held in George street Methodist church on Monday, Oct. 8 h, when the reports for the year will be presented and officers elected.

Rev. R. E. Welsh, M.A., of Toronto, the recently appointed secretary of the Canadian Branch, will deliver the address. Mr. Welsh will preach in one or two of the city churches on Sunday preceding the annual meeting.

Large Plate Glass Windows.

There was quite a blockade on George street yesterday afternoon at 4.30 when two huge plate glasses were placed in the premises shortly to be occupied by Mr. M. Pappas, and recently used as the Palace Hotel. These glasses each measure 84x132 inches, under superintendence of Mr. Barrie, the carpenter in charge of the repairs here. The two plates were unloaded, unpacked and placed in position in less than three-quarters of an hour. Some fine figuring had to be done as the building was ascertained to be 1 1-4 inches out of plumb, and the plate glass had, of course to be placed perpendicular.

Polygamy in the West.

Cardston, Alta, Sept. 15. — There are many who know that polgamy is still practised in this province, and proof of the same has been unearthed by the Northwest Mounted Police. A Utah Mormon came here with one of his wives, leaving another well provided for in the United States. He came for wife No. 2, and No. 1 followed. A child of No. 1 fell sick and he visited his other household. The police forbade this custom, but agreed to take no action, provided he would live with No. 1 only. This he refused to do, and the matter was this week referred to Ottawa.

LAKEFIELD FAIR

The dates of the Smith, Ennismore & Lakefield Agricultural Society's annual exhibition have been changed to Thursday and Friday, Sept. 27-28, to avoid conflict with Peterborough's dates.

This year the Fair will be held in the new grounds of the society a block west of the Presbyterian church in Lakefield. Prize lists, etc., can be obtained from W. Sherlin, secretary, Lakefield, Ont.

There will be some 300 pairs of roller skates kept in stock for customers.

Rheumatism is not incurable, sufferer! Yes! But Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy will if faithfully used drive it out of the system. It's the blood that's at fault. Poisonous crystals like sand get into the joints and muscles. Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy prevents this. It drives rheumatism from the blood and then Rheumatism dies. We recommend and sell. H. J. D. Tully.

Mr. Robert Harrison is Home.

Mr. Robert Harrison has returned from a three weeks' visit to Colorado, where he inspected the property of the Stony Pass and Mammoth Tunnel Mining Companies, in which he is interested. Mr. Harrison reports that the prospects of the mines are exceptionally bright. He had a very pleasant outing.

Think of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure if your nose and throat discharges—if your breath is foul or feverish. It contains Oil of Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., incorporated into an imported cream-like petrolatum. It soothes heals, purifies, controls. Call at our store for free trial box. H.J.D. Tully

Cemetery Visitors Criticized.

Belleville Intelligencer says: The Peterborough authorities are determined to see that people behave themselves in the cemetery after this. Is it possible there have been such carryings on in Peterborough's Necropolis as are recorded by Dickens in Pickwick, when the grouty sexton, Gabriel Grubb, had the time of his life?

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

WEDDING STATIONERY

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENTS are always in order. The season for the final result of being a disciple of Cupid finds expression in the Hymeneal ceremony at the altar—that occasion when "two hearts that beat as one" are joined together—pronounced one.

For this auspicious occasion the printing must be chastely dignified—must be appropriate in appearance to this one time of life when everything "best" is donned—when happiness reigns supremely.

Marriage Announcements
Marriage Invitations
Marriage Reception Cards
Post Nuptial Reception Cards

All of these we are able to supply in a proper form and printed artistically. Our work is conducted under the supervision of skilled typographical mechanics and may be unhesitatingly presented to the most fastidious critic.

Our charges for such work are moderate—yet good printing is ever valuable. However, we give quality for our figures, and an order entrusted to our care will be speedily, carefully and satisfactorily executed.

No work can be well done which has to be done hurriedly. Time is necessary for the accomplishment of faultless printing. We will fulfil all expectations if given ample time for completion.

An eminent writer has said: "It is difficult, indeed, to see how any private individual would willingly accept the position of executor, unless it be the family solicitor, who makes his living out of such work. A man once an executor finds himself always a prisoner, because he is obliged to give much more time and attention to his trust work than to his own business, and the anxiety is unceasing. The danger of mistakes occurring owing to inexperience is considerable, the responsibilities are enormous, and the personal liability never ends. He may perform his duties conscientiously, but he will never be given any thanks for his trouble. On the other hand, he may find himself at loggerheads with the members of his family, and perhaps be involved in law suits and other worries. There is no more fruitful source of discord between relations and friends than is brought about over the administration of wills and trusts." Write for Manual.

THE CUBANS NOW WANT INTERVENTION

Meanwhile Government Troops Wins a Victory in Clash With 1000 Rebels at a Point Near Havana.

Havana, Sept. 16.—Eduardo Tarbas, a prominent resident of Santiago, said to the Associated Press yesterday:

"The entire Province of Santiago will burst into revolt unless the United States intervenes immediately. There must be a protectorate, or there will be no permanent peace in Cuba."

FUNSTON SUMMONED.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 16.—General Frederick Funston has been ordered to Washington without delay. The order is supposed to be in connection with the situation in Cuba.

Havana, Sept. 16.—The letter of President Roosevelt to Senor de Quesada, the Cuban minister, is the great topic of the day among Cubans and foreigners alike. Far from considering his references to American intervention as something to be dreaded, it is almost universally regarded as the most desirable consummation possible for the trouble. There are some persons who do not agree with this view, but they are very rare. All the business interests are anxious for intervention, and even the politicians admit that this would be the best outcome.

The Associated Press correspondent has information to the effect that some of the government officials who are closest to President Palma privately welcome the idea, and that the president himself desires protection though not permanent intervention. The general opinion among Cuban business men today is that intervention is the most desirable thing which can be suggested, and there only fear is that it may only be temporary.

There is a somewhat marked feeling of disappointment among the veterans that intervention is possible or imminent. For sentimental reasons, they would regret to see Cuba sacrifice her sovereignty, even in a small degree. This feeling, however, is offset by the universal desire for a permanent settlement of the trouble, and for a government which can be relied on to preserve peace under all circumstances.

REBELS DEFEATED.

Havana, Sept. 15.—Government forces have won a victory over the rebels at a point close to Havana.

Gen. Rodriguez, with 100 rural guardsmen, attacked the rebels under Gen. Del Castillo and Cols. Asbert and Acosta, 1000 strong, at Wajay, 12 miles south of Havana. After a stubborn fight the rebels were dispersed. Eight of their number were killed and 23 wounded. Of the guardsmen one was killed and 13 were wounded. Gen. Rodriguez returned to Havana this morning. There is considerable speculation as to why the enemy was not pursued.

The revolutionists attacked the Town of San Domingo, in Santa Clara Province at five o'clock this morning, but were repulsed by the garrison of militiamen and rural guards. One guard, two militiamen and three of the revolutionists were killed. Five guards and six militiamen were wounded. One of the insurgents who was killed was Col. Noriego. The government troops captured two prisoners and 60 horses and are now in pursuit of the retreating insurgents.

MARINES ON THE WAY.

Boston, Sept. 16.—Orders for a detachment of 60 marines to proceed at once to Norfolk, Va., were received yesterday from Washington at the Charlestown navy yard. Upon arrival at Norfolk it was arranged to embark upon a United States cruiser for Cuba. They will leave on an afternoon train.

LOSSES EXAGGERATED.

Washington, Sept. 16.—A cable despatch was received from Cienfuegos by the navy department yesterday announcing the arrival of the Marietta at that place, and that a force had been landed from that ship at Cienfuegos to protect sugar plantations which were threatened.

From despatches received yesterday from Mr. Sleeper, in charge of the United States legation at Havana, it appears that the extent of damage to American property near Cienfuegos had been exaggerated.

FORWARDING MOUNTS.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 15.—An agent of the Cuban government is buying horses for cavalry mounts and forwarding them at the rate of a carload a day. The horses are of a cheap pony type.

A Golden Chance For Investment

A Conservative Proposition That will Pay Huge Dividends.

Capitalists know that there is no more lucrative channel for investment than in a proven gold mine and none safer than in such a mine, when conservatively managed by responsible directors.

Utah with its multiplicity of gold and other mineral producing mines does not possess a mine that presents safer and more lucrative prospects than the splendid property, containing nine full claims and covering 180 acres, owned by the Federal Gold and Copper Mining Co. This mine, situated in the heart of the richest mining camp on the continent, is surrounded by such well known and richly paying mines as the Ben Harrison, The O.K. Extension, Beaver Consolidated, The Montreal Group and many others that are now paying enormous dividends to those sagacious and fortunate enough to have secured a stock on the ground floor. This district, experts claim will produce $300,000,000 in the next ten years.

The Federal Gold and Copper Mining Co., incorporated under the laws of the State of Utah, own a mine that will doubtless be as rich when fully developed as is its neighbor the Horn Silver which has paid its shareholders over $6,000,000 in dividends.

An independent mining journal, the Bingham Bulletin, one of the most conservative and reliable publications now issued, and which makes a specialty of exposing any and all overrated, faked, or unreliable mining propositions, referring to the Federal Gold and Copper Mining Company's properties says in part: "It is considered to be one of the greatest bonanzas ever opened up in that district. It is a close neighbor of the Silver Horn (mine) which has paid over $6,000,000 to its shareholders and within a gun shot of the noted O.K. mines which the largest shipment of high grade ore ever made in the United States, 1200 tons, every ton of which went over 40 per cent. copper and $9.00 in gold. The Federal Co. is incorporated under the laws of Utah and officered by the strongest men of the state.

The Federal Gold and Copper mining Co., is now offering a limited number of shares, of a par value of $1 each, at 50 cents per share; this price is subject to increase at any time. For full particulars write to J. E. Meyer, P.O. Box 621, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Lakefield in Need of Hotels

Local Optionites Cause Much Inconvenience

The Lakefield News says: We were asked a few days ago how local option is working in Lakefield. Our answer was that we really did not know. We cannot say, however, that the particular topers for whom the Act was supposed to be especially passed show signs of greater sobriety than in past days, whilst the regularity with which liquor is brought in to the town from Peterborough argues that certain wholesalers and retailers of that flourishing city are making money at the expense of our local hotels. Some of the merchants say that business is no worse than in past days, others that it has gone utterly to the dogs, but on one thing most of them are agreed and that is that the lack of proper hotel and stable accommodation will prove a severe detriment to trade during the approaching winter. We understand that a few of our prominent temperance men made a distinct promise to start a temperance house upon whose premises ample accommodation would be provided for man and beast. There is no sign of such accommodation yet. We should be sorry to think that citizens who have the welfare of their brethren so much at heart as to take away from them the temptation to drink, should fail so much in their Christianity as not to keep their promises.

GOULD HAD A PECULIAR DREAM

Strathcona, Alberta, Sept. 15.—A curious incident in connection with the death of young Gould, the English lad who was accidentally shot by A. E. Wilde on Labor Day, and who was a nephew of Lord Kinnaird of Scotland, has come to light. On the morning of the accident Gould told at the breakfast table he had dreamed during the night that a man was chasing him with a gun.

The members of the family talked him about the dream, and after supper, while Wilde was cleaning his guns, he picked up one and pointed it at the boy, saying, "I suppose this is the way the man was chasing you in your dream." The gun exploded, causing instant death.

SOMETIMES IT DOES!

A Hearty Meal Should Never Annoy or Distress

A hearty meal should give a sense of gratification and comfort. It should never annoy or distress. If you have indigestion and discomfort after eating, it shows that your digestive organs are weakened and they cannot properly care for the food which has been swallowed. If you cannot eat and digest with pleasure and comfort three good square, hearty meals each day, you need to use Mi-o-na stomach tablets.

Mi-o-na is as unlike the ordinary pepsin digestive tablet as the electric light is more valuable than a tallow dip. Mi-o-na cures indigestion or stomach trouble by strengthening and regulating the whole digestive system, thus enabling the organs to take care of the food you eat without any distress or discomfort.

Use Mi-o-na for a few days and the nervousness, sleeplessness, general debility and weakness, backache, loss of appetite, headache and other ills that are caused by indigestion will be banished and you will feel well as ever.

Mi-o-na makes positive and lasting cures and is sold under an absolute guarantee that the money will be refunded unless the remedy cures. 50c per box.

WILY CELESTIALS' RUSE DISCOVERED

Successful Plan for Evading Canadian Tax no Longer Possible

CAME VIA NEWFOUNDLAND

Head Tax of Three Hundred Dollars Imposed There Now Prevents Its Operation.

Halifax, N. S., September 17.—A scheme of large dimensions, with headquarters in St. John's, Nfld., which has been in operation for years by which Chinamen have entered Canada in large numbers without paying the head tax imposed by the Dominion Government has just been exposed.

Until recently Chinamen were permitted to enter Newfoundland from Canada without paying head tax. The Chinamen entered the Dominion at the Halifax ports, and travelled east in bond until they reached Sydney, whence they took the steamer and entered St. John's free of duty.

They did not remain long there. On the first opportunity they made arrangements with the captains of sailing vessels to return them to a Canadian port for a nominal sum. In this way hundreds of Chinamen have got into Canada without paying the $500 tax.

The facilities for smuggling Chinamen into Canada have been at length exposed and four Chinamen who took passage on the Ocamo yesterday were the first to learn that they could not get into Newfoundland without paying a head tax of $500, recently imposed by the Newfoundland Government.

These four Celestials arrived at Sydney from Montreal on Monday, intending to take the boat for St. John's, Newfoundland. They were told they could not obtain passage until they put up a guarantee that they were able to pay $500. Thus the Chinamen could not do and in consequence were not allowed to proceed to their destination.

On learning the game was up and that the Newfoundland Government had imposed a head tax against them they decided to come to Halifax. Yesterday the four Chinamen sailed on the Ocamo for Jamaica, where the tax on Celestials is not imposed.

Was Suspicious Over a Coin

A rather amusing little scene was that in a George street shop on Saturday morning and one absolutely true. The proprietor had just returned from the market with a pair of chickens. Shortly after his arrival the country woman from whom he had brought the birds rushed into the store and throwing down an American nickel she alleged the shopman had given her for five cents in part payment, demanded five cents in Canadian silver. "Why certainly," the purchaser replied. "We always take American nickels at their face value, although I don't remember giving it to you," at the same time taking out a 5-cent silver piece. The woman, evidently taken aback at his promptness in offering to exchange the coin, said, "Well, I guess after all I'll keep the Yankee money," and walked out. Meeting another country woman just outside the door who had waited here for her, she remarked, "Say Sarah Ann, I believe the Yankee coin must be worth a lot, perhaps $4 or $5 piece. Mr. ——— was so mighty keen to get it. And anyhow I am just sure I got it from him. Let's go and find out what it's worth.

DESPAIR AMONG THE JEWS

Much Blood Must be Shed Before the Dawn of Liberty Breaks in Russia

New York, Sept. 16.—Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, Professor at the University of Chicago, arrived here yesterday. He has been abroad several months, and has made some investigation of the Jew's position in Russia.

While he did not go into Russian territory, Dr. Hirsch said he met many Jewish students in Germany, where they had fled for protection in continuing their studies.

"From my talks with the refugees in Germany and general observations," he said, "there is evidently a universal feeling of despair among the Jews of Russia.

"Those with whom I talked are of the opinion that much blood will be shed before the dawn of freedom breaks upon them."

Our Great Fair Now Booming

Exhibits for Peterborough Industrial Coming in Fast.

Everything now points towards our local fall fair, held on September 25th and 26th, being a great success. It is interesting to all our citizens and most encouraging to the directorate to know that the labors of the latter are meeting with prompt and rapidly growing efforts. Mr. Hall the energetic secretary assured The Times that he has already more entries filled for the Fair than at a corresponding time for years. If the clerk of the weather is only in good humor, Sept. 25th and 26th will see record crowds at the Exhibition grounds.

One feature of interest will be a good dog show for which Mr. W. Yelland has contributed valuable prizes.

Owing to the splendid display made and general interest taken in the poultry display of last year, the directors have decided to have this section a leading feature this fall. Enquiries are coming in regarding the poultry show and prizes from all parts of the Province. The cattle and horse exhibits are already assured success, as many of the prize winning horses admired at the Toronto Exhibition will be present. To ensure comfort for the attending crowds, the "King's Daughters" will supply good meals on both days.

With a good Exhibition now assured it is decidedly up to our citizens to go hand in hand with our country cousins and by a general assistance show the Province that the city of Peterborough is able to hold an exhibition compatible with this city's ambition and sturdy progress.

Objects to the New Milk Bylaw

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—Will you let me say a few words about the new milk bylaw passed on Friday night. I do not at all oppose the general idea of this bylaw, but one part I think is very unfair. I am ready at any time to have either customers or inspectors examine my place of the milk I sell. But how about the scores of people who are not at the same of horses and delivering of their milk taken from cows kept in very often filthy little back yard sheds. These people owning one or two cows can now sell milk that will not be examined, nor will their premises. If the whole lot of these one cow milk sellers could be ascertained, their total milk would be found to compete greatly with the regular milk vendors. Either they should come under the act or pay the license. If every one selling milk in any quantity was covered by the bylaw, I would gladly pay $10 or more a year, and charge no more for my milk.

Wise Doctor Gives Postum to Convalescents.

A wise doctor tries to give nature its best chance by saving the little strength of the already exhausted patient, and building up wasted energy with simple but powerful nourishment.

"Five years ago," writes a doctor, "I ordered Postum for my own family instead of coffee. I was so well pleased with the results that I had two grocers place it in stock, guaranteeing its sale.

"I then commenced to recommend it to my patients in place of coffee, as a nutritious beverage. The consequence is, every store in town is now selling it, as it has become a household necessity in many homes.

"I'm sure I prescribe Postum as often as any one remedy in the Materia Medica—in almost every case of indigestion and nervousness I treat, and with the best results.

"When I once introduced it into a family, it is quite sure to remain. I shall continue to use it and prescribe it in families where I practice.

"In convalescence from pneumonia, typhoid fever and other cases, I give it as a liquid, easily absorbed diet. You may use my letter as a reference any way you see fit." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Enterprise of The Conservatory

The Peterborough Conservatory of Music, one of Peterborough's most ambitious and flourishing institutions has now added several more links to the chain fastening them to success. The management has been successful in securing Miss Lena Newman, late of Vienna, who is now a member of the staff of teachers. She is a clever piano virtuoso and is a pupil of the world renowned Leschetizky, who trained Paderewski, Mark Hambourg, Essipoff and other noted artists.

Another teacher on the staff is Mr. George Collen, the celebrated baritone, late of London, England, a vocalist of great promise, and an able exponent of the correct method of singing.

Miss Lena Adamson, a graduate of the Conservatory at Leipsic, at present on the staff of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, has also been engaged.

Unsanitary Spot to be Filled In.

It is rumored that the contractors dredging the Otonabee river between the Hunter street and C.P.R. bridges will, this week start filling in the property of the Peterborough Cereal Co.

There will be enough dredgings taken from the turning basin north of Hunter street bridge to fill in the Cereal Co's property. This will do away with the unsanitary dead stagnant water in that locality, a state of affairs that menaces the health of the neighborhood was caused by the Government operations during the dredging, by stopping the former flow of water.

PETITION HAS BEEN SENT TO THE POPE

The Irish Catholics Protest to Rome Against Conditions at Ottawa---English are Being Crowded Out.

Ottawa, Sept. 16.—A petition from a large body of Separate school supporters in Ottawa went forward to Rome a short time ago, and an answer is due about the present time. The memorial set out the grievances that English-speaking Separate school supporters have been complaining about in connection with French domination in the local Catholic educational circles. The Free Press says Monsignor Sbarretti received the protest of the Ottawa Irish Catholics in the spring, and sent an acknowledgment of the receipt, but he did nothing more. About midsummer a body of prominent Catholic laymen went to press their claim further. When this action proved fruitless, the memorial was sent to Cardinal Merry del Val, at Rome, at the Vatican. It is an interesting coincidence that Rev. M. F. Fallon, O.M.I., who did much to promote the interests of the English-speaking Catholic element when at Ottawa University, is on his way to Rome and will be there at the same time as Mgr. Sbarretti.

DR. MURPHY FEELS HURT.

Rev. Dr. Murphy, rector of the university, evidently feels very keenly the criticism that has been expressed. "There is so much abuse of myself," he remarked, "in the anonymous brochure that is being circulated that I have nothing to say in a personal way. As to that, I rely on the loyalty and confidence of those who know me best."

Questioned with reference to the alleged misuse of the Government grant, the reverend rector stated: "The public may rest assured that the present administration has not misappropriated the public grant, and every cent will be accounted for."

In reply to another query, Father Murphy said he did not wish it to be understood either that previous administrations had misapplied any such grant.

ENGLISH NOT IGNORED.

Discussing the general question the rector denied that French is given an undue predominance. "There are 14 English instructors," he stated, "12 clerical and two lay teachers. It must be remembered that this is not the only English Catholic institution in the country. There are no less than 30 Catholic colleges there English is taught, in some exclusively. A college, as a matter of course, must draw largely from the surrounding locality. A Harvard 30 per cent. of the students come from within a radius of 50 miles. At Cornell 72 per cent. come from close environment of the institution. Now, when it is remembered that four-fifths of the Catholic population of this district are French, it will be seen that a college in their midst cannot ignore that language.

"There was never so much English taught in the university as today. There are practically no French teachers for English classes."

Father Murphy, in conclusion, stated that in prescribing the instructional courses, as well as in determining the general policy of the institution, the local authorities have to be governed by the existing conditions. When her a formal reply to the brochure will be made in order to be understood cannot be undecided.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

LACROSSE.

The Capitals beat the Shamrocks at Ottawa on Saturday by a score of 5—1.

• • • •

The biggest surprise of the season was pulled off in Montreal on Saturday when the Nationals second to the lowest in the league, won from the Montreals by a score of three to two. About 8000 spectators were present. The game was very keen all the way through and the play was very careful throughout. In the final quarter both teams worked cautiously, but persistently. Both defences played strong and massed their forward men very materially. Excitement ran high when Dulude, after ten minutes' play, carried up the field, passed Lamoureux, who scored the odd goal, putting the Nationals one ahead. The remainder of the game resulted in no further scoring.

FOOTBALL.

A new constellation has now shone forth among Peterborough's numerous branches of athletic stars, and were much in evidence Saturday afternoon when members of the Dominion Engineer & Construction Co. employes, who are erecting the new building at the C.G.E. Works, and who will place a strong team in the field in competition for the Hall Cup, were out for practise.

This new aggregation contains some thorough exponents of pig skin kicking, and will doubtless give some of the older clubs something to make them sit up and take notice. Among those who will occupy a place on the team are:—Baxter, Morrison, Harding, Bassitt, Jones, Miller, J. Ross, Paddock, Avon, Riggs, Dundas, Alsopt and others.

A Correspondent Objects to Book

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I see that a member of one of our city boards has recently gotten out an advertising medium in the shape of a pocket book that is distributed free to customers. This pocket book although distributed by a Canadian official contains nothing of interest but what appertains to United States and other foreign postage and other matters of foreign interest.

Whilst no presuming to teach Peterborough merchants how to do their business, I think that a public official of a Canadian city might at least advertise matters of interest to the people of Canada. Is it that the firm from whom this advertiser buys his advertising matter buys cheaper in the great United States than the county his obligation of office demands that he forward?

This advertising matter is specially devoted to the children of the city and if our growing children have United States matters thus thrust before their notice, where does the spirit of Canadian nationality excite any interest.

Yours truly,
CANADIAN.

Cassie Chadwick's Mother is Dead

Woodstock, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Mary A. Higley, one of the pioneers of this district, passed away at 6.30 last evening at her home, 676 Dundas street. Deceased came to this country many years ago and resided with her husband at the crossing of the G.T.R. and the Governor's road, near Eastwood. Her husband was section boss for the G.T.R. at this point for some years before he resigned and moved with his family to a farm near Eastwood. There he died, and the mother and family came to Woodstock over fifteen years ago. Deceased was 78 years of age, and was highly esteemed by many friends. She is survived by one son, Asa, of Cleveland, and two daughters, Mrs. Campbell, at home, and Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick.

Over 5000 people witnessed the game Saturday at Toronto Island, when the Junction Shamrocks defeated the Young Torontos by a score of 4—2, and thereby won the Intermediate C.L.C. championship.

A Bonifide and Gilt Edge Investment In a MATURED MINE

NOT A PROSPECT

Mines are located in the greatest producing and dividend paying camp in the United States. This district leads the world's increase in the copper out-put today.

THE FEDERAL GOLD & COPPER MINING COMPANY

Owns nine full claims or 180 acres in the heart of the greatest mineral zone in Beaver County in Beaver Lake Mining District. There is not a dollar's worth of indebtedness against the property in any way, shape or form. The company has worked 15 to 25 men constantly for eighteen months. Mines are equipped with best of machinery. We have one vein of copper 15 feet wide, do not know how deep, which assays from 8 to 15 per cent. copper, $6.00 in gold, and from $1.00 to $3.00 in silver. Still another ore body of unlimited size. The following noted mines adjoin the Federal Company's mines. The famous Horn Silver, a producer of over 60 millions, and which has paid its shareholders over 6 millions; the great Cactus, which adjoins us, is estimated at 100 millions; the wonderful O. K. mine, which adjoins us, which made the largest shipment of high grade ore ever made in the world—12 carloads or 1,200 tons—every ton of which went over 40.5 per cent. copper, $6.00 in gold, and $1.60 in silver, and comes out above the 100 foot level. Can make no estimate on this property; they have 2 million tons ready for shipment. Taking all into consideration, from what our neighbors have produced and from what we have actually in sight, the investor now is taking no chance in any way, shape or form, only that he will more than double his investment ten times in the next six months. We are only offering a limited amount of stock. We need probably twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars more to complete our plant, and without a shadow of doubt will place ourselves in the dividend list before the close of 1906.

One of our worthy citizens of Toronto, Ontario, is a stockholder in our company. His friends were out and saw our mines. See what he will tell you about the Federal Company's mines. Mr. J. A. Modell, 20 Markham street, Toronto, Ontario.

Hasty Nervous Chewing of Food the Cause of Dyspepsia

Grape-Nuts

If your teeth are ill, chew, chew, chew, until the food is liquid and insists on being swallowed.

If teeth are faulty, soften Grape-Nuts with hot milk or cream, or allow to stand a minute soaking in cold cream.

"There's a reason" as follows:

Grape-Nuts food is in the form of and brittle granules, intended to be ground up by the teeth; that work not only preserves the teeth but brings down the saliva from the gums so necessary in the primary work of digestion.

Many people say (and it is true) that when they eat Grape-Nuts they seem able to digest not only that food but other kinds which formerly made trouble when eaten without Grape-Nuts.

Chew it!

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition.

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It is the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At times I was prostrated with nervous and sick headache. All day I was tired. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well."

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U. S. A.

HARNESSING THE SUN.

Indirectly ever since the invention of the steam engine, man has used solar energy to provide for his wants. Of late to a small extent, some success has been secured in making use of the sun's rays directly. In the prophetic view of some engineers the great tools of the future will be machines by which the sun's immense energy will be harnessed to the world's work.

In a recent number of Windsor, an English magazine, Mr. Henry N. Pritchett summarizes the progress already made in [illegible] and points out the lines along which progress will come. The engineer, he says, has already made large advances. "He has enormously improved the means by which indirect sun energy is used; he transforms heat energy into mechanical energy, and this again into electric energy; he has even devised a solar engine, which will take up the energy as the sun delivers it and convert that energy—wasteful to be sure—into a form suitable for use; but the problem of storing this power and applying it when and where man may need it—that problem is the problem of the future."

To the layman it is somewhat amazing to read that when the sun is nearly overhead "he delivers power at the surface of the earth at the rate of more than two horse-power for each square yard of surface." Part of this energy is absorbed by the atmosphere, but still each square yard receives when the sun is shining, "the equivalent of one horse-power working continuously. This means," continues Mr. Pritchett, "that there is delivered on each square yard an energy able to life a weight of thirty-three thousand pounds one foot in one minute, and this power is continuous."

Mr. Pritchett enters into some calculations as to the amount of power that is now going to waste in places where it could easily be put into use, if the necessary machinery were at hand. Hampstead Heath, he calculates, would supply power sufficient to warm and light London and operate all its industries. The broad sunlit plains of Arizona, he declares, receives energy that would suffice many times over to do the work of the whole world, and the great sweep of our own western plains would in all probability more than duplicate the capabilities of Arizona.

To harness this energy and store it seems at present like fantastic dreaming, but it may emerge before long into the range of practical mechanics. Already geologists are beginning to calculate the day, distant though it may be, when the coal areas of the world, at least those in temperate climates, will near the stage of exhaustion, and human inventiveness is already looking around for a substitute. Electricity has partially solved the problem by making possible the long distance transmission of the power of waterfalls. The tides, too, are being looked to for power. The perfection of the electric storage battery would go a long way towards entirely meeting the need by making it possible to store the energy from waterfalls and tide. While its perfection would at the same time bring within sight the storage of the sun's direct rays, which in itself would open up an inexhaustible supply of energy that will last as long as the solar system exists.

Peasantry Fought Russian Soldiers

Vilna Russia, Sept. 15—A[illegible] made by the rural police to arrest seven peasants of the village of Lu[illegible], who had been organizing the orders, among the peasantry. Was [illegible] in a collision between the [illegible] and the soldiers. The latter fired a volley, killing eight peasants, and wounding [illegible].

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15—The Russky Invalid has published a law increasing the penalty for refusal to perform military service to six [illegible] civil rights. This enactment is directed against those who might follow the advice encouraged in the Viborg proclamation of the outlawed Parliament, and refuse to serve in the army. The full recruiting reports have begun, and reports already have been received of several attempts made upon local military officials for the purpose of destroying recruiting lists.

Waited 7 Years Married Again

Toronto, Sep. 15.—In the police court yesterday Susan B. Gibbard was charged with bigamy, but the magistrate decided that she was legally but not morally guilty, and released her on suspended sentence.

Twenty-one years ago she married Mr. Gibbard, and, as she tells her story, he thought her wealthy, and refused to do any work, preferring to live on her income. She says he became drunk and abused her, and that five out of their eight children died from want and neglect.

Eight years ago she was granted an order of separation from him, and since then they have not lived together. Believing that she was a free woman after living from her husband for seven years, on July 14 of this year, in Barrie, she married James A. Sutherland.

"I don't believe you intended to commit a crime," said the magistrate.

"That seven-year idea is a very common one," remarked Mr. Corley.

She was remanded till called on, Mr. Corley acquiescing.

Formerly six months' terms were allowed, but under the new policy this will be cut down to three months.

No discounts will be allowed for payments made under thirty days.

Gulled the Banks

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Five members of a gang of forgers were arrested last night by city detectives. The arrests secretly was manufactured by the police regarding the arrests. It is said that thousands of dollars were secured by the swindlers and many prominent banks are losers. They would drive up to a bank in a large touring car and one of her number would enter. He would present a check to the teller, and so perfect was the signature that the money was quickly forthcoming. In several cases when the swindler was questioned one of his companions would identify him. At one bank the forgers secured $500. No trouble was experienced, and other banking firms were swindled in a similar manner."

VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double Varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy and Kergan, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. He wrote them and got the New Method Treatment for me. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."

A Rare Chance

TO MAKE BIG MONEY

The undersigned has, after much effort, secured a block of stock of the

Chloride Gold Mining Co.

PUEBLO, COLORADO.

I believe, one of the best mining propositions ever placed on the Canadian market. The capital stock of the Company is $1,000,000, divided into one million shares par value of one dollar each. All stock fully paid and non-assessable, with no personal liability whatever. The Company is splendidly officered, the President and Manager being an experienced practical miner.

The property is situated on Shrum Shrum Mountain, 11-2 miles east of the Town of Chloride, Arizona, and the Jumbo Group, 25 miles distant, 120 acres in all.

I unhesitatingly recommend this stock to my clients, and will be pleased to furnish further information on application. In a few days a full description of the property will appear in these columns. Watch for it.

INTERESTING FACTS FOR INVESTORS

The place to mine is where good mines are found. Investigate before investing. THE EL PASO-PARRAL MINING COMPANY, owning three-quarters of a mile of one of the historic veins of Mexico, as well as one of the rich veins of the famous bonanza mine of Pedro Alvarado, offers a limited number of its Treasury Shares at 15 cents each—par value one dollar. A careful investigation will show you beyond all question that this is the best opportunity for large and quick returns ever brought to your notice. The district of Parral is not one-half the size of the smallest county in Colorado, yet each year it produces more than one-third of the amount produced by that entire State, making it the richest mining camp in the world for its size. It has more paying mines for the number located than any district in America. New and rich discoveries are being made each year. Here Alvarado and scores of others found their bonanzas. From this district many are receiving life incomes. Here bunkers and conservative business men invest. Why not you? Buy these shares, and buy them while they are cheap! But buy only after you have investigated the men interested. WE ARE MINING FOR COMMERCIAL RESULTS, NOT SPECULATION. There is not a dollar of "promotion" in the enterprise—every member of the Board of Directors invested his own money. No expensive machinery for reduction of ores required. The property is near the railroad, and the ores will be sold for spot cash to the smelters. No salaried officers except the Superintendent. This proposition is open to the strictest investigation. Highest references furnished; correspondence solicited.

The Bridal Eve

MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH

A NOVEL

Author of "Self-Raised," "The Deserted Wife," "The Bride's Fate," "Retribution," "Ishmael," "The Wife's Victory," Etc., Etc.

Lady Etheridge was still too excited to think of sleep. She needed calmly to review all that had happened during the night in order to understand it. So, dressed as she was, she threw herself into an armchair simply to rest. Soon the disturbed household seemed to have sunk into perfect repose. The stillness of the hour was profound, and the silence and the strangeness seemed to affect her with an undefinable apprehension. She remembered that she had not fastened the door of her chamber after the housekeeper, and she arose and locked it, and then returned to her chair. The candle burned low, and the shadows of the vast room grew deeper and darker. In her excited reverie, her eyes were fixed absently upon the door of a closet on the left of the fireplace. While gazing abstractedly upon this door, it seemed to move a little outward, and though she believed that her senses had deceived her, she shuddered with a vague fear, and kept her eyes fixed upon the door. It swung half open; she hoped the motion might have been caused by the wind; yet her heart stood still in doubt and terror—only for a moment, when the figure of a tall, stout man, wrapped in the voluminous folds of a black cloak, and having his face covered with a black mask, emerged from the closet, and advanced into the room.

Lady Etheridge shrieked, and started toward the door with the impulse of flying.

"Be not frightened; I will not harm you," said the intruder, in a low whisper, as he glided to the door, and standing before it, intercepted her passage.

"I am betrayed!" gasped Lady Etheridge, in a dying voice, as she dropped, half-fainting, into her chair.

"You are betrayed; but not by me, who would save you," said the stranger, in the same low whisper.

"In the name of Heaven, who are you?"

"A friend, who would rescue you from a danger worse than death."

"Why do you intrude upon my privacy at this hour?"

"To warn you as I must; to save you, if I may!" said the stranger.

"I am in the house of a magistrate—I will summon assistance!" cried Rose, in terror, as she rushed from her chair.

"This chamber is provided with no bell-ropes; and it is, besides, far removed from the inhabited part of the house. But do not be alarmed; I will advance no nearer to you than I am now. Listen to me: You said that you were in the house of a magistrate. You are deceived. You are in a house which no honorable woman ever entered and departed from without leaving her honor behind."

"Oh, Heaven of heavens! what shall I do? where can I turn? whom can I trust?" exclaimed Rose, in the extremity of distress.

"Trust me. We are nearer London than you have been led to suppose. I will conduct you safely from this house and take you to that of your friend, the Duchess of Beresleigh."

"You know me, then?"

"Yes, Lady Etheridge! yes, Rose Elmer!"

"And who are you?"

"One who, as I said before, is prepared to rescue you from a danger worse than death. I repeat that you are in a house whence no woman ever departed without leaving her honor behind, but from which I am willing to deliver you honorably. I can say no more."

"But, oh, Heaven, how shall I trust you?"

"Lady Etheridge, Rose Elmer, do you remember a scene, in which you acted a part, in a village church of Swinburne, on the first of July, some four years since?" said the stranger, in a low, significant tone.

"Ha; oh, Heaven! who are you that tell me of that?" gasped Rose, turning pale as death.

"I am one who, by my perfect knowledge of all that transpired in that church, adjure you to rise and follow me."

"Man or demon, I will not! Although you may know the events of that fatal day to which you allude, death has cancelled that dreadful record; I have nothing to regret or fear!"

"Ha! have you not?"

"No; nothing to fear but you! I do not believe the tale that you have been telling me. I shall not leave this house to trust myself with a stranger. I shall remain where I am, and use this if you advance one step toward me!" said Rose, drawing a penknife from her pocket, and opening the largest blade.

"Oh, then, if you will not be saved willingly, you must by force. There is no more time to be lost in persuasion," said the intruder, and while he spoke he took off his cloak, and throwing it over her head quick as lightning, stifled her cries, muffled her form, and raising her in his powerful arms, bore her from the room, through the intricate passages, down the stairs, and to the great front door, which it seemed he had already unbarred and unlocked in readiness for his egress.

A cab stood in the deep shadow of the trees before the house. He forced his half-suffocated burden into the vehicle, jumped in by her side, and immediately gave the order to drive on. They drove swiftly through the woods. When they had reached the heath beyond, the stranger threw the cloak a little back from the face of Rose, to give her air, at the same time saying:

"Scream now, if it will be any relief to you, my dear; scream as much as you please; nobody can hear!"

Rose beat loudly upon the front of the carriage, crying:

"Cabman; cabman, Stop! stop! I command you! You are committing a felony, for which you will be transported! You are helping a ruffian in a case of abduction!"

The cabman, at the first sound of the noise, stopped the carriage, and listened; but when he distinguished the words, he replied, in a soothing voice:

"Yes, mum; in course; just so, mum. Compose your narves, mum, do," and drove on.

And though Rose continued to beat upon the front of the carriage, and to call loudly, she could make no further impression upon the obtuse senses of the man, who continued steadily and swiftly driving on.

"Scream and bang away, my dear; it relieves you, and does me no harm," observed her companion, in smooth irony.

Rose sank back exhausted, and burst into a passion of tears.

When she recovered from this storm of sobbing and weeping she looked out of the side window, and saw that day was dawning. They were now rolling rapidly along the high road over the heath. The whole face of the country was lonely, with that depth of loneliness only to be seen just at the dawn of day. The latest passengers had passed away, the earliest had not come. The road before them stretched silent and solitary over the murky shadows of the heath. Suddenly, as she gazed hopelessly upon this scene—oh, sight of joy!—she perceived a post chaise containing two persons just appearing at the top of the hill, and driving silently toward them. Her companion, sitting quietly, had not seen the approaching vehicle. Rose took her resolution, and acted upon it instantly. Dashing open the window nearest to her, she thrust her head out, and cried:

"Help! help! help!, for the love of Heaven!"

The stranger started up with a half-suppressed oath, seized and dragged her back, and muffling her head in his cloak, stifled her cries.

It was too late. Her voice had been heard. The other carriage rushed down upon them. The two vehicles met almost in a collision. Two men from the chaise jumped out and seized the heads of the horses. The cab stopped.

Merits of the Bi-Metallic Property

A large property (over 200 acres) and no debts.

A TUNNEL SITE 5,000 feet square and all blind veins cut in its extension.

EIGHTEEN GOVERNMENT CLAIMS, one of which has produced SEVERAL THOUSAND DOLLARS' worth of very rich SILVER ore (640 oz. per ton), and most of it very high grade.

TEN CLAIMS have produced samples of ore—some very rich—and some shipments of SILVER, GOLD and LEAD.

SEVEN CLAIMS have large quartz veins that will probably produce ore when further developed, and many of them are covered by large quantities of TIMBER, which will be needed in the mines.

There is a ranch in the valley for dumping grounds, miners' cabins and other buildings necessary for the development of the property, also plenty of water for power and concentrating mills.

ALL of these CLAIMS can be developed through the tunnel, and ore can be shipped to market all the year without interruption.

Labor is cheap and reliable.

A good wagon road to the railroad depot—two miles—and an extension of the railroad now graded across the property is within 500 feet of the entrance of the tunnel, and it will cost but $1.00 to $2.00 per ton to market the ores.

It will not cost over $2,000 for the necessary electric drill plant to push the work at the most rapid rate, as power can now be had from the electric wires that run to the Stevens mines above and across our property within 500 feet of the tunnel.

This tunnel when extended several thousand feet into the mountain will cut some of the richest mines in the State at great depths, besides those belonging to the company.

When mines of SILVER, GOLD, LEAD, COPPER and ZINC are once developed they are not affected by dull times or seasons, and the market is never overstocked.

Over $500,000,000 have been taken from Clear Creek and the four adjacent counties, being one-half the production of the whole State, of which Clear Creek county has furnished about $85,000,000.

The stock of the COMPANY is now being sold at a VERY LOW price in order to develop the property, but as soon as PAY ORE is struck it will bring several times as much as the present price, and can be readily sold at a large profit.

Investors Beware

of investing before investigating. THE GREAT WESTERN OIL REFINERY & PIPE LINE CO., of Erie, Kansas, courts investigation, and we are anxious to get in touch with investors who are willing to be convinced.

The Company owns 53 acres of proven oil and gas land at the junction of two railroads, with side tracks to both. The Company owns without debt a 1,500 barrel per day capacity plant, running night and day, which is the largest, most complete, modern independent Refinery west of the Mississippi River. The Company owns its own gas wells (3 in number), which furnish fuel for the entire plant and is sufficient for a 5,000 barrel capacity, which the Great Western proposes to have (in fact they are now increasing the capacity to 2,000 barrels per day) which is the reason that some of the capital stock is now offered to the public for subscription.

The Company owns leases on hirads of acres of oil lands, with a number of wells on same, and the supply of crude oil is unlimited. The present stand taken by the different States, and the laws passed to protect the independent refiners against unfair competition, makes an investment in this Company one which is sure to bring large returns. In proof of this statement, will say that the Company one day recently shipped 21 car load lots of refined oil and by-products and on another day received orders for 42 car load lots.

The Company is now selling this stock at 25 cents per share, but owing to the fact that we hold an option on a block of the same, we can fill your order at

cash or installment, until said option is all sold out, which should be within a very short time.

We would suggest that you write us immediately for free particulars, copies of letters from bankers, etc., which will be sent free. We will also send you a copy of our book "Oil & Gold" if you wish it. This book gives history and statistics of the prominent Oil fields and Gold districts of the United States. Address

Dr. Hamilton Proves That Piles Are Caused by Constipation and Strong Catharties

Knowing the frequency with which people suffer from this ailment, Dr. Hamilton made an exhaustive study into the cause of piles.

He found that the lower part of the bowels is like a network of blood-vessels, and if subjected to persistent pressure, a section will bulge out and form what is commonly known as piles.

The only effective means of curing this trouble is the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which can be taken before retiring. Next day will bring wonderful relief.

"I suffered up to about the limit of human endurance with piles," writes Miss Luckers, from Cornwall, Ont., "I was employed in a factory here, but for a while had to give up work till I got better of this trouble. I read in the Montreal Herald about Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and after using them for two weeks was cured. I can recommend these pills very highly, there is none better. They at once relieve and prevent a constipated condition of the bowels, and from my experience can be pleased to say it is a perfect safeguard against piles. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, I am sure, would be a benefit to every girl or woman."

Take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and your system will be regenerated, revitalized, and made proof against disease.

Good for men, excellent for women, and most effective for children. All ages and both sexes find Dr. Hamilton's Pills a marvelous medicine. Although active, they do not grip or cause inconvenience, still they cleanse and purify the system, thereby maintaining a high standard of health. Sold by all dealers, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00, or by mail, from N. C. Polson and Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.
